We are Cheated.

After spending three days last week at Milford, Pa., in fruitless balloting, and extraordinary displays of political knavery, the Democratic Congressional Conference of the 11th District adjourned to meet at this place on Tuesday, October 17th. The counties comprising the district were fully represented both in Conference and candidates, each county having one of the latter and some of them two. We are pleased to be able to announce that our standing candidate, the Hon. Anandus Orevus Greenwald, of the Monroe Democrat, held his own famously in all the balloting, of which there were some 110. A fair count and announcement of the vote of one at least of the ballots, would have shown our distinguished neighbor over the way to have been the real live candidate of the party for Congress; but this was not in the programme, and to meet the views of the opposing candidates who did not mean that our distinguished friend should undergo the burden of carrying congressional honors on his stalwart shoulders, he was cheated, yes, basely cheated out of his due, and we out of the pleasure of yielding him an earnest, hearty support. We have not as yet interviewed the Hon. Mr. Greenwald as to the manner in which the fraud sets on his tender gizzard, but presume that as a sacrifice for his party's good, he is willing to undergo a period of long suffering and meek submission to the behests of the friend who presided over the Conference. So far as we are concerned we can say that it makes but little difference, as our independence will enable us to support him in any way, but we do pity Anandus, for underneath his calm exterior there must a thorn rattle which is piercing him to his very soul. To be tickled by a complimentary vote from one's own county Conferees for a time is all well enough and pleasant enough, and one is prepared, as it were, for the drop which is sure to come at the proper and expected time; but to have one's popularity go up, up, up, ballot after ballot, and then, when the magic number one of a majority announces one's selection as the standard bearer of one's party for honors in a scramble for Congressional distinction, to have a political miscreant of a chairman kill the vote by the announcement of "no choice," is a disappointment which no fellow can stand, you know, without feeling that something has struck him. But never mind neighbor. We are, you know, to have another shy at the prize. We shall then have them on our own dunghill, and as you will have the JEFF. to add its coat, roll up its sleeves and join you in the consummation of your congressional aspirations, there is no telling what may be the end of it. Adopting as our motto "Greenwald and theology, or death," we think we must prove invincible even in a contest with Democratic bummers.

Mr. FRANK BEAMISH had no part in the business of Congressman-making at Milford last week. Frank had pressing business elsewhere; among other things a pleasant tete-a-tete with Judges Handley, Dana and Harding concerning his absence from Court the week before at Wilkes-Barre, where he should have been present to defend himself from the charge of embezzlement preferred against him by the Grand Jury. Frank is the regularly nominated Democratic candidate for Senator in his district. His friend Collins suffered, doubtless, from his absence at the conference.

JOHN TAYLOR JOHNSON has resigned the Presidency of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, and Edward C. Knight, President of the Bound Brook Railroad, has been elected to fill his place. Mr. Knight is a strong man, and the stock rose perceptibly on the announcement of his name. He is also President of the Guarantee Safe and Deposit Company of Philadelphia.

Stubborn Facts.

It is not a very pleasant thought, yet it is a thought founded on fact that every evil of which the country complains had its origin in the acts of the Democratic party.

The war which nearly desolated the country and which cost millions of Treasure and hundreds of thousands of lives had its origin in the acts of the Democratic party.

The heavy taxation which has bowed down the people of the country and so sadly interfered with the business prosperity of the nation had their origin in the acts of the Democratic party.

The heavy expenditures of the government growing out of debt, interest, pensions and the necessity of preserving a large standing army and navy had their origin in the acts of the Democratic party.

The moral degradation which prevails in the land, and renders our name a by word and reproach had its origin in the acts of the Democratic party.

The heavy stealing which left us without army and soldiers to defend ourselves against the assaults of rebels in 1861, had its origin in the acts of the Democratic party.

The turmoil and trouble which has ruled the South since 1861 had its origin in the acts of the Democratic party.

Every Rebel effort to disrupt the Union met the approval of the Democratic party.

Every Rebel victory during the war was rejoiced over by the Democratic party.

Every arrest of a rebel traitor or a northern sympathiser was condemned by the Democratic party.

Every effort to render treason odious during the war was condemned by the Democratic party.

All efforts to enforce the constitution and the laws in the South during the rebellion was condemned by the Democratic party.

All the acts of the Union Generals looking to the punishment of rebels were condemned by the Democratic party.

The emancipation of the slaves, one of the most effective blows struck at the rebellion was condemned by the Democratic party.

The massacre of Fort Pillow was approved by the Democratic party.

The Rebel raids in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Pennsylvania were approved by the Democratic party.

Grant's whipping of the rebels was condemned by the Democratic party.

All efforts since the war to restore order in the South, to secure republican forms of Government for the Southern people, and the right to vote in safety to every inhabitant without regard to caste, color or previous condition of servitude have been and are condemned by the Democratic party.

These stubborn facts, every one of them susceptible of proof from the record of the Democratic party, and yet the leaders have the impudence to ask the people to place the powers of the Government in their hands. Could anything more cheeky be imagined.

Extraordinary Yield.

MR. SAMUEL PHILLIPS and his son Charles, of Stroud township, during the past season had a water melon patch which produced a fine crop to repay them for the labor and acre expended upon it. One single vine among the lot planted produced thirteen melons whose aggregate weight reached 348 pounds. The weight of the single melons were respectively, 40, 35, 33, 31, 31, 30, 27, 26, 25, 18, 19, 17, and 15 pounds. After the vine had made a growth of about six inches it sent out five branches, with the above remarkable product as the result.

Surgical.

Wednesday, October 4th, Dr. Nathaniel Miller, assisted by Drs. Bush and Shull performed a remarkable operation on Mrs. Nolthofer, of this place. She had been afflicted with a fibrous tumor seated in the abdominal wall above the right groin, for the last 18 years. Latterly she had been prostrated and could see no promise of relief except in removal, which was done as above stated. The tumor weighed 5 pounds. Notwithstanding her prostration, there now seems to be a fair prospect of her recovering, the wound, we are informed being already about one-third healed.

People often wonder how it is that there is such a rush at the New York Store, which is a fact that all speak of. We think the reason is plainly to be seen by all who trade there, for their prices are certainly lower than the lowest. And they are doing their business on the principle they advocate, that is, to sell for cash at cash prices, and have but one price for all and that price the lowest. Then, too, you can get almost any thing in their line as they confine themselves to their legitimate line of trade, and so can offer a larger assortment, which fact can be fully appreciated by a tired shopper.

A CORRECTION.—In the publication of the court proceedings last week in the case of the commonwealth vs. Alfred Smith, our reporter made the case appear contrary to the facts in evidence, and made the prosecutor to appear rather ridiculous. Mr. James A. Young, of Tobyhanna Mills, the prosecutor, is a gentleman who is highly respected by all who know him, and would under no circumstances crowd himself into a place where he thought he was not wanted. Mr. Young had often taken passage on this conductor's train before, and always paid his fare, and intended to do so, at the time in question, but out of vindictiveness was unceremoniously jostled off the train. He was ready to pay his fare, or to step off if it was against the rules, but defendant gave him no time to do either. Besides, Mr. Young would never have attempted to ride on the freight train or any other but the passenger train if he could have reached his place of destination by the passenger train. But passenger trains do not stop at Pocono switch and freight trains do, and that was the place where his business called him on this as well as many other occasions.—Democrat.

OUR flag now bears 38 stars.

If the Confederate Democrats were not in earnest about collecting rebel claims, why, in the name of common sense, did they introduce bills into Congress that would, if passed, call for $2,500,000,000?

GEORGIA held an election on the 3d gave the Democratic ticket over fifty thousand majority. That's where Tilden and "Reform" are popular. The rebels always did vote that way. A Republican has no business to live in that State, much less attempt to vote. Hardly a colored man was to be seen on election day. The Tilden rifle clubs were too much for them.

Mr. Robt. Blair, of East Stroudsburg, telegraph repairer of the Western Union Telegraph Co's line, whilst engaged on Tuesday last repairing the wire on one of the poles, on the line above Scranton, the pole broke, precipitating Mr. B. to the ground fracturing the large bone above the ankle-joint of the left leg, and in addition to the fracture Mr. B. was severely bruised.

Mr. M. L. Keene of Stroud township received a similar call last week from a party of these contemptible scoundrels, who took away a wagon load of turkeys and chickens.

A MAN named Lorenzo D. Cummings, a shoemaker by trade, who had been working at the Delaware Water Gap, while walking on the railroad, Del. Lak. & W. R. R. below the Gap, on the morning of September 27th, was accidentally struck and killed by a passing train of cars. The deceased was a man of about 50 years of age, well dressed, and when found had on his person $19.15 in money. His remains were taken to Newark, N. J. by his friends for interment.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Last Friday Wm. Dupue, living at the Delaware Water Gap, and an employee of the D. L. & W. Railroad had his left hand very badly mashed while in the act of coupling cars. It seems no bones were broken but the muscles and arteries were so severely crushed that the member presented a fearful sight. Dr. L. Bush was called to attend him and did all in his power for him to save the hand, in which he may be successful—but we are informed it is doubtful.

ONE of the cases against F. A. Beamish came up in court at Wilkes-Barre on Monday, but Mr. Beamish failed to put in appearance, his bail Mr. Lynch stating that he was detained by sickness in his family. A bench warrant was issued to compel his attendance, but the officer to whom it was given failed to find him, and his bail has been forfeited. Thus the notorious F. A. Beamish, who has by his shrewdness evaded all the various methods to bring him to an honorable settlement with the school board, after having on various pretexts had the cases which were finally brought against him in the courts postponed from time to time, was at last brought to the ultimatum of squarely meeting the charges or becoming fugitive, and like Tweed, he chose the latter. How ever long he may keep himself from the clutches of the law and fill of his just deserts, this last act will be considered by the people as a confession of guilt. And this self-confessed default is the Democratic candidate for Senator in this district. Can any man of honesty or self-respect vote for him?—Scranton City Journal.

Van Amburgh's Big Show.

The Van Amburgh combination of Menagerie, Circus and Colosseum will exhibit at Stroudsburg, on Monday Oct. 16th inst., at 1 and 7 o'clock P. M. This is its first appearance in Stroudsburg, however, for a number of years, but the character of the establishment is very familiar to us. Van Amburgh & Co., were in Toronto early last week, and from that excellent paper the Globe, which only criticises an entertainment upon its merits, we extract the following:

Van Amburgh's well known menagerie and circus company arrived in this city yesterday morning, and after the usual parade through the streets which was witnessed by a large concourse of spectators, the hippodromic entertainment commenced by an afternoon performance on the grounds on Greenville street. The large tent was crowded with spectators, and the various arenic scenes were received with continued applause. Among the specialties, the horsemanship displayed by Master Charles Watson, is deserving special notice. The youthful equestrian is one of the cleverest in the profession, and the dexterity which he displays on horseback is astonishing. The performance of W. B. Carrol, and his youthful son Leon, who stands erect on his father's head while the horses are in full running, was very clever, and elicited the hearty applause of the audience. Much laughter was caused by the trained mules, which under the manipulation of Mr. Foster, were very amusing. The feats of strength by Mr. Gaffney were heartily applauded, and the performances of the Langlois were received with much applause. Mile. DeGranville, the "lady with the iron jaws," is a marvel in her way, and held the immense audience spellbound. Her feats of strength were perfectly astonishing, and among the things accomplished was her lifting a barrel filled with water with her teeth. Various other specialties of equestrianism, button leaping, etc., were heartily applauded; the afternoon's performance concluding with a concert, the principal attraction being the nuptial display of Miss Lubin, who remained completely submerged in a large tank of water for a period of three minutes and six seconds. This lady cats, drinks, reads, writes and sews under the water, and is without doubt the champion swimmer of the world. At the evening performance there was a large crowd present, and the several arena scenes were heartily enjoyed. The menagerie attached to the circus containing many valuable wild animals, including lions, tigers, jaguars, &c., attracted much attention.

OHIO AND INDIANA.

Defeat of the Rebel Democracy in both the Western States.

The latest despatches of the election in the above named States, show that they both have gone Republican, Ohio by 7,000 and Indiana by 3,000 majority. This settles the hash of the ought-to-reform Democracy.
