The Southern mail of yesterday brings us additional accounts of the movements of Gen. He left Baton Rouge on Wednesday evening, the 24th ult,, on the steamer Princess, for his plantation, where he would remain until the 31st, when he would leave for Vickebarg, on board the steamer which was to convey him to Nashville, reaching Vicksburg that night He would be accompanied by quite a number of friends, among them Mr. Benjamin one of the Louisiana electors; the Hon. Bailey Peyton, Wm L. Hodge, the able editor of the Bulletin; Mr. Van Allen, of New York, and Maj. Garrett of the army. Stopping t few hours at Memphis, he would proceed to Nashville, and thence via Louisville, Cincinnati, Frankfort, Wheeling, Pittsburgh, and Baltimore, to Washington, where he hopes to arrive about the 20th instant. The N. O. Picayune of the 27th ultimo, publishes the following order, announcing the final withdrawal of Gen. Taylor from the military service of the country. Though called to higher and more responsible duties, we can readily conceive, says the Picagune, the pain it has cost him to sunder his connection with the army. It is more than lorty years since he received his commission from President Jefferson as lieutenant of the 7th Infantry. Never was a military career more perfect in its proportions. In each grade of the service, he won honorable distinction, and the crowning glory of his military life was not achieved until after he had attained by brilliant deeds, the highest military rank known to our laws .placed him in a position to develope the great capacities of his nature on the grandest theatre of action. The qualities of his mind are of the heroic sort, which adapt men for momentous issues. No shade of distrust disturbs our anticipations that the civil career of Gen. Taylor will confer new splendors upon himself and his country.

Baton Rouge, Jan. 25, 1849 [ORDERS NO. 1.]

Having received official notice of the ceptance of his resignation, Maj. Gen. Taylor relinquishes the command of the Western Division, which, in conformity with "General Orders" No. 1, will be assumed by Maj. Gen. Gaines.

In resigning his command to the veteran sion of his regret at his separation from a ser- 10 months. vice to which he is attached by so many pleasing and proud associations. To the officers and men who have served his immediate orders, he would here express his parting thanks for their zealous and cordial support in the execution of the duties confided to him during a long and eventful service. To them and to all he extends a heartfelt farewell. and his warmest wishes for their continued happiness and success in the arduous and phorable career which they have chosen.

to his departure for Washington, to assume the duties of President of the United States. The correspondent of the Pioayune says the procession formed at 11 o'clock, and proceeded to the residence of Gen. Taylor, who received his visiters with his usual kindness of manner, and an animated conversation ensued, mainly confined to matters of personal interest, such as usually takes place between neighbors and intimate friends. After having partaken of some refreshments, the General was, at the instance of many present, addressed by J. B. Thorpe, Esq., in the following language :-

"General-1 have been deputed by you fellow citizens to bid you their adieus on this interesting occasion. It is with painful emotions that they have assembled to say farewell. In parting with you, nothing reconciles them to their loss, except the full knowledge that you are needed by your country elsewhere. Believe me, General, when I say, that you will leave behind you in Bufon Rouge, a united community of personal friends, every member of which, young and old, joins in a heartfelt prayer that you and your family may, in your future home, be blessed with long life, continued health and unbounded prosperity."

To which Gen. Taylor, with much er tion, replied in the following words:-

"Gentlemen, I assure you it is with feelings of no ordinary character, that 1 meet with my fellow-citizens on this occasion. many of whom I have been associated with for more than a quarter of a century. Had I consulted my own wishes, I should have much preferred to retain the office I am now about to vacate, and have remained among you; but the people have, without my solicitation. seen fit to elevate me to another, and although I fear I am not qualified to discharge the great and important duties imposed upon me, yet be assured, fellow-citizens, I shall endeavor to fulfil them without regard to fear, favor or affection for any one.

"Permit me, my friends, at parting, to invoke God's blessing upon you all, and may He grant that you and your families may enjoy long life and prosperity- Farewell."

The general delivered the above address with unusual feeling, and it was responded to in a truly heartfelt manner by many grayhaired citizens, who have for so many years been his friends and neighbors.

Gen. Taylor's Family.

The family of Gen. Taylor, accompa by Col. Blies and lady, arrived in New Oreans on the 26th, from Baton Rouge, and would proceed to Washington in few days by the Southern route.

The Massachusetts Anti-Slavery Society ha been lately holding a convention at Faneuil Hall, and adjourned on Friday week. Amon other resolutions they adopted one declaring that "the one great object to be attempted and achieved is the immediate dissolution of the ven Union."

> THE GOLD MANIA.—The rage for the California gold region still continues. Vessel after vessel is leaving at the different ports, and a large number are advertised for sailing soon. That nine tenths will reap disappointment instead of a fortune.

This has ever been the case, as all history proves, and if California should prove an tariff of 1842, the imports of pig iron were exception, it will be the only one the world 13,918 tons, which in 1847 under the efhas produced.

A POINTED SAYING.

George Lippard writes many truths, and prints them in his Quaker City. But he never wrote a more truthful or pointed saying, than the following: "Never answer a calumniator. If you will only ive a rattlesnake time enough, he will bite him-if, and die of his own venom."

We have clipped the above from the Bradford Reporter, and would ask the editor if he thinks the "saying" applicable to editors of newspapers. If so, how will he reconcile it with his unjustifiable and unrovoked abuse of Gen. Cameron. The General no doubt is of Mr. Lippard's opinon, as he never permits these squibs to disturb his equanimity.

The address of the Convention of portion of Southern members, in relation to the subject of slavery, is now published in pamphlet form. It is written by John C. Calhoun, and is signed by only a portion of the Southern members of Congress, many of them refusing to give their sanction to the dangerous and peculiar doctrines of such men as Mr. Calhoun, threatening disunion in case their demands are not complied ORGANIZATION OF THE CANAL BOARD-

THE ICE BUSINESS .- According to a writer in the Philadelphia Ledger, the number of ice houses above the dam on the Schuylkill is 20, varying, in capacity, from 500 to 5,000 tons each. The amount of ice secured this season, is estimated at 60. 000 tons. The cost of a house capable of holding 5,000 tons is about $5,000. The time consumed in filling such a house, is nearly three weeks, with fifty hands per day, besides several horses. The cost may therefore be estimated, allowing the hands $1 per day, at $1000, or 20 cents per ton. This we presume is nearly the expense at

THE TARIFF OF 1846.

The result of Secretary Walker's ad valorem system is beautifully exemplified in the prostration of nearly all our Iron Works. In Danville, of the numerous works, but one furnace is in operation, and that will cease when the stock on hand is consumed. The great influx of iron from England, under the ruinous prices there, is the cause, and no one but a knave or a dunce would presume to deny it. In 1846 under the fects of the tariff of 1846 increased to 44,-993 tons, and in 1848 to 90,245 tons, or tons: in 1848, 162,151 tons. Thus, while the exports of English iron to other countries, in two years, has been decreased 33,-000 tons, the exports to this country have been increased 66,000 tons. Now the result of all this must be, that our iron works must stop; our home markets be depressed; our canal tolls decreased, and our State taxes increased to make up the deficiency.

The North Branch Canal Extension. HARRIBURG, Feb. 2, 1849. I mentioned in my last letter that the compassengers in the first Cabin, and 110 in the second. Among the list of passengers on of the valley of the Susquehanna with the in the first Cabin, will be found the names great Western Lakes, opening a convenient avenue for exchanging the rich mineral staand Edward M. Hall, who left this place a ples of Pennsylvania for those of New York, is a measure which ought to grow in favor .-When, in 1841, the financial difficulties and embarrassments compelled the state to direct a suspension of work-on all unfinished lines ment, the ship Xylon punctually left this port of improvement there had been expended on what was termed the North Branch Extension, the sum of 83,484,939 60. When the work was thus stopped, that portion of the line extending from the Lackawanna rivpassengers, the whole arrangements being er to the northern boundary of Pennsylvania under the immediate direction of Messrs. a distance of 94 miles, had detached section upon it completed, amounting in the aggre gate to 321 miles, and upon the remaining distance, 61 miles, more or less work ha been done upon almost every mile. The dimensions of this canal correspon with the other State Canals below it, having a width of 28 feet on the bottom; 40 feet at the surface, and 4 feet deep of water. The locks are 90 feet long by 17 feet wide in the chamber; and the lockage from the mouth of the Lackawanna to the State line averages but little over ten feet to the mile! Its capacity, when completed, would therefore be ample to pass one million of tons each way, per annum. The estimated cost of the various descriptions of work yet remaining to be done, is $1,106,037. This amount is contemplated for a permanent and useful work dispensing with all ornament and only providing fo what is necessary to make it substantial. This completed, and we could at the very least supply with coal-without possible competition from any quarter-all the country west of Utica, inclusive, comprising a geographical area of more than one half of the State of New York. There being no duty on this description of coal in Canada, it would be introduced there, and find its way, through the Welland Canal, upon all the upper lakes. It is estimated by the friends of the Extension that when completed, Wyoming coal can be delivered at Buffalo for $5,50 per ton, and at Oswego, on Lake Ontario, for $5; paying at these prices a better profit than it now sells in the Atlantic cities.

The Salt Works of New York alone wou probably consume at once 75,000 tons per year. There is now consumed at Syracuse and other salt villages, not less than 400 cords of wood per day; and it is brought, in some cases, a distance of 20 or 30 miles.

It is a fair estimate, that the very first year after the completion of the Canal, not less than 300,000 tons of coal would find ready sale northward. The bituminous coal field of Bradford county should also not be left out of view, as another means of revenue to this Canal. In every light the measure can be viewed, it is a good one, and ought to be in a speech of great earnestness. The prin cipal portion of his speech was in opposition to the system now adopted in regard to the ocean mail steamers. In reply to the remarks made by Mr. Niles, on a former occasion, he charged that gentleman with having turned a somerset on the tariff question. Nor was this the only question which he (Mr. N.) had acted in opposition to the party to which he professed to be indentified with. Other instances were alluded to and animadverted

The Senate took up the consideration of the bill for a still further reduction of the rates of postage. Mr. Allen, of Ohio, addressed the Senate

Mr. Niles replied. He said that if a somerset had been made, it had been made by the other party. Parties sometimes lost sight of their most cherished principles; but his conscience did not accuse him of tergiversation in the matter. As for the gentleman from Ohio, he (Mr. Niles) accused him of the feat which had been attributed to himself. Not only had Mr. Allen made a somerset on the tariff question, but he had done so at Executive dictation.

[There was a further discussion between hese gentleman, in which frequent allusion was made to alleged political inconsistencies

Mr. Pearce was opposed to the free circulation of newspapers. He thought that the interests of the public would not be advanced by such a measure. He was in favor of low uniform rate of postage for newspapers. The debate was further continued by Messrs, Dickinson and Westcott, when, on

He believed, he said, in the existence of this protocol, and in case it was not produced upon this call of the House, he would move for the appointment of a Committee, with power to send for persons and papers.

Mr. Houston, of Alabama, followed, replying to Mr. Stephens' remarks with considerable warmth. He alluded to the letter written by Mr. Buchanan to the Mexican Government on the subject, and said that the letter was similiar in its tenor to the protocol.

Here Mr. Houston was interrupted (on leave) and interrogated by Messrs. Stephens

HORSE AND CATTLE MEDICINES. permit your Horses or cattle to die, when

The undersigned has spent several years in the study of Veterinary practice in "London and Edinbore", he has also availed himself of the researches of Leibig, and other celebrated men, who have contributed so much towards a judicious treatment of animals; the principles of our practice combining the rejection of general bleeding and the total rejection of all medicines that experience has shown to be of a dangerous tendancy. These remedies act in harmony with the vital principle, and when given according to the directions which accompany each article they are capable of exciting and increasing the natural functions, without diminishing or destroying their power, hence are safein the hands of every one.
