On the 25th of June there was on a va cant lot on John street, in Quebec, a bank of snow and ice three feet deep, covering nearly a quarter of an acre of ground. At that above place as they will find a larger and finer time carts were busily employed in removing the snow and ice in order that the land might be built upon.

A Cat That Went to War.

Col. Stewart Wortley, an English officer, latest stytes in tells the following story of a cat whose ac quaintance he made during the Crimean

After the French troops had taken the Malakoff I was sent into it on duty, and the foot and pinned to the ground. I took | cen find them any where else in town. her to my tent; she was carefully tended, and every morning taken to the doctor to have her wound attended to. Four or five days after I was too ill one morning to get up, and puss came and scratched at my tent door. I took no notice; but not long after the doctor came to say that mine was a wise cat, for she had come to his tent and quietly sat down for her foot to be examined and have its usual bandaging. She was watched to see what she would do the next morning; but she declined wasting her time scratching for me, and went straight to the doctor's tent and scratched there. She was a very affectionate animal, and it was absurd to see her following me $1 75. all over the camp with her tail carried stiff in the air.

The School Marm.

Ladies traveling through Canada by rail are often greatly annoyed by having their luggage unecessarily searched; but one of the officials recently got his deserts. It September 3, 1874.--tf. happened that a Yankee school teacher, on her way from Kansas to Vermont, passed through the dominion, with a trunk to G. H. Dreher. bursting with nothing contraband. When the officer demanded her key she begged him not to open it, assuring him it had come through from Kansas, containing simply clothing and books, and so full it would be troublesome to repack it. But he sternly demanded the key, and maliciously pulled everything out to the bottom; then-finding her assertions were true-he returned her key and advised her to "hurry up and get the traps back," as the train would soon move. "What is that to me!" said the quick-witted woman; "I have a check for that trunk, and hold the Grand Trunk Railway responsible for its safe delivery. I will not take the key, and you may do what you please with the trunk." Report says that officer was weary and red in the face and rather profane before he got that trunk packed.
