The Farmers' bank at Fogelsville, Berks county, will soon become a national bank with a capital of $100,000, of which $79,000 has already been subscribed.

The cost. The money spent in Boston to celebrate St. Patrick's day this year would have transported 1,000 families west of the Mississippi and presented to each head of a family 100 acres of land.

The Dougherty-Major shooting case which occurred in Mahanoy City, Schuylkill county, has been transferred for trial to the Lebanon county court on the ground that Dougherty would not be accorded a fair trial in his own county.

After the resignation of Mr. Bryant, city liquor agent in Lewistown, Pennsylvania, a piece of black crape, about two yards long, was found tied to the handle of the door. This was to indicate that the spirit had departed.

The Somerset Herald says: The farmers are commencing to look rather glum over the sugar prospects. They say that the trees ought to have been tapped at least three weeks ago, and that now, when winter does break up, they are so far behind hand with their spring work that they will be unable to devote much time to sweetness.

The Columbus (Ohio) Journal thus quotes the market price of legislators: The demand for county seat purposes being pretty well supplied, the market rates for statesmen of the General Assembly are rather lower. Committee men flat, $50@100; expounders of the Constitution heavy, $25@30; setters up lively, private terms; logrollers, $5@10; disinterested conversationalists, refreshment and contingent remainders; smut-anecdotes, no quotations since the Beecher business; pennyroyal cattle, wholesale, 10c@25, according to digestion.

Mr. Laner, the brewer, of Reading, employs a man in his apartments by the name of Oelshwadel, who has lately been made prominent by the publication in a Reading daily of the astounding fact that he wears a No. 15 boot, hauled to the brewery by a two-horse team, and hoisted to his room by a steam engine; that he drinks eighty to one hundred full glasses of malt liquor a day, and is one of the strongest and best workmen in the establishment; that he has been known to drink forty glasses of beer before breakfast. Mr. Laner has employed him for the past ten years.

Railroad Matters.
Mr. Case, President of the Lehigh & Eastern Railroad project, came from Millford to Stroudsburg last Saturday accompanied by two railroad men from Boston on their way of a tour of inspection over the proposed route. They were all highly pleased with the route as far as Stroudsburg and speak with the greatest assurance of the success of the road. They have now a bill before the Massachusetts Legislature praying to have that State guarantee $5,000,000 worth of bonds toward the building of the road. The gentlemen accompanying Mr. Case are to report to that Legislature of the feasibility of the route. If favorable no doubt the Legislature will pass the bill.—Hon. C. Burnett and Wm. S. Rees, Esq., accompanied the party from here to White Haven. It becomes our citizens now to be liberal with this project, because if this road should be built it would be one of the greatest advantages to many parts Democrat.

ARRESTED AFTER MANY YEARS.
Colonel Butler's Murderer in 1864 Caught in 1875.

Special Dispatch to The Times.
WILLIAMSPORT, March 29.—In October, 1864, Colonel Butler, of Brookville, Jefferson county, was directed to arrest Joseph Lonsberry, of Clearfield, for desertion. Lonsberry had openly declared that he would shoot whoever undertook his arrest, and made his word good by killing Colonel Butler on the spot, shooting him with a rifle. This was in Clearfield county. The most intense excitement existed at the time, and Government officials have during this long interval attempted in vain to make his arrest. A warrant for the arrest of Lonsberry was placed in the hands of Detective Rathbone, of the United States Secret Service, on the 10th of March last. He at once proceeded to Liberty, Tioga county, in which place, it was said, Lonsberry was domiciled. He got an intimation of his whereabouts from some words inadvertently dropped by Lonsberry's friends in Liberty. Rathbone made the arrest yesterday at one o'clock. Lonsberry makes no denial or concealment of his crime. He will be taken to Pittsburgh. The trial will develop some astounding facts, implicating many in that region in treasonable practices during the war.

It is easy enough to tell whether you've been cheated in a bushel of wheat. Some one has just found out that a bushel contains exactly 550,000 grains of wheat.—Hereafter when you buy a bushel of wheat all you have to do is to count the grains, and if the count isn't full you can rely upon it you are a swindled man.

Gratifying Medical Progress.
An English physician recently removed a section of the patient's liver, placed it on a plate, scraped it carefully and returned it to its place fully restored to its normal action. This promises to work a revolution in the treatment of disease, and in a few years we will have an addition to domestic literature something like this: "Husband, I wish you would take John's right lung down to the doctor this morning and have the middle valve fixed," or "Will you stop into the doctor's when you come home this noon and see if Mary's liver is mended, as she wants to go out to tea this evening!" The practice will become so common it time, we are sure, that none of the neighbors will be in any way startled to see a wife with a veil tied around her head leaning out of a bed room window, and shouting to a receding husband: "Jer-e-niah! Tell Dr. Serapen to send up Willie's right kidney at once, whether it is done or not. He's had it there more'n a week, and the child might as well be without any kidney and done with it!"

FIGHT WITH A BULL.
A MAN IN CUMBERLAND COUNTY, PA., TOSSED BY AN INFLATED ANIMAL.—BROWN GRAY HAIR TURNED IN A FEW MINUTES.

Under date of March 18th, a correspondent of the Harrisburg Telegraph writes: Mr. Israel Miller, residing near McGarvey's bone mill, in East Pennsboro township, Cumberland county, on Tuesday, the 16th, had been to the above mill with a load of hay. Being detained on the road by the snow, it was after dark when he arrived at home. After driving into the barnyard, he unlatched his team. Upon going to the house he was informed by his wife that she had been too unwell to attend to the milking. He concluded to attend to the matter himself, and gathered up the buckets and proceeded to the barn (carelessly leaving the door ajar). After having milked several of the cows, and it being dark, he had not noticed the entrance of a bull, one of the Devon breed, and called by Mr. M. the "Old Patriarch." The animal had taken a position beside one of the cows in a stall, and Mr. Miller proceeded to milk, as he supposed the cow, when the unusual manipulation caused the bull to wheel about and furiously attack him in his sitting posture, forcing his horns through his clothing and making its way into the barn yard, all the while tossing his victim up and down in a frightful manner, and forced him into a snow bank. Starting on a run around the yard, the Patriarch gave Mr. Miller a toss in the air, when the coat of that gentleman became firmly fastened on the spring pole that he had securely attached to the hay ladders when he left the bone mill for home, and he was utterly unable to remove himself, and was wholly at the mercy of the bull, which seemingly amused itself by nudging his victim as the pole descended, and sending him into the air time and again. The cries of Mr. Miller for help were heard by his neighbor, Mr. Sugars, who, upon going to his aid, was set upon by "old Patriarch," and in a twinkling was seated under the front part of the wagon, secure from danger. The animal then returned to his amusement, tossing Mr. Miller into the air by striking against the end of the pole. Seeing no means of release from his unpleasant position, Mr. Miller requested Mr. Sugars to try and make his escape, procure a rifle and shoot the bull. The suggestion was immediately put into practice, and the end desired was speedily accomplished, the bull being brought down. When Mr. Miller was released from his perilous position, he was nearly exhausted from the effects of the going he received in the unequal contest. He was carried to the house of Mr. Sugars, after which a physician was summoned. On examination it was ascertained that no bones had been broken. With care and good nursing it is thought that Mr. M. will soon recover. His hair, which was chestnut brown in color, has turned as white as wool, especially on the left side and rear portion of his head.
