D. B. Heilig, of Newtown, is the owner of a young calf that has a large white mark on its back in the form of the letter C. The letter being suggestive it was named "Centennial."

William Hazzard, charged with killing John Coleman, at West Chester, Pa., recently, on Thursday night pleaded guilty of manslaughter. He was then placed upon the stand, and stated that he was compelled to kill Coleman, as he had threatened to shoot him. Yesterday morning Hazzard was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs, and undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for seven years.

Babcock, Harrington, Whitley, Benton, Miss. Nettleship, and Somerville have been indicted by the Washington Grand Jury for complicity in the "safe burglary conspiracy." It is full time somebody was convicted of this flagrant outage against decency, and if these are guilty ones they ought to be put on the short, sure road to punishment.
