

The Jeffersonian.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1876.

LET US ORGANIZE.

The Republicans of Monroe county, though few in numbers, certainly deserve credit for the tenacity with which they stick to principle. On all occasions, no matter what the question to be settled, whether National, State or County, they are on hand in full proportion to the numbers of their opponents. And this notwithstanding the fact that since the second election of Gov. Curtin they have been, as it were, without organization, and without even an active standing committee to manage and direct in the great battle in which they have, since that time, participated. The result in every contest has shown a truly Spartan land of stalwart men, who have in spite of all odds voted, every time, for the right, and in no emergency been found behind-hand either in members or in promptness at the polls. What a foundation do the eber furnish on which to build a party superstructure, invulnerable to all attempts to destroy it. Without party plunder or the hope of it; with thousands, almost opposed to their hundreds, they still march forward manfully and protest the excellence of their principles, and the dangerous nature of those of their opponents. Certainly on such a foundation there can be no mistake in laying an attempt to build up a party that in the no distant future will come forward conquering and to conquer. And is not the attempt to build up such a party worth making. All precedents go to show that there is plausibility in the attempt and that its success is by no means impossible. Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maine, New Hampshire, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana, are States, and Bradford, Susquehanna, Tioga, Potter and McKean are counties, all going to show what can be done, when proper means are taken to arouse the masses to a knowledge of the justice of our cause and the purity of our principles. All these States and counties were once as fast bound in the meshes of Democracy, as is Monroe county, to-day, and yet now, owing to work, persistent work, they are all as strongly and as certainly Republican. What was done in them, may be done in Monroe county, if we work here as those worked who brought about the great revolution in opinion in the States and counties named—if we husband our resources and make them of telling effect only for the advancement of our own cherished principles—if we, letting our opponents do as they please, do full justice to ourselves—if we come boldly before the people with our principles at the fore, and let the Democracy skin their own skunks and fight their own battles.

Yes, there is redemption even for Monroe county in proper efforts by Republicans, but to secure it we must perfect our organization, and in meetings, and the work of active committees force our good works to shine still more brilliantly before the masses of the people. Democracy does not entertain a single principle which it held twenty years ago, and the whole party paraphernalia was sold body and breeches to the Greely-Brown movement of three years ago. The threats of President Jackson to crush nullification by hanging its instigators higher than ever Heman was hung, meets no response in the leaders of Democratic leaders to-day, and the financial policy which, in the days gone by, recognized gold and silver as the basis of all values and the only true circulating medium, for our business transactions, is buried in a grave as deep as those graves which hold the bones of Benton, Jackson, Grundy and their co-peers. Even defunct state rights finds no open response, north of Mason's and Dixon's line. But one set of principles remain, of all the role which is once ennobled on the banners of Democracy, and those are comprized in the "loaves and fishes" which draw the leaders together in a scramble for place and power and spoils. This being true as gospel truth, what interest have the masses of the people to remain in the trammels of that party? convince them that this is the truth, and you at once open the way for their safe and speedy deliverance from a thralldom which becomes galling to them, and their introduction into a haven from whence emanates strength to the country and perpetuity to its life. This should be a pleasing work to every Republican, and it should be a work entered upon at once.

Brethren of the Republican party of Monroe, in this work we have a duty presented to us, which should neither be overlooked nor delayed, but its full accomplishment can only be secured by united, untiring action. We must needs meet together, and consult together. It is certainly desirable that we be thoroughly organized, and this meeting and consulting only can accomplish this. No matter about leaders—no need of pre-questioning as to what we shall do or how we shall do it. Only let us come together in a spirit of unity and determination, and the circumstances will point out the Generals and Captains necessary for the command. Grant, Sheridan, Sherman, and their great co-peers, were names nought of at the beginning of our great war, yet circumstances placed each in his proper place, and the result was glorious victory. Let us meet in the same spirit which drew them together. Let us organize and act as they organized and acted. Let us determine as they determined, and the result will be to us a surprise and a glory indeed. The harvest is ripe; the opportunity is fairly before us. Don't let us consent to postpone taking advantage of it a single day longer.

At a meeting of the board of Directors of the Stroudsburg Bank, held at their banking house, on Tuesday last, John S. Fisher, Esq. was chosen Clerk, in place of Wm. Gunsauls, resigned.

The Democratic Congressional majority in its eagerness, to make capital out of its bogus retrenchment, threatens to stop the wheels of Government altogether. It had better adopt the policy of paying liberal salaries and securing competent officers in the several branches of the government, and pay liberal prices for labor and material required in the various departments. Money thus spent is not thrown away, but comes back to the source from whence it emanates—the people—in shape of payment for commodities raised and manufactured by those same people. It is much better so, than for the government to act the niggard and thus add to the depression from which the country suffers. No, No, Messrs Democratic Congressmen, let liberality be the prompter of your actions, free from all useless extravagance. Such course will deserve and receive the respect of the people, while a contrary course can only meet with condemnation. One thing, we can assure you, you may as well give up at once; and that is your endeavor to secure success for your party by playing the demagogue and making speeches for luncheon. You cannot hide the fact from the people that, notwithstanding your heated asseveration, it is the "same old coon," after all, who is attempting to foist itself into power through false pretense, and that the party which once operated almost to the destruction of the country is not the party soon to be trusted again with the management of its affairs. The people understand this thoroughly.

The Republicans of Scranton carried a majority in both councils, but owing to the conduct of the "slag-aways" lost the city Treasurer. In Easton the party carried everything that was worth carrying and ditto in Harrisburg, the same in Williamsport, &c. Our distinguished neighbor over the way finds but little occasion for the use of crowing roosters and dilapidated coons in his announcement of the results in the Pennsylvania Spring Elections.

That was quite a little victory for Republicanism which came of it in this borough on Tuesday the 15th. Four out of the six Councilmen, the Chief Burgess and all the other borough officers except Constable, were given to Ned, because he makes a good officer. Glory enough for one day.

LEAP YEAR parties are the rage in some quarters.

The Germans of Scranton, are organizing an expedition to the Black Hills.

J. H. DONEY, Editor of the Milford Herald will please accept thanks for favors rendered.

NEXT Tuesday will be Shrove Tuesday, and the day will not again occur on the 29th of February until 1944. Its last occurrence on that day was in 1724.

THREE car loads of our citizens excursionized to New York on Thursday last, to hear Moody and Sankey. They were principally from Stroudsburg and vicinity. They returned on Friday evening safe and sound, well pleased with the excursion.

Mr. A. W. GOULD will shortly leave Hickory Run, he having purchased the store and hotel stand and farm at Merwinsburg, formerly and for many years in possession of his father-in-law, Judge Merwine. He will conduct the business himself.

On Friday evening last, a number of invited guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. Nathan H. Shafer, at the Indian Queen Hotel, in this Borough. All expressed themselves highly pleased with the entertainment, it being Nathan's 27th birthday.

AND now, after envy has almost succeeded in annihilating George Washington, his little hatchet and the memorable cherry tree, "how doth the little busy bee" is receiving the attention of the Vandals, who pretend to say the honey sucker is not half so industrious as the cockroach.

J. L. DUBOIS, Esq., of Doylestown, Pa., delivered the second lecture of the course for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A., on Wednesday evening last. The Subject—"Last Will and Testament"—was skillfully handled in the humorous vein, and proved both instructive and entertaining to all present.

THE GRAND GIFT BALL, to be given by the Stroudsburg Cornet Band, will take place Wednesday evening, March 1st at the Indian Queen Hotel. The drawing will take place in the afternoon of the same day at Williams' Hall. The committee have a few tickets yet on hand and we would advise those who have any notion of purchasing one to do so at once.

We observe that Judge Stokes is getting stone on the ground preparatory to the laying of a neat flag walk in front of his residence on Main street. This is an example which more of our property holders should follow, and thus do away with the toe stamping offsets which, owing to the settling of brick pavements, make our side walks really dangerous to pedestrians.

ALMOST A SERIOUS FIRE.—Tuesday evening about 8½ o'clock, the cry of fire was given very vigorously on the streets, and presently the fire bell began to ring the fire boys together for business. It was caused by a fire in Mr. Samuel Hoffman's house, but which was fortunately confined to a clothes closet. We learn that the loss in clothing was considerable.

A PARTY numbering some twelve couples, met at the residence of Mrs. Kate Childs, on Friday evening last, and after consideration concluded to confer an agreeable surprise upon Mr. Amos Miller and daughter Emma, which they succeeded in doing to perfection. After indulging a good time, in which plays both ancient and modern were enjoyed the party broke up, each one happy at the thought of having been present. As we had no invitation of course we didn't share in the enjoyment.

FESTIVAL.—The members of the M. E. Church, Fowler's Appointment, will have an Oyster Supper, on Thursday evening, March 2, 1876, at the residence of Daniel Walter—(Jos. Dusenberry's place). The proceeds to be applied to pay on the debt of the Parsonage at Spragueville. All are cordially invited to attend. Come one come all. Should the evening prove stormy the supper will take place on the next fair evening.

THOSE CISTERS! Ah, Yes! We hav'nt built any yet, and probaly wont until we are called upon to mourn the destruction of a goodly portion of our beautiful village by fire, when every body, borough fathers and all, will not only wish they had thought of them, but built them too. There is no economy in saving the money which should be put into such structures for the promotion of the safety of our property. The scattering of a single dwelling in the smoke of conflagration will ensure a loss greater than would be the cost of building a dozen cisters.

Mr. WILSON PIERSON, of East Stroudsburg, in company with Mr. Jos. Staples of the Del. Water Gap, and Mrs. Jos. Jones, of Paradise, on Tuesday evening last, comfortably seated in a two-horse carriage, and while descending the hill between Joseph Lee's and Spragueville, the horses became frightened and ran away, up-setting the carriage and nearly demolished it. Mr. P. was thrown out and sustained some painful but not serious injuries. Mr. Staples was jarred some about the shoulders, but Mr. Jones got off without injury. The horses ran as far as Mr. Stites' when they stopped.

Our Stroudsburg Cornet Band made a good hit in securing the services of Mr. Rogers Hawk, formerly a member of the Brodheadsville Band. Though young in years Rogers possesses marvellous skill as a cornetist, and with care will make an eminent performer on that instrument. In addition to his band duties he is filling the position of Satanic Majesty of the Monroe Democrat, a position in kind, but not in locality that once occupied by Benjamin Franklin, Chief Justice Lewis, Simon Cameron, Ex-Speaker Blaine and a host of like worthies. May he become as eminent in the ranks of the "art Preservative of all arts as is either of those named."

A SMALL COIN with a HISTORY.—Mr. Charles C. Drake, now of this place but formerly of England, showed us a small coin either of French or English coinage, of the value of about eight cents, which was coined in 1402 during the reign of king Henry the Fourth of England. Said coin was picked up in "Port Elliot Park" the seat of Lord Elliot, ancestor of the Earl of St. Germain, in the county of Cornwall, England, by the great-uncle-mother of the aforesaid Mr. Drake in the year 1701, while walking with her mother in said park, she then being but three years old. Said coin having been in Mr. Drake's family for 175 years.

MINISINK TRIBE, I. O. of R. M., of this place, celebrated the third anniversary of their organization at their Wigwag on Thursday last. The turn out on the occasion was very fair, and a number of ladies graced the occasion with their presence. A number of addresses were delivered, notable among which were those of Simon Fried, Esq., who gave an interesting sketch of the rise and progress of the order. David S. Lea, J. K. Andre and the Rev. Dr. Carrow. The latter gentlemen's theme, "Socialibility," was happily and instructively handled, and proved an effort of greater interest than is usually heard on such occasions. Prof. Drukenmiller, presided at the organ, and varied the exercises of the evening by the introduction of choice music, rendered in his usual artistic manner. Altogether a most pleasurable time was had.

In other columns we take great pleasure in presenting our readers with a very pleasing Centennial Song entitled "A Hundred Years Ago" by Prof. A. Honer Benedict. Many of our readers will recognize in the above name the Professor who on two occasions has been in our place and successfully taught the science and art of writing to a great number of our citizens. The Prof. is a very superior writer in a scientific and artistic point of view, and this song shows conclusively that he is a no less superior composer, with a liberal vein of poetic skill and genius flowing through his composition.

We cannot help saying that we are highly pleased with the poem. In a word, we call it first rate. It is a most excellent grouping and statement of the historic facts connected with our national birth and progress, together with the object and reasons for our anticipated great international centenary glorification, all told in easy flowing poetic numbers. The Prof. is a natural as well as educated poet, and we learn he has two volumes of poems in manuscript which he contemplates publishing at no distant day; and if this song may be taken as a sample, we doubt not that the Prof. is destined to become as popular a poet as even John G. Saxe.

Mr. L. T. SMITH, Forks Station, (Del. Lack. & Western R. R.) having rented his Hotel and Store stand, will offer at public sale, on Tuesday, March 21st, his entire stock of horses, &c. See notice in another column.

At the call of President Kase, a meeting of the directors of the Lehigh & Eastern Railroad Company was held at the Sawkill House, Milford, Feb. 17, 1876, a quorum being present.

In January 1,281 tramps were accommodated at the watch-house and almshouse of York county.

A Dunkard minister, of Perry county, refused to marry a young couple on the ground that the poorhouse was too full already. Sensible.

The wild pigeon, it is reported by knowing foresters, will be plenty in Pennsylvania woodlands the coming season, on account of a fair promise of the beech-nut and mast crops upon which the birds feed.

An earthquake shock was felt at Detroit, Mich., on Sunday, severe enough to shake the houses. It caused so much alarm in St. Mary's Church that the congregation speedily vacated the building. The shock lasted several seconds.

The great Congregational Advisory Council called to settle the trouble between Plymouth church and Mrs. Moulton growing out of her action in the Beecher scandal, has been in session in Brooklyn last week. The body is composed of many of the ablest men in the denomination, and their consideration and decision of the matter is looked for with interest. It is said the main questions regarding the innocence or guilt of Mr. Beecher is not to be acted on, but merely the action of Plymouth church in expelling Mrs. Moulton.

There is a Democratic journalist in Bristol, Va., who seems to be discouraged and disgusted. He edits the News, and thus speaks:—"We fear there is no chance for us to win the Presidential election. We have sent a few brilliant, pop-eyed fools, like Ben Hill of Georgia, and these seem determined to knock the apple off the head of the Northern men every time they see it there. Nothing was so much needed by the enemy as that our Southern men in this Democratic Congress should quarrel with them. Nothing has done them so much good as the recent hot debate between Hill and Blaine. Even Ran. Tucker of Virginia had better keep his mouth shut. The time is not yet for the South to resume the fiery leadership of 1850."

IS IT YOU

Who said that you would like to get such Clothing as City People wear, rather than the wholesale goods commonly sold? This will tell you how to do it.

The very large increase of our business allows us to make A STILL LOWER SCALE OF PRICES, AND

You Can Save Enough

in buying a Suit at Oak Hall

TO PAY FOR THE TRIP

from anywhere in this County to the City of Philadelphia, and have a day of sight-seeing besides. Wanamaker & Brown stand by this Statement, and so will you after one trial.

Character of the Goods we sell!
For Men & Boys.

How Wanamaker & Brown treat their CUSTOMERS.

Exactly where the Store is.

Those who cannot come to the City.

NO is sure of what we sell we manufacture our goods, some of them in our own building. They are well cut, sewed and finished. They can be relied upon. Storekeepers out of the city misrepresent us when they say they sell our goods as we do not wholesale, but confine ourselves to retail. We bear no ill-will to any one, and state this only because some dealers sell poor goods as coming from our house. To each of our customers we are responsible for articles bought by them. By our plan of Ticketing the right names of the materials on our goods, no one can be misled as to quality.

THE price in plain figures and nothing off. The same price to acquaintances and strangers. To city people and country people equal advantages. With each article sold, a Guarantee is given, that the Price is as low as it can be bought anywhere, and that the quality is as representative as any given, and if purchaser within 10 days wishes, for any reason, to return the goods, unworn.

THIS is important indeed, because unprincipled people having stores in Philadelphia, come to our signs, cards, advertisements, and stop strangers on the street, with false directions about where the store is, so that they may sell their cheap goods. There is but one Oak Hall in Philadelphia, it is a large building, the size of four ordinary stores, and is on the South-east corner of SIXTH—SIXTH—SIXTH—SIXTH—SIXTH and Market Streets.

WE send patterns of material and prices by mail when requested. Persons can have made-up goods sent by Express, by sending their measure (we furnish easy directions that any one can measure by), and describing color wanted, and price desired. Payment can be made in advance on receipt of goods, and we will return the money and pay the expressage back to Philadelphia.

You should be sure to see our name on the Building and over the door as you enter.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, fully demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of all the medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.
