

The Jeffersonian.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1874.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT.
EDWARD M. PAXSON, Philadelphia.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.
ARTHUR G. OLMSTED, Potter county.

AUDITOR GENERAL.
HARRISON ALLEN, Warren county.

SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS.
ROBERT B. BEATH, Schuylkill county.

Election Tuesday, November 3rd.

NOTICE.

Owing to the unwillingness of some of the candidates to pay their bills after the election is over, it is hereby Resolved by the undersigned that from the date of the issue of this paper, all persons advertising their Cards as candidates for any office and having election tickets printed, will be required to pay for the same in advance.

THEO. SCHUCH,
Pub. Jeffersonian.
A. O. GREENWALD,
pub. Democrat.

OUR DUTY.

Republicans, in the absence of local incentive to exertion let us not forget that we have a State ticket which demands our votes and our unceasing efforts for its success. The late State Convention of the party held at Harrisburg gave us a ticket in every way worthy of our support, and as every vote counts towards swelling the measure of its success, we should see to it that not a Republican vote is left out of the ballot box in Monroe county, on the third of November.

Our candidate for the Supreme Bench, the Hon. EDWARD M. PAXSON, is before you without reproach. As a lawyer he stands among the foremost of his professional brethren. As a Judge of the experience of Philadelphia, over one of whose courts he now presides, attests his excellencies, and presents him worthy to fill the position once occupied by a Gibsen. As an honest man he carries with him wherever he goes the respect and esteem of all who know him. He is truly a man for whom every good man may vote without fear of ever having the act rise up against him as a reproach. His election is of course assured by the terms of the recent act regulating elections and by the Constitutional provision which regulates the Judiciary, but this should not work against giving him every vote of the party, as a testimonial of regard for a good man and of approval of the acts of the Convention.

Our candidate for the office of Lieutenant Governor, the Hon. A. G. OLMSTED, is equally deserving of your support. The office itself is of but little if any less importance than that of Governor, because contingencies may arise, through death, resignation or otherwise in which he may be called to fill the Governor's position. His general duties are to preside over the deliberations of the Senate, which of itself requires legislative experience and the best administrative talent. In selecting the man for the position the action of the Convention was a complete success. Mr. Olmsted has represented his immediate constituents in the Legislature, as representative or Senator for years, and if we mistake not, was at one time speaker of the house. His experience, therefore, in the duties of the office is altogether practical, and his talent and honesty unquestioned and unquestionable. He has had no superior as a hard-working, capable and successful legislator, and will fill the office to which he will, without a doubt, be elected, in a manner creditable to himself and party, and profitable to the people of the State.

Our candidate for Auditor General is Gen. HARRISON ALLEN, a gentleman who was more thoroughly and villainously abused two years ago than ever was candidate for office before. So successfully and honorably has he, however, conducted the office for which he has been re-nominated, that even his opponents have been constrained to pronounce him one of the best Auditor Generals the State has ever had. The office is one requiring peculiar abilities and experience for its prompt and safe conduct. Gen. Allen has shown himself possessed of these to a remarkable degree, and it would be a libel on the intelligence of the people to suppose for a single moment that they will vote for the defeat of so able and faithful an officer.

Our candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs is ROBERT B. BEATH. The Convention nominated him because of his deservings, and as a reward for services faithfully rendered in the tented field and in the office of Surveyor General, which office he has filled with great acceptance for the last three years. The office of Secretary of Internal Affairs is a new one to the civil service of the Commonwealth, and has for its duties the labors of the Surveyor Generalship, which it supplants, the gathering and compiling of the statistics of the Commonwealth, and other duties of greater or less note. Gen. BEATH has shown himself possessed of just the qualifications necessary for the proper administration of the position. His friends know this, and his opponents have not ventured to deny it. As a soldier he served his country faithfully from the commencement of the war to the end, and left a limb on the battle field and brought home with him impaired health as seals of his patriotism. As an officer he has served his State just as faithfully, being always prompt in the transaction of business, courteous towards all whose interests connected to his office, and honest as the day is long in the disposition of moneys accruing therein. To allow such a man to fill a single vote behind those with whom he is associated on the ticket would be an outrage which we cannot bring ourselves to believe that the Republicans of Monroe county will assist in bringing about.

Republicans, a week from next Tuesday will bring the election upon us. The time in which to work is very short, but let us see if we cannot, short as it is, bring out our full vote on election day, and induce a number of those Democrats who desire to see honest, capable and efficient men in office to vote with us. Our candidates are all men possessed of these attributes, are all men who are known throughout the Commonwealth for their good works, and are all men qualified by experience faithfully and profitably for the people to perform the duties of the respective offices for which they have been named. Let us then vote for them and work for them, and rest not on the day of election until the last vote is deposited in the ballot box.

At last the matter is settled. The Democracy of Wayne and Pike have secured a candidate for the President Judgeship of the 22nd Judicial District. And

Daniel Vanauken is his name
And Milford is his station,
He is shooting at most lofty game
But will hardly find salvation in election, for which the people of the district will truly have cause to be thankful. The time set for the final action of the Judicial Conference was last Friday a week and the place Honesdale, but Rowland and Vanauken, and the rest of the Pike county crew, were too busy at Wilkesbarre buying and being bought on the Congressional question to attend to so small a matter as the President Judgeship at home, and in consequence the honest portion of the Democracy of Wayne became disgusted and concluded to travel on their own hook. In furtherance of this conclusion they organized a bolt and selected the Hon. Frederick M. Crane, a finished lawyer, an accomplished gentleman and an honest man, consequently a man free from political trickery—for the position. When Dimmick got the conferees together, which was not until Tuesday last week, he found that "his mush was cooked," and recognizing the fact that, in Mr. Crane's nomination, the people had released him from his volunteered pledge to make his next "speeches from the bench as President Judge of the District" instructed his tools to vote for Vanauken, which they did. The candidates for the position now are C. P. Waller and F. M. Crane, of Wayne and Daniel Vanauken of Pike, the former Republican and the last two Democrats. Either Mr. Waller or Mr. Crane would do honor to the votes which elected them. Of the lot we judge Mr. Waller's chance to be the best. Of Mr. Vanauken we need only say that he is the individual who so effectually extinguished himself while a representative in Congress from the "old tenth legion" several years ago, when he proved himself so thoroughly lazy and inefficient that he failed even to scatter the patent office reports which Congress so liberally placed at his disposal. We believe that the only thing he made any approach to efficiency in, was the voting of the public lands to the railroad monopolists. Of his defeat we think there is no doubt, nor should there be.

A grand result of this ending of disgraceful conduct, when the importance of the office is considered, is the laying of the sealawag Dimmick, of disreputable legislative memory, "to draw the thing mildly," on the shelf, we hope for all time to come.

Our neighbor of the Democrat let himself out week before last to the length of an article copied from the Philadelphia Inquirer for our benefit. As we are a constant reader of the Inquirer, and very seldom find reason to disagree with the spirit and sentiments of its editorials, our neighbors effort was really loved labor wasted. There has been but little done by the administration in its enforcing of the reconstruction and enforcement acts that has met our approval. Its course always appeared to us to smack more of labor for political aggrandizement, and the pecuniary advantage of its friends, than of labor for the restoration of quiet and prosperity of the people affected by its acts. And yet interference in the South by the government has not been altogether unwarranted. The leading rebels have all along manifested a disposition to ignore the situation, and it was necessary to make them feel that they would be allowed free scope in the exercise of their rights only so long as they in so doing exhibited a regard for the rights. The war made former masters and slaves, peoples of equal political standing, and where the former did not recognize this fact the law required that they be compelled to do so. We contend, however, that all this might have been done without all the apparent play into the hands of carpet baggers, speculators, and scalawags which was witnessed in the acts of the administration.

Our neighbor next essays an answer to the question as to "who is responsible" for the troubles in the South, and here is just where he makes the grand mistake. He draws his answer from the effect without for a moment looking back to the cause, and yet he knows the rule to be inflexible that cause leads to effect and never vice versa. We demonstrated, we think very clearly, last week that the cause of all the troubles in the South was first the attempt of the Southern fire eaters to disrupt the Union, and second, their refusal after they were fairly and decently whipped to take hold, honestly and squarely, of the work of restoring the damage which their foolishness had caused. Because of this refusal, adventurers usurped the places they should have occupied, and things have gone altogether bad.

Chestnuts sell in Harrisburg at eight dollars per bushel. In Williamsport they are purchased for four dollars.

The number of feet of logs run through the Williamsport boom this season aggregates from 200,000,000 to 225,000,000.

How is this for Honesty?

It is currently rumored that at the conference of the "Simon Pares" of the 11th District held at Wilkesbarre recently for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress that a leading Conferee was offered first $2,000 then $4,000 and then $7,000 if he would bring his delegation over to vote for Carbon's choice, Maj. Klotz. It is rumored, second that one of the Conferees of Monroe county was offered $1,500 if he would vote for Collins but that he declined because he thought his vote was worth $2,000, and that afterwards when he saw how the thing was going was willing to take one fourth the sum. It is rumored, third that Collin's nomination cost him $10,000 in clean cash, just the legal pay he would receive for his two year's services. Is this what was meant by Bob. Packer's bribery resolution mentioned by our Wilkesbarre correspondent. Honest incorruptible Democracy, "aint it." A pretty party to talk about corruption. How would it do to run a Republican candidate and contest the election on charge of bribery. The election law and the new Constitution are by no means vague on the subject.

Our Republican friends must not think that because the election of Allen, Beath and Paxson is a fixed fact they have no work to do. Every Republican should take pride in making the majority as large as possible, and all should make up their minds to work hard for the cause during the campaign. Awake then brethren and let us of Monroe county see what we can do towards a majority of 100,000.

Our neighbor of the Democrat feels jealous over Ohio, Indiana and Arkansas. Iowa, Nebraska do not suit him so well. Shout on brother, our time is coming.

The sear and yellow leaf has come truly. Now let us hear about fat porkers and such.

The days of snitch and apple butter parties have arrived. Get the skillers ready for candy parties. The time is almost here.

Our town is somewhat less lively than when the city folks were around.

A good warm stove is not uncondurable just now mornings and evenings.

AND now for the singing schools and going home with the galls. Do, se, me, fa,—buss.

The first snow of the season visited the mountains on Tuesday, with an occasional flake here.

The season of putting up stoves passed with about the usual amount of bother and profanity.

STROUDSBURG has not been circused this summer, though the hand organ and the monkey have been here.

NEXT in order comes the making of the "Saur Kraut." See that your stenners and cutters are in good order.

Boys are good. Avoid bad company, go to church and prayer meeting "that thy days may be long in the land," &c.

THE October elections have not all gone just as we would have liked them, though we think we can survive the shock.

THE Tom Collins base ball club of this place, will go to Portland, on Saturday, to play the Mutuals of that place.

Boys, now that the base ball season is about over get out the books and newspapers, and go in for mental culture. It will pay.

LARGE BEETS.—Our friend J. H. Conner, of this Borough, presented us on Tuesday last, with two Beets, which weighed 9 1/2 lbs. Thanks John.

MR. THEODORE BROWN, brought to our office on Tuesday last, a beautiful Pear, which weighed one pound and two ounces. This is the largest pear raised in this place this season.

JOHN B. STORM, Esq., is blasting the rock along the water-line of his lot in Stroud township, for the purpose of securing a foundation for a stone wall which he is about erecting. This will improve the appearance of his place, besides giving him greater surface room.

PERSONAL.—Wm. H. Wolf, lady and infant daughter spent Saturday evening, Sunday and Monday in town visiting Mrs. W's. parents.

Miss Annie Wolf of Stroudsburg, and Miss Ellie Zimmerman of Smithfield are visiting their relative, Wm. H. Wolf and other friends in Scranton.

Miss Etie Bush, of this place, is visiting Mr. Brown Posten's family at White Haven. Mrs. Gen. Delong is visiting her brothers in Scranton.

MR. R. MAINONE, a gentleman of over twenty six years experience in the manufacture and tuning of Pianos, has located himself permanently among us. He intends dealing in Pianos, Organs, Melodones, and other musical instruments and will also give particular attention to the tuning of Pianos. His abilities are such as to warrant satisfaction to all who secure his services. Give him a call.

Incendiary!

JACKSON CORNERS, PA., Oct. 20, 1874. The Union School House at Jackson Corners was burned on Saturday morning last, and the supposition is that an individual in the District set it on fire. The School Directors have taken action and offered $250, Silas Reinhart $25 and other citizens of said sub-district $25 more, making in all a reward of $300, for the apprehension and conviction of the scoundrel or scoundrels.

WHILE the Young Men's Christian Association of this borough were indulging in religious exercises, singing, praying, &c., at their rooms on Friday evening last, a lot of scallawag molasses, on the opposite side of the street, indulged in giggling, uncalled for remarks, and acts disgraceful to a civilized community. As usual officer Keener was not about, and their conduct was allowed to pass with impunity. By the way, and by way of variety, we should, just for once, like to enjoy the pleasure of reporting an instance when our chief of Police was around when his services were needed. Come John, "keep your eye pecked" and give us a chance. It would seem so odd.

MR. JOHN I. ALLENDER has sold his "Stroudsburg House" property to Henry Fulmer of Easton, Pa., for $16,000. Mr. Fulmer designs making extensive improvements in the property, and for that purpose is already having stone and lumber hauled on the ground. The improvements include two additional stories to the frame part of the hotel, and the extension of the building to the line of Jesse Albert's property on the west. Everything will be finished up in first class style, and when completed Mr. Fulmer will have given us what we have long needed a first class hotel. We are satisfied that the investment will pay, for it only needed proper accommodations to draw a large number of city borders to our borough during the summer season.

On Saturday last, 17th inst., two boys, sons of Mr. Joseph Fetherman, residing in Stroud township, this County, left home with a grist, which they took to N. S. Wyckoff's mill, a short distance from there, and on their return home as they were about to cross the railroad track of the D. L. & W. Railroad, at Fisher's crossing, the 5 p. m. passenger train made its appearance. The boys heard the whistle of the engine and made an effort to back the horse off of the track and would have succeeded in doing so had not the horse got one of his feet fast between the plank and one of the rails, when he fell. The boys jumped from the wagon and made their escape. The cow-catcher of the engine struck the horse, throwing him a distance of about 80 feet, breaking his neck and two of his legs. One of his legs was entirely severed from his body. One of the front wheels and the bound of the wagon and shafts were broken. Nothing else about the wagon injured. We have been told by those who were on the train at the time, that the engineer refused to stop the train to ascertain the extent of the accident, as is customary in such cases.

Dedication.

The Lecture room of the new Methodist Episcopal Church in East Stroudsburg, will be dedicated to the worship of Almighty God, on Sunday, November 1st.

Efficient ministers of the gospel will be present. Preaching at 10:30 A. M., and 7 P. M. At 2 P. M. there will be a reunion of the Sabbath Schools. The Sunday Schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Stroudsburg will be present. Addresses will be made by Rev. J. F. Chaplain, D. D., and others. All are invited. The church is nearing its completion, and when finished, will be one of the largest and best in the District. In many respects it is quite modern, and with its well proportioned steeple, neatly finished, it presents a picture displaying much good taste. It is no less a model of good workmanship. Special attention has been given to strength in the construction of the floors.

The builder, Mr. Henry Teeter, has his whole heart in his work, and it is safe to say that his skill as a builder is superior.

Petroleum Gas.

We understand that if sufficient encouragement is afforded A. F. Clapp, of Sunbury, Northumberland Co. and who has experience in such matters, will undertake and complete the erection of a gas works at this place. This is a desideratum that should be desired by every body, as it would tend to make us appear what we really would be, a more enterprising people than we are. Every thing that tends to attract attention to our borough and to afford security leads to enhance the value of our property and to raise us a step higher in the scale of wealth. Two things we need badly, that is, water and gas. As we stand in these respects now we are hardly safe for a day from the destructive ravages of fire. The introduction of gas and the doing away with the use of kerosene would take away our great risk and lower the cost of insurance, and with water added we would be made comparatively a safe town. We hope our property holders and business men will see the benefit to be derived from taking advantage of the opportunity thus offered to secure a great improvement and security for our beautiful borough.

During the week ending on Saturday October 10th, Fort Penn, Mountain Home, and Neola Lodges, of Odd Fellows treated themselves to a new set of officers each for the current term. D. D. G. M. Schuch conducted the installation as follows:

A most extraordinary day's work has been done in the rail mill of the Pennsylvania Iron Works, Danville, Montour county, Pa. There were heated, rolled, sawed, hot-piled, straightened and punched and in all particulars made ready for use, one hundred and fifty-six tons of rails, a feat that has never before been accomplished in the world inside of twelve hours, through one set of rolls, and the usual force of men.

What We heard and Saw within the Week.

Jack Frost in our midst, as large as life and twice as natural. Chestnuts to the front—peanuts on the back seat in consequence. A jolly time in anticipation at the "west end," judging from the arrival on Saturday. See, saw, ginger snaps and such. "Tammy's" trip to Jersey turned out to be a wedding tour. Young men go to Jersey, but don't forget the printer. If no cake or cards, the notes will help to fill up these dull times. A young lady down town says she has quit smoking. "Michael" delving deeply into the mysteries of Stenography should admonish the boys to be careful how they converse with their sweethearts. Mike might have it VERNATIM. As it is getting too cold for courting on the door steps, we would advise the young ladies to put up longer shades at the windows. The short shades, you know, reveals the way the thing is done in the inside. The young lady who so terrified her sleeping sister in the dead hours of the night, by her mysterious absence from her accustomed place, a thing so unusual as to cause the half awakened mother to think that she had closed with a showman should be more careful. But how foolish on the part of the "sleeping beauty" when the wide awake one was only enjoying a pleasant tete-a-tete in the sitting room with one of Paul's disciples and "didn't imagine it was so late." Such mistakes will happen. "We know how it is myself." The weather is getting altogether too cold for the meetings of Privy Councils. Ladies should not question young America as to the contents of their play cards, especially when playing in the neighborhood of the Iron Bridge. The Reporter will not be responsible for the replies, as was the case we heard of not long since. "Come in, Come in," she said. "There is fire in the sitting room and father is away from home this evening, and he won't know you was here." Go in young man and warm your toes. Go in young man, you are wanted at the Y. M. C. A. "O. G." reached home via. F. & W. I. "Old Buff Cochran committed suicide last week. Since his death, friend John is almost distracted. He left a deating will and a large and "nifty" lot of children's mother winks and a "nifty" lot of children's mother winks and a "nifty" lot of children's mother winks. At a meeting of the "wages" society held at the residence of the "wages" society, the "wages" society was held at the residence of the "wages" society. Udlerzook has written a letter to the public, in which he declares his innocence.

The State elections held on Tuesday last week in most instances show decided Democratic gains. Arkansas has gone Democratic by 75,000 majority. Ohio has gone Democratic by 29,000 majority, and twenty Congressmen. Indiana is Democratic by 10,000 to 12,000, and the congressional delegation stands eight Democrats and five Republicans. Nebraska has gone Republican by 10,000 majority. Dakota elects a Republican delegate to Congress by 1,400 majority.

Warrants for Executions.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 14.—Governor Hartranft has issued the warrants for the execution of William E. Udlerzook, Isaac O'Mara, and Patrick Ervin on Thursday, Nov. 12.
