

The Jeffersonian.

THURSDAY, JUNE 29, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT, RUTHERFORD B. HAYES, of Ohio.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, WILLIAM A. WHEELER, of New York.

No paper will be issued from this office next week. This is in accordance with our usual custom, and will doubtless prove a necessity, as we intend doing a tremendous amount of celebrating on Tuesday, the glorious 4th.

The history of parties hardly shows such universal approbation as that accorded to the action of the Cincinnati convention, in the nomination of Hayes and Wheeler. The first whisper of a grumble is yet to come from a Republican source either over platform or candidates, and not a small cause for congratulation to the party is the fact that men and principles and enthusiasm have combined to so completely demoralize Democracy that it seriously has nothing to say against either.

Our distinguished neighbor over the way don't like the nominees of the Cincinnati convention; there is no discounting that fact, and is altogether safe to say that Hayes and Wheeler need look for no support from him. It is doubtful whether he can give any reason for his opposition, save the single one that they were not nominated by the Democrats; and are consequently not Democrats in the modern acceptance of the word. He will like the nominees of the St. Louis convention, however, no matter who they may be, because being the nominees of a Democratic convention they will carry the sign of Democracy, which will cover any irregularity that might attach to them from overslaughing principle for the sake of success. And so far as our knowledge extends there is not in the whole coteries of Democratic editors a single one so well able to support any man who may be nominated. Among all those whose names were prominent in connection with the nomination our distinguished neighbor had not a single friend to reward or enemy to punish. Indeed, he hardly ventured to name a candidate, so that his subscribers are exempt, for aught he has said or done, of prejudice or bias as he himself. No matter whether the candidate favors inflation or resumption, has Northern or Southern views, or is Tilden, Bill Allen, Wade Hampton or Jeff. Davis the blissful ignorance nurtured by the Democrat heretofore will enable its editor to come to the work without a why or wherefore, and labor as heartily and unblushingly for his success as though the candidate was made especially to his order. There will be no pre-emption to smooth over, no patching that can possibly make the support of the nominations anything but a pleasant duty. We congratulate our distinguished neighbor over this his brilliant display of strategy, and almost regret that its success will extend no farther than the promotion of his personal comfort. Of course it is fixed that Hayes and Wheeler will be elected. That is his only misfortune.

The Fourth.

The arrangements are about perfected, harmony is restored in the musical circle, our country friends are coming in by hundreds to take part, the ladies, bless them for ever and for aye, are working like beavers and have consented to take part in the tableaux incident to the parade, and thus are we assured that nothing will be wanting but a clear day to make manifest in Stroudsburg on the glorious centennial natal day of the nation that our people appreciate their duty as patriotic citizens of this free-est country on God's footstool and are determined to perform it. Friends abroad, whether natives of Stroudsburg or mere former sojourners within its borders who remain away on that day will regret, to the last day of their lives that they were not with us and of us, mingling in the festivities of that glorious day; and hence we would advise all without regard to person, caste, creed, sex or "previous condition of servitude" if they would avoid a lifelong regret to read in another column the programme arranged for the day and to hasten hitherward and join us in the noble work. Mind you, it will be a hundred years before a like opportunity will be afforded, and then you will have filled the worm's maw and have been resolved to the dust from whence you came, without the satisfaction of having been able to relate to your descendants, how much you enjoyed the grand celebration of the memorable event of July 4th, 1776, in Stroudsburg on July 4th, 1876. A greater display of fuss and feathers may be found elsewhere, but it is in Stroudsburg that the cream of celebrations alone will be found, and right here is the only sure spot in which the true worshipper at the shrine of his country's greatness will meet such a welcome as will make him feel as though he had been transported to the very seventh heaven of patriotic enjoyment. Come then, all ye absent ones, and come all ye who would learn the routine of true hospitality and enjoyment derived from duty well performed from experience, and our word for it you will experience no disappointment in these respects here. Again we say come, and come all who can by any reputable means manage to get here.

The EVERETT VARIETY TROUPE gave one of their entertainments at Williams' Hall on Thursday evening last. They have the hall neatly fitted up and purpose remaining here for some time, and giving an entertainment every Thursday evening during their stay.

ORGANIZE.

And now the most important matter which the Republicans of Monroe county have to consider is the organization of the forces. With candidates and a platform of principles which shut the mouth of our opponents against any truthful cavil, it would be a shame if we should think of going into the canvass with everything, as now, so much at loose ends. We should meet and consult, and stir about so as, first, to find out who is of us and who is not and, second, so thoroughly organize for work as to keep both ourselves and our opponents busy until the people has through the ballot box confirmed the nomination of Hayes and Wheeler by a triumphant election. We have heretofore touched upon this subject of organization, but without the stimulus of a ticket to organize upon we have felt it to be slow work. Now we have the ticket, and a ticket too worthy our untiring efforts in behalf of its success, and as Republicans we shall not half do our duty to the country if Monroe county fails to give at least eight hundred votes for Hayes and Wheeler. We believe that with thorough organization we can even exceed this. With out organization there is no telling what we can do, but it is safe to say not much. Our new County Committee should take the initiative.

HOPE it won't rain on the 4th. Don't you reader.

In our last we made mention that Mrs. Joseph Goucher, had been blessed with triplets and that one of them died shortly after birth. We regret to learn that the other two died on Sunday last.

THE season for country fairs is approaching, but we do not see that the Monroe Co. Agricultural Society is moving towards giving us the benefit of a fair this fall, and more's the pity. There is a vast amount of knowledge to be drawn from a well conducted fair, and the society should accord our farmers and others the opportunity to secure it.

A NUMBER of ladies have consented to take part in the grand parade pageant of our Fourth of July celebration, and more horses and wagons have been secured for their use. We tell you folks, we are going to "do the thing up brown," and no mistake.

MR. JAMES GOUCHER, having fitted up a very neat wagon, is prepared to deliver fresh bread, cakes, &c., daily at the doors of residents in this Borough. On Saturday Mr. G. made his appearance, for the first time with his new out-fit, which attracted considerable attention and received many expressions of encouragement. Mr. G. will please accept our thanks for a magnificent cake.

ALMOST A FIRE.—On Monday last, Robt. Ruth, son of Mr. Linford Ruth, got some matches of Mrs. Theo. Taylor, went to the stable of Dr. Jackson, set some straw on fire, which was discovered by Mr. M. Brown's son, who gave the alarm, when Mr. Samuel Williams, who was at work near by, succeeded in subduing the flames. The stable had considerable straw and hay stored in it.

OUR FARMERS who use Paris green as ammunition in their war upon the Potato bugs, should be careful to keep it out of the way of their cattle. Dr. Hurd, residing near Experiment Mills, lost a very valuable cow on Friday last through its means. He had prepared a mixture of Paris green and flour with which to treat his Colorado visitants, and failing to use proper care in the preservation of what he had left the cow made a feast of it and died soon after.

If down country wants to learn a thing or too, they should come hither on the Fourth and see how earnestly, gracefully and patriotically "ice die barrig" goes to work to do justice to the Centennial of our nation's birth day.

A FRIEND of ours was a good deal mystified during a recent visit to East Stroudsburg and has been bothering himself with the conundrum ever since. While passing along the streets he saw a rather prepossessing young lady, very neatly attired, pass from a millinery establishment into a store near by, step up to the clerk pinch her right cheek and then the left and retired as rapidly as she entered. The question which bothers him is, "was it love," or what? Who can come to our friends relief?

MUSIC in abundance will add to the stirring cheerfulness of our Fourth. Four excellent bands will be in line and discourse music suitable to the day and the occasion. Come and hear them.

THE Town Council are building a plank walk up Academy Hill, on Franklin street, for the accommodation of the citizens residing in that beautiful portion of our town. They are also having the streets and gutters cleaned, but give no sign of the near building of those necessary cisterns. The plank walk was required, but any day may demonstrate that a cistern well filled with water at the foot of the hill, and at other points in town, would prove a hundred times more necessary and valuable.

A PARADE of the trades—carpenters, cabinet makers, shoemakers, blacksmiths, carriage makers, &c. &c., represented by busy workmen in miniature workshops on wagons, forms one of the features of our 4th of July programme, and it will be carried out to perfection too.

As had been previously announced the remains of Mrs. Rachel Vail reached this place from Philadelphia, where she died, on Wednesday last week, and were interred in the down town cemetery. The deceased was well known to our older inhabitants and the esteem in which she was held was attested by the large numbers who attended the services at the Presbyterian Church, of which she had long been a loved member, and assisted at her burial. An excellent and very interesting sermon was preached on the occasion by the Rev. Mr. Pitts.

LAST Thursday evening the Stroudsburg Cornet Band discoursed some of their excellent music in front of the Burnett House.—Mr. Henry Fulmer and Col. Burnett took the boys in and did the handsome by them.

READ our Fourth of July programme in another column, compare it with those arranged for other places, and you will have no reason to hesitate in deciding that Stroudsburg is the place to go to if you want to see a Centennial Fourth of July celebrated as it should be. Our programme is based upon the principle which governed the laws of the Medes and Persians, it alters not, nor in such a thing as failure in the book. Nothing but the elements can interfere with it.

THE EVERETT FAMILY! have kindly volunteered a performance for the benefit of the Fourth of July fund. The entertainment will take place at Williams' Hall, (tonight,) Thursday evening, June 29th. They deserve encouragement. Give them a big house for in so doing you will not only get your money's worth in amusement, but will be contributing to the fund which is necessary to make our Centennial Fourth a success.

ONE of the neatest attractions on the Fourth will be the juvenile Fire Company, which is now being improvised for the occasion. Their apparatus will be the old "Humane," better known as the "Union" hand engine, which will be fully fitted up and neatly evergreened and flowered. The company will be composed of sprightly young lads, fully emblazoned with firemen's suits—red shirts, black pants, hats trimmed with red, white and blue ribbons, shields, and all complete. Frank Hess and Capt. Coombs have this portion of the programme under way, which is a sufficient guarantee that it will be perfect.

THE Fort Edward Collegiate Institute concluded the 22d annual commencement exercises on the 22d inst.

Among the graduates in the classical and preparatory departments, were gratified to see the names of George M. Brodhead, Charles D. Wallace, and Robert Brown, Jr., all sons of our citizens and neighbors.

George M. Brodhead did the salutatory oration in German, the title of which is, "Was for der Naechte?" Charles D. Wallace's oration was entitled "What the World owes to Germany." While Robert Brown, Jr.'s, was "German Arrogance, a mistake."

A RUNAWAY.—Mr. John V. Shoemaker's team was in town last Saturday in charge of his brother Daniel, and without said brother's leave or license the team concluded to go home or somewhere else in the quickest possible time. With this intention absorbing them, they made a dash across the street and came against some hitching posts in front of Hess Bros. tobacco store, which relieved them of the burden of the wagon.—They went up town lick-et-a-split with the double-tree and whiffle-trees springing against their heads at every jump. Near the race they fell and separated from each other, and then they ran on to Mr. Amzi Coolbaugh's where they were caught.

Remarkable to say there was but little serious damage. The horses heels were cut a little, but not badly. They were brought back and fastened to the wagon and went home at a more serious pace.

THE members of Mountain Home Encampment, No. 247, and the members of Mountain Home Lodge, No. 684, I. O. O. F., of Penna., are hereby notified to meet in their respective halls on the morning of July 4th, 1876, at 9 o'clock, to prepare to join in the parade and attend the picnic to be given by the Encampment. All members of the order at large are cordially and fraternally invited to attend and join with us in celebrating our grand Centennial Natal day. The parade will form at the hall, 10:30 and march to Oakland Depot and meet the train 11:25 south; will then be joined by the band and members from neighboring townships, and leave Oakland at 11:45, and march to the grove at Mountain Home, when exercises of the afternoon will commence. Dinner, speaking, music, and everything conducive to enjoyment will be in readiness. No expense will be spared to make this grand re-union a complete success.

J. P. ZABRISKIE, ALLEN PRICE, P. FARRELL, Com.

CHARLES A. HOLMES.

Contrary to expectation the disease (typhoid fever) which had been preying upon the vitals of Charles A. Holmes, resulted fatally last Sunday morning, about 8 o'clock, the 25th inst.

Mr. Holmes was a young man of fair attainment and good promise. He learned the printers trade in the office of the "Great Falls Journal," but soon gave up the trade. He had been a law student under his uncle, Stephen Holmes, Jr. Esq., of this place, since December 1873; and had lived until the approaching September term of Court, he would doubtless have been admitted to the bar, for which he had been making the necessary preparation. "Charley" Holmes, as he was generally called, was genial, kind hearted and gentlemanly, and among his associates, who knew him best, he had many warm friends. Charles A. Holmes was born at Great Falls, N. H., Oct. 15, 1853, and was therefore at his death but about three months short of 23 years of age.

His funeral was preached by the Rev. Mr. Wallace on Wednesday afternoon, after which his remains were interred in the Cemetery.

Thus in early manhood, on the threshold of usefulness, has been snatched from life's troubled scenes, one who promised well to his day and generation. How uncertain and easily dashed are the hopes of men! How fleeting is life, how sure is death!

A Berks county man is the lucky possessor of a cow which must be milked three times a day, and yields fourteen pounds of butter per week.

Personal.

Mrs. Maria E. Shay and son Edward are visiting friends in New York.

J. H. Hauser, Esq., of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, a former resident of this place, gave us a call on Tuesday last.

Benjamin F. Flory and wife, of Bangor, former residents of this place, spent Sunday last here visiting friends.

Mrs. Mary Frantz, oldest daughter of Wm. Dean, of this place, a resident of Centerville, N. J., is on a visit to her father.

Mr. Til. Keim and Carey Townsend, of Easton, spent Sabbath last in town, and during their stay, were the guests of Reuben Miller.

Dr. W. Vail and the Rev. J. B. Henshaw, both former residents of this place, were in town on Wednesday of last week, attending the funeral of Mrs. Vail.

Mrs. Dr. Horace DeYoung and child of Mauch Chunk were in town several days last week and this, visiting her mother-in-law, widow of the late Judge DeYoung.

George B. Wallace, Esq., and wife of Easton, were in town Sunday and Monday last, and were the guests of his brother, the Rev. Wallace, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Rev. Mr. Transue of the N. Y. Central M. E. Conference, was in town last Saturday and Sunday visiting his friends, and on Sunday evening preached in the M. E. Church of this place.

Mr. George D. White one of the followers of Faust, was in town last Sunday, and while here was the guest of his father-in-law, Rev. John L. Staples. George received the first rudiments of his newspaper education in this office.

Jacob Heistand, Esq., proprietor of the "What Cheer House," at Portland, and a model landlord, paid a business visit to Stroudsburg on Thursday last, and while here dropped in on us and renewed his subscription for a year. Jacob's visits, business or otherwise, are always welcome.

John W. Stokes, Esq., of Philadelphia was in town a few hours on Tuesday last, and while here made us a call. He left on the 4.15 train for Scranton, to attend a meeting of the Encampment branch I. O. O. F., at Hyde Park, on Tuesday evening.

We were gratified to see the Rev. Mr. Wallace of the Presbyterian church, out on Sunday last, attending to his ministerial duties as usual. The erysipelas in his leg consequent on a hurt received some three or four weeks ago, while on a fishing trip, has nearly exhausted itself.

Fatal Accident.

Dr. A. Lewis Kirkhuff left town last Tuesday evening with the intention of going to Tobyhanna Mills on the up night train. Nothing was heard of him until the next morning when his body was found lying by the side of the track unmingled south of Oakland station, dead. The presumption is that he was standing on the platform and accidentally fell to the ground fatally injuring himself.

The Doctor was about 23 years of age and graduated a year ago last March, and commenced the practice of medicine at Sand Cut, Wayne county, about one year ago. He was married on the 7th of June to the adopted daughter of Mr. William Wallace of this town. About a week ago he had entered into a partnership with Dr. Shull and commenced the practice of medicine in this place.

Mr. Wallace was at the depot on the point of leaving for New York on the early train, when he received a telegram announcing the above fact.

ANOTHER.—On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Frederick Phillips met with a severe accident whilst moving in his field on Foxtown Hill. It appears that Mr. Phillips laid down his scythe on a stone and was in the act of sitting down to rest, when he accidentally struck against the blade of the scythe inflicting a severe and painful wound of the left wrist, cutting it about two inches in length and a half inch in depth, partially severing the radial artery. Dr. Geo. W. Jackson was called and rendered the necessary medical aid.

Dr. Porter, of Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., has been appointed county historian for Lancaster county for the 4th prox. The task could hardly have been imposed upon a person better qualified to creditably perform it.

Throg masked men on Tuesday night June the 13th inst., broke into the house of Samuel Abraham, a wealthy farmer, residing three miles from Newville, Pa., and placed a halter around his neck, threatenig to hang him if he did not deliver up his money. After cruelly torturing Mr. Abraham and his wife by burning their feet, the miscreants fled, taking with them $65 in money and a valuable horse and buggy.

The Baldwin Locomotive Works at Philadelphia are now delivering 17 engines to the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad. Two of these are 18 by 24 in. cylinder consolidation engines, and 10 are Mogul pattern with 18 by 24 in. cylinders. The consolidation engines are substantially like the one built for the Lehigh Valley road, and now on exhibition at the Centennial. An order for ten-wheel engines for the Lehigh Valley railroad is also in progress.

The grand jury of Northampton county have returned three true bills against Allen C. Laros, the fiend who poisoned to death his father, mother, brother and a hired man. The trial was fixed to begin on Tuesday last, and the Commonwealth was ready. On motion of the counsel for the defense, who were not prepared, the case was continued until August. Laros reads the Bible every day. The time for that was years ago, and then he might not have been in jail now.

A MATTER OF POPULAR INTEREST.

We condense from the Lehigh Register the substance of a conversation about Oak Hall, in Philadelphia, between Wm. W. Wainwright and Wm. W. Wainwright. Largest Clothing Store in America. A visitor and attendant at the speakers: "What corner is the Building on?" "South-East corner of Sixth and Market. Please note the SIXTH, for some strangers seeking Oak Hall, have been misled by designing persons." "It is perfectly colossal! Do you know its dimensions?" "12,000 square feet—66 on Market, and 180 odd on Sixth, six stories high, has over three acres of flooring, and covers space once occupied by a shopman twenty different business places." "Do you use steam-power?" "A giant young engine furnishes power for the freight and passenger elevators, and the boilers steam for heating, and the other operations of the house." "What order do you take with goods?" "They are first opened and arranged in the basement on long low counters, and taken thence on the freight elevator to the inspector's room on the 5th floor." "Is inspecting the first operation?" "No, sir, measuring. The goods are first measured in the piece, then inspected. The cloth passes over rollers in the face of a strong light, and two men sit, one before and one behind the goods, watching with the eye of a hawk for the least pin-hole imperfection, and marking every flaw, so that the cutter may see and avoid it when he comes to cut the garments." "You must employ an army of cutters?" "A. Come to our fifth floor and see! We keep 70 hands all the time cutting up the cloth into garments,—besides 100 machines that do a dozen men's work each in a stroke." "Do you manufacture all your own goods?" "We do, and we do it very carefully. Our ex-aminers inspect every stitch and seam, and certify to every garment as extra-well made before we put our ticket on it, and become responsible for it." "Your system must save you a great deal?" "In every direction, sir. It is the system and economy we practice all the way through, that enables us to put our price down to the people as we do." "After inspecting the work, what becomes of it?" "A. Before it goes into stock it is ticketed. Every single garment has its number and other points noted on it, so that its entire history can be traced without fail, upon our books." "You must have 50 or 60 salesmen?" "A. Why sir, on busy days you may see 100 in the various rooms and suites of rooms, selling to the throngs of customers." "Do you take an order business by mail and express?" "Very great. All over the country. Our November 4, 1875.

perfect system and rules of self-measurement make it possible to please people 2,000 miles away as perfectly as if they were here in person. "I suppose you have at least half a dozen different departments?" "A. My dear sir! we have more than twenty, each charged with its own business, and each thoroughly organized, a necessary wheel within the great wheel." "Will you name a dozen or so of them?" "A. With pleasure. The Custom Department, for those who prefer custom-made to ready-made. The Furnishing Department, with its stock of all underwear. The Shirt Store, with its busy machines, making our own first-class shirts. The Trimming Department, itself as big as many a regular store. The Garment Stock Room. The Receiving Room. The Order Department, named before. The Special Uniforms Department. The Delivery Department, with its score of messengers. The— "A. Hold, hold! sir, enough!" "The Advertising Department, with its bill and sign distributors, editing and publishing a business and popular journal, circulating over 1,000,000 copies monthly (tell all your friends to send for it). The Men's Department, with its many rooms. The Boys' Department. The Youth Department. The Children's Department, with its special entrance for ladies. The Telegraph Department. The Chief Clerk's Department, with its book-keepers and assistants. General Managers' Department. Financier's Office, and other offices of the firm all busy as bees, thinking, planning, executing, buying, making, registering, receiving, sending out, selling, and in a thousand ways joining their forces to carry on a business with the people amounting to between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 annually." "8-u-p-n-d-o-u-s!" "A. Indeed it is! I forgot to name the Cashier's Department, which handles its $25,000 of retail sales on some single days." "A. $25,000! Immense! That's what enables us to sell our goods so cheaply." "A. Exactly! You have hit it. The people through here, knowing that we depend on a thousand eyes joining their forces to carry on a business with the people amounting to between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 annually."
