

The Jeffersonian.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1873.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT, ISAAC G. GORDON, of Jefferson County. STATE TREASURER, ROBERT W. MACKAY, of Allegheny.

The day of Edward Stokes' trial has been set down for the first Thursday in October.

The cows and sheep are being attacked with epizooty. In some parts of the country it is raging dreadfully.

APPLE-BUTTER and corn-husking parties are now coming on apace, and then there will be lively times in the country districts.

HOUSEKEEPERS are now recommended to lay in their winter supply of coal, as there is a fair prospect for an increase in the price soon.

JACK FROST paid us a slight visit on Monday morning last. At Sand Cut, it is said that the Frost lay so thick you could take it up by the shovel.

If you want nice dress goods and shawls, buy them of Ruster.

The new bonnets coming in vogue this fall are much larger than have been worn this generation, and are very handsome, too. Of course all the nice girls will go for them. This will soon revive the old practice of two heads under one bonnet.

The Methodist brethren have been holding protracted meeting at East Stroudsburg for some two weeks past. The interest awakened is said to be great, and several have already yielded themselves willing servants to the Lord. May the good work continue.

FRIED'S energy and enterprise, can only be judged by an examination of his stock of ready made clothing for men and boys wear; his stock of under clothing and furnishing goods generally for men and boys; his stock of boots, shoes, gaiters and slippers for gents and boys, and ladies and misses wear; his stock of trunks and valises; and his thousand and one other things necessary to supply the wants of the public. With Fried as general-issian and Dorey as Lieutenant-General to await upon them, customers can save both time and money, by making it a point to drop into Fried's place of business where anything is wanted in his line.

COURT commences at this place on Monday next. Our friends from the country will, as usual, find our lath string out; and if any of them desire to lead us into temptation, in the way of taking money due us for subscription, Job work, &c., they will find us prepared to yield like a lamb. Who will try it on.

PETER S. WILLIAMS has recently been making large and important additions to his extensive stock of clocks, watches, jewelry, silver-plated ware, &c. His show cases are handsome as a picture, and well worth looking at. The taste that cannot be suited from his stock must be fastidious indeed. Call in and see for yourselves.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church, of Stroudsburg, will hold a Festival at Williams' Hall, in this borough, on Wednesday and Thursday, the 24th and 25th of September. They will furnish supper on both days at 6 p. m. Oysters, ice cream, &c., at all other hours from 11 a. m. to 11 p. m., each day. The public are invited to come, see and partake.

N. RUSTER has just returned from the City, with the largest stock of clothing, hats, caps, furs, furnishing goods and dry goods, ever brought to Stroudsburg. Call and see for your self.

Now that the time for hauling out stoves and fitting up old stovepipe, has arrived, would it not be well for some of our good people, to set about starting an anti-swearing society. We know that old stovepipe and profanity generally go together, but could not the latter be knocked out of the partnership, by the systematic organization of such a society as the one proposed. Men and brethren look to it.

Now is the time to buy your winter clothing. Go to Ruster's and you can have your pick out of the largest and best selected stock in town.

Our advertising columns are worthy of a perusal this week. Almost every branch of business with its facilities for promoting the comfort of the public, is there represented. Among the new advertisers stands Ruster, with a brief of his claims to public favor, Shotwell, at East Stroudsburg, with his splendid array of new goods, Superintendent Frutcher with his notice of the times and places of holding examinations of teachers, the Victoria Sewing Machine Co., with the merits of their new machine; and the Domestic Paper Fashions Co., in search of agents. After reading these, it would not be well to give the rest the go by, for each one may furnish you with just the information you may want to enable you to provide for your comfort and happiness. We would say, therefore, be sure and read the advertisements.

It is impossible, in the limits of a newspaper article to give even a faint idea of what Fried has in stock at his store. His establishment is like a museum in his line, and instructive hours and even days might be spent looking, and still all that he has cannot be seen. Before you close a purchase, be sure that you visit Fried's.

MR. PETER WILLIAMS has removed his Drug Store to Fowler's new building down town. This will be quite an accommodation to the public who live, or do business in that portion of our borough. Mr. W. entered business with a determination to keep none but the best quality of Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, &c., and as his goods are all dispensed by experienced clerks, we have no doubt he will build up a profitable business.

If you wish to purchase a trunk, valise or anything in that line you will go astray and miss your market, if you go anywhere else than to Fried's. He has the best assortment in town, and his prices are merely nominal. Go and see what he has got.

AN OLD RESIDENT GONE.—Mr. David Kemmerer, one of the oldest citizens of this city, died at his residence on Penn avenue, Thursday afternoon. The deceased came to Scranton when it was virtually a howling wilderness, and by judicious investments, industry and honesty accumulated considerable wealth. He was an active, zealous member of the M. E. Church, and in his way and sphere he did much good, living always the life of a true, active Christian. Honest in all his dealings, kind and obliging in his nature and disposition, he possessed the confidence of the entire community. A few years ago he sustained an injury to his spine from which he has suffered to a greater or less extent ever since. For several months he has been unable to use his limbs to any extent, and has been confined to his room most of the time. He suffered no acute pain, but there was a gradual wasting away of the vital powers, and yesterday he folded his arms, closed his eyes, and sunk into the long sleep that awaits one and all of earth's children.

Our city has sustained a severe loss in the death of Mr. Kemmerer; the church has lost one of its firm pillars, and his family a kind husband, a doting father, and there are none who will not condole with them in their sad bereavement.—Sunday Morning Free Press, Scranton.

FRIED is back from the Cities, and has been for several days. His extensive purchases are all unpacked, and his shelves literally groan under the weight with which they are loaded. Such an array of splendid clothing was never before brought to this section of country. Fried knows that if he would maintain his extensive run of custom he must meet the wants of his customers, and knowing this he goes to work in the right way. Fried, consequently, always purchases the best in quality and the latest in style, and he has the happy knack of selling the best a little lower in price than others charge for an inferior article. Drop in and "see how it is yourself." Fried charges nothing for showing goods.

POLICE REPORTS.—On Wednesday evening, of last week, Thomas Greidy and Edwin Price, were brought to town, from Kresgeville, and lodged in Hotel de Troch, for a most diabolical attempt to murder Timothy Corner, a foreman in the extensive Tannery, near that place. It appears that Greidy Price and Lawrence Dile took offence at some action of Corner, and in revenge, endeavored to run him through the bark mill belonging to the tannery. Corner's hat passed through the mill, and was torn to shreds, but Corner proved too strong for his assailants, and rescued himself from their power. He immediately entered complaint, when Greidy and Price were arrested and brought to jail. Dile made his escape, and thus far has evaded the pursuit of the officers. The parties will be tried next week.

John S. Vanwhy, of Middle Smithfield, was recently arrested for embezzlement. John, as constable of the township, had the Tax Duplicate placed in his charge, and on settlement fell behind in his account, for which the authorities "made for him." On entering bail for his appearance at court he was released on Monday last.

On Monday the constable of Coolbaugh township, brought a guest to "Hotel de Troch," for naughty behavior in the bar-room of Shaw's hotel, at Tobyhanna Mills. The guest, whose name we did not learn, indulged too freely in benzine, and began showing his pugilistic and general destructive qualities, in a manner anything but pleasant to the bystanders. For this he was arrested. Having given bail on Tuesday, he was released.

On the same evening constable Keener found quarters, at the same hotel for an aged veteran who had been indulging too freely in tangle-foot. He was discharged on Tuesday morning, having slept off the effects of the evil spirits by which he was lined.

If you want gloves, hosiery, ladies belts, corsets, or any kind of notions, Ruster has them in large quantities.

In commenting on the action of the Democratic State Convention lately held at Wilkes Barre, the Philadelphia Press, says,

"Some evil genius seems to preside over the fate of this once grand party.—All over the country it enters upon the fall campaign without a ray of hope up on its path. It can no more revive the questions that have been settled by the inevitable march of events in the last decade than it can summon to the polls from their graves the hosts that followed Jackson forty years ago. Its records and traditions are repulsive to this generation, and must be blotted out. In Pennsylvania, its opposition to the Republican party, under its old banners, is puerile, and will hardly call forth a struggle."

The vast consumption of claims is gradually diminishing the annual yield, and the Connecticut and Rhode Island people are afraid that they will have to abandon their time honored clam cakes.

Value of imports at New York last week, $7,807,237.

If you want nice dress shirts, undershirts, drawers, blue sailor shirts, &c., go to Ruster's, he has all kinds and sells them cheap.

What We saw and heard within the week.

A gay thing at the "west end," on Monday evening—"see-saw," "tag," dancing and such, until the "wee sma' hours."

Who would steal a while away, To indulge in pleasant chats, And "see-saw" underneath the willow, And revel in "Ginger-snaps."

A young gent trying to recognize his sweet-heart through the window of the street car, a perfect failure. Get spectacles, J—is your eyes, not the wind-ws, growing dimmer.—Two slender individuals looking for "roasting ears" in Uncle Jake's potato patch.—Party of four returning from Baskill, Saturday night, realizing the truthfulness of "Old Probabilities" prognostications.—Pond Master and deputy, lying in ambush, after 8 o'clock, for unsuspecting critters.—Half a dozen little girls endeavoring to captivate the W. U. T. Co's lightning agitator; six to one is too many, girls—Hays, the hatter, trying to tree a "wood-cock" at the "Forge cut," Thursday afternoon. Fowls of that breed don't tree a bit.—Weston No. 2, receiving instructions in the new style of choking adopted, and put into practice by an up-town lady—the result of being handsome.—The Street passenger car and opposition Omnibus running Hank & Henry as to passengers.—A large heap of stones and rubbish in the centre of M'Dowell street, which will furnish an excuse for complaint if not removed or covered up.—Four romantic individuals seeking seclusion in the shady bowers of Fox Hill.—Gutter snipes picking away at the street crossings.—Jonas organizing a singing class at Williams' Hall; discords with one accord.—Another installment of poetry from Jersey; result, six cents postage wasted, and nobody happy.—The Owl Train minus a conductor, out in full dress, on Saturday.—Dr. Davis, of Clarksville, N. J., paying our town a flying visit on Saturday.—Judging from the good time the mice are having, the "old cat" must be away.—The Chief Burgess taking his departure for "the city of brotherly love"—Jack Frost! in town on Monday; overcoats, &c., in demand.—Rather Gault is Prof. Bliz's "celebrated Indian shawl feat" as performed at his last entertainment; how did he do it?—John and the Doctor striving for a front seat on a certain up street porch, and considerable feeling manifested as to the result—"three is a crowd," John.—Quite a number of sad faces about town, caused by the return home of several Philadelphia fair one's on Tuesday. A couple of dashing butchers making a race course of our Main street, one day last week, but Johnny came out ahead if he did start behind. Keener should have been at the coming out place.—The latest style of wearing rings, as displayed on our streets, in connection with gloves, is, for ladies, on the index and third finger; for gents, on the index and fourth finger, outside the glove, both ring fingers to be extended when pointing out objects of note.

For gents furnishing goods, drawers, shirts, under shirts, collars, suspenders, neckties, &c. &c., you should go to Fried's, by all means. He has the largest and best stock to be found outside of the cities, and will take pleasure in showing anything in this line. To see is to desire, to learn the price is sure to induce you to purchase.

NEW JERSEY.

Destructive Fire—Valuable Horses Burned. TRENTON, Sept. 4.—The Fashion stud farm stable took fire at quarter past eleven this morning, and was destroyed. The building was 50 feet by 195, containing nineteen horses, nine of which were burned. Among the horses burned the following have been ascertained:—Two road mares, belonging to President Grant; "La Pierre," owned by Mr. Butterworth, of Philadelphia; a fine large bay horse, owned by the same gentleman; a fine stallion belonging to Mr. Hutchinson; "Harry B," a grey horse, belonging to Wm. H. Doble, valued at $4000, and five other horses not noted, the names of whose owners are not ascertained.

The following horses were got out and saved:—"Goldsmith Maid," "Lucy," "Roslyn," "Hotspur," "California Mare." Doble loses ten sulkeys, three fall top buggies, thirty sets of harness, and some traps worth $1000. Charles Cochran, an old man, lost a trunk containing $3000 in gold notes, a fifty dollar gold piece, one twenty, and one ten dollar gold piece; trunks belonging to all the noted horses were also lost. The clothing of all the boys, and about one hundred halters and a large number of saddles and bridles belonging to brood mares were also lost.

The barn cost $19,000. The horses, valued at $45,000, and 300 bushels of oats, eight tons of hay and six tons of straw were burned. The whole loss is said to be $75,000. There is an insurance of $8000 on barn, but no insurance on the horses. Doble loses fully $5000. The farm and stables belonged principally to H. N. Smith, of New York. It is thought the fire originated from sparks from a locomotive. There was a stiff gale from the southwest. Men are at work taking the dead horses from the debris. Three Trenton engines were on hand.

SECOND DESPATCH.

TRENTON, Sept. 4.—The following horses were burned in addition to those mentioned in a former despatch:—"Lizzie Perry," owned by Edward Perry, and a black horse from Bethlehem, Pa. Eight horses in all were burned. "La Pierre" was valued at $10,000. A stallion belonging to Wm. Hutchinson was valued at $6000. The insurances are as follows:—People's, of Trenton, $2500, Standard, of Trenton, $2500; North American, of Philadelphia, $2000; Franklin, of Philadelphia, $2500—in all, $10,000.

If you want a nice hat, cap, or set of furs, go to Ruster's, for he has all the very latest styles.

A boy in Nelson, Ill, by constant attention to business has killed 30,000 of the "Star Spangled Banner" potato bugs. The work was done by contract, and the boy makes $30 and saves the potato crop.

A PROFITABLE BARN YARD.

A $40,000 Cow—111 Cattle Sold for $380,890.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune gives the following account of the sale of cattle that took place near Utica, N. Y., on the 10th instant. It suggests that stockbreeding, providing the right animals are selected, is not an unprofitable business.

The most wonderful sale of cattle ever held has just taken place at New York Mills, three miles from here. The herd, which was the property of the Hon. Samuel Campbell, consisted largely of the "Duchess" and "Oxford" breeds, and other close akin, or subordinate families like the "Rosmounde," "Lady Newhams," "Lady Knights," "Lady Bates," etc. No herd was ever collected, either in this country or England, of equal numbers and value. The astonishing results of the sale fully bear out this statement—that young animals, both male and female, for many years have been frequently shipped to England, where they have met a ready sale at very high prices. English breeders have bought cattle here and transported them thither.

This sale drew to New York Mills representative men of the short horn breeders of the world. Not only were the great grazing sections of Kentucky, Illinois, Ohio and Minnesota represented, but the most prominent short horn breeders of New England, Canada, England and Scotland met on common ground when these superb specimens of the noblest race of cattle ever bred were brought to the auction block. The origin of the herd was the purchase made by Mr. Samuel Thorne, of New York, of several animals of the Duchess tribe at the famous sale of Earl Duess in 1853, which he bought for his father and for Col. Lewis G. Morris. In 1857 all came into the hands of Mr. Samuel Thorne, and were domiciled upon the broad meadows of Thordale, in Dutchess county. They soon became famous by his judicious trading and additions. Mr. Thorne sold the herd to Mr. James O. Sheldon, of Geneva, in 1867, who, about 1870, parted with it to Messrs. Walcott and Campbell. Mr. Campbell subsequently became the sole proprietor, and now, just twenty years after the Duess sale, for reasons not made public, he disposes of the entire herd, which, of course, is represented all over America, Canada, and Great Britain.

About five hundred people were in attendance. American short horn breeders of note who were not present, might be numbered on one's fingers, and to give a list of those attending is hardly possible. Among the English breeders present may be mentioned the Right Hon. Lord Skelmersdale, whose seat is near Liverpool; Mr. Halford, of Papillon Market Harbor; Mr. Calthrope; Mr. Richardson, who represents Sir Curtis Lampson, of Sussex; Mr. Berwick, agent for Lord Dunmore, but who buys for Earl Beattie. Recently Lord Kenlis, of Underley Hall, Lancashire, and Mr. Kello, agent for Mr. R. Parvia Davis, of Horton, Gloucestershire. Messrs. Cochrane, Christie, Miller and Beattie, of Canada, were also present. The last named were understood to buy for English breeders, whose names were not disclosed. The stalwart sons of Kentucky were present in full force, and there were rumors of combinations among them to secure some of the gems of the herd for their own State. It was also understood that English breeders had authorized purchases to be made for them by some American gentlemen.

The Duchess family, headed by that noble three year old bull, "Second Duke of Oneida," came first in the sale, which began punctually at one o'clock. It was no sooner presented than Lord Skelmersdale offered $10,000. This was quickly followed by offers of $11,000 and $12,000, and he was sold to Mr. Thomas J. Megibben, of Cynthiana, Ky. Next came "First Duchess of Oneida." The bidding started at $15,000, and quickly ran up to $30,000 after which bids of $100 more were made until she was sold to Lord Skelmersdale for $80,500. A beautiful yearling, "Seventh Duchess of Oneida," was next offered. The bids started at $5000, and quickly went up to $19,000, at which sum she was sold to Mr. A. J. Alexander, of Kentucky. After her the "Tenth Duchess of Geneva" came into the ring. The bidding started at $500, ran quickly up to $30,000, and then, by smaller bids, to $35,000, at which she was taken by Lord Beattie, through Mr. Berwick. Several fine animals followed at high prices, some to cross the Atlantic. The culmination of the intense interest, however, was reached in the bidding for the "Eighth Duchess of Geneva," which was sold to Mr. R. Pavin Davis, of Gloucestershire, England, for the unprecedented sum of $40,000. After this eleven cows of the "Duchess" family sold for $238,800, an average of over $21,700. Of these six went to England at a cost of $147,100, and five remain here at a cost of $91,700.

After the "Duchess" family came the "Oxfords," then the other families, the bulls being brought in after all the cows were sold. There were in all one hundred and eleven animals presented. The sum realized was $380,890.

Fried delights in a neatly dressed foot, and per consequence uses judgment in his purchases of boots, shoes, gaiters, slippers, &c. The best of work and material and the most fashionable styles will prove to be characteristic of the goods in this line to be found upon his shelves. The most fastidious taste can be suited, whether in style or price.

Great Britain has paid up in full the amount of damages awarded by the Geneva Arbitrators for the Alabama piracies.—The final payment was made at the New York Sub-Treasury last Friday. The settlement consisted of $8,200,000 in gold, and $7,300,000 of called five twenty bonds. The entire sum—$15,500,000—will be held in trust for the Government until it is divided among those who were sufferers by the piracies committed.

N. RUSTER has a fine lot of neckties and scarfs. Ladies' scarfs a speciality.

N. RUSTER, has laid in another big stock of paper collars. He has all styles from ten to forty cents per box.

One of General Meigg's newly invented explosive cartridge was tried lately on a grizzly bear in the Rocky mountains, and fetched him beautifully. The shot entered the bear's head near the ear and exploded, disabling him immediately.

The last chicken of the series has been hatched at Thommsville, Ga. The statistics are as follows:—Legs, 4; eyes, 3; body, 1. One of the eyes was in the top of the head. This beauty soon faded, and is now enshrined in a big bottle of rum.—Speaking of Georgia and chickens, The Macon Telegraph calls loudly for "the revival of the domestic chicken trade in Georgia." A cotton crop may or may not make money, but "every shrill pipe in the coop," says The Telegraph, "pipes about a pound of sustenance, and by that much if telling of deliverance from the wretched pauper life we are leading, in getting all our bread and meat from the Western States."
