

THE MOLLY MAGUIRES.

The Elmira Advertiser's Advice to the State of Pennsylvania.

It is quite evident that this organization is put on a very formidable aspect lately in the coal regions. Murders and assassinations are almost of daily occurrence, yet the secrecy of the organization is so well kept that justice seems tardy or powerless to make arrests and bring the criminals to trial. The deeds of blood are invariably done under cover of darkness, and the perpetrators are so well protected in their retreats that pursuit is fruitless. The object of the secret banding together is intimidation and the execution of lynch law justice for fancied wrongs or interference with the rules or edicts of the order, which being secret, of course, are a surprise to the public, and usually the surprise of death. Unrelenting and unforgetting in vengeance, unrelenting and unforgetting in the famous secret organizations of the middle ages, such as Scott details in Ann of the Molli Maguires only to have been borrowed. Ignorant, impassionate men asserts the place of justice. The redress of wrong even is not with calm judgment, but with the force outbreking impulses of viciously hardened fiends. The State of Pennsylvania, through its properly constituted authorities, should deal out a wholesome terror to those who have recently been guilty of midnight massacres. Good and true men have given up their lives to the demands of this revengeful order and how many more may be sacrificed depends on the audacity and impunity with which they will be permitted to carry out their further projects. The intimidation of such an organization, which might be endured on the borders of civilization, before legal tribunals were well established, surely should be allowed in the heart of justice-enlightened Pennsylvania.

The Upper Lehigh Region.

The New York Herald's special correspondent says - The Molly Maguires, having penetrated the upper Lehigh region, have already committed various atrocious acts, and the citizens fear that horrors similar to those committed during the well-remembered "long strike" are to be perpetrated again. A most dastardly attempt was made to blow up a house with powder, at Hazleton, on Tuesday night. The building, which is situated on North Wyoming street, is a double block, the occupants being Thomas Morgan and John McMaster. Both men are noted for being quiet and inoffensive and their families respectable and orderly. The bonds who attempted this terrible outrage went about their work systematically, having been acquainted with mining exploding operations. They deposited a quantity of heavy proof powder in the cellar of Morgan's house, in such a manner as they expected would compass the demolition of the structure, and then, by means of a fuse, ignited the blast.

A great explosion occurred, which shattered the glass inside and outside of the building. The house was raised, but set into its former position after the explosion. Mr. Morgan, who was in his apartment at the time, was lifted from the floor and thrown violently against the ceiling and received slight injuries. The house was badly damaged, but fortunately no one but Mr. Morgan was hurt. This is the second attempt made to destroy the premises. Mrs. Morgan was sick in bed. The Molly Maguires performed a similar deed during the "long strike" at Mount Carmel, in that case a dying man was blown to atoms.

The brigands are plying their nefarious trade in Luzerne county, where they roam promiscuously. On Sunday Michael Kearney, a miner employed by the Lackawanna Iron and Coal Company, was found at the base of an eighty foot embankment, between the Delaware and Hudson and Lehigh and Susquehanna railroads, at the foot of Lincon street, Scranton, horribly mutilated and breathing his last. He was carried to the hospital, but died immediately after his reception. The supposition is that he was first murderously assaulted, and then thrown down the embankment to conceal the crime.

Elsewhere in the coal country the outburst is great. From the Clarion county mountains working comes the intelligence of the perpetration of much diabolism in that region. On Sunday night ten Mollires took possession of the Evangelical Church in the township of Farmington, and refused to permit the congregation to leave the building after the conclusion of the services. When remonstrated with they responded with the most vile abuse against the church and people. On Monday night a larger force visited the church and made an indiscriminate and murderous attack upon the worshippers with pistols, clubs, bludgeons (a favorite weapon with the Molly Maguires), stones and other death-dealing things. A number of the congregation were seriously wounded, and, at last accounts, some of them were momentarily expected to die.

The ringleaders of the mob are said to be Thomas Neely and Gilfillan. These ringleaders are no doubt some of those who recently went from Schuylkill county to the western part of the State, where miners' strikes were in progress. It is understood that among the Italian miners now working in the Pennsylvania mines there are members of the Italian secret organization known as the "Accolite" ("cut-throats"), and the Molly Maguires are reported to have taken an oath to exterminate them.

Millions of Wild Pigeons.

NEWETT, Texas, Nov. 1.—Millions of wild pigeons have appeared within the last few days. They are devouring the most of the many miles around, destroying the crops of the pork crop for the benefit of the sportsman. The information is given that their roost is near the Bondsman station, about five miles southeast of Oak Grove. It is about a mile and a half long and a half mile wide. The people report the pigeons as destroying angels or as swarms of grasshoppers but the sportsmen are of a different opinion. The pigeons feed over a distance of twenty-five miles.

Snow fell Friday in New York, Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, Canada, and the northern region.

The tax-rate in Philadelphia, next year, will be $2 65 on the $100 valuation—the largest ever reached.

The fires in Fayette county last week swept over a space of forty square miles, destroying large quantities of fencing and timber.

There were 385 deaths in Erie from January 1st to November 1st. Of this number 215 were under ten years old, while 33 died from old age.

The wages of the track laborers on the Morris and Essex and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroads have been reduced to one dollar per day.

The number of emigrants arrived at Liverpool from the United States and Canada, during the six weeks from the middle of August to the first of October, reached no less than 8,168.

Major J. W. Orunshy, near Sharon, has from twenty ewes raised thirty-two lambs, which sold for $140. The clip from the same ewes brought $60, making $200 profit in one year from the ewes.

Ice is an inch and a half thick have already formed on the mountains immediately above Mauch Chunk, and will probably stay there all winter. Mauch Chunk is the place to look for the earliest cold.

At a recent cattle show at Paris, Ky., twenty-one cows were sold at an average of $1995 a head and fourteen bulls at an average of $1195. One cow sold for $6000, another for $5100, and still another for $4400.

Four Washington lawyers began to drink port wine from a ten gallon cask at 3:30 P. M., Saturday. By eight o'clock one of them was dead, another in a critical condition, and the other two very sick. They drank three gallons of wine.

A curious fish, says the Troy Times, was caught near the Bassamer Steel Works this morning by Robert Cole. It swims like a fish, walks like a lizard, has a tail like an eel, a head like a catfish and a body similar to the lizard. It is about twelve inches long and has four legs. It has a smooth skin and is covered with red and silver spots.

It is said that there is a city of 10,000 inhabitants in Mexico which has four public schools, two churches, only a half-dozen drinking places and not a single lawyer. It is further stated that in the space of twenty-six months there has not been a murder committed in the city, and only two slight collisions between citizens have occurred. Mier is the name of this happy city.

Here is how a Genesee county farmer manages to sell Baldwin apples for ten dollars a barrel: He takes a strip of paper and cuts out children's names, then places the papers around the apples when they begin to color; and in a week or two Mamie, Jamie, Johnnie, or Susie appear on the apple in large red letters. These, picked and barreled by themselves, bring fancy prices for the New York Christmas market.
