

GENERAL SHERIDAN has had a cook stove named after him. He ought to feel "grateful."—Boston Post. Yes, any man could eat his "Little Phill" of a dinner cooked on such a stove.—Commercial Advertiser. And would not require "Five Forks," either.—Bulletin. To dispose of an "Early breakfast."—Harrisburg Telegraph. Such breaking wit is enough to make a "Bull Run."—Pittsburg Commercial.

After passing through such a course the General's dinner certainly ought to be "Well-don." He could eat it in comfort too, in the "Yellow House."

A special election was held in the Pike and Wayne Representative District, on Tuesday, the 24th ult. to fill the place of William H. Dinmick, which resulted in the election of Thomas Y. Boyd, Republican, over Thomas J. Ham, Editor of the Wayne County Herald, (Democratic,) by a majority of 310.

The following is the official vote:

There has been a considerable falling off in the importation of dry goods during the past month, as compared with the corresponding period of last year. Up to last Saturday the total amount of goods entered at the port of New York—foreign value—foot up $10,726,967, against $14,036,605 for the corresponding month last year, and $17,917,473 in 1872.

HESS BROTHERS have transferred the manufacturing department of their tobacco business to the corner of George and Monroe streets. Hereafter their establishment on main street will be used as a wholesale and retail store. They manufacture all the most popular brands of cigars out of choice domestic and imported tobacco which accounts for their rapidly increasing business and popularity. All lovers of the weed should give them a call.

Chapter of Accidents.

On Monday afternoon last the male team of Messrs. J. & M. Yetter, of East Stroudsburg, was standing in front of the tin-shop of Wm. S. Flory on Main street, this borough, and suddenly took it into their heads to have a little prairie liberty, and sending a vigorous kick at the driver who attempted to seize them by the heads, went off at a two-forty pace to the opposite side of the street, in front of Robert Huston's store, where they got mixed up with the posts and trees, breaking the tongue, whiffle tree and a portion of the harness, when one of the mules got loose and ran up centre street a short distance, where it was caught and brought back.

Another—About 4 o'clock the same afternoon, Mr. Charles Featherman, of Hamilton township, who was in town on business, drove up in front of C. R. Andre & Co's., store, and during his absence, the team took fright at something, ran up Main street to Shaffer's hotel, striking the back-board wagon of Jacob Stouffer, whirling that nearly around and badly bending the axle of the back-board. The next objects in their way were the lamp post, which was demolished, and the corner of Judge Dreher's fence, which was broken down. By this time they had gained the street, up which they dashed at a furious rate, and when near the corner of Pocono street one of the horses fell and was dragged a short distance, when they were caught.

On Tuesday, while George Kirk was driving Mr. J. H. McCarty's horse and top carriage to the funeral of Mr. Watson Jones, in turning round the corner in front of Keenist's gunsmith shop, the carriage upset, throwing out Kirk and Mrs. Smith, the only occupants, injuring Mrs. Smith quite seriously. Kirk escaped with a few slight bruises. The top and body of the carriage were completely demolished. Mrs. Smith was conveyed to her residence in an insensible condition. Dr. Geo. W. Jackson attended to her wounds and she is now slowly recovering.

On Friday last, Mr. J. Y. Sigafus and A. J. Clements, of this place, left home on business, and whilst on their return, when directly in front of the cave below the Delaware Water Gap, driving along leisurely, the king-bolt flew out letting the body down, throwing Messrs Sigafus and Clements to the ground, Mr. C. had his face and chin skinned, and Mr. Sigafus was skinned about the nose and mouth, and slightly bruised about the back. The horses ran a short distance, when they were caught by Mr. D. Weidman, who sent the team back to where the accident happened, and through the assistance of some friends righted up matters, when they started for home, arriving here about 8 o'clock p. m.

This Judicial District has been divided, Wayne and Pike counties forming one district, and Carbon and Monroe another. If this appointment receives the signature of the Governor before the first of May, it will necessitate the appointment of a Judge to preside over the Courts of Pike and Wayne until the election in November next, when one will be elected to serve ten years. Judge Dreher will remain on the bench in Monroe and Carbon, under the provisions of the law.

P. S.—The Judicial apportionment bill has been signed by the Governor.

Wm. HOLLINHEAD, sold a lot 20 ft. front adjoining his Drug store, on Main street, in this Borough, on Monday last to James Edinger, for $2,500. C. E. Durfee has the contract for moving the buildings off this lot, occupied by Dr. Geo. W. Jackson, James H. Walton, and Hess Bro's, to the corner above on same street.

HOWARD MARSH, son of ex-Seriff Marsh of this place, met with quite a serious accident on Thursday last week. He had been engaged in boiling some oil, when it accidentally took fire, and while endeavoring to lift the kettle from the fire, spilled a portion of the burning oil on his left hand, burning the back part of the hand and fingers in a fearful manner. Dr. J. H. Shull was called and administered to the wants of the sufferer.

THE April number of Wood's Household Magazine, now upon our table, well sustains its reputation as a first-class, live publication. While its contents are not deep or scientific, its pages are free from trashy sensational stories, and are full of bright sunny reading that goes home to the heart. The magazine contains its usual number of illustrations, and its general appearance compares favorably with the higher priced magazine. Subscription price one dollar a year; with chromo Yosemite one dollar and a half. Subscriptions may begin with any number. Address, Wood's Household Magazine, Newburgh, N. Y.

THE STREET RAILWAY is the most general and important public improvement that this community can boast of. Property in general is much enhanced in value because of it. The fare to or from the Depot was formerly 25 cents, then 20 cents, but the Railway Company reduced it to 10 cents. Freight has been delivered more promptly than ever before and at much reduced rates. While coal is sold at less profit, delivered in any quantity and more promptly than ever, and of the same or better quality.

The Company has never attempted, even, to practice any imposition whatever on the public, but on the contrary manifests every desire to do every thing that is honorable and fair. Hence the Railway is not only a convenience and profit to this community, but to the traveling public as well, and deserves the kindest consideration at the hands of both, and we doubt not will continue to receive it from all fair minded and honorable persons.

Opposition therefore, is not only uncalled for, but is a moral wrong.

B. J. VAN COTT, late proprietor of the "Lackawanna House" at East Stroudsburg, has sold out and moved to Newton, N. J., and will take charge of the "Anderson House," of which he has become the proprietor. Mr. Van Cott, has resided in this county, for the past three years, one of which he spent at Kellersville and the last two years at East Stroudsburg, during which time he has been in the hotel business. Mr. Van C. is a live man and knows how to keep a hotel as it should be kept, and we can assure the denizens of Newton and the public generally, that his table will be supplied with all the luxuries of the season, prepared in a style to tempt the most fastidious, and knows how to see that every guest feels at home and at peace with himself, "the world and all the rest of mankind."

The Massachusetts Legislature wrestled with the Senatorial question nearly all of last week, without result. The struggle began on Tuesday, with Judge Hoar, Mr. Dawes, Judge Curtis and Charles Francis Adams as the chief candidates. Dawes and Hoar exhibited nearly equal strength among the Republican members, each receiving over eighty votes. Judge Curtis was supported by the Democrats, and his vote stands steadily at about 74. Mr. Adams does not get many votes, but is in a good position to get the ultimate Republican strength. In this respect Gen. Banks is his most formidable competitor. The last ballot for the week was taken on Saturday. It gave Dawes 85, Hoar 75, Curtis 68, Adams 14, Banks 7, with several scattering. The Dawes men profess to be confident of success, but there is a general impression that neither Dawes nor Hoar can be elected, and that the Democrats in the end may name a Republican who will be chosen.

Tobacco chewing is next to be attacked. In an Ohio church this notice is posted: "No tobacco chewers permitted in this church."

The following Granges compose the Council: Union Grange No. 24 Jackson township; Mount Bethel, No. 40, Mt. Bethel, Northampton county, Pa.; Hamilton Grange, No. 82, Hamilton township; Effort Grange, No. 92, Pocono Grange, No. 113, Pocono township; Popoconing Grange, No. 162, Ross township; Anolmink Grange, No. 163, Stroud township. Each Grange was represented by seven delegates. There were present at this organization about 100 members of the order. Arrangements are making for the organization of four or five more Granges during this month. One of the leading members of the P. of H., in a conversation a few days since, said they meant business, and intended to push on notwithstanding opposition. He represented further that they had in this State at the present time over 200 Granges. In September 1872, there were only 24.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.—The eighty-seventh session of the Philadelphia Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church commenced at Easton on the 18th, ult. This conference represents a membership of nearly 40,000. Bishop Wiley presided, and delivered a brief address at the opening of the session. Dr. Patterson was re-elected Secretary. The various standing committees were announced, and the usual preliminary business occupied the first day's session. In the evening the third anniversary of the Conference Education Society was held, at which addresses were delivered by Rev. J. Toad, Rev. A. Rittenhouse and Dr. Kidder. It was stated that there are 1,250,000 scholars in the Methodist Sunday Schools in this country. On Thursday morning a resolution was adopted protesting against the passage of the bill before the State Legislature for licensing houses of prostitution. Reports were made of the growth of the missionary work during the past year. The collections in the North Philadelphia district were $17,431; South Philadelphia district $21,306. Ten new churches had been built during the year in the Chester and South Philadelphia districts. On Friday a class of eight young men, who for the last two years have been on trial, were called forward by the Bishop and addressed in a most striking manner on the solemn act they were about to perform in assuming the vows of the Christian ministry. On Saturday the report of the Freedmen Aid Society was presented, in which it was stated that the organization now sustains seventeen schools, with sixty teachers and 2,000 scholars. A letter was read from Benjamin Haywood, of Pottsville, enclosing a check for $2,000 to be distributed among those ministers whose salaries are less than $1,000 per year. On Sunday the Conference Love Feast took place, followed by preaching and the ordaining of deacons by Bishop Wiley.

On the 25th, the following appointments were made for this section of the Lehigh District: Wm. B. Wood, presiding elder. Stroudsburg, J. F. Chaplain; East Stroudsburg, H. H. Sanderline; Delaware Water Gap, H. F. Isett; Cherry Valley, F. M. Brady; Jackson, H. M. Hobbs; Spragueville, E. M. Martin; Monroe, J. B. Folsom; Tobyhanna, T. B. Maclary.

The Wilkesbarre correspondent of the Seranton Republican, writing under date of the 24th, says: Yesterday morning at six o'clock John Hilbert, who lived adjoining John Gruver's in Plains, in leaving his bed stumbled in such a way as to strike his neck upon the chimney of a lamp standing upon a table near. The jugular vein severed, and he bled to death in a very few minutes, and before his wife could call in any assistance. The affair was so sudden, and its result so terrible, that even yet it is hardly to be realized. He was a young married man.

What We heard and saw within the week.

A few days ago we happened to hear a conversation, or portion of it, between a mother, with peculiar notions, and her daughter, a "gushing maiden" of sixteen. It was on the subject of fitting a dress. The mother insisting upon a low neck and the daughter objecting. The fair "beauty unadorned," opened the discussion by saying, "Ma, don't you think this dress is very low in the neck?" "not at all," replied the mother. "But ma, why need I have it so low? Miss. —, covers her shoulders and she is such a nice girl." "Well, my dear, Miss. —, has her dress made to cover the freckles. Then she has no bust at all. It would be a pretty sight, indeed, for her to dress like you." "But ma," she said, "it leaves my shoulders so bare, and here in front—I am afraid the gentlemen will look."

"Well, my dear, I am ashamed of you. If a gentleman looks at your nose are you to put a patch over it? Don't your mother know what is proper?" At this juncture the conversation was interrupted by some one entering the room and the pretty little story was spoiled. We enjoyed it very much and think the "blushing maiden" had the best of the argument. However, we will wait and see whether the dress was made in accordance with the mothers notions.—Cast iron babies, painted black and beautifully ornamented, is the latest toy for children. It occasionally affords amusement for older folks, too.—A young lady with her hair done up in bits of newspaper is lovely to gaze upon. The one with "a dark and roguish eye."—Mary and a few friends amusing themselves by waltzing and singing on the side-walks.—The "blonde" can pull the ribbons on a trotting horse with more grace and skill than her brother, who claims to be somewhat of a horseman.—Striped wrappers are all the go among the fair sex. They couldn't have been when the dying soldier exclaimed, "wrap me in the American flag and let me die like a hero." If they had, he would no doubt have changed his request to "put on your wrapper and let me linger by your side."—"Swarty" is going to sing for his board at the Indian Queen. At least he says he has made an arrangement of that kind with the genial proprietor.—The "praying band," "crusaders," fowls of the air and beasts of the fields have pleaded with "Tannery," but in vain. O, "Tannery," why will you cause us thus to weep.

General Schenek was besieged by the reporters before he got half down the gang plank at New York, to learn why, in the name of mercy, he had come back. Was he going into the Cabinet? Was he going to do this; was he going to do that? The General said "No" to them all. He was not going into the Cabinet; he had come home on personal business—business of an interesting and pressing nature. This is nature. Says the New York Sun: "The many personal friends of General Schenek, United States Minister at St. James, will learn with gratification that during his present visit to this country, General Schenek is to be married to a wealthy and fashionable widow of this city." The old rascal! If that isn't "business" we should like to know what is. The guild of ugly men will take courage at Schenek's success, as he is the ugliest man in America.

ERIE.

Disastrous Strike—The Employees at Susquehanna Stop Work—Over Eight Hundred Men Idle—Jay Gould's Prospects.

From the Binghamton Times, Thursday.

A general strike of the shop hands employed by the Erie Railroad Company at Susquehanna, occurred yesterday morning at nine o'clock. Over eight hundred machinists, carpenters and laborers, all, in fact, except the men employed in the switch yard stopped work at that time, alleging, as a reason, that the company had not kept its agreement to pay them their wages, due on the fifteenth of the present month. The men were paid last January, and they claim that the company's agents promised that they should be paid on the 15th inst; that on the date owing to some illegal mistake in the payroll, they were put off with the promise that they should be paid on the twenty fifth, yesterday, and not being paid, they ceased work. This is the statement of the men.

After nine o'clock a. m. all trains arriving from the East and West were detained at Susquehanna. The valve stems and eccentric rods of each locomotive were disconnected, and before five o'clock yesterday afternoon, twenty-five loco tracks, in this condition, stood upon the tracks outside the round-house and thirty more remained within that building, the turn-table having been disabled so as to secure them as prisoners of war. Engineers who offered any resistance to the strikers were taken from their engines and quietly passed over the heads of the multitude to a place of safety.

No. 2 Express and Mail train going east was held in this city about an hour yesterday afternoon, until an agreement was made with the strikers that it should be permitted to pass through Susquehanna. None except Mail trains are now allowed to run on the road. Five trains, including one passenger train (No. 6), remained in this city last night, the conductors having received a dispatch from Elmira to remain here until further orders.

The engineers of the Susquehanna Division were paid off at Owego yesterday, and the employes of the road here will probably receive their pay in a few days. The workmen at Susquehanna belong to a different division and are paid by a different paymaster. It is of course impossible to tell when the strike will end. It was rumored last evening that carloads of men were on the way from New York to take the place of the strikers.

It is said that there is great dissatisfaction on the part of the agents and employes of the road over the attempt to introduce English methods of management in operating the railway, and that the numerous recent strikes may result in the restoration of Jay Gould to the Presidency of the road.

The Bloomfield Times says: Last week Mr. Henry Kline, of Juniata township, brought to this office one of the most remarkable curiosities we ever saw. This consisted of a hen's egg, having a well developed snake inside the shell. The egg was one that was fresh laid and full size. When broken, Mr. Kline noticed something mixed in the white which he thought he would take out. He therefore lifted it up, when he noticed it move, and closer examination showed a tongue dart out in the most approved snake fashion, while the eyes could be plainly seen. So singular a freak of nature was worth particular notice, and so he placed the egg and snake in a glass and brought it to this office, where it was examined by a great number of persons, all of whom expressed their astonishment. The snake was about two inches long and about as thick as a turkey quill, and was almost colorless. The questions which naturally arise are, how did it come there, and what would have been the result had the egg been hatched.

If the Patrons of Husbandry accomplish one half they have set down on paper, they will accomplish more than the Christian Church has been able to do in all the ages it has been in existence, and precipitate the millennium upon us before the world is ready for it. First they are going to labor, for the good of all mankind. Second, to advance their cause by developing a higher and better manhood and womanhood. Third, secure obedience to law. Fourth, reduce personal expenses, buying less and produce more. Fifth, they mean to avoid litigation and secure general brotherhood. Sixth, do away with middlemen, excessive salaries, high interest and exorbitant profits. Seventh, advance the cause of education. Eighth, put down bribery, corruption and trickery. Ninth, relieve suffering by means of charity; and tenth, woman is to be elevated to her proper sphere. This is the programme, and a glorious one. The Patrons set themselves against all the evils in the world. Have they sufficiently calculated the strength of the enemy? We fear not.

All over the country people are testing their molasses, syrups, drips, etc., and the newspapers are reporting the results. In a large majority of the cases the so called syrups and drips are found to be impure and poisonous, many of them being made or thickened with old rags dissolved in muriatic acid, the latter being a deadly poison and the other ingredient anything but palatable. A practical and sure way to test it is to fill an ordinary glass tumbler partly with pure clear tea and then stir a teaspoonful of the syrup or other form of molasses into it. If the latter is pure it will not discolor the tea. If there is muriatic acid in the syrup the tea will change to a muddy or black color. We have known it even to discolor the tongue, making a dark or black streak in the middle. A lady in forms the Sunbury American that she tested some in this way which formed a fluid dark enough to write with, and when stirred it was full of fibre similar to lint or old paper. As the test is so simple and easily applied and the poison so destructive to health, no one should use a particle of molasses without first proving its purity.
