POTTSVILLE BANK FAILURE.
Jacob Huntzinger Lodged in Jail.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 29.—This evening Jacob Huntzinger, late president of the Miners' Trust Bank, was re-arrested here. There are five counts in the charge against him, the first and second charging that by fraudulent dividends declared July, 1875 and 1876, he and his family drew $3440; the third and fourth counts charge the embezzlement of $59,100 from the sheriff, also of the funds remaining in the bank when the doors were closed; the fifth count charges that he received for a solvent bank over $114,000. In default of $238,000 he was committed to prison.

There is a fall of 20 per cent. in rubber goods since last year.

100 bushels of corn to the acre is not uncommon in Illinois.

The passenger receipts of the P. R. R. are said to be nearly $1,000,000 per week.

Dr. H. T. Helmbold, of "Buchu" notoriety, who has for a year or more been restrained of his liberty on the ground that he was insane, and who recently escaped again from the Pennsylvania Asylum, has turned up in New York. He was discovered at a hotel, penniless, dirty and careworn; but instead of being promptly returned to his old quarters, he has obtained the certificates of several physicians in that city that he is a sane man, and on the strength of these he has commenced a suit for the recovery of his property in order that he may establish himself in business in that city. This is altogether a strange turn. Meantime his wife has commenced a suit for a divorce based on the fact that he is insane, and there seems to be no good reason why she should not obtain it.

THE REAL ISSUE.

SPEECH OF SENATOR CONKLING AT UTICA
—A GOOD WORD FOR THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

On Tuesday evening Hon. Roscoe Conkling made his speech at Utica, to an audience of three thousand attentive listeners. The address was a candid and impressive review of the history of the Democratic party from the time of Andrew Jackson down to the present, with reference to its attitude the leading questions which have divided parties in that time. In this review he showed how the Democrats had been a party of conservatism and retrogression. The concluding portion of the address dealt with the reform issue, and on this the record of the opposition was taken as the index of what it would do if again entrusted with power. In conclusion the orator said—

In ten years, toward $500,000,000 of the debt has been paid, or nearly $80,000,000 a year. The annual interest has been reduced nearly $50,000,000. The annual taxes have been reduced $262,000. Since the war the annual expenditures, where the Democrats found them, have been reduced $27,000,000. Do you believe our opponents would have done or would do better than this? For nine months they had the power all the time in the House of Representatives to propose something. They reduced no tax, they did nothing to improve hard times; they cut off appropriations, most of which they will put back in deficiency bills; they removed Union soldiers from little places, and ransacking the whole government at home and abroad, they filled the land with noise about corruption, and found some instances in which men had betrayed their trusts and disgraced themselves.

I have spoken of some of the things done and to be done. They are not resolutions or talk or high sounding promises—they are deeds. The Republican party is not made up of theorists or critics or professional reformers or vain-glorious pretenders to supreme wisdom. Its task has been with actual, difficult, vast affairs. It has made mistakes, and the wonder is, not that it has made so many, but so few. Its counsels have in the main been guided by earnestness and good faith. Time will vindicate it. The people will vindicate it by their votes.

The opposition is masquerading for reform, but it is the same party, hostile in war and wrong in peace—it is the wolf, gaunt and hungry, the wolf wearing sheep's clothes. It seeks power, first by defaming its country and exaggerating facts, and second, by holding out hopes and expectations which politics, however administered, can no more fulfill than medicine can bestow eternal youth on man.

Looking at all the facts, my faith is, that the nation is safer to abide in the Republican ship. Man is restless and discontented at best; when times are hard, to change is the natural impulse; but to jump from the frying pan into the fire, is a change as foolish as it is familiar. Commercial and financial depression prevails throughout Europe and Great Britain, as well as here. In this country the business outlook is improving. Of this there are many signs, but there is one better than all. The people of all classes are economizing and saving—they have been saving for three years. A penny saved is a penny earned, and the nation's savings by economy since 1873, if footed up in figures, would amaze us all. The expenses of national government have been rigorously retrenched, also, and retrenchment will and must go on.

Let us have peace, liberty and order everywhere. Let an American citizen be as safe everywhere in his own land as he is on foreign soil. Let us have honesty and economy in all public affairs. Let us lift the public credit higher and higher. Let us have the treasury defended from every unjust demand. Let us make every dollar of currency as good as gold. To do all these things let us vote to keep the government in the hands of those who stood by it and saved it, and keep it out of the hands which sought to destroy it. The prospect of success is bright on every side. If it were not so I should still more regret being less able than usual to advocate a cause in which I never believed more earnestly than now. Trusting that New York will stand at the head of the column, and that no county will be laggard in the march, I thank you for your attention and trust that prosperity and success will attend you all.

JUDGE HENDERSON, of Lebanon county, at a late session of the Court of Quarter Sessions, issued an order forbidding the admission of boys into the court-room during the trial of cases. He based the order upon the demoralizing effects of the narration of crime upon the young. His position has been highly commended by the press in all parts of the State.

In speaking of the rebel war claims Mr. Bemis said, at the mass-meeting in Steuben county: "They want us to pay for the use of battle-fields on which we felled them, and their impudence goes so far as to demand rent for battle-grounds on which they licked us."

The Pennsylvania Republican state committee has arranged for fifty-six meetings within the next two weeks. The whole state is now reported to be thoroughly organized, and meetings are held nightly in every county, under the supervision of the local committees.

The late fair in Lehigh county was attended by about twenty-five thousand people.
