

The Jeffersonian.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 20, 1876.

Our distinguished neighbor over the way is decidedly the scariest man we ever heard tell of. Two weeks ago "knix wissers" and "The School Question" were the matters which ruffled his pin feathers. Last week it was "grim visaged war," which shook its "hoary locks" before his eyes. And it is President Grant who is doing all this. Neighbor, neighbor, don't be so scary. It is not an old soldier, and one accomplished in that line, as even you yourself will readily admit, who is going to plunge the country into an unnecessary war. Now we ain't a bit scared and you need not be. We don't want to go to war with Spain and Spain has no idea of going to war with us on the Cuban question or any other. We know and you know that the Cuban Patriots have long been favorites with the Democracy ostensibly, or rather, pretendedly, and if that party could have plunged the administration into a war and thus brought reproach upon it that would have been accomplished long ago. The administration, however, has a real desire for Cuban liberty and will, and is, leaving no stone unturned to secure that end. There is no telling what may turn up—no foretelling the future—but the administration is for peace with all nations, and is doing nothing to interrupt that peace. If, however, war should come, through the acts of Spain or Mexico unaided, for the hero President will prove no ways slow in maintaining the honor of our flag and the rights of humanity. There is no telling how far Democracy may go towards frustrating the desires of the administration, for peace, but let Democracy keep hands off and we feel safe in assuring our neighbor that there will be no need of trips to Switzer land in search of theologic lore.

GOVERNOR HARTRANT.

It must be particularly gratifying to Gov. Hartrant, and his thousands of friends all over, that his recent message meets with universal commendation—Democrats vying with Republicans in their expressions of praise of it. But how could it be otherwise, as the message is but a truthful history of a most successful state administration—an administration based upon honesty of purpose and an inflexible determination to make every consideration secondary to the best possible good of the people, which called it into power, and after a term of trial, rewarded it again in kind for meritorious services.

Among the matters for which the message is particularly noticeable, that which relates to our State finances is probably the most important. This the reader will have read in the extended synopsis which we published last week. We cannot, however, refrain from noticing one or two of the most important matters broached—more by way of a reminder than for any comments we have in view to make. [Indeed comment would be out of place, after the full and free discussion indulged in by the Governor. But a most gratifying point made and established by the Governor is the large reduction in our public debt during the past year—$1,335,497.63. This in view of the remains of the panic of 1873 still lingering among us, and in view, also, of the fact that it was accomplished without placing additional burdens upon the people is, indeed, most gratifying. It is doubly gratifying as showing that notwithstanding the charges of venality and speculation so liberally heaped upon the Governor and the party, by the opposition, during the recent campaign, the results all show that the policy of honesty and economy in the management of the State finances inaugurated at the advent of Republicanism into power, remains to this day as inflexible as at the beginning. It furnishes a most damaging comment upon the rapacity, vituperation and falsehood upon which the opposition hoped to ride into power during the recent campaign, but which the people, in their great wisdom decided most emphatically should not be.

Another of the good points taken by the Governor is that foreshadowed in his assertion of the necessity for cutting down all needed appropriations to the lowest possible figures, and the forgoing of all not necessary. We must be just before we try to be generous, is a maxim of moment for States as well as for individuals, and the Legislature will do well to pay heed to the suggestion. Last winter appropriations exceeded the year's receipts from all sources some $500,000, and as in the reduction of taxation this sum will be doubled by way of deficit, there must be a corresponding reduction in Legislative liberality. This must become the rule or increased taxation will become an absolute necessity. This the Governor justly and righteously deprecates, and we much mistake the temper of the man—the stamina of the statesman—if the contrary course, on the part of the legislature does not meet with a most emphatic veto. Governor Hartrant dare go to any length to secure the right, and it is equally certain that he dare go as far to prevent a wrong.

Altogether there is much cause for congratulation over the re-election of Governor Hartrant. His administration will prove no untold experiment, having as it does such commendable antecedents as a continuous reduction of the public debt, continued reduction of taxation, continued economy in every department of the Government and inflexible honesty as the prompters of every act and deed. In view of these facts, and in view of that other fact that the message is a true reflex of the administration in its every act, we can cheerfully unite with our distinguished neighbor over the way in saying that—"altogether the message is a very fair paper, being free from political clapnet and self adulation." We could even join him in more than this, but rest content with even this much of justice from a source wherein true justice is so rare a commodity.

FORT FISHER was captured twelve years ago last Saturday.

STROUDSBURG boasts possession of the champion female violinist. Ahem!

The "beautiful snow," about which poets love to sing, has been a rare commodity hereabouts this season.

Two surprize parties and one sociable last week. Sorry, but a press of business prevented our attending either.

MR. JOHN CLARKE, of Stroud tsp., offers for sale 50 acres of choice wood land. See his advertisement in another column of this issue of the JEFF.

ONE of our borough young ladies, Miss Emma E., had a molasses candy bee last week. The pulling and "bussing" was said to be tremendous.

THANKS—Hon. C. Barnett, of the State Senate, and Hon. Wm. Kistler, of the House will please accept our thanks, for public documents received.

THINGS are somewhat dull here, and money pronounced "scarcer than white mice." Hope, however, we shall all be able to live through the pressure.

A GENTLEMAN from Easton informs us that the income of Henry Green, Esq., from his legal practice, amounted last year to $20,000.—Carbon Dem.

OUR town can boast of three sentimental gallants who do not hesitate to venture twelve miles to a donation, with the thermometer below zero. What town can beat it.

The friends of Rev. L. M. Hoobs, will hold a Donation and Festival, at the house of Wm. H. Reinhart, in Jackson township, January 22d, 1876, afternoon and evening. All are invited.

In Bradford county, the other day, a father aged ninety years boxed his son's ears severely for abusing his wife. The boy is about sixty years old. Hit him again old man, if the boy don't behave himself.

The PALMER BROTHERS have dissolved partnership. This gives us an additional butcher shop as each of the brothers starts up on his own hook. If the change effects a reduction in the price of beef, &c., it will prove a blessing.

We are informed that Syd. Walton, the down town hatter, has secured a practical hatter and is now taking silk hats to be ironed and repaired, and making them in every respect as good as new. Take him your silk hats and be convinced.

COL. S. P. CASE, President of the Lehigh & Eastern Railroad, gives assurances that the route up the valley on the Pennsylvania side of the river has been decided upon, that the work of grading will at once be commenced, and the road be in running order by next summer.

Our indefatigable county superintendent Morey, is on his round of visitation among the schools. He pronounces some of the schools as doing very well, some as doing differently well, and some a good deal like old uncle Ichabod's religious experience "not m-m-much to br-r-ag of."

Don't forget the Grand Gift Ball of the Stroudsburg Cornet Band, to be given the 22d of next month at the Indian Queen Hotel. The object—procuring new uniforms for the band—is one that deserves a most liberal patronage, which we have no doubt it will get. Purchase your ticket at once as the number is limited and they are going off like hot cakes.

The last Easton Argus contains advertisements for twenty-four Sheriff's sales. This shows rather bad for the financial condition of old "Mother Northampton." Sheriff Shaffer of this county is also kept pretty busy but as ours is the old land of hoop-poles and staves it is not to be expected; though we imagine nothing serious will grow out of it. We are differently situated from our Grecian mother.

At four o'clock, on Thursday morning, 13th inst., four burglars entered the house of Mrs. Millers, in Mahanoy township, near Shamokin, Pa., robbing her of twenty-one hundred dollars. A son-in-law, who was stopping there over night, was aroused by the noise, seized a gun and fired at the robbers as they were leaving the house, instantly killing a man named Huges, and seriously wounding another whose name is unknown. A later despatch states that one more was captured, and all the stolen money found secreted about his person.

FIRE—The roof the Stroudsburg Gas Factory took fire from a spark last Thursday. A ladder, a bucket of water and a man to use them, promptly on hand prevented a conflagration. The Steamer was on hand promptly but a large lump of coal, several stones, some chips and a bunch of waste so cluttered up its pumps that it was unserviceable. It should not be found in such a condition again, as it is dangerous to property, to have it so, besides insinuating a want of efficiency in those having the engine in charge. The obstructions were the relics of the last visit to East Stroudsburg.

The Philadelphia Press, of the 17th inst., publishes a list of the first, second, and third class post-offices in this State, and the salary of each office.

MR. BENJ. TAYLOR, of Smithfield tsp., slaughtered a hog, on Tuesday last, which after being dressed, weighed 458 pounds.

Mr. Peter Featherman, of Easton, (formerly a resident of this Borough,) was in town on Friday last. Mr. F. is in the tobacco business, and has on hand some of the best segars we ever smoked.

Mr. Edward Rhodes, of Lehighton, Carbon county, Pa., was in town on Thursday last, on a visit to his father, Thomas W. Rhodes, Esq.

Real Estate Sales.

Hon. Stoddell Stokes, sold his row of frame dwellings on the south side of Main street, adjoining Nicholas Ruster and Wm. Hollinshead, to James Edinger, for $3,250.

Mr. SAMUEL FRAYSER, has sold his farm of twenty acres through the agency of Messrs. Peirson & Thompson, to Samuel B. Leach, of New York. Mr. L. is going to fix up the place and with such improvements as he proposes to make he will have as fine a home as there is in the county. The advantages of fruit that this place possesses is unsurpassed.

JOHN DENNIS, determined not to be outdone by the Northumberland butchers in making long sausages, went for them last week and brought a sausage of his own manufacture, fifty two yards long (156 feet), weighing 140 pounds, to town last Thursday. It was measured in the presence of a large number of persons at the Indian Queen Hotel. John says if they beat that he will make one that will reach from his residence in Hamilton township, a distance of two miles, to Stroudsburg and have a party breakfasting on each end at the same time. Bully for John.

The AMERICAN STOCK JOURNAL—Perhaps the cheapest farm periodical is the American Stock Journal. It is a 32 page monthly, devoted especially to Stock and Poultry Breeding, Dairying, Wool Growing, Bee Keeping, Farming, Veterinary Science, and other kindred subjects, in fact it contains a fund of valuable information that the farmer and stock-breeder should not be without. All who subscribe now will receive back numbers for October, November, and December as a centennial premium. Subscription only One Dollar a year. Sample numbers, club rates, premium lists, etc., sent free on application. Address Potts Brothers, Parksburg, Chester county, Pa.

The Grand Vocal and Instrumental Concert, for the benefit of the Y. M. C. Association, came off last Monday evening, and on Wednesday evening it was repeated.

At an early hour on Monday evening the old Court House was stuffed as full as a sausage, and a dog sausage at that, if we may be allowed to judge from the growling and snarling of the stuffing material. It is a contemptible shame that we have not an elegant and commodious town hall erected in some suitable and easily accessible place. A little energy properly directed would do the work. Who will make the move?

We think the concert was more than was expected. The young lady performers did exceedingly well, and deserve much praise and honor for loaning their time and talent for the benefit of the Young Men's Christian Association. Where all did so well it would hardly be proper to commend any one in particular; but we could mention two of the young ladies who in playing and performing did remarkably well. Nor must the excellent performing on the horn by Mr. J. Smith, be lost sight of. Nor can we forget the starchy bearing of two of the young men who acted as managers, and assistant performers, who would not get easy and at home in their new work, but continually impressed us with the idea that they were in fear of translation, hanging, or matrimony, or something else equally awful. Otherwise they acquitted themselves very well.

Dr. Carrow's Lectures.

The series of lectures announced to be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Carrow, closed on Tuesday evening last. The lectures with one or two exceptions were tolerably well attended. A more spicy and interesting literary treat has never fallen to the lot of Stroudsburg. It is strange that such opportunities for improvement are allowed to pass unheeded—that such rare treats are treated as if unworthy of most encouraging patronage, while people will almost squeeze their insides out in pushing their way into a circus or some other mountebank performance. Crowded audiences should have, each evening, welcomed Dr. Carrow's masterly efforts to amuse and instruct us—for there were both amusement and instruction in his lectures—amusement in description which was necessary to instruct us as to the manners, and costumes of those inhabiting—the countries which he so graphically described. There is but one voice from those who, fortunately, attended the course, and that is that they were the very non plus ultra of lectures on the subjects chosen. The Doctor is decidedly the ablest man that has thus far presided over his church in this neighborhood.

At the close of the last lecture last Tuesday evening, Hon. John B. Storm offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we tender Rev. Dr. Carrow our cordial thanks for the pleasure his Course of lectures has afforded us; that notwithstanding the subject of the different lectures have frequently been the theme of the historian and scholar, few have brought to the consideration of them more originality of thought, or novelty in the method of treatment. And whether we consider the subject matter itself, or the grace of diction with which they are adorned, we can cheerfully commend them as equal to the best that have been delivered on these and kindred subjects.

North Carolina is breeding pure Cashmere goats, and considers it the beginning of an important industry for the State and country.

New Banking and Savings Co. in Stroudsburg.

The Monroe County Bank, we are informed, will be merged or changed into a new banking and savings company on the 1st of February next, to be entitled "Monroe County Banking and Savings Co." This change is not in any way to interfere with the deposits and loans made by the Monroe County Bank, as all the loans made by that Bank up to the 1st of February next, will be settled up on maturity, and it will do no business after that date except to settle up its old accounts. And this will be very readily effected as the officers of the old bank are chosen to manage the new banking company.

The paid in capital, we learn, of the new Banking and Savings Company, is fixed at $50,000. This sum the company can increase at their pleasure.

The gentlemen connected with the new Banking Company, we are informed, are, Charles Fetherman, Hon. R. S. Staples, Thomas A. Bell, Hon. Charles W. Decker, Dr. J. Lantz, Thomas D. Stites, George E. Stauffer, and Wm. B. Bell.

The Company was organized last Saturday by the election of the following named gentlemen as directors for the ensuing year: Charles Fetherman, Richard S. Staples, Thomas A. Bell, Dr. Lantz, and George E. Stauffer.

Thomas A. Bell, was chosen as President, Charles Fetherman, as Vice President, and Wm. B. Bell as Cashier.

The above Company is organized under an Act of Assembly which makes each one of the Company responsible to the full amount of his wealth to the depositors. If all banks were organized on the above plan, broken banks would soon be out of date. All depositors have a right to know that their deposits are secure, before making them.

We have been told that the object of the old bank in making the above change, was to show to the public full and complete security to depositors. And we think one can find fault with the security given, as the combined wealth of the new Company will probably exceed $300,000, and this fact, together with the experience and skill of the officers chosen to run the new bank, will be more than ample security for any possible amount of deposits.

We learn also that interest will be paid on any sums of money left in bank one year or six months, and on daily deposits amounting to $500.

The new bank will occupy the rooms of the old Monroe County bank. Success to the new bank.

Silver Wedding.

Last Tuesday evening a very pleasant and enjoyable affair took place at the residence of Mr. John Townend, it being the fortieth anniversary of his marriage to Miss Ann McOwen. This favored pair were married at Manchester, England, January 4th, 1836. This silver wedding was attended by upwards of fifty persons, including five sons and one daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Townend. The presents were numerous and appropriate and the Wyoming Cornet Band, enlivened the occasion with good music.

Mr. Townend and lady enjoyed themselves much, and the really grand supper which was prepared for the guests, gave joy and satisfaction to all, one of the chief attractions of which was the large, rich plum pudding made expressly for the occasion by an English young lady of Wilkes-Barre. Mrs. Townend exhibited with pleasure the gold ring placed upon her finger "by him" just forty years ago that evening, and which she has not been able to remove from her finger for thirty-five years.

[The silver wedding is celebrated on the 25th anniversary.]—Wilkes-Barre Record, Jan. 10.

Mr. Townend came into this county in December 1843, and located in Price now Barrett township. He came with a number of families who organized themselves into a sort of communistic society entitled "One Mankind Society," which being interpreted means of one mind. They had for motto "Promise Well."

But the enterprise was not a success. They, with slight exceptions, were soon pressed with sore want and destitution, and the society broke up and scattered to the four winds, nearly all of them, at the first, coming into town.

Though the society was not a success it seemed to be suitably named, as they went to their destination with one mind and soon left with one mind. Their motto was promise well, but unfortunately the result was no pay.

We believe there is one relic of the society left, and that is Mr. Robert Lomax who now resides on the original tract settled on by the society.

The tract is located one mile from seventeen mile pond, and three miles from goose pond.

Mr. Townend's many friends in this section, will rejoice with us that better success has attended his latest efforts. He and his good wife are now residing at Wyoming, Luzerne county, comfortably, and indeed, in comparative affluence, with members of their family in comfortable circumstances, settled near them.

May there yet remain to them many days of peace and plenty; and when their sun of life shall set may it "promise well" for the future, whence no traveler returns.

Where do they all go to? There are eight pin factories in the United States, which make 47,000,000 pins daily.

The snow is so deep in the mining districts of Utah that all travel and transportation of ore is impossible.

During the past year the seven flouring mills of Akron, O., manufactured about 200,000 barrels of flour.

The value of leather shipped from the United States to Europe last year was $7,901,608, an increase of over three millions of dollars above the previous year.

A Massachusetts man is making trunks entirely of paper, without any frame and with no other material except trimmings of leather. Baggage masters will be apt to make papier mache of them.

Character of the Goods we sell!
For Men & Boys.

How Wanamaker & Brown treat their CUSTOMERS.

Exactly where the Store is.

Those who cannot go to the City.

TO be sure of what we sell we manufacture our goods, some of them in our own building. They are well cut, sewed and finished. They can be relied upon. Storekeepers out of the city misrepresent us when they say they sell our goods as we do not wholesale, but confine ourselves to retail. We bear no ill-will to any one, and state this only because some dealers sell poor goods as coming from our house. To each of our customers we are responsible for articles bought of us. By our plan of Ticketing the right names of the materials on our goods, no one can be misled as to quality.

THE price in plain figures and nothing off. The same price to acquaintances and strangers. To city people and country people equal advantages. With each article sold, a Guarantee is given, that the Price is as low as it can be bought anywhere, and that the quality is as represented; also, that the money will be paid back in full, if purchaser within 10 days wishes, for any reason, to return the goods, unworn.

THIS is important indeed, because, unprincipled people having stores in Philadelphia, a day's ride from our store, sell our goods at a low price, and stop strangers on the street, with false directions about where the store is, so that they may sell their counterfeit goods. There is but one Oak Hall in Philadelphia, it is a large building, the size of four ordinary stores, and is on the South-east corner of SIXTH—SIXTH—SIXTH—SIXTH—SIXTH—SIXTH and Market Streets.

WE send patterns of material and prices by mail when requested. Persons can have made-up goods sent by Express, by its direction their measure (we furnish easy directions that any one can measure by), and describing color anywhere, and price paid in advance. If you are to the Express Co. on receipt of goods, and the privilege of examining them is allowed before paying. Where goods do not please, we will return the money and pay the expressage back to Philadelphia. Should be sure to see our name on the Building and over the door as you enter.
