"What a feast!" said Terry. 'Jolly dogs! I should like to make one of them.'

"I'll take any bet,' returned Hook, 'that I do-call for me at ten o'clock, and you will find that I shall be able to give a tolerable account of the worthy gentleman's champagne and venison." So saying, he marched up the steps, gave an authorative rap with the knocker, and was quickly lost to the sight of his astonished companion.—As a matter of course he was immediately ushered by the servant as an expected guest, into the drawing-room, where a large party had already assembled. The apartment being well nigh full, no notice was at first taken of his intrusion, and half a dozen people were laughing at his bon-mots, be-fore the host discovered the mistake. Affecting not to observe the visible embarrassment of the latter, and ingeniously avoiding any opportunity for explanation, Hook rattled on till he had attracted the greater part of the company in a circle round him, and some considerable time had elapsed ere the old gentleman was able to catch the attention of the agreeable stranger.
"I beg your pardon, sir,' he said, con-

PENSIONS TO SOLDIERS WIDOWS. The following is the act of the late Congress extending the benefits of the Pension System to the Widows of those who have served the country in a military capacity.

Chapter 62 .- An Act granting five years' half-pay to certain widows and orphaus of officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates, both regulars and vol-

Sec 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of American in Congress Assembled. The the provi sions of the second section of the act entitled "An act amending the act entitled "An act granting half-pay to widows or orphans, where their husbands and fathers have died of of wounds received in the military service of the United States, in cases of deceased officers and soldiers of the militia and volunteers," approved July 21, 1848, shall be so constructed as to embrace all widows or orphans of officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians, and privates whether of the regular army or of volunteers, who have received an honorable discharge, or who remained to the date of their death in the military service of the United States, and who have died since their return to their usual place of residence, of wounds received or from disease contracted while in line of duty subject to such rules, regulations and restrictions as the Secretary of War, by the 3d section of said act, is authorized to impose-Approved Feb. 22d, 1849.

This act grants five years' half-pay to the widows or children of those soldiers only who either died in the service of the United States or died after being honorably discharged therefrom, of wounds received or diseases contracted therein. No distinction is made between those serving in the regular army the whole time, or we should have a sorry and volunteers or militia. It makes no distinction between those who served respectively in the several wars in which our country has been engaged, and those who served only in time of peace are included, provided they died in the service or of wounds received or diseases contracted therein.

THE COAL TRADE

The coal operators in Schuylkill county have still further extended the time for a resumption of shipments, and will, we are assured by the Miners' Journal, continue the suspension until the middle of the season, if it shall be necessary to seeme and maintain fair and reasonable prices. The quantity at Port Richmond is now reduced to about 16 .-000 tons, while the quantity sent to market from the Schuylkill region this season, falls short of the supply to the same period last year full 98,000 tons Including this deficiency, after allowing the other regions all they claim, it will require an increase in the shipments from the Schovlkill region of at least 300,000 tons, to supply the market. There is, therefore, every prospect that prices before the close of the season, will rule high and while we sincerely hope that the operators may secure what they with so much justice demand, we look auxiously for an early resumption of trade.

The shipments by non-subscribers continue on a small scale, but there is an unusual degree of manimity and determination among those who have suspended as well as those MILITIA TRAININGS .- Frequent at- engaged in other business dependent on the were 34.187 tons .- Daily News

Nauvoo, Ill., March 21, 1849. Although Nauvoo has been reduced from her proud position of an important and flourishing city-although her population has been diminished to one-fourth of what it was under the dynasty of its frantic founder, yet a new era is now dawning on the humble capi tai of Mormonism; a new impulse bids fair to make it far surpass, in substantial prosperity, its palmiest days of Mormon pride. Duly a week since, there was an arrival at this city, of three hundred citizens of France, who were seeking that repose in the quiet of our own well-regulated Government, which they could not enjoy amid the stormy and proscriptive spirit which has so long agitated heir own country. This band of emigrants, struck with the picturesque beauty of the place, and impressed with the fertility of the surrounding country and the healthfulness of the locality, have come to the conclusion that no place can be better adapted to their wants than Nauvoo. This company of emigrants is headed by the distinguished Cabet, who is determined to make this place a nucleus for emigration. It said that seven handred, who belong to the same association, are expected to meet their friends here in a short time. and that thirty thousand, who are still in France, and who are said to belong to the same brotherly fraternity, will emigrate and settle with their brethren who are already in the United States, under the flattering expectations that Nauvoo will be made the nucleus of this emigration.
