

The Jeffersonian.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1874.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT. EDWARD M. PAXSON, Philadelphia.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR. ARTHUR G. OLMSTED, Potter county.

AUDITOR GENERAL. HARRISON ALLEN, Warren county.

SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS. ROBERT B. BEATH, Schuylkill county.

FOR CONGRESS. ALEXANDER W. BUTLER, Carbon.

Election Tuesday, November 3rd.

NOTICE.

Owing to the unwillingness of some of the candidates to pay their bills after the election is over, it is hereby Resolved by the undersigned that from the date of the issue of this paper, all persons advertising their Cards as candidates for any office and having election tickets printed, will be required to pay for the same in advance.

THEO. SCHOCH, Pub. Jeffersonian.

A. O. GREENWALD, pub. Democrat.

We hope our Republican friends throughout the county will see to it that we get the returns from their respective townships by Wednesday morning next.

Reader vote for EDWARD M. PAXSON for SUPREME JUDGE. He is thoroughly honest, has a mind well stored with legal lore, and will labor conscientiously to save from degradation the Judicial emblems of our glorious old Commonwealth.

Reader vote for A. G. OLMSTED, for LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR. The first in eminent of this new office to our laws, should be a man of character for honesty, and whose fitness carried with the additional requisite to success, experience. The convention was particularly fortunate in the selection of Mr. Olmsted, and you will willingly fall in duty if you fail to vote for and elect him. His opponent, Mr. Latta, is but little known outside of his own party, and that little is anything but enough to warrant him in asking your votes.

Republicans Tuesday next is the day set apart for the first election under the new Constitution. You should feel it a pleasant duty to go to the polls on that day and vote for Paxson, Olmsted, Allen, Beath and Butler, and the safety and honor of your State. The fourth of July has hardly more significance for patriots than all should see centered in Election day, indeed not a whit more. It is true that the former is the natal day of our national independence, but it is equally true that it is on the latter day that we show ourselves worthy of our blessed privileges by voting so as to secure its preservation. This you can best do by voting for the gentleman named above. Remember that it was Democracy which attempted to disrupt and destroy the Government, and that it was Republicanism which came to the rescue, and overruling every other consideration fought manfully and successfully for the right.

Reader vote for HARRISON ALLEN for AUDITOR GENERAL, on Tuesday next, if you wish to retain a first class incumbent in that important office. Mr. Allen has proved by his works during the last two years his worth as a guardian of your treasures, and it would be an egregious piece of folly for you to supplant him now. In all his relation he has proved himself honest and true, and just the man you need in the position. His opponent Mr. Justus F. Temple is wholly unknown to you, and if you do your duty on election day he will pass into still deeper oblivion.

Republicans go to the polls early on Tuesday next, and after you have voted, go to work looking up the voluntary delinquents and those who are absent by reason of age or bodily infirmity and see that all get there and vote, and vote right. Make it your duty to look after the disgraced Democrats, of whom there are known to be many in the county. Republican votes are to be found among these, if Republican truths are plainly laid before them, and every vote thus made counts two in the grand result. Remember that every Republican's true duty on election day begins with the opening of the polls, and ceases only after the votes are counted and the result in the district is known. Prepare yourselves, then for a hard though a glorious day's work on Tuesday. The Democrats, we assure you will not sleep on that day, and you must be around to watch and see that they come no dodges over the right.

READER VOTE THE WHOLE REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET on Tuesday next if you wish to promote the best interests of the Commonwealth. Bear the truth in mind that fourteen years of Republican rule, notwithstanding the wars necessary pecuniary demands, has abolished State Taxes on personal and real property and reduced the State debt at the rate of nearly $2,000,000 per annum—bringing the debt from forty odd millions down to some twenty odd millions,—and laid a safe foundation for a like annual reduction until all the debt is paid. If you wish this glorious State of things to continue you must see to it that the management of affairs does not fall into the hands of the spoils party, commonly called the Democratic party. But you will not permit so foolish a thing. Be sure to vote right when by voting for Paxson, Olmsted, Allen, Beath and Butler.

The Republican Conference of this Congressional District, met at Mauch Chunk on Tuesday last, and nominated ALEXANDER W. BUTLER, of Carbon, as a candidate for Congress.

Mr. BUTLER is a resident of Mauch Chunk, and for twenty years has been connected with the banks of that town, and is now Cashier of the First National Bank. He is also a leading officer of the Carbon Iron Co.; has a thorough knowledge of the currency and tariff questions from long experience; is highly respected by all who know him. Reader vote for ALEXANDER W. BUTLER.

By the time our next paper makes its next appearance, and in its columns, we confidently expect to lay the figures of a glorious triumph of correct principles, not only in Pennsylvania but in other States which will vote on Tuesday, before our readers. Our old coon is ready with his nasal gyrations, and our rooster is in good feather and lungs for a most lusty crow in behalf of Republican victory.

Reader vote for ROBERT B. BEATH for SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS on Tuesday next if you wish to rest secure in having performed your duty. Gen. Beath has been a faithful administrator of the Surveyor General's office for the last three years, and during that time has developed qualities eminently fitting him to fill the new office for which he has been named. A faithful soldier and a faithful public officer, and a man of thoroughly sound principles he well deserves your support. His opponent, Gen. McCandless was before you three years ago for the post of Auditor General. You told him then, emphatically, that you did not require his services then, and he has since afforded you no reason why you should want him now. He is a political trimmer of the Democratic school, and certainly is not the man to take official part in the affairs of the government. Of course you will vote for Beath.

Our neighbor and his big rooster had a lusty time last week crowing over the result of the elections in Ohio, Indiana, Arkansas and West Virginia. They appeared to feel so happy over it that we could hardly bring ourselves to regret the loss we had sustained. It had been so long since they had such an opportunity, and their prospect for the future was so dull for them that we did not wonder at their taking advantage of what was set before them to give vent to their joy. But now certainly will come our time. With Pennsylvania and New York leading off the November elections and all culminating in grand Republican victories will furnish our opportunities and, of course, we shall not be slow in taking advantage thereof. We confidently look for something more than our usual success, and we feel that we almost see the necessity of asking the loan of our neighbors immense cock-a-doodle-do to assist in giving zest to our efforts. Be prepared therefore neighbor to respond to our proposed call in this regard, and nerve yourself up to the task, too, of listening without fear and trembling to our thundering buzz over the glorious victories yet to come—a Republican majority in Congress secured, and a faithful national administration most gloriously sustained. These are surely among the results to be secured by the November elections.

Our neighbor finds fault with the Republicans for having taken State Taxes from off the poor man's homestead and occupation and placing them where they should be on mammoth, bloated and monopolizing corporations. The Republicans thought that as the corporations were rich under the privileges robbed from the people and conferred upon them during "the good old Democratic times" that we read about, that they should do no less than pay a portion of the expenses of the government under whose laws they were protected. The people think this is right as it certainly is. The Democracy think differently, and "the Democrat thinks, no writer" but a knave intending to deceive or a fool "unfit to instruct anybody, would be guilty of writing such twaddle." Well every man to his notion, and while Republicans think most of the people and legislate for the promotion of their interests, we do not feel like finding fault with the Democracy for thinking most of corporations and denouncing Republicans for bringing them to the assumption of a just share of the government burdens. It would be well, however for the Democratic voters, on election day, to make a note of this difference in the views of the two parties. We have no fears of the result with the issue joined:—Democracy and the corporations vs. Republicanism and the people, because we shall expect to win every time.

FREDERICK RUFF presented us with a peculiar specimen of corn growth. It consists of a cluster of eight corn ears grown out of the top of the corn stalk. The ears are all matured, and are from 5 to 8 inches in length.

MR. LINFORD RUTH has been appointed collector of school taxes for the borough of Stroudsburg for the year 1874. He has already entered upon the duties of his office. Punish the delinquents up sharp Linford, and see if you cannot earn the name of model collector.

D. S. LEE, Attorney at Law, and District Attorney, has moved his office from Lee & Co's Furniture Store, to a room in Jesse Albert's house next door to the Stroudsburg House. Mr. Lee found that he was absolutely compelled to devote his whole attention to the law, and to this end has taken the room above mentioned, where his clients will hereafter find him in readiness to serve them. We take pleasure in thus noticing the prosperity of a rising young man.

MR. WILLIAM KAUTZ, son of Mr. Henry Kautz of Stroud township, shot a species of game that is not often met with in this section of country, on Wednesday of last week. He was hunting in the woods near his father's house when he came across a wild cat. With true nimrod pluck he blazed away at the varmint but only wounded it. Two more shots, however, brought the animal to its death, when on measuring it it was found to be three feet in length, and rather an unpleasant looking object to meet in the woods.

Rubber Boots and Shoes at Fried's.

A. B. SHAFFER, Esq., of Snyder'sville, sold his store goods and leased the building to Geo. Bittenbender of Sciota, and Hon. Peter Graver of Ross township. Messrs. Bittenbender and Graver are well known citizens of this county, possessed of rare business qualifications and in every manner content to build up and succeed in their new undertaking in Snyder'sville.

Rubber Coats and Blankets, at Fried's.

THE Rev. D. M. Henckel, former pastor of the Lutheran Church, in this Borough, spent last Sabbath here, and filled the pulpit in the morning and evening. The Rev. gentleman is now located at Mount Pleasant, N. Carolina, and left this place on Wednesday last, to return home. He is an efficient worker in all the departments of Christian labor, a genial man, and beloved by his brethren.

For Overcoats, go to Fried's. For overcoats, go to Fried's.

SOME scamp and smokist beside broke into Wm. Ruff's Oyster Saloon on Wednesday evening last, and, not having the fear of the law before his eyes, helped himself to a box of Billy's "Fragrant Havannas." The burglar affected an entrance through the back door of the Saloon. As the country is overrun with rascals of all kinds it behoves us all to look carefully to our house fastenings, and be prepared to treat the rascals to a lead pill when they disturb us.

Simon Fried has the largest assortment of Trunks & Valises in Stroudsburg.

There will be no meeting of return judges after the election this year. Attested certificates of the result are to be deposited by the judges with the Prothonotary—those within twelve miles on the following day, and those more distant not later than the second day after the election. The Judges of the Court of Common Pleas will then meet, count the votes, and announce the result, as has heretofore been done by the board of return judges. The duties of election officers are detailed at length in the Sheriff's election proclamation.

The largest and best assortment of Ready-made Clothing in Stroudsburg, you will find at Simon Fried's.

OUR young friend, Dr. Howard Patterson slipped off quietly to Philadelphia on Tuesday of last week, a bachelor, and returned just as quietly, on Thursday, a benedict. The Dr. belongs to that class of young men, of whom a town or city cannot count too many on its roll of inhabitants, being well up in scholarship, modest and unassuming in deportment and inflexible in his determination to support only the right. Though young in his profession, he will, if his life be spared, be sure to make a brilliant mark in the world. We wish him and his worthy bride all the happiness which can accrue to two loving hearts, and a full measure of prosperity in worldly affairs.

BARGAINS.—For bargains in Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Trunks and Valices, &c., go to Simon Fried. Simon will sell you good goods cheaper than any other merchant in Monroe County.

MR. HENRY FULMER, in the improvements contemplated on the Stroudsburg House, recently purchased by him, displays an energy unusual to this section of country. Generally here the rule is to talk and calculate for a year or two before acting, and we know that improvements on this very house have been talked about annually for the last ten or twelve years, but Mr. Fulmer's plan is, evidently, to do first and talk afterwards. It is but a few weeks since he made the purchase and he already has the work progressing rapidly, and intends by the 20th proximo to have the improvements under roof, and will doubtless have all finished for the reception of guests long before the summer season commences. Such a man is a valuable acquisition to a place, if for nothing else than the example he sets of energy and thorough go-aheadiveness.

The Lunar Eclipse.

The total eclipse of the moon on Sunday morning though remarkable was not altogether unusual. Such an occurrence has happened before, but we doubt whether anything exceeding the beauty of the Eclipse on Sunday morning was ever witnessed. The precise time for the moon to creep under the earth's shadow had been announced several days previously from the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, and of course the curious in such matters were prepared to greet the show. The night was beautiful, but before the eclipse set in much of the moon's brilliancy was obscured by a haze which overspread the heavens. A friend, who watched the progress of the Eclipse from the commencement to the end, says that the black shadow on the moon's edge began to show itself at about 12:21 a. m. It was not, however, until 1:31 a. m., that the eclipse was complete and it remained so until about half past two, when the moon began to emerge from the shadow, and by 3:31 a. m. everything was clear as a bell again. At two o'clock a. m., the picture presented by the phenomenon was one of sublime grandeur. A narrow silver lining marked the upper edge of the moon's surface and from this it receded gradually to a deep cloudy red in the center and from that to the blackness of darkness towards the lower edge. We can compare the moon's appearance during the totality of the eclipse to nothing so truly descriptive as tarnished copper. Doubtless thousands upon thousands of human eyes, during the progress of the marvel were gazing heavenward when we were, and drinking in the delights of the scene that attested so eloquently to the science of the spheres, and the precision of human skill in computing their wonderful revolutions. Those who missed seeing the eclipse, missed a rare and grand sight indeed.

Judge Elwell, of the Columbia district, in a suit tried before him recently, has decided that under the late law repealing State Taxes on real estate, &c. School Directors can not levy an assessment exceeding ten mills on the dollar for school purposes. Up to the time of this decision it was supposed that the maximum was thirteen mills on the dollar.

Furs, Furs, for Ladies, Gents' and Children, at very low prices at Simon Fried's.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.—The Rev. G. B. Dechant will preach in the Christ's Reformed Church in Hamilton on Sunday next, the 1st of November, in the morning at 10 o'clock, and in the afternoon of the same day, in the Salem's Reformed Church in Cherry Valley. A full attendance is solicited. H. DANIEL, Pastor.

The Musical Convention.

The Musical Convention in Stroudsburg, conducted by Professor Theodore E. Perkins, of N. Y., which closed its session with a Concert on Friday evening of last week, was a grand success.

The attendance from the beginning to the end of the session was large; and the turn out to the Concert was most gratifying to the Professor and his pupils. The verdict of those who attended the Convention and listened to the singing on Friday evening, is that the Professor knows first how to sing himself and how to make others sing. Many having expressed an earnest desire for further instruction by him, arrangements have been made for his return to Stroudsburg to give a course of lessons in both the elementary and higher departments of vocal music. In order to secure this great privilege to our boroughs and the adjacent communities, Mr. Jerome S. Williams has very kindly granted the class the free use of his hall every Monday evening for three months. The first lesson will be given on Monday evening, the 9th of November. The whole course will consist of 12 lessons, 2 hours each. The first hour of each session will be devoted to the elements of music, made so plain that youth can understand them, and the other hour will be spent on the higher culture of music. The price of tickets to the whole course will be $2 and can be obtained from Rev. W. H. Dinsmore and Thos. A. Bell.

There will only be enough sold to cover the expenses incurred in getting up the class.—About eighty persons have already given their names as members of the class, which certainly speaks well for the reputation Prof. Perkins has made for himself amongst the lovers of music in our community. And we are glad to see that so many appreciate the opportunity of placing themselves under so great a master of this fine art. It is truly a rare opportunity and the price of the tickets has been put at a very low figure in order to afford as many as possible the privilege of attending this superb musical instruction. It is the special desire of the managers that all of the Churches within reach will be fully represented in the class so that they will enjoy an unimpeded privilege of elevating their congregational and sabbath school singing. If any in the country wish tickets they will please make application immediately, either in person or by letter. The tickets must invariably be paid for in advance; the money will be safely deposited; the professor paid weekly; and if sickness or death prevent his fulfilling the engagement, the money will be refunded to the pupils.

Base Ball.

A match game of base ball was played on the Fair Ground last Friday between Tom Collins and Stroudsburg Club. The latter club has had no practice and were easily defeated, the following is the score:

TOM COLLINS VS. MUTUALS.

The Tom Collins nine visited Portland last Saturday and played the return game with the Mutuals of that place. It will be remembered the preceding game was played here on the 10th inst., and the Tom Collins boys being shorthanded were defeated 26 to 21. On Saturday last they turned the tables upon their opponents and won by the following score:

CANADENSIS, PA., Oct. 27, 1874.

EDITOR JEFFERSONIAN.—Dear Sir—The Oakland base ball club, played a Picked Nine on Saturday last at Canadensis, the score being 35 to 11 in favor of the picked nine, which was made up by three players from Scranton, Logan of the "Typos" of feigning as catcher, three of the "Scrubs" and three of the East Stroudsburg club making up the "nine." Mr. Gruber of Tobyhanna, played with the Oakland club. Mr. O. Dreher umpired the game. Very Respectfully R.

Full and official returns of the late Ohio elections show that 238,406 votes were cast for William Bell, Democrat, for Secretary of State; 221,204 for Allen T. Wykoff, Republican, and 7815 for John R. Buchtel, Prohibitionist, for the same position. Bell's official majority over Wykoff is 17,202 votes.

What We heard and saw within the Week.

"Buckey" was making astronomical observations from the balcony last Sunday night. He was looking for the eclipse. A handsome piece of calico was fluttering close by his side. The handsome and accomplished "map man," is so deeply interested in the "blonds" that it is rumored he intends getting out a blonde map. The youngsters going to school would have lots of fun hunting for Europe, Arrip, Irup and Strup on one of them. "Fanchion the Cricket, or the Beautiful Hoag-x" is the title of a ten cent novel now under way by our "devil." "Beautiful" is good, but we don't see where the box comes in. One of our fashionable ladies, in serving lunch to some visitors a few evenings ago, gave them pillow slips for napkins. The joke was related by friend Simon. Dr. Pack's Brachio, did very suddenly last Saturday night. Mrs. Brachio and Cochin are not expected to survive the loss of their husbands. They are almost frantic with grief. The "sawing circle" did intend going on a soda-water "heat" while in New York, but on comparing their funds to the price of drinks at Hudson, they found they could not stand it. Ramor says they informed the professor that they were not going to pay ten cents per glass when they could get it for five in Stroudsburg. The gentlemanly proprietor wilted. "No!" looks as sweet as a "fresh blown rose" with the gentle "perfection" of the immortal Chevy, and go west. "Sticks" mated out to a "somer"..... Last Saturday night the Queen of the "mud larks" was found lying in the street dead. She was taken up by gentle hands and conveyed to a parlor close by and the services of a "medicinal man" brought into requisition, when after a close examination it was discovered she was only dead-drunk. John, the original, and O. G. bought a pair of oysters for stockings, in partnership, at the festival in Stroudsburg, last Saturday night. It looks rather suspicious, a good sized "cricket"..... Last Saturday night the boys for "coming events, cast their shadows before," you know..... "Grasly" John, the original, "John the tinker" and O. G. patronized the pie stand at the festival quite liberally. They all relished their apple pie, except the original, who waded in on Custard with a ravenous appetite. The engineers of the O. T. R. R. are surveying a new route to the forge. Kissing in Storm's lane, is "a waste of sweetness on the desert air." "Joe," "Old Mad" is the latest game. "Fanchion" is sweet as a peach and twice as handsome. At least "AL" thinks so, when the old lady is out..... A branch office of the Freedmen's Bureau has been established in Saylor's building downtown. Would not a back street do better..... That joke on "beautiful" needs elucidating to make it more comprehensible to those dull of comprehension. Could not the "blonde" or "cricket" elucidate?..... Unless "Buckey" pulls off the trick there will be a challenge and coffee and cigars for two..... The "Red Light" was on a jamboree one night last week. She had on "dandy" breeches, but they fit her too "richly" around the waist..... "Big Injuns" bawling suit is large enough to make an overcoat for the Phoenix stammer..... "Praiseworthy" should not smile quite so much while in church. Be sober and sedate, like "manly-peg."

The State Debt.

[From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.] There is one argument for the Republican party in Pennsylvania that can never be gained. The State debt, created by Democratic extravagance, waste and corruption, has been steadily paid off by successive Republican administrations. Last Saturday, State Treasurer Mackey completed a purchase of State bonds, which brings the amount redeemed by him since the beginning of the present fiscal year, Dec. 1, 1873, up to one million dollars. And before the end of the year the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund will redeem about $300,000 more, so paying off $1,300,000 of the State debt during the current fiscal year. Since 1861, this Republican work of redemption has gone steadily on, relieving the State of the burden of debt heaped upon it by the Democratic party. From 1861 to 1874, nineteen millions of debt have thus been paid off. And this has been done not by heavy taxes, but by good policy in developing the resources of the State, and good management of its incomes. In thirty years the Democratic party piled up a debt of $40,000,000, in the same or less time the Republican party will have paid it all off. This is an argument which he who runs may read, and one that no specious flattery or misrepresentation can possibly weaken or set aside. It comes home to every citizen and to every business interest in the State. Pennsylvania is rapidly approaching a freedom from all debt, under Republican rule, and it is simply blind folly to talk about putting the debt-makers back into power, when the debt-payers are steadily pursuing such a good work. Pennsylvania, relieved from debt, will win fresh honor as the Keystone of the Union; and she will be able, without burdening her people and her industries with heavy taxation, to carry forward much useful work which properly belongs to, to a great State like this, but which cannot be properly done while any debt rests upon her. The people of Pennsylvania should everywhere have their eyes open to this unanswerable argument which comes from the Treasury Department. In a year of unusual depression and unusual necessary expenditure, the Republican administration of the State pays off one million three hundred thousand dollars of debt. If there is ever any virtue in the good old maxim, "let well enough alone," it ought to have its full weight upon public opinion and public action when it is applied to an issue involving the honor and well-being of the State. When the Republican party has paid off the whole debt of Pennsylvania, it will be time enough to determine whether the people want to set the Democratic party to work contracting a new one.

When a Lehigh Democratic editor read that the Republicans had been defeated in the province of Biscay, he thought that Biscay was somewhere in New Jersey, and published the news surmounted by a pair of barnyard fowls, the American eagle, a colored man with a bundle slung over his back, a cannon on duty, and several other illustrations that are generally brought out on the occasion of a Democratic victory—and referred to the defeat editorially as "another rebuke to the Radical administration." When subsequently informed that Biscay was in Spain, and that the Republicans had been defeated by the Carlists, that editor wanted to step down and out.—Norristown Herald.
