An inveterate toper in a locality where the ardent was under the ban, put some black candy in a bottle, rubbed the neck with camphor, and had the druggist fill it with whiskey, the wife of the purchaser was "troubled so much with the headache."

Here is a Japanese recipe for keeping fresh in hot weather: "Place it in a white porcelain bowl and pour very hot water over it so as to cover it. Then pour it over the water. The air is thus excluded and the meat is preserved."

To extract ink from cotton, silk and woolen goods saturate the spots with spirits of turpentine and let it remain for several hours; then rub it between the hands. It will crumble away without injuring either the color or the texture of the article.

New Castle is a town where the local opinion law is in force. During the three days' continuance of the Shenango Valley Slaughterfest, last week, in that place, bibulously inclined visitors and citizens got away with two hundred and forty-eight kegs of beer.

It is something unaccountable how these sly and sordid old fellows, as soon as their families have gone to the country to spend the heated term, commence to wear their Sunday clothes every day, and to argue that for hours' sleep is all that the human frame requires to be healthy.

The latest advice concerning the European crop prospects are, that the French wheat crop will only be an average one, while oats, rye and barley will fall below the average. In Austria the barley and oats crop have been damaged by the July frosts, while rye and wheat are looking well.

There has never been a clergyman, lawyer, physician, editor, deacon, steward, church warden, class leader, nor son of a clergyman, in the New Hampshire State Prison. The New Hampshire State Prison never was much of a jail, anyhow, but if this paragraph states the truth, even if it has been shamefully cheated out of its due.

An Okkoshi, Wis., paper publishes a list of new buildings started on the burnt district, which reads something like this: "Beer hall, store, saloon, beer hall, grocery and saloon, beer hall, store, beer hall, saloon." It is to be hoped that in rebuilding the people never forget to put in an occasional beer hall.

The Presbyterian says, "A church in New England has voted not to accept the resignation of its pastor, but has requested two of its deacons to resign. The Agriculturist advises farmers and fishermen to dry their boots when wet, by filling them with dry oats. SEVERE RAIN STORMS.

BEAT FALLS OF RAIN IN VARIOUS SECTIONS—SERIOUS DAMAGE REPORTED—TWO MEN WASHED AWAY IN PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—A heavy storm Saturday night caused considerable damage in and around the city. The large gasometer at Ninth and Diamond-sts. was crushed in. It was empty at the time, the gas having been drawn off. The tank was of 500,000 cubic feet capacity. A culvert in Montgomery-ave. from Ninth-st. to the Germantown Railroad, broke, and the street, from curb, caved in, and that portion beneath the tracks washed away. A wagon containing Harry Steele, age 14, and Edward Sherman, age 35, while on the bridge near Wingohocken Creek, Germantown, were, with the bridge, washed away. Both were drowned, the wagon broken, and the horse drowned. The bodies were recovered to-day. Several of the Germantown sewers were broken in.

LONG BRANCH, Aug. 9.—The storm raged fearfully all night doing considerable damage along shore. All the Indian squatters, tents on the beach were blown away into the sea and the inmates were compelled to seek shelter in the hotels. This morning the flagstaff of the Hotel was blown down, but fortunately no person was injured.

NEW-HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 9.—It rained steadily and powerfully here most of the time from 9 p. m. Friday night until 2:30 p. m. to-day. The fall was immense, amounting to very nearly 11 inches, or about one third of the annual fall in this locality. No accidents of any importance are yet reported.

NORWICH, Conn., Aug. 9.—Rain has fallen here since Friday night to the depth of 12 inches. The Yantic and Shetucket rivers are heavily swollen. The storm is without parallel for years.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 9.—The rain-fall in this city from Friday evening until 3 p. m. to-day, amounted to 5.68 inches. Considerable damage has been done at the streets.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—The rainfall during last night was heavier than known before for many years. The weather to-day is cloudy with occasional showers.

It took just four years and ten months for a check mailed in North Adams, Mass., in October, 1869, to reach its destination in Albany, N. Y. It was delivered by a letter-carrier at the latter place last week, and the postmarks upon the envelope containing it prove that it was duly sent from the North Adams post office.

A Mississippian married a widow for her money, and on the wedding night possessed himself of the treasure and struck out. Unluckily for him, his wife's daughter, a strapping girl of twenty, observed the theft and departure. Giving chase she overtook her papa, threw him down, tied him to a tree and corrected him with a hickory stick. Presently the bride appeared and joined her daughter in the castigation. The piteous cries of the unhappy groom soon reached the ears of the police, who hurried to the spot. Tied to the roots of the tree was the husband of only a few hours creation; the step-daughter, with her night-clothes torn into threads, stick in hand, and rapidly repeating licks, while the bride was punching him in the ribs with her fist, calling him thief, robber, kuklux, using cuss words, etc., and demanding her money. The case was compromised by the return of the money, but the honey-moon was over.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

A Young Lady Faints in a Swing—Tossed Thirty-five Feet into a Tree.

On Wednesday of the present week a lively and joyous party of ladies and gentlemen started out from the neighborhood of Guthrieville, Chester county, for the purpose of spending a day on the summit of the romantic Welsh Mountain, about two miles and a half from Morgantown. The party consisted of six ladies and five gentlemen. Two of the ladies were sisters, from Baltimore, Misses S. V. and Annie R. Johnson, daughters of a prominent salesman of that city.

They left the farm house on the above morning at three o'clock in a large covered wagon, containing provisions, ropes for swings, croquet sets, and a parlor organ. It was three o'clock in the afternoon when Miss Annie Johnson expressed a wish to engage in swinging. A swing had been put up in the morning, suspended from a tree sixty feet high. About half way up the solid oak a huge limb branched out to the left, upon which both ends of the rope were fastened, thus making the swing thirty feet, requiring a rope over sixty feet long—one used for well digging. This swing had been used during the day without accident.

Miss Johnson, who is a lady of daring disposition, insisted on being swung as high as could be done by the aid of the gentlemen, and to gratify her wishes they consented. The young lady is between 18 and 19 years old, a pretty brunette, dark eyes, and was dressed in a grey linen suit. She sat on the seaboard of the swing, and grasping the rope tightly, bade them go ahead. The swing commenced its motion, and gradually rose higher and higher until an altitude of twenty feet had been reached. She still insisted upon being pushed, and up went the swing higher until fully thirty feet had been reached.

She had been cheerful and lively up to this point, but all of a sudden she became quite, the rest of the ladies were so stricken, and when the swing with its precious burden made one swift into the air her head was noticed to drop one side muscles relaxed, her arms to let go their hold and drop, and away the unfortunate girl was hurled through the air, and only saved from a frightful and terrible death by one of the most miraculous interventions ever heard of.

The momentum of the swing's motion carried the apparently lifeless form of the girl up fully thirty-five feet from the ground and lodged her safely and securely between two branches at the point where they join the trunk of a tree which stood about thirty-eight feet from the tree to which the rope was attached. It was fully twenty feet from the ground to the first limb above, and the trunk of the tree about three feet in diameter. They backed the wagon with its canvas cover directly under the tree, so that in case she should drop her fall would be partially broken. The swing was hurriedly taken down, and in an instant one end of the rope was thrown over the limbs of the other tree and secured below. By this means two gentlemen of the party hurriedly went up the rope, and in a few minutes were at the side of the unfortunate girl.

She was just returning to consciousness, and the force of her fall had so securely wedged her between the trunk and the limbs as to require no little effort to extricate her. Miss Johnson at once realized her fearful situation. She was pale and weak, but still had the good sense to do as the gentlemen desired. The rope was pulled up, the slip-knot was made and then passed around her body under her arms, the other end passed around the limb, and in this manner she was lowered to the ground in safety. With the aid of the wagon cushions and several shawls a couch was arranged, upon which the young lady was placed and soon regained her strength.—Reading Eagle.
