The State Ticket-Official Majorities.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 24.—The following are the official majorities on the State Ticket:—Gordon, Judge of Supreme Court, 14,294; Mackey, State Treasurer, 25,352.

OWING to the money stringency of the Newburg, N. Y., steam mills have stopped for an indefinite period. About four hundred persons are thrown out of employment.

Under the head of Telegraph Notes, in Monday's Philadelphia Inquirer, we find the following: Benjamin Butts, proprietor, and F. Campbell editor, of the Newark, (N. J.) Echo, were arrested on Saturday by the Sheriff, having been indicted by the grand jury for libel. Campbell gave bail, but Butts was committed to the county jail.

FULL returns of the election in Ohio show that Allen, the old-fashioned Democratic candidate for Governor, has been elected by about 800 majority over Noyes. For the other State offices the Republican candidates are successful. The Legislature is Democratic, and will re-elect Thurman to the Senate. In Iowa the Republican majority on Governor is about 20,000, and the Legislature is controlled by the same party.

The yellow fever continues to rage with great malignity at Memphis, Tennessee. The average death rate is 25 per day. Many of the people have fled from the city, and the population is reduced from 30,000 to 10,000. Great privation exists, but large sums of money have been collected and forwarded to relieve it. The heavy frosts have not stopped the disease. At Shreveport it seems to be abating, possibly for want of material. The fever also prevails at Little Rock, Arkansas, Montgomery, Alabama and Bainbridge, Georgia, and fears are felt that it may become general through the South.

Cheap Hams and Beef!

A couple of young men came into town on last Friday, from Philadelphia, stating that they represented a house in said city, by the name of J. Vanderville, Nos. 214 and 217, Front street. They stated that their house had a large consignment of ham and dried beef just previous to the panic, which compelled them to sell off their stock at reduced rates in order to meet the demands against their house. Accordingly they were offering their stock of ham at 10 cents and their smoked beef at 12 cents per pound. The price being so much below the regular market price of a good article, the most of our wideawake provision dealers refused to purchase, fearing that there must be something wrong with the beef and ham, notwithstanding it appeared on examination to be all right. But we regret to learn that our friends, Wagner & Rhodes, S. Overfield, J. H. Conner, Stroud & Andre, of this borough, and Thomas Stemples, of East Stroudsburg, were deceived by their plausible statements and purchased, some of them, ham, and dried beef, to an extent which exceeds the demands of the market to-day.

We purchased one ham at 18 cents per pound, of one of the above named parties, and after eating of it at three meals, concluded that when we needed physic we would prefer having it in some other shape than smoked ham.

It would appear that said ham and beef had been improperly cured and had in consequence become tainted, but by being dipped in a solution of carbolic acid, and probably chloride of lime, and perhaps some other disinfectants, and wrapped in paper, the taint was entirely hid, so that no ordinary test would reveal it, but in a day or two after being unwrapped and cut open, the taint very clearly manifested itself. We doubt not that this cheap ham and beef can be purchased to-day considerably below cost.

In Wood's Household Magazine for November, the table of contents seems spread for a Thanksgiving feast, and gives evidence that no efforts have been spared that could add to its excellence. "A sermon on a Skimmer," is not only pleasing in its quaintness, and originality, but contains sound logic. "Mrs. Pomeroy's Pin Money," is capital. "Upon the Stand," is another Kate W. Hamilton. "Codfish and Potatoes," by Eleanor Kirk, is a short serial which opens well. "Growing aged together," by the Rev. Robert Collyer, is well worth the price of the year's subscription; it is full of this great man's eloquence—powerful in its very simplicity. There are many other interesting articles had we space to mention them. The poetry in this number is unusually good. A new feature of the magazine is the introduction of pictures, and the illustration, "past, present and future," here given, is exceedingly pretty.

Price of magazine, one dollar per year—with the chromo "Yosemite," one dollar and a half. Address, Wood's Household Magazine, Newburgh, N. Y.

STROUDSBURG LOAN AND BUILDING ASSOCIATION.—At a meeting of this organization, held at the office of Stephen Holmes, Jr., in this place, on Friday evening last, the following officers were elected, viz: President—Hon. John DeYoung. Secretary—B. S. Jacoby. Treasurer—A. O. Greenwald. Solicitor—Stephen Holmes, Jr. Directors—Reuben Miller, Alex. Raubenold, Theo. Schoch, M. W. Rhodes, A. I. LaBar, W. H. Garis, Jesse R. Smith, Jacob F. Herzog, B. F. Morey.

ALBERT HAWK, aged 16 years, of this county, was caught in a belting of a tannery a few days ago, and whilst about the shaft until he was crushed to a jelly and one of his legs completely severed from his body. The limb having been cut off, the body was thrown a considerable distance from the shaft. The father of the boy heard the noise of the fall, and on reaching the place of accident discovered one of the legs still revolving with lightning rapidity.

STOKES' trial is dragging along slowly.

We have a Building and Loan Association in this borough. Young men invest.

MR. CHARLES HUFFORD, of this borough, slaughtered a hog on Monday last, which weighed after being dressed, 370 pounds.

OVER five hundred neatly made up overcoats, all colors, in store, and for sale cheap, at Fried's store, Main street, Stroudsburg.

LADY pedestrians will have reason soon to rejoice. It will be too cold for the brave band of "tobacco squitters" to ply their vocation on street corners.

ON Saturday afternoon last, a man arrived in Stroudsburg, with a performing Bear, and exhibited at a number of points on Main st., to the delight of the small boys.

THIS warm and showery autumn weather is giving wheat a fine start. The farmers have put out an unusual breadth, and are delighted with the prospects thus far.

ONE day last week a rumor was afloat that our townsman, Daniel Tuttle, was dead. The rumor is false, and we are happy to state that Dan is still living, and enjoys excellent health.

JERE FRUTCHIEY, County Superintendent of Public Schools, held a special examination, in this borough, on Saturday, for teachers to fill vacancies in different parts of the county.

OVERCOATS in great demand these frosty mornings, and to be had cheap, at Fried's clothing house, Main street, Stroudsburg.

THE chestnut crop is very light; walnuts are rather plentiful; butternuts are abundant; hickory nuts are plentiful; the apple crop is a failure; popatoes are plentiful; corn moderate; buckwheat much below the usual yield.

REPORTS from various points in Central and Western Minnesota and Wisconsin say that snow commenced falling at noon on Saturday, and continued at eleven the same night, where it was four inches deep on the ground.

THE masons are at work on the foundation walls of the new emery wheel manufactory of Marsh & Co., in Weissport. They expect to complete their building and commence work within one month from this time.—Carbon Advocate.

JOHN DAVIS, JR., a son of the late John Davis, president of the Easton (Pa.) National Bank, aged 17 years, accidentally shot himself on Wednesday night, 23d inst. dying instantly. He was in his bed room, and is supposed to have been examining or trying his revolver.

THE disgraceful conduct indulged in, by some young men of this borough, on the Sabbath, by collecting in large groups, insulting pedestrians, spitting tobacco juice, and throwing chestnut shells, over the pavement, should be looked after by officer Keener.

THE REV. MR. KOHLER, on Sunday morning last, as we announced in last week's JEFFERSONIAN, delivered an interesting sermon in the German language, to a large audience, in the Lutheran church, this borough. It is the intention of the Pastor, to deliver monthly, sermons of this character, for the benefit of our German friends.

GRACIOUS! Fried intends soon to pay out Gold and Silver, in change, to all persons purchasing boots, shoes, clothing, &c., at his clothing house.

GRAND SERENADE.—Our enterprising young friend, Peter S. Williams, on the occasion of his taking possession of his new and nicely furnished house, in the capacity of husband, on last Thursday evening, was vigorously serenaded by the Stroudsburg Firemen's Drum Corps. Peter recognized the compliment and came down liberally with a retainer, which sent the boys off in high glee.

WE are glad to notice that our Methodist friends have finished a neat and substantial brick pavement in front of the M. E. Church. We would have been better pleased had they gone to a little additional expense and procured fine four or five inch curbstone and put down flagstone of uniform size, which would have better harmonized with the style of the Church, and prove to be cheaper in the end.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Mr. William Schoch, on Friday last, while engaged in painting the roof of Mr. Peter Zimmerman's house, near Buttermilk Falls, Smithfield township, in this county, the shingles under his feet broke, precipitating him headlong to the eaves of the roof, where he struck in the top of a small walnut tree, grappling with the limbs, partly turning, and landed upon the ground on his feet, without a scratch.

SOME provision should be made for the comfort of the young men who go to church on Sabbath evening, and wait outside until services are over to escort their girls home. These young men are generally of the more indigent class, whose best clothes are well worn, and who feel a delicacy in exposing them to the strong light of the street lamps. The evenings, furthermore, are becoming cool, which adds to the distress of such poor but pious gentlemen.

ALBERT HAWK, aged 16 years, of this county, was caught in a belting of a tannery a few days ago, and whilst about the shaft until he was crushed to a jelly and one of his legs completely severed from his body. The limb having been cut off, the body was thrown a considerable distance from the shaft. The father of the boy heard the noise of the fall, and on reaching the place of accident discovered one of the legs still revolving with lightning rapidity.

WE were down town the other night after eleven o'clock at T. Stones' shoemaker shop, and heard a certain party laying in a supply of coal from the Street Rail-way Co's. Yard. We would suggest that a watch be stationed at or near the coal yard with a gun, fully instructed to shoot lame, or worse, any scoundrel who might be caught so lost to a proper sense of his neighbors' rights.

MANY citizens in town and county when driving through our streets seem to ignore the right of pedestrians, and drive as though every one must give way to them and look out for themselves. Pedestrians, by law, possess the right of way in crossing a street, and no driver has a right to shout "look out there," or give any such orders. It is the driver's duty to "look out," and to respect the rights of foot passengers, and in neglecting this necessary precaution he renders himself amenable to the law and liable for damages.

STREET FIGHT.—On last Thursday night a fight occurred, near Hollinshead's Drug store, between Mit. Huston and Dr. G. W. Jackson, when the latter attempted to wind up the affair by stabbing his opponent with a Surgeon's knife, but through mistake stabbed A. Stewart whom he mistook for said Huston. We are glad to learn that the stabbing resulted in nothing very serious, though this would appear to be owing more to a providential deliverance than to the intention of the stabber. Men and boys who do not know how to use surgeons' knives ought not to be allowed to have them.

SALE OF TROTTING STOCK.—The third annual sale at the stock farm of Mr. A. H. Taylor, Highland Mills, near Turner's station, Orange county, N. Y., took place on the 16th inst. Over fifty lots were offered to the buyers, and the prices realized were very satisfactory. Archy Johnson, of New York, was the auctioneer. Among other sold we note the following: Kate Mann, brown, 12 years old, pedigree not sure, said to be by American Star, dam Mambrino Chief; stunted to Florida, and foals in March; to W. C. Traphagen, N. Y., for $750. Kate Mann, it will be remembered, was on our course, two years ago, at the County Fair, and through alleged partiality, was deprived of the first premium. William E. Dean, formerly of Stroudsburg, but now of New York city, brought Kate Mann here on that occasion, and in common with many others, believed himself badly used by prejudiced judges.

Now is the time for all persons to purchase a new suit of clothing, as Simon Fried has returned from the cities with a large invoice of goods at greatly reduced prices.

What We Heard and Saw Within the Week.

A large number of whites at the colored festival.—That bear anxious to visit Conner's meat market.—A "nice" lot of individuals standing in front of Mrs. LaBar's store on Sunday last; Hotel de Troch would be a better place.—Two white young "bloods" escorting a couple colored "ladies" through our back streets.—Officer Keener looking after several outlets filled with the "stuf."—Quite a number of our young men out on their muscle; "Oh, ain't we got the nerve?"—W. S. trying to leap over a walnut tree about 20 feet high.—Wild horses on our streets.—The D. C. receiving a key of "family disturbance."—S. receiving the assassin's knife—in the breast.—A set of steps upon a barn roof.—The whiskey "ring" broken.—Sparrows in our borough.—Hans being sold in our streets at 14 cents per pound.—Sam Melick in town—looking well.—Our borough filled with strangers.—Numerous "man-traps" in our borough.—Plenty rabbits and pheasants in our market.—Our schools in full operation.—and many children playing truant.—A certain party laying in their winter supply of coal after 11 o'clock, P. M.—A lad of about 215 pounds promanaging our streets with a mallet upon his shoulder.—The blood of a human being promiscuously distributed upon the pavement, in front of Bush Bro's store.—A set-too on Thursday night.—The colored population filled with benzine, and out on their muscle, Monday night.—The drum corps out in full force—followed by a large crowd—in search of a newly married couple.—Andy Van C., of East Stroudsburg, smiling beautifully over a bow from his sweet Lizzie.—East Stroudsburg to be enlivened by a musical convention, December 2d, 3d, 4th and 5th, 1873.—A newly organized club playing a game of base ball.—Bush Bro's store nicely donned in a new dress.

Preparation for a Resumption of Specie Payments.

Pursuant to the views regarding resumption, expressed by the President and Secretary of the Treasury, recently, the Director of the Mint has been making extensive arrangements for the coinage of both gold and silver to an extent here before unprecedented, so as to be ready for the resumption of specie payments, there now being large quantities of these metals awaiting coinage. The first step in resumption has been taken, it having been ascertained from the Secretary of the Treasury that the government will pay out silver as soon as it can be profitably and conveniently coined for that purpose.

The number of battle flags of Pennsylvania regiments in the room at the State capital set apart for their exhibition and preservation is three hundred and thirteen. The ensigns are arranged in excellent order, so that they can all be conveniently inspected. The room in which they are deposited is handsomely carpeted and well suited to the purpose for which it has been appropriated. Each flag will be labeled at the bottom of the staff to show what regiment carried it.

At the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the Grove Methodist Episcopal church, in West Whiteland township, Chester county, a few days ago, the venerable Father Boehm, now ninety three years old preached and gave some interesting reminiscences of the congregation ninety years ago.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

The Official Vote Complete.

Table with columns: State, Treasurer, Judge of Supreme Court, and various counties with their respective vote counts.

Summary.

The American Woman Suffrage Association held a very successful Anniversary and Annual Meeting in New York and Brooklyn, Oct. 13 and 14. The Convention was large. The proceedings were spirited and harmonious. Great enthusiasm prevailed. Col. T. Wentworth Higginson presided and made the opening address. Letters endorsing the movement were read from Hon. George Wm. Curtis, Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Lydia Maria Child, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa M. Alcott and others. Eighty six delegates were present, representing organized societies in fourteen States and Territories. The Annual Report shows that Woman Suffrage is established and works well in Wyoming and Utah, that it was under discussion last winter, in 21 State Legislatures, and received a majority vote in those of Maine, Iowa and Michigan. Written reports were read from 17 States. Julia Ward Howe was elected President for the ensuing year; Lucy Stone, Chairman Executive Committee. Among the Vice Presidents at Large are Vice President Henry Wilson, Hon. George Wm. Curtis, Senator Sargent, Wm. Lloyd Garrison and Col. Higginson. The Resolutions adopted are as follows.

Resolved, That the primary aim of the American Woman Suffrage Association is to secure the ballot for woman; while it includes, in its general aim, the establishment of her equality of rights in all directions.

Resolved, That one half of the adult population of the United States who are legally entitled to hold property, who are assessed for taxes and punishable for crime, and whose interest in the Commonwealth is in no respect less than that of the other half, should not be deprived of an equal voice in the government.

Resolved, That a government of the people must be a government composed equally of men and women, inasmuch as the equal cooperation of the sexes is essential alike to a happy home, a refined society, a Christian church and a Republican State.

Resolved, That our present political system is not fairly representative, even of men, being largely controlled in the primary meetings by rings of trading politicians intent on private gain; that political reform must enlist a more general interest on the part of the people in the management of public business; and that this would be greatly promoted by combining the social sympathy and cooperation of women in the primary meetings, at the polls, and in the halls of legislation.

Resolved, That we advise the friends of Woman Suffrage in every locality to promote the Movement morally and politically, by organizing local societies, for circulating tracts and newspapers, for holding public meetings, and especially for helping to elect the friends of Suffrage and to defeat its enemies.

Resolved, That the Woman Suffrage Movement, like every other reform of the Age, laments the loss and honors the memory of its most powerful advocate, John Stuart Mill.

Mr. Cornelius Van Cleef, of Harlingen, Somerset county, N. J., has been missing turkeys lately, and a few days ago on going to their roosting place he found the carcasses of fifteen unfortunate gobblers lying on the ground. He set a trap for the slayer, and caught what proved to be a full grown red fox. This is the first red fox that has been caught in that vicinity for fifteen years.

Our Neighbors.

During the past week Hudson River towns have been infested by daring thieves. One source of attraction was the Catskill races, and another the firemen's tournament at Poughkeepsie. In this city on the last day of the fireman's gathering it was known that a gang of certainly twenty thieves were present, and though three of them were arrested, sufficient evidence could not be produced to hold them. At the Catskill races gamblers and thieves were present in force. The affair recounted below occurred on Friday. Nearly four miles below the village of Catskill, on the west bank of the Hudson, resides Abraham Post, a worthy, well to do farmer. At about 6:30 p. m. Mr. Post, his wife and daughter, (the latter about twenty two years of age), his son Edward, and their hired man, an Irishman, were quietly eating supper, when the door leading from the main hall to the dining room was abruptly pushed open and six men entered and rushed up to the table. Each one of the scoundrels drew a revolver, and leveling the weapon at the head of each member of the family warned all to keep quiet or they would blow their brains out. While five of the robbers held the five inmates of the house quiet, the sixth one drew four pairs of new handcuffs from underneath his coat and in regular order snapped the bracelets upon every person at the table except the daughter. The latter showed no fear, but while the handcuffing was progressing gave the thieves such a severe "talking" to, that finally, becoming exasperated, one of the robbers stepped up to her and said: "Well, you are so sassy I guess we'll handcuff you too," and the scoundrel handcuffed the whole family together, including a colored girl who entered the room at the time. Not feeling perfectly safe, even then, the thieves procured a bedstead and firmly tied that around the entire family, and then one of them stood guard over the captured group while the others commenced to ransack the house. They entered every room in the house except one, tore open bureau drawers, broke open trunks, and smashed locks on closets. The room which escaped them belonged to Edward Post, and in that was a gold watch and a large sum of money, which they did not get. They did however, get twelve silver teaspoons, marked S. E. P., six silver teaspoons, marked J. H., twenty knives and forks, $235 in currency, $90 in gold coin, a lady's gold watch and chain marked S. E. P., $50 worth of other jewelry, two Greene County bonds of the denomination of $500 each, one check for $1,000 on the Farmers' National Bank, of Catskill, signed by Mrs. Massion and payable to the order of R. H. King, and in dorsed by her to Abraham Post, one check of $200 on the same bank, signed by Jacob Burget, and payable to Abraham Post, or bearer.

For over one hour the thieves remained in the house, stealing whatever they could lay their hands on in the way of valuables. They even approached their bond victims laughingly, and took rings from their fingers, and put them on their own. They also sat down to the supper table and ate all they wished to. While they were eating, Edward Post endeavored to free himself. He told them he had seen two of them the day previous at the Catskill Fair, and one of them replied: "Well, what of it?" When they had got all they wanted, they bade the family good night and departed. For one hour afterward the imprisoned men and women tried to free themselves, and finally the son did get loose, when he started for Catskill Village, and told the story. The Sheriff and others repaired to the scene as quickly as possible, and with the proper keys succeeded in releasing all immediately the services of the telegraph wires were impressed, and a statement of the case was sent to all prominent points, together with an offer by Mr. Abraham Post of $1,000 reward for the arrest of the rascals. Near the house a paper was found similar to those sold on the Catskill Fair Grounds by the gamblers and thieves who pretended to give greenbacks with every cack of soap sold. It is thought that the same gang robbed the Post house. Perhaps no fair in the State had such an impudent lot of rascals at it as the Catskill Fair. They located their games at night right on the main street and hundreds were victimized. One "wheel of fortune" was fastened against a tree by the Presbyterian Church, and the congregation had to go around the crowd of rascals to get into the church.

None of Mr. Post's family were injured, though the gang handled all roughly. Part of the same gang operated at the America Fair last week. A year ago at the latter fair the receipts of the thieves who peddled the "wheels of fortune," or who gave away the greenbacks, were larger than the receipts of the fair. The greatest efforts are being made to bring the perpetrators of the Catskill outrage to justice, and prominent men who know the facts favor the making of an appeal to Gov. Dix to offer a large reward in behalf of the State for their apprehension.

In Virginia City, Nev., according to the Territorial Enterprise of that town a gentleman has placed on each side of the gravelwalk leading from his front gate to his door a handsome iron fence, the top rail of which is made of gas-pipe filled with small holes. Before he thus fenced his walks he was much troubled by book agents, map peddlers, and other persistent cattle, but now all is lovely with him. When he sees a man enter his gate with books under his arm, he turns a cock and instantly a thousand streams of water dart across the whole length of the walk from side to side. The book peddler retreats to the gate, gazes wistfully up the walk for a time, concludes the man of the house does not want to see him, and then travels, wondering what sort of infernal machines people will next invent for the discouragement of honest industry. This beautiful and useful invention is not patented.

Berks county has 190 churches, 31 of which are located in Reading.

A child was buried at Allentown recently which had six fingers on each hand.

A spent bullet struck a South Bethle, hemite while he was standing in front of his residence. It passed through the paper collar, scratched his neck over his windpipe and then dropped into his under clothing.

A New York mechanic has invented a steam engine for propelling street cars, on which no fire is used, the steam being supplied by a tank which is filled at a building constructed for the purpose, and taken off when it is to be replenished.

General Custar was a listener at Duluth to a lecture on how to save the Indians. He admitted that the lecturer's doctrines were good for the interior of a church, but insisted that a man could not practice them upon the plains and save his hair.

Among the members of the Wyoming Legislature are "Black Bill," "Prairie Joe," "Slim Sam Shaw" and "Grizzly Graham." The Speaker will also have to recognize the gentleman from "Hundred claim," and the gentleman from "Buffalo horn corners."

On Wednesday afternoon a full sized pheasant flew into the second story window of E. T. Kennedy's drug store, in Bridgeton, N. J., and was captured and placed in a cage. It is supposed that it was chased by a hawk, and sought refuge from its pursuer by flying into the window.

In Japan there are said to be trees five hundred or five hundred years old, which produces tea worth five dollars a pound. Japanese say that the tea tree was introduced into their country from China many hundred years ago. The plant is utilized as a hedge in the lanes of the villages and around the kitchen gardens.

Nathan G. Howe, court clerk of Wilkes barre, died very suddenly on Friday. He was about the court house in the morning, but not feeling very well started for home, and had barely got inside his house when he expired. He was about sixty years of age, and had been court clerk for the last twenty years.

Professor Jay made a balloon ascension from San Francisco on Saturday with Justice of the Peace and a young lady whom the Professor would marry in the clouds.

The wool industry of the United States is one of great importance. The output of the trade is reported to be encouraging. It seems to be the general opinion that comparatively high prices will be the rule, so soon as trade becomes more sets in the ordinary groove. The apprehensions are felt that there will be failures to any extent among wool factors, since where they are doing business on a sound and healthy basis the country bankers will come to the aid, should such a course be necessary in order to enable them to tide over temporary difficulties. The manufacturers in the West are reported to be in a better position financially than ever, with their stocks sold close up.
