The Supreme Court, now in session at Harrisburg, will not adjourn before the middle of June, the business before the tribunal being very heavy.
Montreal is infested by a lot of scientific and scrupulous burglars, who apply a chemical test to the family plate and reject rigidly all that is only plated.
In splitting open a hickory tree stump at the New York Central Railroad shops in Rochester, the other day, a horseshoe was found embedded in its center.
The Pottsville (Penn.) Miners' Journal says that according to present appearance, the people of the Schuylkill and other mining regions have a cheerless summer before them.
Rhode Island sends to the Centennial a policeman who measures six feet three inches. That comes from living in a small State. Not having room to spread, he ran up.
Charles Boddy, colored, died at Wright-ville, Lancaster county, a few days ago.
He was supposed to be 105 years of age, but Charles himself couldn't tell whether he was 150 or 510.

years imprisonment.
The Nebraska Supreme Court has decided that railroad companies are liable for damages resulting from prairie fires caused by sparks from their engines. Spark ar-resters are now in order.
San Francisco has an S. S. F. A. C. C.
Y. M. U. R. S., which means the South
San Francisco anti-Catholic Club and Young Men's Universal Reform Society. Its unofficial cord is opposition to the Chinese.

A Wisconsin editor illustrates the prevailing extravagance of the people of the present day by calling attention to the costly lady carriages in use now, while, when he was a baby, they hauled him around by the

The American Bible Society during the past year have circulated the Bible in twenty foreign countries and had it printed in nearly as many languages. The next anniversary will be held in Philadelphia.
The school house at Rondeau, Canada, was struck by lightning on the 15th, inst.
The children were playing in the yard at the time, and nearly a dozen were knocked down. One, named Scott, was instantly injured.
Charlie Ross was discovered wandering about the streets of Lancaster, the other day. It was surely Charlie, because a policeman said so; but a Lancaster family sought and claimed the boy as their very own darling.

An exchange says: "We are in receipt of two poems, one on the 'Throbbing Brain,' and the other on a 'Bleeding Heart.' We will wait until we receive on one the 'Stomachache,' and publish all three together."
No vaulted field in ye olden time could compare in color with the scarlet plumes now topping over many a neighboring meadow from out the tops of ragged robins, or as others style them painted cups, which are in bloom by the million.

A New England man writes: "In the assessment roll of my district, on a line of road half a mile in extent, there are seven residents, nine dogs and a taxpayer. And with a full knowledge of the dogs, I believe they are better characters than their masters."
A venturesome Philadelphian undertook to run round a square, in a state of nudity, on a wagon. He started in the race, but was arrested before he got far, and taken to the station house, where he was taught a new ditty to the tune of "fifteen dollars and costs."
A thirty-year-old goose at Newberry, Lycoming county, is said to have taken under its protection a tame rabbit. Every evening when it becomes necessary to look out for sleeping quarters the rabbit accompanies her to a nest where it is taken under her wing and kept till morning. A tough story.

A French statistician says that the ordinary man, fifty years old, has slept 6,000 days, worked 6,500 days, walked 800 days, played 4,000 days, eaten 1,500, and been sick 500 days. He has eaten 17,000 pounds of bread, 16,000 of meat, 4,600 of vegetables, eggs and fish, and drank 7,000 gallons of liquid.
The coming Democratic Convention in Ohio is likely to be the liveliest kind of a circus. The fun has begun already in county conventions, and the whole State is in an uproar. The inflationists have taken William Allen as a club to demolish Senator Thurman with, and they are at present ahead in the fight. Fourteen counties have been instructed for Allen. Thurman has hope of securing delegations from as many more, and the rest are to be fought for.

By the failure of six cotton mills in Massachusetts 12,000 operatives are thrown

At Montgomery county court in Norristown, on 8th inst. sentence of death by hanging was passed upon Blasius Pistorius, who was convicted of the murder of Isaac Jaquet. Lengthy speeches were made by counsel in the prisoner's defense, eucuadoring to show reason why sentence should not be passed.
The Record says: "There resides not six miles from Waynesboro a girl not fifteen years old, who weighs 115 pounds, is five feet high, but can carry on her shoulder a man of 250 pounds with ease. Her arms and muscles are equal to those of a practiced boxer or blacksmith. She is a native of the South Mountain, from near the high railroad bridge."

The following is a cure for horses scratching their tails: Two oz. powdered borax, 1 oz. salts of tartar, dissolved in 1 pint of boiling water, to be well rubbed into the hair, once or twice a day. It will remove the cause and give instant relief.—*Wm. M.

NO MORE 50-CENT NOTES.
THE COMMISSION DECIDE TO ACCEPT ANY CHANGE THAT ISN'T COUNTERFEIT.
The arbitrary rule enforced at the gates on the opening day, of requiring the payment of a fifty-cent note or silver piece as the only fee for admission, has been dispensd with or modified, so that all pay visitors to the grounds can now enter upon presenting fifty cents' worth of money in notes or specie of any amount. Two quarters of a dollar or five ten-cent notes have as much potency in gaining entrance as had at first a silver half dollar alone. Where several persons entering are paid for by one of the party, the turnstile keeper will receive the aggregate amount for the whole number, but must not be expected to make change. Thus, a two-dollar bill will admit four persons, but where the party consists of an odd number the exact amount of the extra fifty cents must be furnished.

Knew What He Was Hugging.
A couple from the country came to the city yesterday, procured a license, and were married in due form. They left on the afternoon train for home. They attracted the attention of every passenger by their lavish display of affection. The young man kept his arm tight around the bride's waist, as if he was afraid she would vanish before he knew it; and she didn't seem to care if he hugged her right along for half a day.
She was so terribly homely that everybody wondered how he could love her, and by-and-by he seemed to think that an explanation would be in order. He borrowed a chew of tobacco of a man near the door, and remarked: "I'm going to hug that girl all the way home, though I know she isn't purty." "I wouldn't," briefly responded the man. "And that's where you'd fool yourself," continued the young man.
"When I'm hugging a hundred acres of clean, nice land, with forty head of stock on it, I can make the homeliest girl in the world look like an angel to me."

Lynching of Horse-Thieves.
The Pueblo (Col.) Chieftain gives the particulars of the lynching of two horse-thieves near Dodge City, on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad, a few nights ago. The two men were taken by a mob to a patch of woods on Saw-Log Creek.
They were blindfolded, their arms pinioned, and placed in the center of a circle.
Then one of the "vigilants" pulled a Testament from one pocket and a bottle of whisky from the other, and exclaiming, "Here, boys is peace for the dead and consolation for the living," proceeded to read a chapter, while the bottle was passed from mouth to mouth until its contents were exhausted. At the conclusion of this interesting ceremony, the thieves were stretched up to the limb of a cottonwood tree, face to face, their feet almost touching the ground. Both were buried on the spot in a shallow trench, and then the avengers returned to town, well satisfied with their day's work. The names of the unfortunates are Cole and Callahan. The father of the latter is a minister at Topeka.

How a Horse Captured a Wolf.
From the Barrie (Canada) Gazette.
Mr. John Davis a farmer in Sullivan township, Grey county, owns a horse which has a habit of getting out of its pasture field. The other night the farmer, as an experiment, tied the horse's fore feet together, and left him, hoping that his scheme would cure the horse of, or at least prevent him indulging in, his bad habits. That night a pack of wolves visited the neighborhood, their howls being plainly heard by the occupants of Mr. Davis' house. In the morning, however, they had disappeared, and the farmer having business some distance away, left to transact it. His children, going to school, had occasion to pass by the pasture field in which was the breachy horse, and remembering the visit of the wolves during the night, they went in to look after the horse's safety. There was the animal, right enough, apparently, but standing in a singular position away off in the field. The children approached seemed more strange. At last they boldly came up close, and discovered the cause of the animal's strange condition. A large gray wolf was under his fore feet, pinned down to the ground, so to speak, by the chain fettering the horse's limbs, and secured in such a way that escape was impossible.
The plucky horse had evidently been attacked by the savage brutes, and after a gallant fight he had not only routed his assailants, but managed in this singular way to capture one. No one being around to relieve the horse, he had to hold his captive till Mr. Davis returned—five hours—when the wolf was dispatched, his scalp taken to a magistrate, the bonus got for, and the brave horse treated to an extra feed of oats. With the exception of a few bites on the neck, the horse that captured a wolf came out of the battle comparatively unharmed.

ORDINANCE No. 14.
Be it enacted and ordained by the Burgesses and Town Council of the Borough of East Stroudsburg:
That all the property owners on the east side of Courtland street from the corner of Anatomick and Courtland street at John Hohen-sheld's to the end of Courtland street at the Milford crossing, shall curb and pave the side walk along their respective properties, either with Brick or Flag-stone, by September 1, 1876.
The width of said side-walk to be six feet.
In case of non-compliance with the above Ordinance the Borough will cause the curbing and paving of said side walk to be done and charge 20 per cent. advance on the cost of labor and material.
Approved May 1, 1876.

Special Notice.
Nothing can be fairer in business dealing between man and man than to charge all persons for the same article, bought at the same one and the same price. Wanamaker & Brown deal thus. They count that a poor man's dollar is as good as a rich man's. Every purchaser of clothing there knows that he is treated like every other purchaser. No partiality! It is the word. All are served on the same equitable, honorable, and courteous principle. This way of dealing is of itself a strong recommendation of Oak Hall Clothing House, Sixth and Market Streets, Philadelphia. Its conductors have certainly got into the path that leads straight to the popular favor. [May 4-1m.]

The prisoners in the Luzerne county jail who planned an escape by an assault upon the warden and his assistant, but were frustrated in their designs, seem, it is said, greatly chagrined. But they have confessed the plot which some twenty of them were directly interested, and as many more were expected to assist.
The importance of witnesses being promptly in attendance at court was shown in Reading on Tuesday by some twenty or more attachments for witnesses having gone out soon after the opening of the court in the morning. These witnesses were brought into open court and compelled to pay the costs of the attachments.
The bitter contest in Connecticut over the Senatorship was ended on Wednesday night by the nomination of Hon. William H. Barnum in the Democratic caucus. He received 100 votes, against 74 given for Hon. James E. English, the present member. Both of these men are very rich, and gave large sums of money toward carrying the State for their party last month.
Barnum appears to have superior political adroitness, and has carried off the prize.

Can any of our sportsmen beat this tough story from the Canadian Farmer about a man named Cangley, who went to St. Mary's bay game hunting. Seeing a moose on the opposite shore he fired, and at the same moment a porpoise leaped from the water, and the bullet killed both it and the moose. The porpoise floated to the shore, and the hunter used it as a raft to paddle across to the moose. There he found the butted, after killing the moose, had gone into a hollow tree in which was a store of wild honey, which was flowing through the hole made by the bullet.
Reaching for what he thought was a stick to plug up the hole, he caught a rabbit by the leg. Rather startled, he threw it violently from him, and struck a covey of eighteen partridges, kill-them all.

A few days ago Judge Handley, of Luzerne county, rendered a decision which will be of general interest if it stands. It seems that Fred. House, a minor, enlisted and went to the war during the late rebellion. His local bounty amounted to $300, and of this sum he sent home $245. Upon the return of the young man his father refused to give him the sum, on the ground that, as he was a minor, he had no right to it. The Court ruled that bounty was not wages, but a gratuity, and as such the father had no control over it. It also ruled that where a minor makes a contract for his services on his own account, and his father is cognizant of the fact, and makes no objection, there is an implied assent that the son shall have his earnings, and unless there is a design to defraud the father's creditors, the earnings will belong to the son.
