

The Jeffersonian.

THURSDAY JULY 3, 1873.

NANCY HARVEY, colored, died in Baltimore on Wednesday evening, aged 117 years.

OUR boarding houses are rapidly filling up with summer visitors, in consequence of which our streets present a lively and animated appearance.

THE Post Office at this place, on the 4th of July, to-morrow, will be opened only from half past 10 o'clock A. M. to half past one o'clock, P. M., and from 4 o'clock to 5 o'clock, P. M.

JUDGE DEYOUNG requests us to announce that he has again postponed the sale of John Kresge's Hotel property, until the 5th day of July next, at 2 o'clock, P. M. The Judge assures us that no further adjournment will be allowed and that the sale will positively be made on that day.

MR. CHARLES FRANKENFIELD, requests us to announce that he will offer at public sale, the remainder of his new stock of splendid furniture. Also his work shop, and the lot on which it is erected. Sale to commence at 10 o'clock A. M., and 7 in the evening.

JUDGE DREHER, who was selected as umpire by the operators and miners of the Middle Coal Field, in place of Geo. W. Childs, after hearing both parties, last Saturday, took the papers to his home in Stroudsburg, promising to announce his decision at an early day.—Mauch Chunk Democrat.

PERSONAL.—Mr. J. Ward Richardson, of the Advertiser and Review, of Bridgeton, N. J., and Mr. Artie C. Barclay, of the Daily News and Patriot, also of Bridgeton, N. J., members of the New Jersey Editorial Association, who were sojourning at the Delaware Water Gap last week, paid us a visit on Thursday last.

DROWNED.—Charles Knowles, a resident of Lehigh Co., who was engaged teaching School at Portland, Northampton Co., Pa., was drowned in the Delaware above the Bridge at Portland, on Saturday last. He had gone into the river for the purpose of bathing, and while in the water, was taken with a fit, and before assistance could reach him, he was drowned. His body was recovered the same evening.

GEO. SMITH, of Columbia, Pa., who has been working at Alexandria, Va., for some time past, started on Thursday to walk home to Columbia. About 10 o'clock that night, arriving at Beltsville, Prince George's Co., Md., he was attacked by unknown parties, about two hundred short taking effect in the back of his head. Smith now lies in the Baltimore Infirmary in that city, and it is thought he will die of lock-jaw.

CHURCH DEDICATION.—We are requested to announce that the Chestnut Hill New Church, situated near Gilbert's post office, this county, and which is rapidly approaching completion, will be dedicated to the service of Almighty God, on Saturday and Sunday, the 16th and 17th of August next. Ministers from abroad, and the public generally, are cordially invited to participate in the exercises.

A NUISANCE.—Mr. E. H. Weeks has an establishment at the lower end of town, near the iron bridge, and is engaged in trying out old bones, for the manufacture of a certain kind of grease or oil. Now, when it becomes known that the effluvia arising therefrom is extremely offensive to the nasal organs of those residing in the vicinity of his manufactory, it may safely be declared a nuisance, and he should be compelled to remove it at once.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—At an adjourned meeting of the class of East Pennsylvania of the Reformed Church in the United States, held in Catawissa, June 17, 1873, the undersigned was appointed temporary pastor of the Hamilton reformed church. The undersigned would therefore announce, in this public way, that, God willing, there will be English preaching in the Reformed Church in Cherry Valley, on Sunday, July 6th, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. All are invited to attend. D. E. SCHOEDLER.

A FEW evenings since we very reluctantly found ourselves a listener to a rather spirited discussion between a number of young ladies on one of our back streets, relative to the merits, demerits, and general composition, of that necessary article of female wearing apparel termed a bustle.—Any number of old shoes, rag-bags, newspapers, ect., were spoken of during the conversation. However, as the subject was not intended for our ears, and as it is at best a delicate one—the bustle, we mean—we shall drop it as we would the business end of a wisp.

On Monday last the new Pennsylvania Air-Line to Baltimore, Washington, and the South was opened for travel. From Philadelphia it runs through Lancaster to Columbia, where the Susquehanna River is crossed, and thence, by way of York, to Baltimore. The great tunnel under that city being completed, passengers are now carried through without the tedious delays attending the transfer by horse-power. Throughout the road is double track, laid with steel rails and stone ballast. This route follows very closely on the one so long and zealously advocated in Congress by Thaddeus Stevens, as the National Air-Line between Washington City and New York. Two express trains will be run entire between New York and Washington daily.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.—Rev. J. C. Julius Kurtz, of Tamaqua, Schuylkill county, Pa., will preach trial sermons before the members of the Hamilton Reformed Church, in the Church at Hamilton, on Sunday, July 13th, 1873, English in the forenoon and German in the afternoon. The members of both denominations, and the public generally, are cordially invited to attend.

By order of the Consistory, D. E. SCHOEDLER, Pastor pro tem.

At an early hour on Tuesday morning last, a gentleman and lady, who follow umbrellas repairing for a livelihood, got into an altercation in front of Conner's meat market, and during the melee they worked themselves into the meat market. Mr. C. hustled them out, when they left. After loitering about the streets for an hour or more they again renewed hostilities in front of the Stroudsburg House. At this juncture officer Keener arrived, and, taking the combatants into custody, furnished them quarters in the Hotel de Troch.

THE question has often been asked by those interested, "can I have my gray hair restored to its natural color, without coloring the skin? and can my thin locks be thickened up?" we answer, "it can," and would advise you to read a treatise on the hair, which is published by R. P. Hall & Co., Nashua, N. H., who send it free, upon application. They are the proprietors of Hall's Vegetable Siccilian Hair Renewer. We learn from it, the hair, in a perfect state of health, is constantly falling out, and new hairs grow from the same tubes; but, in case of any disease of the scalp, or by the use of alcoholic preparations, the hair-tube becomes contracted at its mouth, and prevents the new follicle from reaching the surface. Their preparation will create a perfectly healthy condition of the scalp, and, by its tonic properties, will preserve and strengthen the roots of the hair. Statesman, Des Moines, Iowa.

INVESTMENTS.—Railroad securities afford probably the best form of investments now available for safety of income, whether of small savings or considerable capital. The promissory obligations of a strong, well-managed corporation, based on property rapidly improving in value, which earns large returns, making the payment of high rates of interest reasonably easy and certain, may well command confidence and attract investors. Railroad bonds are usually a mortgage on the road, its cars, buildings, ect. This pledge is considered so amply sufficient that often a second mortgage is issued, after the first has been placed. Roads endowed by Congress with a certain number of acres per mile from the public lands along their lines, have of late years issued what are called "Land Grant" bonds, being a mortgage on these lands, independent of any liens on the road. These Land Grant bonds have also been a favorite investment and have been considered as safe as real estate mortgages, generally. A third form of railroad security is the income bond, predicated on the net income, profits and earnings of the road; and these, too, have stood fairly in the market. In another column will be a found notice of the seven-thirty bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad, one of the grandest undertakings of the age and one that is being conducted with energy and economy toward unquestionable success. The bonds of this Company combine in a single lien every one of the elements of security which give substance to the three separate forms of mortgage above mentioned. They are first-class mortgage bond, a land grant bond and an income bond, all in one.

THE seventeenth annual excursion of the New Jersey Editorial Association, which culminated at the Delaware Water Gap on Saturday morning last, was, we learn, a grand and very enjoyable affair throughout. The party, numbering about two hundred, arrived at the Gap on Tuesday, 24th inst., and immediately repaired to the Water Gap House, where they were generously cared for by the Messrs. Brodhead. After despatching the business of the Association, the excursionists enjoyed themselves in various ways during the remainder of their stay, and we are of the opinion that it would have been a difficult matter for them to have selected a more romantic spot for their excursion, or one better adapted to a "feast of reason and a flow of soul." The elaborate and commodious hotels, the many points of interest in the immediate vicinity, together with some of the finest landscape and water scenery to be seen any where, all combine to make the Delaware Water Gap a very desirable resort for excursionists. Governor Parker, of New Jersey accompanied the party. On Wednesday evening a dinner was served at the Water Gap House, that would certainly have tickled the palate of the most fastidious epicurean. After the feast was over toasts were offered and responded to, though in conformity with an established rule at the Water Gap House, no wines nor liquors were on the table. On Thursday evening a grand ball was given at the Kittatinny House, the festivities of which were kept up until a late hour, and was highly enjoyed. We sincerely regretted our inability to accept the invitation extended by the Executive Committee to join them in their pleasures, and we are highly gratified to learn that everything pertaining to the excursion passed off so pleasantly and satisfactorily to all concerned. A number of the gentlemen dropped into our office on Thursday afternoon, and we found them to be exceedingly pleasant in their manners, and easy in conversation. May their shadows never grow less.

"Do you like chickens?" asked a remarkably modest Nashville youth of his sweetness, as he was walking about two feet from her on his way to church, Sunday night. "Certainly I do," she replied; "why do you ask such a question as that?" "Because I thought if you liked chickens, you wouldn't object to taking a wing," and he crooked his arm in an irresistible manner. Sweetness took a wing.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Hamilton, Nevada, has been destroyed by fire. Loss, $500,000.

A conscientious doctor in Yarmouth, N. H. gives away all his Sunday profits.

A busy watering place all the year round—A milkman's.

Human nature is so constituted, that all see, and judge better, in the affairs of other men than in their own.

A young lady in Oregon reprimanded her flirting lover by putting a pot of glue on him. He stuck after that.

Mrs. Maria Parker, of Stamford, Vt., is the happy mother of ten sons and sixteen daughters.

The Lowell Courier suggests that the Iowa schoolmistress who rides to school on an ox must know all about oxides.

The married ladies of a Western town have formed a "Come-home-husband Club." It is about four feet in length, and has a brush at the end of it.

There is a young lady in Yorkshire who is six feet five inches high and five feet six inches round. Could there be more beautiful proportions?

A Scranton journal states that the ladies there wear stove pipe bifurcated undergarments, and the men have their pants lined with barrel staves, and all be cause mad dogs are plenty there.

Humbolt, Tenn., is building up fast. A local paper says: "A man lay down on a vacant lot the other day to sleep off a drunk. He was astonished on waking to find a two story house built over him."

The Macon Telegraph gives this "awful conversation." "Well, Jim, the world owes me a living, anyhow." To which Jim replied, "Well, George, perhaps it does, but I'll be blessed if you ain't too lazy to collect it!"

A camp meeting will be held at High Bridge, on the Central Railroad, commencing July 28, to continue during the week. Abundant provision will be made for all who attend. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the N. J. Central Preacher's Association.

The naughty married ladies of Big hamton lure on foppish young men with the "handkerchief game" until their husbands are met, and then there is a scene. One young fellow, the other day, who had been following one of the fleeting shows, had the basement of his trousers filled with kicks by an indignant hubby.

Henry Ward Beecher says that some men will not shave on Sunday, and yet they spend all the week in shaving their fellowmen; and many folks think in very wicked to black their boots on Sunday morning, yet they do not hesitate to blacken their neighbors reputation on week days.

The half million postal cards sent to the New York Post office were disposed of in less than three days. The principal uses to which they have been put thus far have been for advertising and perpetrating jokes. Their novelty will soon wear off and they will come down to their legitimate use.

"The Committee of White and Colored Citizens," in New Orleans, at a meeting on Monday night, adopted resolutions dedicating themselves to the unification of the people of Louisiana, and to the adoption of perfect social as well as political equality for both races. They also appointed a committee to call a mass meeting when deemed expedient. The resolutions are signed by a number of prominent white and colored citizens, with G. T. Beauregard as chairman.

The New York papers publish a report that the New Jersey Railroad Company, which was organized some time ago under the general law of that State, recently obtained a controlling interest in the Philadelphia and Newtown Railroad, now building in Pennsylvania, and intend using it as a part of their through route between New York and Philadelphia. A considerable portion of the Philadelphia and Newtown road is already constructed, and the character gives them power to bridge the Delaware River. The engineers of the New Jersey Company are running their line so as to meet the Philadelphia and Newtown road at the Delaware River. The Company will soon be ready to place several sections of their road under contract.

The theory that Gen. Grant is a dictator and that Congress only registers his decree, has long been a favorite one with the opposition. Yet it is wholly inconsistent with the facts. Gen. Grant asked Congress to embody civil service reform in law, but it refused. He asked them to take some action in the Louisiana matter; but it did not. He urged it to pass some measure to facilitate the operation of the Federal laws in Utah; but it omitted to do so. The consequences which the President predicated have come about. The courts are substantially at a stand, because legal juries cannot be obtained, and the criminal law of the Territory is as good as void for the time being. Nor is there any apparent remedy available until the opening of Congress.—New York Times.

We have now the annual discussion concerning hydrophobia, the existence of such a disease being seriously questioned. There is a Dr. Marx in Germany who regards what is called hydrophobia as an affection arising from fright and morbidly excited imagination. The advice of Dr. Marx is that men, women, and especially children, should be trained into a disbelief in the disease; to have no more fear of a dog-bite than of any other cut or wound. We wish that this question could be settled. We do not remember any medical problem which has so long remained in disreputable abeyance. Cases certainly have occurred in which the elements of fear and imagination would seem to have been wanting; and there have been cases of death from some nervous affection several years after the bite of the dog.

On Wednesday a bear was seen in the pasture of Mr. William R. Procter in St. Alban, Vt. Mr. Solomon Procter went in pursuit and shot him. The bear took to a pond near by. He was pursued in a boat. As the boat approached, brown rose in the water and showed light. A young man, however, sent an axe through his skull and despatched him. He was towed ashore and found to weigh 200 pounds.

MAUCH CHUNK, June 25.—Hon. M. C. Trout, of Sharon, Mercer county, Pa., formerly member of Congress from his district, died suddenly at the Mansion House this evening. In company with his niece, he was enjoying the excursion of the Pennsylvania Editorial Association, which arrived here from Danville to day. He had accompanied the party this afternoon around the Switchback, and had returned to the hotel, when, shortly before seven o'clock, while preparing for supper, he dropped dead of heart disease. The excursionists were to have been given a hop this evening at the Pavilion on the top of Mount Pisgah, but this sad occurrence will prevent festivities of any kind during the remainder of their stay in this place.

Recent developments have been made in New York in relation to the large class of Italian children who are daily traveling the streets of our cities and towns as itinerant musicians, that are attracting considerable attention. It appears that these children are actually bought of poor parents in Italy, and taken off to other countries by their purchasers, where they are employed to travel about and to beg, sing or steal, and to hand the proceeds over regularly to those having them in charge. This infamous traffic has grown to such proportions as to attract the attention of the authorities in some of the European countries; and England and France have enacted laws which prohibit the introduction of these little slaves into those countries. The result of this has been that nearly all of them are sent over to New York, and are distributed from that city all over the country. Growing up under such evil influences, and without education or moral culture, it is not strange that they become schooled in vice, and go to swell the ranks of the dangerous classes in society. The Italian consul in New York, and others of his countrymen in that city, have expressed their intention to do all they can to suppress this traffic. It is stated that the Italian government has taken the matter in hand, and it is expected that the United States will co-operate in the effort to break up this nefarious business.

The Constitutional Convention on Monday rescinded its action of the previous week in regard to a recess until October, and decided to hold two daily sessions hereafter. Several other propositions in relation to the subject of a summer vacation and with a view to find a more suitable place of meeting during the warm weather, if the sessions are continued, were rejected. Among the subjects before the Convention during the week were the articles on corporations, oath of office and education. A new section was offered and adopted by a large vote that no money raised or appropriated for the public schools shall ever be used for the support of sectarian schools. An amendment providing for an oath after leaving office, offered by Judge Black, was adopted. The oath is to be taken by legislators within twenty days after adjournment, and requires a member to swear or affirm that he has not, knowingly, listened to corrupt private solicitations from interested parties or their agents, nor received any gift from any such parties nor from any candidate; that he has not voted or spoken on any matter in which he had or expected to have any private interest; that he has not done or willingly permitted to be done any act which would make him guilty of bribery; that he has observed the order and forms of legislation as prescribed by the constitution, and not knowingly voted for any measure which he knew or believed to be inconsistent therewith. Failure to take the oath is to forever disqualify a person from holding any office of profit or trust under the Commonwealth. Intentional false swearing, in addition to the disqualification, is to be treated as perjury.—Bucks County Intelligencer.

Suicide. J. C. Mattison, son of Dr. J. V. Mattison, of Newark, (formerly of Washington, Warren county,) committed suicide at that place, a few days since. The Sentinel of Freedom publishes the following account of the sad affair: "The residents of Mount Pleasant avenue were shocked on Saturday evening, by the suicide of James C. Mattison, who hung himself in the yard of his father's residence, No. 190 Mount Pleasant avenue, about six o'clock. The deceased had been for some time separated from his wife, who was residing in Trenton, and seemed to be in low spirits since having perused a letter sent by her to him on Saturday morning. Before executing his purpose, he handed the following letter to his younger brother Willie, with instructions to send it to his wife: DEAR EMMA: I had made up my mind when I received your letter last week to put an end to my life. I took another thought, however. I earnestly hoped that something would turn up and we would live together again. When I received your communication to day I made up my mind that this should be the last, and I would put an end to my miserable existence. Had I pistols I should use them to end my existence. But I have not. So I go now and prepare my own gallows. He then went to the rear of a barn, and took a rope out of his pocket, fastening it to a tree. He took a saw horse and mounted it, placing the other end of the rope around his neck, and kicked the saw horse from under him. About fifteen minutes afterward, he was discovered by his brother, and Dr. J. V. Mattison, his father, who at once cut him down and attempted to restore life, but it was too late. Deceased was only 21 years old."
