LANCASTER CONVENTION.

A HARMONIOUS ASSEMBLAGE.
The Platform of Principles.

HARTRAUFT FOR GOVERNOR.
RAWLE FOR STATE TREASURER.

LANCASTER, May 26.—The convention was called to order at 12 o'clock by Russell Erret, chairman of the State executive committee, and Major Norris, secretary of the committee, proceeded to call the roll of delegates.

On motion of General Bingham, of Philadelphia, Hon. John Cessna, of Bedford, was chosen temporary chairman. On taking the chair Mr. Cessna expressed the hope that the work of the convention would result in entire harmony. As soon as nominations are made differences about candidates should be laid aside. All eyes are now directed to Pennsylvania, and a victory in 1875 will assure a greater and more glorious victory in 1876. Elated by their success in 1874 our adversaries flatter themselves that their victory at the coming election is already assured; but the people of Pennsylvania are not prepared to restore to power those who were so justly defeated and rejected for sixteen years past. He referred to the young soldier Governor of the State, and predicted his triumphant reelection next November. He complimented the administration of Gen. Grant as eminently successful, and enjoying well-deserved respect and confidence at home and abroad. He strongly intimated that it is the purpose of the Democratic party to assume the rebel war debt, and other measures calculated to deprive the country of the victory of the war. The destiny of the Republican party is not yet fulfilled. He concluded by expressing himself entirely confident that glorious victory awaits the Republican party at the next election and in 1876.

The following temporary secretaries were appointed: S. R. Thompson, Mercer; Henry C. Selby, Philadelphia; E. H. Harner, Berks; Henry C. Dunlap, Philadelphia; John W. Miller, Crawford; Andrew Knorr, Philadelphia; John C. Sees, Philadelphia.

Mr. Mantor (Crawford) offered a resolution to appoint a committee of one from each Senatorial district to be named by the delegates present, to report permanent officers of the convention. Mr. Souther (Erie) moved to amend so as to appoint a committee of seven to be named by the chair. Mr. Koons, of Somerset, opposed the amendment, because it would be a departure from the well established usages of the party to transfer the power of organizing the convention to the temporary chairman. Similar attempts have been made on former occasions, but always voted down. William B. Mann favored the original resolution, in order that the committee might be full, representing all sections and elements, and have all differences settled in committees, and thus avoid profitless discussions on the floor. Mr. Souther withdrew the amendment, and the resolution was agreed to. The committee was accordingly named with William A. Douglass as chairman. A committee of seven on contested seats was also appointed, with C. L. Magee, of Allegheny, as chairman. Mr. McPherson offered a resolution to appoint a committee of thirteen on platform and resolutions, to be named by the chair, which was agreed to, and Messrs. E. McPherson, James H. Campbell, William R. Leeds, A. G. Olmstead, Henry Souther, Linn Bartholomew, W. J. Moore, M. S. Humphreys, U. B. Payne, J. J. Mitchell, Frank Reeder, E. Blanchard and H. M. Seely were appointed such committee.

Resolution was adopted making the rules governing the House of Representatives the rules to govern the convention.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
The convention was called to order at 2 o'clock. The committee on contested seats reported in the Huntington contest in favor of the admission of the four delegates, each to cast half a vote. J. M. Byram, of Philadelphia, withdrew his contest for the sake of harmony in the convention. The committee on permanent organization reported in favor of General Harry White, of Indiana, for president, and Charles D. Elliott, of Schuylkill, for secretary. A vice president and assistant secretary were chosen for each Senatorial district. Mr. Mitchell, of Tioga, moved to substitute the name of General William H. Koozitz, of Somerset, for that of General White. It was seconded by Mr. Souther, of Erie, who thought General White had already enough offices. The yeas and nays were called on the motion, and it was rejected by a vote of 101 yeas to 146 nays. The report of the committee was then adopted. General Harry White was then escorted to the chair by General W. H. Koozitz, of Somerset, and Hon. John I. Mitchell, of Tioga. He was introduced as permanent president by Hon. John Cessna, who, on retiring from the chair again thanked the convention for the honor conferred upon him.

General White, on taking the chair, thanked the convention for the honor, alluded to the peculiar appropriateness of Lancaster as the place for holding the convention, and briefly reviewed the history of the party. Referring to the charges of corruption he said: "The specious cry is promptly raised: 'the time for change of government is at hand.' It is folly to deny that such utterances do not affect the public sense and the good name of our great party. But, sirs, is the idle cry of the corrupt and heedless to move from their party convictions and fealties the great mass of Republican voters of this Republican State? It cannot be so. He who now boastfully proclaims the time has come for the Republican party to lose control in the nation or State is no friend of his country." He concluded his address by saying: "The business which called us here now presses upon us. Let us haste to its performance. We cannot differ about the enumeration of those political convictions familiar and dear as the apple of our eye. This, alone, is not all that is expected. Capacity and integrity in the candidates to be nominated will be expected, as well as verbal promises for faithful administration. Popular preference has long since indicated Governor Hartrauft for re-nomination. He has been tried and can be trusted. In his nomination we only record the popular verdict. When our standard is again in his hands we will follow, to a sure victory, the unpretending citizen, the matchless soldier, the civil officer who has borne himself so well in his great office that all the people sound hosannas for his triumph."

Mr. McPherson, from the Committee on Resolutions, presented the following: "The Republicans of Pennsylvania, affirming their continued adherence to the party whose perpetuation is rendered necessary by the causes which called it into existence, make a decision of the fundamental principles of their political faith as follows: First. The equality of all men before the law. Equal justice to all and special favors to none. Second. The harmony of the National and State governments. Both are parts of one system alike necessary for the common prosperity, peace and security. Third. The unity of the nation. We are one people. The constitution of the United States forms a government, and not a league. Fourth. A faithful execution of the laws, an economical administration of the government, integrity in office, honesty in all branches of the civil service and a right accountability of public officers. Fifth. Protection to home industry and a home market for home products. Sixth. The right of the laborer to protection and encouragement, and the promotion of harmony between labor and capital. Seventh. Cheap transportation and the advancement of closer intercourse between all parts of the country. Eighth. Free banking, a safe and uniform currency, adjusted to the growing wants of the business interests of the country and a steady reduction of the national debt. Ninth. The public domain being the heritage of the people should be reserved for actual settlers exclusively. Tenth. The equalization of the bounties of soldiers and a speedy settlement of all just claims arising out of the late war. Eleventh. Honest men in office, men with brains enough to know dishonesty when they see it, and courage enough to fight it whenever they find it. Resolved, That we declare a firm and unqualified adherence to the unwritten law of the republic, which wisely and under the sanction of the most venerable of examples, limits the Presidential service of any citizen to two terms, and we, the Republicans of Pennsylvania, in recognition of this law, are unalterably opposed to the election to the Presidency of any person for a third term. Resolved, That the Republican party of this Commonwealth recall with pride their affective agency in the creation of the administration of President Ulysses S. Grant, and point with confidence to its general policy and the beneficent fruits thereof for their vindication and his; that having received the government from his predecessor demoralized in every branch, corruption and recklessness in office the rule, the fruits of the war ungathered, the lately rebellious States sullen, the late slaves unprotected and yet denied that great means of self-protection, the ballot, foreign States unchastized for their wrongs to us and home States defiantly inefficient to the expiation which their rebellious action required. The administration of President Grant has in six short years steadily and unpromptly reformed every known abuse, and is to-day relentlessly upon the track of wrong-doers; has largely reduced the nation's debt; has inflexibly punished all violators of law; has secured by constitutional provision the ballot to all freemen, and by law thrown solely needed safeguards around the ballot-box; has wrung from unfriendly foreign States confession of their faults and reparation for injuries done us, and has influenced reluctant home States to at least the appearance of just dealings with all their citizens, all which events make the present administration as among the most brilliant achievements in our annals. Resolved, That in presenting the name of Governor John F. Hartrauft for re-election to the exalted position which he now fills we meet the unanimous wish of our constituents, who desire in this manner to indicate their approval of the careful, conscientious and able manner in which he has met and discharged every duty incumbent upon him, making thereby a record which will secure his reputation as one of the best upon the roll of our chief magistrates; brave in the field, modest in the cabinet, tried often and always found faithful, self-praised, just and honest, we present him for the suffrages of the people, confident that their judgment will approve and ratify our nomination. Resolved, That in view of the evils common to the government of most of the large municipalities, of the municipal taxation in this and other States of the Union, it behooves our Legislature to devise adequate means to protect the people as well from existing maladministration as to prevent its recurrence, and to this end we suggest as a preliminary step a thorough investigation by an able and experienced commission, to be formed under proper authority, of the whole subject. Resolved, That we arraign the Democratic party of Pennsylvania for its utter failure to redeem the promise upon which it partially attained to power in this State. It pledged itself to reform, to legislative purity, to greater economy and to a higher aim in legislation; while it has reformed nothing, has economized in nothing, has dishonored the State by an unseemly and arbitrary exercise of legislative powers. Resolved, That the efforts now being made by the national administration to ferret out and bring to punishment those who have been defrauding the government of its lawful revenues should enlist the sympathy and hearty support of honest men of all parties. THE TICKET.

Wm. B. Mann, of Philadelphia, moved the nomination of John F. Hartrauft for Governor. The motion was seconded by Mr. Eshleman, of Lancaster, and carried unanimously. Mr. Bartholomew nominated B. B. Strang for State Treasurer. Judge Souther nominated Henry Rawle. Mr. Ramey nominated E. H. Wilson. Among the other nominations were Messrs. Stewart, of Fayette; Shoemaker, of Luzerne; Coleman, of Lebanon; Meyer, of Radford; Weidner, of Philadelphia; Wallace, of Lawrence; McKnight, of Berks; Fahnestock, of Adams; and Wolfe, of Union. The first ballot stood: Strang, 49; Rawle, 49; Stewart, 19; Wilson, 14; Shoemaker, 12; Coleman, 20; Meyer, 8; Weidner, 46; McKnight, 14; Fahnestock, 10; Wolfe, 1; Stewart, 18; Wilson, 8; Fahnestock, 6. The nomination of Mr. Rawle was made unanimous.

The several delegations then handed in the names of members of the State Central Committee, after which the Convention adjourned sine die. A mass meeting was held to-night to ratify the nominations, at which Hon. J. C. Burrows, of Michigan, made an eloquent speech. The Convention separated in high good humor, and everybody seemed perfectly satisfied with the day's work.

The Stage from a Catholic Point of View.
The Catholic church does not find in the dramatic profession ought to condemn. It is an honorable profession. The actor, the lawyer the merchant, the banker have all their duties to perform, always subservient to the claims of religion. "First strive to save your soul, and then become a good actor, lawyer, or whatever you wish." The drama, properly considered, is full of good lessons, the ultimate triumph of virtue under all circumstances and the defeat of hypocrisy and vice. Were the stage as fond of the church as the church is of the stage, all would be well. Were the drama as respectful to the priest-hood, as the priesthood is to it, there would not be a word against it. The drama has not treated the church as well as the church has treated it. It is wrong to place a priest upon the stage in a false light. The dramatic element pervades everything. Life is a drama, and death is the most moving of all the dramas in this world. The great sacrifice of the mass, which has been offered up for the repose of our deceased friend, is a play, and the most successful play that has ever been produced. It has enjoyed a run of nineteen centuries, commencing with divine tragedy of Calvary, and will last to the end of time. It is the great play of Christ's passion, the constant repetition of the play which resulted in the redemption of the world. The Catholic church always shelters her children, and her arms are stretched forth for them. No matter what distracting profession a man may be in, this loving mother will be his guardian, and at the moment of death she is beside him.—Father Young at Don Bryant's Funeral.

The Fast Boy.
We have him here in Stroudsburg as well as other towns. The following description pictures him exactly, and will be found to fit tight: "He may be seen any day, in almost any part of the village; he never makes room for you on the sidewalk, looks at you sanctily, and swears smartly if asked anything; he is very impudent, and often vulgar to ladies who pass; he delights in frightening, and sometimes does serious injury to little boys and girls; he lounges at the street corners, and is the first arrival at a dog fight or any other sport or scrape; he crowds into the post office in the evening, and multiplies himself and his antics at such a rate that people having legitimate business are crowded out; he thinks himself very sharp, he is certainly noisy; he can smoke and chew tobacco now and then, and rip out an oath at most any time; we ask whose boy he is. Mother, is he yours? We think he is, for there are many good qualities in the lad, and we do not think that you know what he does on the street. Look after him, mother; keep him more at home. Train him and you will have a son to be proud of."
