Republican National Nominations.

FOR PRESIDENT, RUTHERFORD B. HAYES, of Ohio.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, WILLIAM A. WHEELER, of New York.

The headquarters of the Republican State committee has been established at No. 1303 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

TILDEN A REFORMER.

Tammany, at a ratification meeting on Thursday night last resolved that Tilden was a genuine reformer, pure and honest. That settles the question. What Tammany resolves it is not in order to dispute. Let Democrats rejoice therefore, and let our distinguished friend, over the way, sound the hewgong. Tammany has settled it that Tilden is pure and honest. But this is all according to Tammany, and though it is in order for Democrats to receive it without a question, the quality of the purity and honesty of Tilden's reform doctrines may not strike Republicans and the people as being just the thing necessary to assure benefit to the country from its introduction into its chief executive department. New York's experience of Tammany's idea of reform is not an experience desirable out side of that misrulerd city's limits, and has but few lovers outside of Tammany influence within those limits. Tammany reform has been supplied in municipal management so long and steadily as to all most bankrupt city, and is so short, sharp and decisive in its action that since the 1st of January it has permanently increased the city debt by over $15,000,000. The distinguished marks of Tammany reform are perjury, robbery, ballot-box stuffing, repeating, counting those out of office who are voted in and those in office who are voted out, political and judicial corruption, and in short every species of rascality within the range of depraved human invention. Among City Tammanyites it had its best exemplification in Tweedism, and out side of the city in the Tildenism manufactures of either as a means of cheating the United States Treasury out of the tax due from whiskey distillation, support of Tweed in his stealings and his escape, the wrecking of railroads, and in the free use of money to corrupt conventions and secure elevation to positions where there was a better prospect 'to make' while these may be virtues in the 'sight of Democracy and entitle an unscrupulous Democrat to the title of a pure and honest reformer, they are hardly the kind of virtues the people are now so anxiously looking for, and will hardly exhibit such potency as to draw the votes of honest men to the support of the man so thoroughly gifted with them as Mr. Tilden's record points him to be. On the contrary, the staid, sober, honest characteristics of Gen. Hayes is what is wanted, and on these will the great bulk of the American people settle when November calls them to the ballot box. Democrats are welcome to Tilden and Hendricks, as perfect representatives of their party, but the people have already settled upon Hayes and Wheeler, as the most perfect representatives of real purity, honesty and reform presented for their suffrages.

A HAMILTON farmer being annoyed by the numbers of Colorado bugs feeding on his potato vines, resolved to treat them to a feast of Paris green. He purchased what he supposed to be the article and dealt it out to the varmints quite liberally. The result of his labors was a mighty sick lot of bugs calling lustily for 'new spu-ork' but the mortuary results did not loom up at all healthy. He had about become disgusted with Paris green as a bug killer, when upon examination he found that he had made the mistake of dealing out tartar emetic. This doubtless stirred up the billious organs of the pests, but it did not kill a bug that he could find.

THE refreshing rain we had on Friday last, the first in many days, indeed weeks had a most salutary effect on the atmosphere. Every thing, and every body appeared to revive up under it. As a general thing we have suffered from drought since the early spring rains and the effect upon corn and potatoes has been anything but encouraging either to producer or consumer. The last named esulent was so affected by it that the selling price a short time ago, $1 per bushel, rose to $1.40 on Saturday last. It is singular that while we have been suffering for want of rain, hardly a day passed that the Seranton dailes do not announce the passage of heavy showers passing over that city and neighborhood.

THE Stroudsburg cornet band received a lesson, on Wednesday night of last week, which served them just right, and which they will not soon forget. On the evening in question they made their appearance on the streets in full uniform, and after playing several pieces in front of the residence of Peter H. Robeson, Esq., Mrs. R. determined to stand no such work, had them summarily brought into the house where they were punished with a most liberal supply of the delicious ice cream and cake which she is so noted for making. The punishment was pronounced sumptuous by all who were present. Again we say it served them right. If they don't fancy being punished in that way they must keep away from such places. Of course the boys didn't feel a bit put out about it.

The residence of John Brockway in Lehman township, Pike county, Pa., was burned Friday. Loss, $4,500.

If any other heated term beats the heated we have just been cavorting through in intensity of hotness, we should like to know it.

Good to take—the splendidly refreshing shower last Tuesday afternoon and evening, which the parched ground for near two weeks has been fairly panting for.

THE Centennial history sketch of Monroe county prepared by Wm. S. Rees, Esq., as read by him at the celebration, on the 4th inst., will be found in another column of today's JEFF. Extra copies can be had at this office.

M. R. BROWN, has purchased Milton Edinger's grocery store, and commenced business on the cash plan, which is the only proper plan to do business successfully. Success to him.

PUBLIC MEETING.—A meeting will be held at the Court House, in this borough, on Monday evening, July 24th, at 8 o'clock p. m. All in favor of organizing a military company are cordially invited to be present. MANY CITIZENS.

AN OLD CENT.—Valentine Albert has in his possession an old cent bearing date 1793, which he has had for about forty years. The medallion head is the bust of an Indian chief, the likeness of which is more suggestive just now than usual.

THE STROUDSBURG CORNET BAND offer their services to the public during the coming season. They are composed of excellent musicians, well disciplined by constant practice. They have always given good satisfaction, wherever they have played, which is the best recommendation they can have. See their advertisement.

COMPLAINT after complaint has been made to us of boys bathing in Brodhead's creek, at the iron bridge, in broad day light. This should be stopped, and the authorities of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg should see to it that this nuisance on that public thoroughfare is abated at once.

THE barn near Callahan's belonging to Mr. John Marsh in Smithfield township, was struck by lightning last Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock and with its contents, hay and grain, entirely consumed, part of which belonged to Godfrey Ruff and Daniel Kintner. Jacob Reaves had just drove in with a load of hay. Mr. Reaves was severely shocked, but has sustained no serious injury.

THE East Stroudsburg Zouaves held a picnic on Stauffer's Hill, on Friday and Saturday evenings last. The turn out on both evenings, notwithstanding the dampness of the weather was quite large, and those present made the most of the occasion and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The Cornet band was present and made the air redolent with fine music. Messrs. Smith, Keiser, Wolf and the King boys furnished the string music to which the light fantastic toe was gaily tripped.

THE friends of the Hamilton Band purpose getting up a picnic for the benefit of that excellent institution on Saturday the 29th inst., in Erdman's Grove, near Hamilton Church. The band will be present and enliven the occasion with first class music under the leadership of Aaron Bittenbender. Refreshments in abundance will be on hand, and it will be altogether unreasonable to expect anything but a good time when so many wholesome, good hearted fellows as are the members of the band, are sure to be present. There should be a large turnout.

THE boarding houses in this vicinity have not as yet reaped a rich harvest, and have about concluded that centennial year don't amount to shucks as a money making institution. All have some boarders but none are full. Alsop has some forty or fifty, and of the lot the Water Gap and Crossdale have the largest number. At Bushkill and vicinity there are very few. The remainder of the present month and August may change the face of things, but the season will necessarily prove a short one, and yield no one a fortune.

CONCERT.—Misses Maggie and Minnie Carrow will give a grand vocal and instrumental concert at Williams' Hall, on Tuesday evening, July 25th, on which occasion the fair prima donna, Lizzie Williams, of the Maplewood Conservatory of music, will render selections from the leading operas and most popular ballads. Misses Minnie Carrow and Allie Williams, assisted by Mr. A. W. McCarty, will contribute a number of the best and most popular gems of song. The Misses Carrow are graduates of the Academy of the Visitation, Mount Desales, Md., and are first class pianists. Miss Ida Primrose, one of our leading amateurs, will perform selections from old Masters and our best modern composers.

The orchestra will be led by the talented cornetist, Mr. James Smith, leader of the Beechoven Band, accompanied by Mr. Thos. A. Bell, amateur flutist. Two of Light & Ernst's best Piano-Fortes will be used, and no pains will be spared to make the entertainment first class, in every respect, and fully equal to the one given last winter by the same parties, for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A., which drew the largest and most intelligent audiences ever assembled in Stroudsburg.

When the band went around to serenade Governor Hendricks the other night, it played rather a solemn sort of march until it arrived at the Hendricks' house, when it struck up a very lively air. A neighbor across the street, who was aroused by the music, called to his colored boy, who was at the gate, and asked him what it was. "Dat," said the boy, "dat is de tunc dey plays in de circus when de man rides two horses at once."

Modoc's Pic-Nic.

We feel perfectly safe in saying, that a more jolly crowd never went out, or a better satisfied one came back, than that of the MODOC'S on last Wednesday. 'Twas a pic-pic, consisting of just fifteen couples, all young and full of life, made happy by the presence of several ladies and gentlemen sojourners, but for a time in our little villa, bound for that most pleasant place in the county, Popononung Lake. The day was quickly spent in the different amusements to which young people have a liking—those fond of dancing, had music and an elegant platform at their service, others enjoyed themselves in boating, gliding over the beautiful green waters gathering the fragrant lilies and weaving them into wreaths, all moving hither and thither in glad forgetfulness until the duskiness of evening came stealing o'er them unawares. At nine o'clock the woods were deserted leaving nothing to tell of the merry pleasure seekers, but the strewn fragments of the feast so kindly prepared by the ladies of the party, like eating soup with a fork "it tasted for more."

ORGANIZE.

Are we talking up the matter of Republican organization in this county? In other quarters this is being earnestly attended to, and the result will show itself in November in increased majorities over former years for Hayes, Wheeler and reform. Pennsylvania should give at least 25,000 majority for this ticket and she will if all the precincts in the Commonwealth are brought under the discipline of thorough organization. That we are here so thoroughly in the minority in votes is no reason to believe that we are equally behind in sentiment. We know many Democrats who are in accord with us in principle, who are heartily sick of the party to which they belong, and who would not hesitate a moment in joining us if perfect organization gave them an assurance that we meant more than simple opposition to the majority. Teach them by our conduct that we mean thorough reform and that we are really devoted to the principles we profess to support, and the several hundreds that will thus be added to our vote will by just that number reduce the overwhelming Democratic majority here and add it to the majority of Hayes and Wheeler in the general result in the State. By this means we can readily contribute a large share towards making up the 25,000 or more majority which our candidates so richly deserve. There are Republicans in every township in the county—rather scarce in Eldred and Tobyhanna it is true, but Republican sentiment we know exists even in their precincts and only awaits organization to make it available by bringing it to the front. We should look up the men thus impressed, and by frequently calling upon them and strengthening their hands with documents enable them to work effectively. Meetings too should be arranged and stirring speakers engaged and sent out into the several sections of the county; and in fact we should leave nothing undone to open the eyes of the people to the paramount necessity for the success of Republicanism for many years to come if we would have honesty preserved in the government and prosperity restored to the people. Our work here is really of the nature of missionary work. The Democracy have kept the county so long under benighted domination and despotism that our Democratic politics has become a species of blind heathenism, and to eradicate it only missionary work can avail. We must, therefore, go from house and from man to man, and by the earnestness of our faith and the wisdom of our works compel the eyes and understandings of the latter to open to the beauty of the truths we proclaim. Thus we will fill the measure of our duty and secure results which will stun the enemy and astonish ourselves by their importance. Let us think this over speedily and go to work promptly and Monroe county Republicanism cannot fail to make itself felt and respected in quarters where it is now only recognized because of its insignificance.

The chestnut trees are in full blossom. The Bethlehem schools cost $53,000 last year. Last month was the hottest June for six years. 1400 rafts have floated down the Delaware this season. The national debt was reduced $3,881,397 during June. Tilden is 63 years of age, is worth several millions, and is a bachelor. 50,000 elephants have to be slain every year to supply England with ivory. Pennsylvania has spent eight millions for soldiers' orphans, since the war. Seventeen deaths from sunstroke were reported in Philadelphia, on 10th inst. There are 162 parks for horse-racing in the United States, and are worth $5,000,000. Twenty-three deaths from sunstroke were reported to the corner of New York, on 10th inst. A burglar recently discharged from a Massachusetts prison is 48 years old, and has been in jail 25 years.

"Zeb Crummett" says he would as soon think of trying to pour knowledge into a man's head as goodness into his heart. At Trenton one hundred men, including nine officers of the First brigade New Jersey militia, were Saturday prostrated by the heat while in camp. Saturday afternoon a young Italian woman named La Siglsynora Spelterian, accomplished the feat of walking across Niagara river on a rope stretched from the American to the Canadian shore. While a gang of fifty convicts, transferred from Sing Sing, were en route to Auburn on Thursday morning, Thomas Edgerly, a fifteen years' man, from New York, leaped through the car window while the train was running at the rate of forty miles per hour, and was instantly killed.

The Rev. Dr. Abbott of the New York conference, filled Dr. Carrow's pulpit last Sunday evening. He took for his text "The Lord God omnipotent reigneth." His sermon was very interesting and instructive and one of the most eloquent and flowery we have listened to in a long time.

On Wednesday of last week, Mr. William Clements returned from his work at noon, and when dinner was announced, took his seat at the table. He had barely done so, however, ere it was discovered that he was completely overcome with the oppressive heat. Dr. Geo. W. Jackson was at once summoned and administered to his wants, and soon had him doing well and around again. Mr. C. had been shoeing a horse, which proved too much for him.

A Bloody Day in Newark, N. Y.

Newark was convulsed with horror on Thursday by the murderous work of three desperadoes, who shot eight men, killing four of them, and were then themselves stoned and stabbed to death by an infuriated populace. Charles, Albert and Adiff Thielhausen, three brothers long noted as desperate characters, were indulging in a drunken spree, and had become troublesome. Two police officers, with warrants for their arrest, went to their residence, where the villains met them in the doorway, deliberately shooting them down. One of the officers was instantly killed and the other seriously injured. Down the street on a run the desperadoes started, and meeting a Mr. Cahill on the street, shot him down also without the least provocation. A crowd collected, drawn by the noise, but none stopped the murderers, who threatened every one in their path with pistols. A little further on two more men were fired at and wounded. Reaching the tannery at River street, where they formerly had worked, the villains began an indiscriminate firing upon the shop, wounding one man in five places. They started up the stairs of the building, but were opposed by one of the workmen, who nearly severed the arm of one of the brothers by a blow of a knife which he held in his hand. They shot him, wounded another, and then escaped to the river. But a mob of over 200, wild and crazy with excitement and range, followed them, stoning, clubbing and cutting them, and in the act of swimming the river a shower of stones fell upon them that sank their mangled corpses far out in the stream. The excitement was furious, and for this terrible slaughter there seems to be no cause but drunken insanity. In the annals of crime there are few on record more terrible than this one.

The trial of Munley, at Pottsville for the murder of mining boss Sanger, closed on Wednesday, the jury rendered a verdict of murder in the first degree.

A MATTER OF POPULAR INTEREST.

We condense from the Lehigh Register the substance of a conversation about Oak Hall, in Philadelphia, between Wm. W. Wainwright & Brown's Largest Clothing Store in America. A visitor and attendant at the speakers' table. Q. "What corner is the Building on?" A. "South-East corner of Sixth and Market. Please note the SIXTH, for some strangers seeking Oak Hall, have been misled by designing persons." Q. "It is perfectly colossal! Do you know its dimensions?" A. "12,000 square feet—66 on Market, and 150 odd on Sixth, six stories high, has over three acres of flooring, and covers space once occupied by a man twenty different business places." Q. "Do you use steam-power?" A. "A giant young engine furnishes power for the freight and passenger elevators, and the boilers steam for heating, and the other operations of the house." Q. "What order do you take with goods?" A. "They are first opened and arranged in the basement on long life counters, and taken thence on the freight elevator to the inspector's room on the first floor." Q. "Is inspecting the first operation?" A. "No, sir, measuring. The goods are first measured in the piece, then inspected. The cloth passes over rollers in the face of a steam light, and two men sit, one before and one behind the goods, watching with the eye of a hawk for the least pin-hole imperfection, and marking every flaw, so that the cutter may see and avoid it when he comes to cut the garment." Q. "You must employ an army of cutters?" A. "Come to our fifth floor and see! We keep 700 hands all the time cycling up the cloth into garments—besides the machines that do a dozen men's work each in a stroke." Q. "Do you manufacture all your own goods?" A. "We do, and most carefully. Our experts inspect every stitch and seam, and admit to every garment as extra-well made before we put our ticket on it, and become responsible for it." Q. "Your system must save you a great deal?" A. "In every direction, sir. It is the system and economy we practice all the way through that enables us to put our price down to the people as we do." Q. "After inspecting the work, what becomes of it?" A. "Before it goes into Stock it is ticketed. Every single garment has its number and other points noted on it, so that its entire history can be traced without fail, upon our books." Q. "You must have 20 or 40 salesmen?" A. "Why sir, on busy days you may see 100 in the various rooms and suites of rooms, selling to the throngs of customers." Q. "Do you do an order business, by mail and express?" A. "Very great. All over the country. Our November 4, 1875.
