And now Reading has another fowl curiosity—a chicken with four legs, three eyes and four wings.
Virtue is a thing apart from all excitement, and there can be none of it where there is not a pure life.
The Centennial Commission has issued an address to the people of the United States calling for more funds.
The Germans of Williamsport are counting on a grand time in September, when a general convention is to be held there.
The business of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad for the month of June shows a net gain of $110,645 over June, 1873.
A Wisconsin city wants a schoolmaster who can instruct the well-disposed and knock down and drag out disturbing pupils.
A large sale of wool took place at White-water, Wis., one day last week, when Geo. West sold 150,000 pounds for $70,000.
A male colt with eight feet has been born to Thomas Minstrelly of St. Louis. What an animal not to go that mule will be!
John Earl and John Eaton have been convicted of making and circulating counterfeit nickles in the United States District Court at Erie.
A Schuylkill county man wants a new office created, Inspector of Potato Bugs, and also wants to be appointed to the place. He is a Granger.
The body, political or religious, that is so weak or too cowardly to endure the sneer of corrupt members, is nearly ready for the undertaker.
The national insanity. A Boston firm has just contracted with a Maine manufacturer for one hundred gross of ash and popular hose ball bats.
Nelle Grant and her husband will return to this country in October to attend Miss Sherman's wedding, and a fine suite of rooms are being prepared for them in the White House.
In the two years ending with last June the amount of money realized for wheat in California was, in round numbers, $40,000,000, which has enriched nearly all parts of the State.
A rat, which at a certain hour every evening walks from one store to another in New Orleans, on a lofty wire, is attracting much attention, and hundreds nightly await his appearance.
A new rogne's paradise. A California newspaper chronicles the fact that a defaulting county treasurer from that State has "turned up" in one of the Fiji Islands, where he has a plantation and a flock of native wives.
John Leedom, of Davisville, aged seventy-six years, is the champion worker of Bucks county. In a day and a half he removed three and a half acres of grass with a scythe. He then prepared it for the mow in the same length of time.
James H. McGlellan, a well known bricklayer, of Easton, left his home, for the purpose of going to work at his trade at Mauch Chunk, about four weeks ago, since which time he has not been heard from. His family are in great distress on account of his prolonged absence, and they will feel much gratified to any one who will give them word of his whereabouts.
Roger Kirk, of Fulton township, Lancaster county, cut 960 dozen sheaves of wheat from about 25 acres. It was of the red Mediterranean variety, and was well filled. He used 400 to 500 pounds of ground bone to the acre. He cut over three tons of hay per acre from a lot where the wheat was sown last year and less than two tons where bone had not been applied.
Sarah Wolfgram, of Jackson township, York county, Pa., is anxious to hear of the whereabouts of her husband, Jonathan Wolfgram, who wandered away from his family in Columbia, Pa., about one year ago. The whole family, and especially one of her children, is deeply distressed at the absence of the head of the family. Information addressed to Sarah Wolfgram, York, Pa., will be gratefully received.
In the Court of Common Pleas of Philadelphia on Saturday, Judge Allison rendered a decision of great interest to that large portion of the community living in rented houses. In the case at issue, the collector of delinquent taxes had, through one of his deputies, levied upon the household goods of a tenant for city taxes assessed on the property occupied. The matter was taken into court, and Judge Allison ruled that the goods of a tenant cannot be sold for delinquent taxes due by the owner of the house.
The Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin this week on the lumber business of that place during the year to date. Thus far the shipments of the year show a total of 146,150,750 feet, an increase over the operations of the same period in 1873, of 13,569,921 feet. Of this amount the Catawissa branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad has forwarded 63,392,180 feet, requiring the services of 6,434 cars; the Philadelphia and Erie 46,477,964 feet, requiring 4,849 cars, and the Canal 36,281,596 feet requiring 427 boats.
There is trouble among Christians of color in Oakland, Cal. The Rev. Mr. Handy, pastor of the M. E. African Church there, has a mortal quarrel with The Excitor the colored people's organ. The Rev. Handy is a belligerent and muscular Christian; and he has challenged the editor to fight "with swords, pistols, clubs, rocks, bats, boxing-gloves, or daggers." We do not understand that he proposes to use all these weapons of offense and defense simultaneously. Expert in the use of all of them, we suppose that from this formidable arsenal he allows his antagonist to make choice. The Rev. Mr. Handy is said to divide his time between preaching, white-washing, and sawing wood.

A correspondent of the New York Times, who is making a tour of observation along the coasts of the Great Lakes, has this to say concerning the city of Erie. It contains a liberal element of prophecy: "Erie is the gate-way through which both the anthracite region of Eastern Pennsylvania and the bituminous fields of the western part of the State send out more than five hundred thousand tons a year. It is, therefore, Pennsylvania's fuel which drives most of the steam vessels in our inland seas, and the upward bound traveler traces it wherever he goes, smelting the silver ores of Silver Islet at Wyandotte, iron at Marquette, and copper at Portage Lake. Not only are the matchless fuels of Pennsylvania carried out through Erie to the exhaustless metalliferous regions of Lake Superior, but also through this port pass vast quantities of Lake Superior iron ore to the smelting furnaces of the Shenango Valley, and also to the Susquehanna region. Much of the pig iron smelted at the Lake Superior furnaces is received at Erie and thence distributed to the rolling mills and foundries of all parts of the Northern States."
A paragraph in the financial department of the Ledger says that the progress of currency inflation in this country has kept pace with the growth of population and business. In 1811 our bank note circulation was 28 millions; in 1815, 45 millions; in 1816, 68 millions; in 1820 it had fallen to 45 millions; in 1830 it rose to 61 millions; in 1834 it was 94 millions; in 1837, the great year of inflation, 141 millions; in 1840, 106 millions; in 1843, 58 millions. After the panic of 1837 there was a rapid increase, and in 1850 they reached 155 millions; in 1854, 204 millions; in 1858, 155 millions; in 1859, 193 millions; in 1862, by the war panic reduced to 184 millions; in 1863, 202 millions, which has increased year by year till the amount in 1870 was 291 millions; in 1871, 318 millions; in 1872, 336 millions, and in 1874 about 350 millions. For the past 60 years, then, the bank note organism has formed a conspicuous part of our monetary machinery.
Snake stories having become stale, flat and unprofitable, the Reading Times and Dispatch has gone into the bird business, as witness the following: Dr. Landis, druggist, at the corner of Ninth and Elm streets, has a curiosity in his store, that we venture to say is not equalled anywhere in this section. It is a bird that passes the whole day in catching flies, remaining in the store during the night and refusing all bird seed and other feed. It came to the store on Monday and has been there ever since. The bird is the size of a canary, its color on the back is like that of a whippoorwill, the breast of a light grayish hue, while the bill resembles that of a humming-bird, though not so long, and altogether is a pretty and well proportioned specimen of the feathered tribe.
Mrs. Minnie A. Bedell, of Massachusetts, advertises the departure of her husband in the following classic language: "Whereas, my charming husband, Daniel C. Bedell, has left me for the twelfth time, without just cause or provocation, this is to warn all persons from trusting him on any account, as I am done paying his debts and supporting him. Hereafter he must cut his own feed or starve!"
Andrew Vansant, a young man, respectfully connected, has been committed to the Cumberland county jail to answer the charge of forging the name of Lewis Hitehnet to a promissory note amounting to $200. Since his imprisonment he has declined to touch food, and declares that he will starve himself to death.
Under the new militia law, this portion of the state will be known as Third Division, comprising the counties of Luzerne, Carbon, Monroe, Pike, Wayne, Susquehanna, Wyoming, Columbia and Sullivan—making a much larger complement of men than the old Ninth Division—and will continue under command Major-General Osborne.
A gentleman who writes the prefix "Rev." before the name of G. W. Frisbe, predicts that Titusville will, on the 10th of August, be swallowed up as were Sodon and Gomorrah. It is true in Mr. Frisbe's case, as in that of other prophets, that he has not been honored in his own country, where irreverent people call him a "fraud."
The total ordinary expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1874, were $297,133,873 17, being $3,211,312 16 less than for the previous fiscal year.
There is now living in Wayne township, Schuylkill county, a lady aged eighty-six, whose descendants are six children, seventy-two grand-children and eighty great-grand-children.
The Supreme Court of New York has just made a highly important decree, nullifying a marriage on the ground that the woman had been unchaste before wedlock, the fruits of guilt appearing shortly after.
The sons of Stephen A. Douglass have finally won their long pending suit for his Chicago property, and are $250,000 richer than they were last week.
There are indications that the new crime of child-stealing will become a common offense in the United States, if not speedily checked.
Fifteen cargoes of California new wheat are now afloat for Great Britain, against ten cargoes during the month of July last year.
Rev. A. E. Kline, of Shickshinny, Luzerne, Pa., has withdrawn from the Methodist Protestant church under charges of immorality.
Dunmore, Luzerne county, has two remarkable men. One weighs three hundred and thirteen pounds; the other sixty-four pounds.
Jacob Paulus was killed by the premature explosion of a blast, in a stone quarry near Nazareth, a few days ago.

Luzerne agricultural fair begins October 6th.
Isaac Well, of Allentown, who went to Germany in May on a visit, has got into trouble in the "Fatherland." He has been prosecuted in Baden for leaving there in 1866 while the nation was at war with Austria. He is now a naturalized citizen of the United States. The case has not been finally decided, but Well has gone to Switzerland to avoid paying a fine of $300.

Borough Ordinances.
ORDINANCE No. 9.
Be it enacted and ordained by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of East Stroudsburg: That all the property holders on the north side of Washington street from the corner of Crystal and Washington streets to the intersection of Courtland street, shall curb and pave the sidewalk along their respective properties, either with brick or stone by October 1, 1874. The width of the sidewalk shall be 6 feet.
ORDINANCE No. 10.
Be it ordained and enacted by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of East Stroudsburg: That all the property owners on the west side of Washington street, from the corner of Courtland and Washington sts. to the Iron Bridge, shall lay a sidewalk of stone, brick or plank; in case of plank, the same shall be not less than 2 inches thick and 14 inches wide, placed side by side with space of 1/4 inches between. The walk shall be put down in a substantial and workmanlike manner, under the direction of the Street Committee, by October 1, 1874.
In case of non compliance with the above ordinances, the Borough will cause the paving and curbing of said sidewalk to be done and charge 20 per cent. advance on cost of labor and material.
Approved this 7th day of July, 1874.
