

The Jeffersonian.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1874.

NOTICE.

Owing to the unwillingness of some of the candidates to pay their bills after the election is over, it is hereby Resolved by the undersigned that from the date of the issue of this paper, all persons advertising their Cards as candidates for any office and having election tickets printed, will be required to pay for the same in advance.

THEO. SCHOCH, Pub. Jeffersonian. A. O. GREENWALD, pub. Democrat.

REPRESENTATIVE.

We felt considerably elevated over the action of the Democratic Convention held last week, when we discovered that the delegates had exhibited a large share of common sense, in so closely following the recommendation of the Jeffersonian in making their nomination for representative. Mr. Kistler is a good man for the position, proved to be so by his straight forward consistent course in behalf of the interests of his constituents last winter. This, however, alone would not have secured to him the nomination, for the party was hating and did not know what to do until the Jeff. pointed the index boards in the right direction. Instead of late years Democracy hardly feels safe to move hereabouts until it has ascertained "what the Jeff. thinks of it," and then every thing rings off natively as a marriage bell.

This fall every thing was in a peculiarly perplexing predicament. It is the first time in the history of the county that Monroe has been permitted to act alone in the selection of a representative. And then so many of her Democratic sons have been itching so long to occupy a legislative seat at Harrisburg, and were only prevented from making the attempt to do so years ago because of the obstacles required to be overcome in the other counties of the district. Now the coast was comparatively clear, because, as a nomination amounted virtually to an appointment to the office, the only trouble would be the securing a sufficient number of delegates to carry the convention, and as a consequence of this the name of the aspirants was legion. Among these some were good, some indifferent, and some decidedly bad, and as each one was thinking only for himself and neither giving thought to the rewarding of the faithfulness of Mr. Kistler and as the Organ of the Democracy here is notoriously weak-kneed and is not given to interference for the correction of wrongs in the party a muddle was in prospect, until the Jeff. came to the rescue and furnished the solution to the difficulty, and led even Democracy to the performance of an act of justice. Have we not reason to feel proud over the effect of our interference? Certainly we have and we do feel proud.

That Mr. Kistler having been a good representative and having been re-nominated by Democrats for election at our suggestions does not absolve Republicans from the faithful performance of duty to party and principles. Mr. Kistler is a Democrat and an honest man and over this we rejoice in view of the fact that his election is a moral certainty. But there are Republicans who are honest and capable, and it is plainly our duty to bring one of these before the people, so that Republicans may gather around a representative of their principles and work for and vote for him. And this even with defeat staring us in the face if for no other reasons than to secure a full vote in favor of four general tickets, and to secure to ourselves practice in working and voting against the arrival of the day, when as he undoubtedly will, Democracy brings one of her bold had men to the front for promotion to a seat in the legislature. This we conceive to be the part of wisdom, because we see in it the inauguration of a course of conduct which may in the future wheel even Democratic Monroe into the line of counties truly loyal, because supporting and promoting the beneficent principles which have really secured to our beloved country its true greatness. Republicans are not our ideas just and right?

It will be remembered that the Congressional Conference appointed by the recent Democratic County Convention for Monroe were instructed to endeavor to secure the nomination of the Hon. Charlton Burnett of this county for Congressmen. We hope their efforts in that direction may prove successful, for Gen. Burnett is, by long odds by far the best man which has been named in the papers of the party for the position. Gen. Burnett is emphatically a Democrat. No one here thinks anything else. He has dignity of presence in an eminent degree, and is undeniably a gentleman of probity and talent. He has had experience in legislation, and though new to the intricacies of the position, it is patent that when elected to the Senate some six years ago he at once took rank among the leaders of his party in that body. As a manipulator of more partizan tactics, we admit the General is not so successful as some others, nor is he, as a rule the feeling held towards him by the political quidnuncs of Carbon county that of truculent stripe of men who can please everybody, but this is nothing to his discredit. He is however possessed of qualities, that in the halls of Congress would assure respect for the district, and secure us the services of an able representative.

We notice by the last issue of the Milford Herald, that James H. Doney, Editor of the Herald, announces himself as an Independent candidate for Representative, from Pike county.

There is a rumor prevalent, set on foot by the down country papers, that our neighbor of the Democrat is about closing arrangements to secure a third interest in one of the Allentown dailies. As the consummation of this project would necessitate his removal to that locality the news is not pleasant to us, for notwithstanding that neighbor Greenwald has his faults, as we all have, he has his virtue too, and our intercourse has been anything but unpleasant since his advent among us. Besides should he get away from here we should be hardly put to, to find another candidate for Congress. We hope he may make up his mind not to go.

Judge PAXSON, our candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, came into town on Monday evening last and stopped at the American Hotel, and remained in town until 11 1/2 o'clock P. M. on Tuesday, when he left to join his family at Harvey's Lake, in Luzerne county. While the Judge was here he was called upon by a number of our citizens who were well pleased with the Judge. We are gratified to learn from our exchanges and other sources that the prospect this Fall for an old fashioned victory for our whole ticket is exceedingly promising.

When does the Democratic Congressional Conference meet and where? We want to know, for we want to be after that party with a Republican conference, and the nomination of a good and straight-laced though cheerful Republican candidate for Congress. Perhaps the action of the Democratic conference may so operate upon the famous 12th ward of Scranton as to give the Congressman to us. Who knows.

Produce and Furs, taken in exchange for goods at Simon Fried's Empire Clothing Store.

The latest Honesdale Citizen says, that the man confined in the Wayne County Jail for forgery is a well known resident of Stroudsburg. Who is he?

Cassimere Suits at astonishing low prices. Boys Suits from $3.00 to 12, at Simon Fried's.

McCARTY'S have some choice novelties in the furniture line, and are receiving daily new styles to the rich and rare stock always kept at their establishment. Call and see them.

The American Base Ball Club of Belvidere, N. J. will play a match game of Base Ball with the Tom Collins Club of this place, on the Fair Grounds, to-morrow afternoon. Game will be called at 1 o'clock. Ladies admitted free.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.—The Sunday Schools of Fowler's School House and of Spragueville, will hold a Pic Nic on Fisher's Island next Saturday, the 12th inst. All are cordially invited.

SIMON FRIED, NICHOLAS RUSTER and James Edinger, enterprising clothier's of this place, have all been to the city laying in stock for the fall trade. Mr. Edinger who is a new hand in the business here has about completed his arrangement for a grand opening of his establishment.

WOODS MEETING.—A woods meeting will be held in a grove near John S. Frutchey's two miles from Jackson Corner and three miles from Tannersville, on the 18th of September, and continue three or four days. Provision will be made on the ground for refreshments, and all are invited. L. M. HOBBS, Pastor.

Simon Fried received last week the largest stock of Ready made Clothing, Boots, and Shoes, and Gents' Furnishing Goods, ever before seen in our county.

FARMERS now is the time to begin to make your selections of grain, fruits, &c. for the Fair. Remember we are within but a little over two weeks of the time. The indications now are that we will have the best fair we ever had. If we fail it will only be because we have not all done as we should. Let us work, from henceforth for success and we will not fail.

We omitted to mention last week that Messrs. Wagner & Rhodes have removed their lumber yard from the lot back of the Court House, to the vacant lot in the rear of Chas. L. Rhodes's residence, in East Stroudsburg. Mr. Rhodes, who has resigned his position under the Railroad Company takes charge of the yard. The new arrangement promises to prove a real convenience to the public.

NO HUMBUG.—Simon Fried has the largest and best selected Stock of Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Trunks, Valises, and Gents' Furnishing Goods in Stroudsburg, and he will sell them cheaper than any other merchant in Monroe county. Call and examine for yourselves.

THE streams in this vicinity, owing to the scarcity of rain, are lower now than they have been before in the recollection of the oldest inhabitants. The mills and machinery of all kinds hereabouts, dependent upon water for power, hardly succeed in making half time. For want of rain, too, garden crops are suffering terribly, as are also the corn, cabbage and late fruit crops.

PERSONAL.—A. J. Van Cott, son of B. J. Van Cott, proprietor of the Anderson House, Newton, N. J., formerly proprietor of the Lackawanna House, East Stroudsburg, spent a few days among his friends in this place, last week. He reports the Anderson House doing a fair business. Well, it could not be otherwise, with the genial Ben. at the head of it.

Miss Belle Horn, daughter of our former townman, E. S. C. Horn, now a resident of Scranton, is on a visit among her friends in this place. While sojourning here she is the guest of Miss Alice Schoonover. Last Monday evening she was serenaded by Beethoven band, upon which occasion, Mrs. Hester Schoonover refreshed the boys with delicious coffee and cake.

Miss Minnie Clemens is spending a few days with friends in this "burg." She is the guest of Mrs. Jos. Wallace, while here.

Miss Helen Melick, has returned from an extended visit to Newburgh, N. Y. She looks much improved by the trip.

Bargains, Bargains, at Simon Fried's, in Clothing. Come and look at them.

THE STROUBSBURG CORNET BAND.—Of our two bands, this one was selected to play at the American Mechanics picnic last Saturday at the Water Gap, and their playing was such as to surprise all who listened to them. Quietly, for the past few months they have been practicing, in fact, they have been so quiet that many supposed they had "gone up the spout," but in their coming out last Saturday every body, even their proficient leader, Prof. Moran, was surprised at the able manner in which they mastered their most difficult pieces of music. Each and every member puts forth every effort to become a thorough master of his instrument, and their efforts are certainly worthy of the most hearty encouragement of our citizens. In the Stroudsburg Cornet Band, Prof. Moran and the citizens of Stroudsburg have an organization they may well be proud of and one that will do them no dishonor. One rule when out on parade, is, "that no member is allowed to indulge in intoxicating drinks," and it is one that deserves the warmest encouragement. Their gentlemanly conduct at the Gap won for them a host of friends and called forth the most flattering remarks.

Ladies, Misses, and Childrens Shoes of almost every variety, at very low prices at Simon Fried's Empire Clothing Store.

Sunday School Convention. On next Tuesday evening at half past seven o'clock, a Sunday School Convention for Lehigh District, Philadelphia conference, will assemble in the Methodist Episcopal Church in this place. Rev. E. F. Pitcher of Allentown is expected to preach the opening sermon. The main business will be transacted on Wednesday, when there will be a morning, afternoon, and evening session. Rev. Wm. B. Wood, the Presiding Elder of the District, will preside, and many talented ministers and laymen will take part in the exercises. Essays and discussions of important practical questions will occupy the attention of the body, in which the effort will be made to infuse greater life and energy into the Sunday School work. It is hoped that Dr. Vincent will favor us with his presence. A cordial invitation is extended to all, as all the meetings will be public, and it is desired that the friends of Sunday School instruction in the various Churches in Stroudsburg and vicinity will honor the Convention with their presence. On Wednesday evening, it is proposed to have a Children's meeting, when appropriate addresses will be made and the singing will be conducted partly at least by the little folks. We hope that this Convention will prove a success and an important help to the Sunday School cause in this borough as well as elsewhere.

What We heard and saw within the Week. The "Ladies Sewing Circle" is in a flourishing condition, financially. Three of their number coolly walked into the Saloon of Mr. Huffman a few evenings ago, coolly called for a dish of ice cream, a "fifteen cent," coolly called for three spoons and coolly ate it. When they were about to coolly pay for it they found they were four cents short. About this time "croquet Frank," made his appearance and among the party they managed to scrape up the requisite four cents after which they went on their way rejoicing.—A rising medical student, enjoying the euphous name of "croquet Frank," visited East Stroudsburg one evening last week and did not return until the "vesna hours" of morning were rapidly passing away. There was nothing strange in that, but then he said he had been playing croquet by moonlight. He had forgotten that the night in question was dark as blazes.—With the approach of cool weather, the "angels" have abandoned, folded their wings and stolen silently away. We hope, with the return of spring to see their smiling faces and sylph-like forms. They console themselves, however, with the thought, that sweet Williams will retain their fragrance and freshness through the cold wintry blasts and greet them in the springtime.—Not only does Dan Brown keep an excellent time piece, but he also keeps delicious musk melons to refresh his customers with. We sampled one last Friday night and it was excellent. Give him a call.—Good natured "Swarty's" latest joke—a young daughter and it says "pa."—The lecherous old brute who conducts his nocturnal liaisons in the vicinity of the Monroe County Bank, should be in better business. Shame. "Munley peg," is the latest game for the amusement of young ladies.—Since the disappearance of city chaps, our town boys will come in for their usual share of "setters up," and resume their regular places in the arms and affections of their "rose buds."—The "Doctor," and "Barney" are about to form a partnership in the peach business.—Courtin' in the chimney corner, is the latest echo from the stone quarry. Alas! poor "Greely."—The cook has changed her mind; she says "Chick" is too honor to Joe.—Billy Baker, says while he was traveling through Northampton county a few days ago, he saw a defunct dog lying in a fence corner. Upon making inquiries of a passer-by as to the cause of the poor canines death, he was informed that he died barking at the candidates for Sheriff of that county, as they passed by. Poor dog, there are only twenty-one candidates.—The "brunette," was whispering sweet words of love to the absent "angels" of the masculine gender, through the medium of the "mighty pen," last Sunday afternoon, instead of attending Sunday school.—The "trio" took in forty-seven gallons of gas one day last week while in a dentist's office, not twenty miles from Stroudsburg, just for the fun of it. One of the fair ones said while under the influence of the gas she dreamed that a handsome young man was kissing her and awoke to find it only too true.—"Fairy Lane," is the name given to the hall in one of our fashionable hotels. We don't see where the "fairy" comes in, for the majority of the fairies who repose along it are in the forties and over.—The visiting "lady friends" from Scranton, are turning the hearts of some of our marriagable young men.—Friend Amandus enjoying himself hugely on the swing at the Mechanics picnic.—In playing "copenhagen" at the Mechanics picnic, "Peevee" had to stand on a base drum to kiss the gushing country girls.—"Jake," took a nap under the laurels, at the picnic; he had a fair companion.—"Buffalo," paid a handsome country girls fare from the Gap to Stroudsburg, last Saturday night, and then she had the "check" to go out riding with another fellow Sunday afternoon. Never mind, Fritz, it is all right.—The Scranton ladies would have added an additional charm to the festive board, last Monday evening, had they honored it with their presence. Miss Alice, May and Ella served the coffee, consequently no sugar was needed.—"O. G.," returns thanks; also the wish that the shadow of those cups, may never grow less. Especially when he is around.

Burglaries are frequent in Harrisburg. Public debt decrease during August, $1,626,760 99.

The old question, "does lager intoxicate?" came before a court a day or two since. A German testified: "If you drink five or six glasses of larger in a little while you will feel more pleasant as if you drink five or six glasses of water in the same time, and if you drink five or six glasses of water in a little while you will feel more disappointed as if you drink five or six glasses of lager in the same time." The jury were out four hours and stood seven to five.

A Dubuque, Iowa, paper tells a romantic little story about the marriage of Mr. N. L. Alden, of that city, and Mrs. Abbie M. Orcutt, of Boston, which took place last week. The bride and groom became acquainted thirty years ago, and two years later were engaged to be married. An unfortunate occurrence caused a rupture, and they separated, she remaining in Boston, and he going to the West. Each was married without the other's knowledge, and both had children, he five and she three. About five years ago her husband died, and over a year ago his wife passed away. Last June the former lovers met in Dubuque, made it all up, and the marriage bells rang again as aforesaid.

The Philadelphia Ledger says: The want of rain is becoming painfully evident in this neighborhood and the country for many miles around Philadelphia. We have had in some localities a longer "dry time" this summer than was ever before known, it being protracted throughout August, a feature that has seldom occurred in previous seasons of drought. The June and July drought of 1873 was almost repeated this year, but August, 1873, was a wet month, whilst this year it was extremely dry, and the absence of rain is telling upon potatoes, cabbage, corn and pasture land. We write now of the counties in this neighborhood, in Pennsylvania, and New Jersey, and hope that more remote localities have fared better.

The great cattle plague, the Texas tick, which seems to be infesting all parts of the country, has made its appearance in Montgomery county. In the vicinity of Lexington the insects have appeared in large numbers, and have occasioned much alarm among the farmers. It is said by a gentleman residing in that neighborhood that it is estimated that over one hundred head of cattle have died from that cause within the last ten days.

Some Berries. It is estimated that the whorlberry berries and blackberries into Stroudsburg this season. In Carbonade alone there was brought from the mountains in one week 200 bushels of berries, that were shipped to New York. The gathering of whorlberry for wine is now in order.—Scranton Republican.

A Man Robbed and tied to a Railroad Track—A Train Cuts off a Foot and He Dies. JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Aug. 30.—August Gardner, Frenchman, while walking on the railroad track near Henryville, Ind., last night, was attacked by three men, who robbed him, tied him on the track over a small culvert, and left him. Gardner succeeded in getting all the fastenings loose except those holding the left foot, when a passenger train ran over his leg, cutting the foot off. He fell into the culvert, crawled out, lay there till morning, and was then found. He was brought to this city, where he told the above story and then died.

Improved Order of Red Men. In the state of Pennsylvania the Improved Order of Red Men is one of the strongest, numbering two hundred and ten tribes. Their receipts for the past year were $155,299.68. Expenditures for relief, $53,922.95. The total membership is eighteen hundred and eighty-three, of which there have been added during the past year five thousand one hundred and eleven.

In the state of New York there are twenty-five tribes having a membership of one thousand six hundred. The flourishing condition of the order in Pennsylvania and its promising and prosperous course elsewhere, is a matter for congratulation among the members of this powerful organization. In Scranton the order has within the past few years taken rapid strides and under its present careful management rests on a basis that bids well for its future success.

Murder of a Police Officer at Hazleton. HAZLETON, September 5.—Last night, Simon H. Clauser, chief of police of this place, was shot and killed by a German named Frederick Lapp had been at a German picnic all day, and way drunk, and at night when on his way home, to amuse himself fired his pistol off several times in the street.

Chief Clauser and Officer Henry Ellorad, Lapp, Lapp and the chief caught hold of him and asked him what he meant by making such a disturbance, when Lapp turned around and shot Clauser, saying, "Stand back" then snapped his pistol several times at Henry, but it did not go off.

The greatest excitement prevails and lynching is very seriously talked of. Clauser was very much esteemed and respected. He was a member of the Masonic order and of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Balloon Voyaging. CLEVELAND, Sept. 6.—The balloon Bafilo, which ascended from this city on Friday morning at 11 o'clock, made a safe landing about midnight, 12 miles from Huron, Mich. The balloon at 5 o'clock last evening was seen at Ashland, 90 miles east of here, and was then traveling east. During the night the balloon gave to the westerly current and returned the course traveled in the afternoon, the greater part of the journey being over Lake Erie.
