THURSDAY MAY 8, 1873.

Busy—our gardeners.
 Scarce—Seed onions.
 Slow—the leaving of the trees.
 No snow storms to report this week.
 Delightful weather for several days past.
 How about the new Brass Band that was to be started here! Who can tell?
 PLASTER—Ten car loads just received and more coming at Stokes' Mills.

They have a youth up in Kingston township, Luzerne county, who is 107 years old, almost up to our George Lebar. His name is Martin Phoenix, and was born in Delaware county, New York.

Where are the "White Caps." The Athletics, Atlantics, Eureka's and other of the small fry clubs are on the boards, but the renowned "White Caps" seem to be nowhere. Wake up boys, your laurels are in danger.

Nicholas Ruster has gone to the city. Look out for a new stock of clothing, hats, caps, and furnishing goods, at his store on Saturday next. Nicholas knows how to select goods, and how to sell them at low rates too.

Sunday was a very pleasant day. The promenaders were out in full force, as were also some of the new styles of ladies' spring hats. The services at the various town churches were quite largely attended, which speaks well for the people of Stroudsburg.

The rehearsals of our amateur histrionics, are progressing steadily and finely. In a few days they will bloom into a full grown exhibition, and it would be well to begin to save the quarters now. The performance will eclipse all others heretofore attempted.

The "sentimental" appears to be the prevailing style of movement among our beautiful Stroudsburg lasses just now. Hats well forward on the brow, drapery in careless negligee, a gentle lol in the walk, the smallest possible wine in voice, and such heavenly east of eyes. Oh! Ah!

O. B. GORDON, Esq., teacher of the Park Street School, was recently presented by his scholars, with a very neat watch chain, as a token of their esteem and their appreciation of his efforts in behalf of their intellectual improvement. The present is a well merited reward.

The times are no doubt hard, but our merchants and business men, have it in their own power to greatly soothe. Reasonable profits, securing quick sales, with a plentiful use of Printers Luk, form the key that will unlock the whole difficulty. Grumble less and try it.

The politicians generally, throughout the State, are looking out for the crumbs of comfort laying around in the offices. Here we are all quiet as mice. What the patriotic sons of old mother Northampton are doing we do not know, but presume they are not lying idle. Aint their way.

Mr. Julius Martin, residing near Callahan's Mills, in Coolbaugh township, accidentally shot himself on Sunday last. The whole charge entered the right forearm, and elbow joint, and lacerated it so, that his physicians deemed amputation a matter of necessity. The arm was taken off above the elbow by Dr. Jackson, assisted by Drs. Foulke and Gilpin, and the unfortunate man is doing well.

The Messrs Sanfords are about erecting a Steam Engine of four horse power on the Highland Dell property. The engine is to be used in forcing water to the top of the boarding House building, for the purpose of supplying the rooms with water. The Engine, which is about completed, is a very neat little piece of machinery, and reflects credit on the builders, as well as on the enterprising of Mr. Joseph Foulke, the popular proprietor of the Dell House, in thus providing for the comfort of his guests.

A man named David Frantz, was seriously if not fatally injured, at Portland, on Monday. He was trying to jump on a train while in motion, and missing his hold fell between the track and a platform which runs along it for some distance. The moving train dragged him along for a rod or more, mashing, and lacerating his head and face in the most horrible manner. His recovery is doubtful. Drs. Gruber of Portland and Glen, of Washington, N. J., gave skillful attention to the sufferer's hurts.

HO! FOR NEW YORK.—An Excursion for New York, will leave East Stroudsburg, on Thursday next, the 15th inst., and return the next day. The Excursionists will leave the Depot at East Stroudsburg, with the noon train on the 15th, and return with the night train on the 16th. This will give abundant time to see the city and the sights in and around it, and to transact any business in the city that may be necessary. Tickets for the round trip, which may be procured at S. S. Detrick's Drug Store, in East Stroudsburg, or at the Jewelry Store of Peter S. Williams, in Stroudsburg, only $2.25.

MOUNTAIN HOME, PA., }
 May 5th, 1873.
 Mr. Editor:—At a regular meeting of Mountain Home Lodge, No. 684, I. O. O. F. of Penn'a. held on Saturday evening May 3d, 1873, the following resolution was unanimously adopted.
 Resolved, That the thanks of this Lodge are due and are hereby tendered to Mr. J. B. Hall, of Stroudsburg, Pa., for the beautiful pair of gravel blocks presented by him to the Lodge.
 ROBERT EATON, N. G.
 E. H. HELLER, Sec'y.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—On Thursday morning last, as the painters were clearing the rubbish from Dr. Walton's new residence down town—throwing out lumber, &c., Mrs. W. made a most narrow escape from serious injury, if not from death. She had been cautioning the Dr. to keep out of the way, and had gone into the house to see to affairs. Coming out soon after she got in the way of a plank which had been thrown out of the window, and received a glancing blow, which some what lacerated her face, and stunned her so that for several moments she was oblivious to everything around her. Her escape was narrow indeed.

A couple of Philadelphia fools, for a wager of $1,000 in June next, will make the attempt to travel in a canoe, from the mouth of Beaver creek on the Bushkill to the Delaware river, a distance of nearly thirty miles. In the passage down they will float over Otts Barrens falls and Resacca Falls each 70 feet high, Coolhaughs falls 50 feet high, and several other falls ranging from 20 to 30 feet high. In some places the stream runs between perpendicular rocks, from 20 to 30 feet high at the rate of a mile a minute, and nearly the whole distance is through a wild and almost primitive wilderness.

The foolishly feat is not without a precedent. In June 1869 Josiah Bush of Northampton county, and John M. Troch, of Monroe county, one an experienced hunter, and the other a returned Californian, made the trip in the manner now proposed. They succeeded, but both men declared that nothing could tempt them to try it again.

The name of the Philadelphia vinom's who seek this way to fame are W. Joyce and Silas Gill.

The news from the Modoc country indicates a good deal of trouble with the Indians. Nearly a week ago intelligence was received of a terrible massacre of United States troops by Indians of the Modoc tribe. Two batteries of artillery and a company of infantry were sent out under Capt. Evan Thomas by General Gillem, to reconnoitre the locality where the Indians had been last seen. As the soldiers neared the place they suddenly found themselves surrounded, and a destructive fire was poured into them. The Indians were concealed in crevices and behind rocks, while the soldiers were comparatively helpless. Nineteen were killed and twenty five wounded, among the former being several of the officers. The Indians are supposed to have numbered 60, or 70, and to have sustained little injury. Since this affair very little has been done, and the prospect of an early accomplishment of the campaign is very gloomy. Gen. Jeff. C. Davis has taken command in place of Gen. Gillem. This event gives satisfactory proof of the fact that our regular troops are not fitted for warfare with the wild Indians, and that new preparations must be made to overcome them. If a general Indian war occurs, the waste of life and money will be enormous.

The Carbon Democrat is responsible, so far as we know, for this: "A Yale student has written and published a twelve verse poem in which he says, 'we kissed each other by the sea'; and there is nothing very remarkable in that.—Other lovers have kissed each other there without making any fuss about it. There are young couples in Mauch Chunk who have kissed each other by the Lehigh river, and by the creek, and by the canal, and by the railroad, and by the hour, and over the gate, and under the kitchen door, and in the kitchen, and by the parlor, and are just as happy as if the oscillation had been performed 'by the sea side.' And they don't write twelve-verse poems about it, either."

The Bethlehem Times says: "We thought prize fighting was on its last pins, but this morning we heard of a little 'light weight mill,' occurred on Second street, Wednesday night. The battle took place in a certain woodshed, and we know a man who got a good punneling, and another who didn't get $50 for doing it, as he thought he would. Now we are progressing. If we could only have a concert saloon—with female beer 'jerkers' and 'sich.' Glory, but ain't we moving."

A parent writes to us that he is annoyed and pained by his son staying out at nights, and asks us if we can present a remedy for this rapidly-growing evil. There are several remedies. The boy's spine can be broken with an axe, or he can be nailed to the floor with a redhot railroad spike, driven through his abdomen; but the most effectual way is to compel him to wear patched clothing.

A strip of sand, now part of the land on which Trenton, N. J., is built, was thought to be of so little value, in 1805, that its owner selling out his property, did not think it worth while to mention it in the deed. As Trenton grew this sandy strip was covered with buildings, and the heirs of the original owner now claim possession, with so fair a prospect of getting it that a liberal offer has been made to buy their claim. The land, which was valueless in 1805, is now valued at $4,000,000.

Eclipses for 1873.
 During the year 1873 there will be four eclipses—two of the sun and two of the moon. The only one visible in the United States will be the first, a total eclipse of the moon, on the morning of the 12th of May at 4 o'clock 30 minutes.

 The Nathan mansion in New York is deserted and spooked.
 During the month of April 2698 arrests were made by the police of Philadelphia.
 Ohio congregation pelted the pastor with unmarketable eggs for preaching a temperance sermon.
 Edward S. Stokes, the murderer of Fisk, has at last been refused a new trial, which means he is to be hung.
 Eight hundred German emigrants arrived at Baltimore on Saturday in the North German steamship Berlin.
 There were 30 lawyers, 22 farmers, 6 doctors and 3 editors in the just adjourned Legislature.
 Over a thousand hotels in the state have closed since the election on the license question.
 Seventy-nine new iron works were erected in this state last year, and in New York but seven.
 It is reported in Philadelphia that Col. John W. Forney is to be run for Sheriff by the Reform Association.
 A Philadelphia lawyer is under arrest for failure to pay over $2,300 collected by him for a Pittsburg liquor firm.
 Doctors in Tennessee have a hard time. If the patient lives he don't pay, and if he dies the family want to shoot the physician.
 It is reported that S. E. Cole, a merchant of Bath, Northampton county, has absconded for parts unknown. His debts amount to $15,000.
 Louisville, Kentucky, was visited by a heavy storm of wind and hail on Wednesday night last. The ground was covered with hail to a depth of several inches.
 Alligator hunting is a profitable employment in Florida since the demand for the hides has sprung up in Europe.—One hunter has killed 900 of the reptiles since December.
 A tall gypsy woman belonging to a band that were encamped outside of Easton tried to carry off a 5 year old child of Ed. Clark, who resided in that town. Look out for the gypsies.
 An English farm laborer who earns $3.50 a week, and board themselves, are expected to commence work at five in the morning, two hours before breakfast, and to work after supper until dark.
 The Salisbury, Md., Advertiser of Saturday last says that the prospect for an abundant crop of strawberries is excellent, and that the peach crop thus far is safe and bids fair to be the largest for many years.
 An iron bridge at Dixon, Ill., fell on Sunday afternoon, while crowded with people gathered to witness a baptism.—At last accounts 32 dead bodies had been recovered, and more persons were supposed to have been killed.
 Great distress prevails among the population of the islands of Baffin and Shark, off the coast of Galway, Ireland. The sheep have died of starvation, and the potato crop of last year being a failure, the people have no seed to put in the ground.
 An Omaha paper alleges that a dead cow was hauled to the outskirts, a few days ago, and that in less than fifteen minutes the Indians encamped to the locality had it cut up and stowed away in their tents, thus beating the crows out of a square meal.
 The most novel accident recorded lately is one happening from a kick by a hog at Durham's Corner, Bureau county, Illinois: Mr. Durham was putting the hog in a wagon, when it kicked him in the eye, filling it with the broken glass of his spectacles. The hog was dropped so suddenly as to break its back.

To Preserve Furs.
 Ladies, now is the time to put away your furs, if you wish to preserve them from the ravages of moth during the summer. Sprinkle them well with snuff and place in each article a small piece of gum camphor, then wrap well in paper and pack away in a box, and you may rest assured of the safety of your furs. This is the way wholesale and retail dealers in the cities take care of large stocks of furs from one season to another; the great point, however, is to put away early before the moth fly makes its appearance.
 Sentenced to Death.
 William S. Jones, of Wilkes Barre, has been sentenced to be hung for shooting his mother-in-law some time since. A few years ago Jones was a rising young real estate agent in Wilkes Barre, successful in business and apparently in a way to succeed in life. He took to drink and went from bad to worse until frozen with whiskey he shot his wife's mother. In his better days Jones was the Wilkes-Barre correspondent of the Coal Gazette. —Gazette.
 OUR INDIAN POPULATION.
 Just at this time, when the Indians have been more than ordinarily troublesome, and when a general Indian war is not only predicted, but imminently threatened, it is interesting to know the extent of the aboriginal population. The census of 1870 gives what is supposed to be a nearly correct estimate of the Indians in the several states and territories, but as it is merely an estimate, it may not be considered infallible. The total Indian population is given at 388,712; of these 111,185 are in the states and 272,527 in the territories. This population is classed as follows:
 On Reservations, 96,366
 Nomadic, 234,740
 No tribal relations, 52,606
 It will be seen that out of an estimated population of 388,712, at least 234,740 are roving about the western country from place to place, and it is with these that the government has so much trouble, and it is also apparent that if the nomadic roving tribes were to combine for a general war they could doubtless put in the field not less than thirty thousand able bodied warriors, or an army about equal to that of the United States. But it must be borne in mind that 70,000 of the entire Indian population is in Alaska, and hence well out of the way. The nomadic tribes as given in the census are distributed mainly as follows:
 California, 13,500
 Kansas, 3,000
 Nevada, 16,220
 Oregon, 4,200
 Arizona, 27,000
 Colorado, 7,300
 Dakota, 26,320
 Idaho, 2,300
 Indian Territory, 34,490
 Montana, 19,800
 New Mexico, 5,080
 Utah, 4,600
 Alaska, 70,000
 It must be apparent that if the Indians in the adjoining states and territories of California, Nevada, Oregon, Arizona, Idaho and Montana, should engage in a general war, the present army would not be one fourth large enough to subdue them. The unsettled tribes in those states and territories number nearly one hundred thousand souls and could put in the field at the lowest calculation ten thousand men that have been thoroughly armed by our too generous government. If it requires six hundred United States troops and five general officers to warrant an advance upon Captain Jack's band of sixty warriors, it is easy to estimate how large a force and how many Major Generals and Brigadiers would be required to successfully fight ten thousand Indians scattered over a territory of thousands of square miles. There is no avoiding the fact that a general Indian war is to be dreaded, for it must be remembered that the Indians spare neither man, woman nor child of the white race at such times. The settlers in half a dozen states and territories would be compelled to abandon their property, crops, everything to save their lives. The troubles with the small band of Modocs is an evidence of what would be the result of a general war.
