

The Jeffersonian.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1875.

HAY sells at eight to nine dollars a ton in North East, Erie county.

Washington like Philadelphia, had her first snow storm on Sunday afternoon last.

Mr. M. W. RHODES, one of our enterprising merchants has treated his store to a new coat of paint.

A VIOLENT storm prevailed along the New England coast Saturday night, doing considerable damage to shipping.

A SEVERE storm of snow and wind prevailed on Friday last, at Omaha, Nebraska. Snow fell to the depth of two inches, and many trains were delayed.

A VERY interesting and successful protracted meeting is going on at Fowler's School House under the direction and superintendency of Rev. E. L. Martin.

In the ejectment case of C. M. Derringer against Cox and others, on trial at Wilkes-barre last week, the jury on Saturday rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The case involved coal lands valued at four million of dollars.

The friends and member of Shafer's School House Congregation, held a Festival at the School House, on the 25th ult., for the benefit of the pastor, Rev. G. L. Schaffer, which was quite a success. We were kindly remembered by the friends and made the recipient of a magnificent cake. We return them our warmest thanks.

ROBBERY.—On Wednesday night of last week, the bar-room of Mr. Charles Andrew, at Snyder'sville, in this county, was entered by burglars, who succeeded in rifling the money drawer of between five and six dollars in money, stole a bottle of whisky, one double barrel shot gun and an overcoat, and made their escape with booty.

THERE was considerable of a snow squall in this place on Sunday last. The snow melted nearly as soon as it fell on the ground. The mountains north of this place were covered to the depth of one and two inches, and the coal trains on the D. L. & W. Railroad were covered with snow. At Syracuse, N. Y., five inches fell.

A HAIL storm of unprecedented violence passed over Rolla, Mo., on Friday afternoon last. The hail stones were about the size of a pigeon's egg, and did immense damage. In the town alone not less than ten thousand panes of glass were broken. Almost all the panes of glass on the west side of the houses were broken. The storm was accompanied by thunder and lightning.

THE party who took an overcoat from the hall in Mrs. Schoonover's Sunday morning, is well known and will save himself a good deal of future trouble, both in this and in the next, by returning the same immediately. If it should not be forthcoming he will be subjected to a disagreeable exposure. Take notice you are known. Leave it at Mrs. Schoonover's or at the Tanite office.—2t.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Wanamaker & Brown, proprietors of the largest clothing house in America and decidedly the most popular clothiers in this State. Their reputation for honest and fair dealing with those ordering goods from the country is well known to all. Mr. J. M. Houghton is their authorized agent for this town and vicinity and all orders given to him will receive prompt attention. He can always be found at the Washington House.

Advices from the National Capitol indicate that President Grant has forwarded a strong, but respectful diplomatic note to the Court of Madrid, demanding that the war in Cuba shall cease, and pointing out the absolute certainty of an ultimate emancipation of slaves and the independence of the Cubans. As no satisfactory reply has been received from Spain the Navy Department has been ordered to prepare a very formidable fleet for immediate service in the Gulf, should an emergency arise in this connection.

The November number of The Republic magazine is replete with valuable political and Departmental information. The Republic is a compendium of political science, and comes full freighted each month with ably-prepared articles on the leading questions of the day. The current issue contains a most thorough and well-written paper on "Relations of the State to the Railway System;" another on "Navigation Laws;" and one on "The Ohio Election and the Meaning of the Victory;" with a dozen or fifteen on other important subjects. The sixth volume commences with the new year. Terms $2 a year. Address: Republic Publishing Co., Washington, D. C.

During the past week a farmer residing in one of the adjoining townships, came to town with cider, which he succeeded in disposing of to two of our citizens, who were assured the cider was a number one article. A few days after it was delivered, our friends concluded they would try it, and did so. On testing it, it turned out to be nothing but molasses water, and poor at that. As a matter of course our friends were considerably riled at the cheat. The dealer on his next visit to town was taken to a dealer for the cheat, who suggested that they should "add a couple of cents worth of yeast to the cider and then it would be all right."

Whether our friends feel disposed to be content after the addition of the yeast, time will tell.

THE RESULT IN PENNSYLVANIA!

Let Her Whang!

RAG MONEY DEMOCRACY

NO WHERE!

Their bill for indictment before the great grand jury of the whole people, has been ignoramused with costs on the complainants.

HARD MONEY DECLARED LEGAL TENDER!

Judge PERSHING knocked down on the bench in Schuylkill.

Gov. HARTRAFT proclaimed worthy of the Executive office which he has filled so acceptably for three years.

23,000 for HARTRANFT!

GLORY ENOUGH FOR ONE YEAR!

But more—Democracy, as such, a legal tender no where. Republican Hard money in demand every where.

The Republicans Carry Massachusetts, Minnesota, and Wisconsin.

Though the contemptible efforts of a cabal of shysterling Democratic politicians of this Borough, about fifty Republicans and six or eight Democratic voters were deprived of the privilege of voting last Tuesday, on the ground that they had not paid State or County taxes within the prescribed time fixed by law. Their action was legal, but it was most contemptible, in that they permitted a number of their own party to vote when they knew that some of them had neither been assessed nor paid taxes within the required time.

This was known to the Board which was all Democrats but one. This fact establishes their dishonesty, and fixes their action as a most contemptible trick, which will, we trust, receive its proper reward in due season.

Vote for Governor and State Treasurer in Monroe County.

Table with 5 columns: Name, Position, and three unlabeled columns of numbers.

Probabilities and Certainties.

- Gen. Barnett elected State Senator. Thomas M. McIlhenny, Prothonotary and Clerk of the Courts of this County. John Appenzeller, Register and Recorder, without opposition. David S. Lee, District Attorney. Chas. W. Decker, Ass. Judge, doubtful. Lynford Marsh, Treasurer. For County Commissioners, the lucky ones would appear to be Peter S. Edinger, Cornelius Starner and Jacob B. Transue.

ENOS HIVELEY, of Springgarden township, York county, has lost within two weeks forty-two hogs from hog cholera; two other farmers in the same neighborhood have lost respectively ten and fifteen. The disease is said to be spreading to other parts of the county.

Sleep Walking and Jumping.

Mr. Edward LaRue, an employee at the American Hotel, in this borough, retired to bed about 10 o'clock on the evening of Friday last, 22d ult., his room being on the third floor of the building. About 11 o'clock he got up in his sleep and walked to the window, which being hoisted, he stepped or jumped out and fell a distance of about twenty-five feet to the ground striking upon his hands and knees; and, strange to say, he was only slightly stunned and bruised by the fall. Mr. Geo. W. Delong, who resides in the adjoining building, was called by his wife, who heard LaRue's groans, jumped out of bed, dressed himself, lit his lantern, and went into his back yard, where he found LaRue, and as he approached, called to him, when L. answered, and at the same time got upon his feet. With the assistance of Mr. Delong he walked from the yard to the Hotel sitting room. Dr. Pace Mutchler was called, who made an examination, and administered some restoratives, when LaRue was taken back to bed again. On Saturday afternoon LaRue was able to leave his bed and get down stairs, and on Sunday was able to be out as usual again.

H. S. C., who was on a boat at the time of the above occurrence had just previously added a drink of gin to his stock of liquors, and the gin not liking the company it had got into, resolved to turn Jonah and get out. H. S. C. the great fish—not whale, but sucker—states that he was in the act of casting forth his gin-Jonah, when LaRue came down from above and landed within a short distance of him; and that had he been sober, he would have been seriously frightened, but as it was it made no impression on him. Indeed he did not appear to comprehend the situation until after Mr. Delong had cared for the unfortunate—sleep-walker and jumper.

East Stroudsburg Items.

- Mr. George Mann has just erected a house in rear of his present building. East Stroudsburg boasts of a wedding and an elopement last week and mourn two deaths this week. Mrs. Hattie Reynolds and Miss Emma Gross, both died after a short illness. They were loved and respected by all who knew them. Mr. Joseph Barton having rented part of the store house built by Mr. Stephen Kistler & Bro., has opened a Confectionary, Ice Cream, Oyster and other refreshment saloon. On Friday evening next, he will give an oyster supper for the benefit of his numerous friends. Come and see him and eat all you can. Died suddenly at East Stroudsburg, Nov. 2d, Emma, youngest daughter of Washington and Mary Jane Gross, aged 17 years and 22 days. Funeral will take place from the residence of her parents, on Thursday afternoon, November 4th, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Be ye also ready. Miss Mary Deats is about building a store house and dwelling on her lot on Crystal street. This would be an improvement if the building was kept on a line with the other buildings, but as it projects several feet beyond, it will be an eye sore to the neighborhood while it will not benefit the builder but rather depreciate the value of her property—should she wish to sell at any time.

The operation as published in the Monroe Democrat last week, as having been performed by Drs. Lebar & Mutchler, redoums credit to the surgeons performing it. We learn however, since the publishing of the above, that it should have been tumors of a cancerous nature and not enlarged glands as the notice said. Be it as it may, the patient is doing well, and the operation was one of nerve and skill.

A few days ago an eagle carried off a lamb from the premises of a farmer in North Conventry, Chester county. The next day it returned and was shot in the act of swooping down upon another lamb. It measured seven feet two inches from tip of its wings.

A lively old gunn ! To the wife of Judge Thomas J. Gunn, who resides near Liberty, Mo., was born a boy baby, on the 29th day of September last, the mother being in the 77th year of her age. The baby weighed eight pounds at the time of its birth, and is a hearty, well developed child.

At Port Jervis, New York, a snow storm commenced Sunday evening about dusk on the western end of the Delaware Division of the Erie railway. At Susquehanna three inches, and at Deposit two inches fell. The weather cleared off and became cold and blustering, and ice formed in that section nearly an inch thick.

Two years ago a millionaire, named Johnson, while riding by in an Indiana railroad train, fell in love with a pretty girl sitting on the fence, and, subsequently, married her. Now, express train passengers say that all the fences along the Indiana railroads are daily lined with handsome girls, as thick as crows in corn fields.

Judge Elwell of Montour county recently delivered an opinion declaring that the act of last April, repealing the Local Option law, did not take from the Courts the power and duty of hearing the petitions, remonstrances and evidence in regard to applications for licenses, and of granting or refusing them accordingly. This opinion is directly contrary to those filed by Judge Ross of Montgomery and Judge Clayton of Delaware. The matter ought now to go to the Supreme Court for a definite solution.

Nearly the whole of Virginia City, the great mining centre of Nevada, was destroyed by fire on Monday night of last week. The total loss is estimated at $7,500,000. It included not only the principal establishments, but also many of the buildings connected with the mines, with the pumping, hoisting and refining machinery. The mines themselves, which open in or very near the town, were not seriously injured, but the damage to the machinery will stop the production of gold and silver for two or three months. Great numbers of people were left without shelter or food, but material help has already been forwarded from San Francisco and some of the eastern cities.

The first great autumnal storm of the year swept down the Atlantic coast during Saturday and Sunday, extending from the Capes of Virginia to Nova Scotia, and probably beyond. The gale was very heavy in New England, and the coasters of Massachusetts and Maine appear to have suffered severely. We have yet to hear from the fishing fleet now out on the sea, but two of the schooners at home, in their own harbor of Gloucester, were driven ashore. At Sach, Portland, Bath, and other ports, disaster and damage to the shipping occurred, and we hear also of a great number of casualties on land, all along the track of the storm. If this is a specimen of what we are to expect during the next five months, we have a season of great severity before us.

GENERAL BEAUREGARD'S vision of how General Thomas J. Jackson came to be known as "Stonewall" will be opportune:—"During the battle of Manassas, about eleven o'clock A. M., when that gallant and meritorious officer, Brigadier-General Bernard E. Bee, was endeavoring to rally his troops in the small valley in rear of the Robinson house, he noticed Jackson's brigade, which had just arrived and taken position a little in rear of him, in a copse of small pines bordering the edge of the plateau where was about to be fought the first great battle of the war. Bee, finding that his appeal was unheeded by his brave but disorganized troops, then said to them, 'Rally, men, rally! See Jackson's brigade standing there like a stone wall.' Those words gave the appellation to that brigade, and thence to its heroic commander."

Prepare For Winter.

The present is opportune for suggesting to our mechanics and laboring men the wisdom of laying up something for winter, which promises to be both severe and dull. The dull times during the summer do not admit of an easy adherence to the saving principle, however necessary, and in order to do so some sacrifice is required; but voluntary sacrifice in summer seems much better than enforced sacrifice in winter. A few pennies saved here and there will close up many a crevice next winter, and rob the storms of much of their effect upon our spirits and personal needs. There are little months to look after, and there is a wife whom the husband has promised to support. These have a pressing claim upon the means and economy of the workingman, who should hesitate to spend a single cent, if there is danger of future need.

A Boy's Last Beech-nutting in the Swamp of the Shades of Death.

James Philips, of Tobyhanna Township, Monroe Co., on Monday went out on the Pocono mountain hunting deer. His dogs started a buck, and drove it in the direction of the great swamp known as the Shades of Death. Philips followed. After walking a mile or so he heard the hounds coming toward him again, and soon afterward saw something disturbing a clump of bushes about fifty yards away. After watching the movement of the bushes for some time he fired into them. The movement of the bushes ceased. Before he could go to the spot, a buck came bounding along to his left, and disappeared in the swamp before he could fire. He then walked to the bushes, and was horrified to discover the body of a little boy about nine years old. The body was riddled with buckshot, and was lying in a pool of blood. A small basket, half filled with beech nuts, stood a short distance from where the child lay. The boy was an orphan, and lived with a German family named Sheibel. Much Chance Democrat.

IS IT YOU

Who said that you would like to get such Clothing as City People wear, rather than the wholesale goods commonly sold? This will tell you how to do it.

The very large increase of our business allows us to make a STILL LOWER SCALE OF PRICES, AND

You Can Save Enough in buying a Suit at Oak Hall

TO PAY FOR THE TRIP

from anywhere in this County to the City of Philadelphia, and have a day of sight-seeing besides. Wanamaker & Brown stand by this Statement, and so will you after one trial.

Character of the Goods we sell! For Men & Boys! NO one else of what we sell we manufacture our goods, some of them in our own building. They are well cut, sewed and finished. They can be relied upon. Storekeepers out of the city misrepresent us when they say they sell our goods, as we do not wholesale, but confine ourselves to dealers sell poor goods as coming from our house. To each of our customers we are responsible for articles bought of us. By our plan of Ticketing the right names of the materials on our goods, no one can be misled as to quality.

How Wanamaker & Brown treat their CUSTOMERS. THE price in plain figures and nothing off. The same price to acquaintances and strangers. To city people and country people equal advantages. With each article sold, a Guarantee is given, that the Price is as low as can be bought anywhere, and that the quality is as represented; also, that the money will be paid back in full, if purchaser within 10 days wishes, for any reason, to return the goods, unwarmed.

Exactly where the Store is. THIS is important indeed, because unprincipled people having stores in Philadelphia, counterfeit our signs, cards, advertisements, and stop strangers on the street, with false directions about where the store is, so that they may sell their counterfeit goods. There is but one Oak Hall in the City of Philadelphia, and it is on the corner of the South-east corner of SIXTH—SIXTH—SIXTH—SIXTH—SIXTH—SIXTH and Market Streets.

Those who cannot come to the City. WE send patterns of material and prices by mail when requested. Persons can have made-up goods sent by Express, by sending their measure (we furnish easy directions that any one can measure by), and describing color wanted, and price desired. Payment can be made to the Express Co. on receipt of goods, and the privilege of examining them is allowed before payment. Where goods do not please, we will return the money and pay the expressage back to Philadelphia. You should be sure to see our name on the Building and over the door as you enter.
