Distress and Disease The fearful state of affairs in Mayo is most painfully exhibited in the following statement, which appears in the Mayo Constitution: "During the quarter sessions of Westport we witnessed scenes which we believed no state of misery or suffering could have brought about. It was that of hearing seventeen unfortunate creatures convicted of various crimes, imploring of the court to transport them from their native country, as their only refuge from the horrors of death from hunger."

THE CHOLERA. - Superadded to the affictions that have fallen upon the devoted prowinces of Commught, the present epidemic seems to have set in there with far more fatal effect than in any other portion of the kingdom subjected to the visitation. The accounts from Ballinrobe, in the county of Mayo, continue to be of a most distressing nature, the disease sweeping the people off by scores each day, while the cases of recovery are so few as to be scarcely worth mentioning. The pestilence has also broken out with great virulence in the workhouses of Ballinasloe.

It is said that M. Napoleon Bonaparte has been recalled, or rather dismissed from Madrid. Certain it is, that he was known to be on his way to Paris. M. Napoleon is reported to have protested against the suicidal intentions of France in the affairs of Rome. The Journal des Debats announces that the French Minister at Turin has been instructed by his government to reject the terms of peace attempted to be enforced by Marshal Radetsky. It adds that orders have been forwarded to the Sardinian Admiral Albin to remain in the Adriatic until the existing difficulties have been removed. In the Assembly, on the 23d, the bill for indemnifying the proprietors of slaves in the French Colonies passed its second reading. Borin, on the 20th inst., fighting continually for many hours in the streets before the town was evacuated by the Danes. The loss in killed and wounded is not given .-Hamburg papers of the 24th contain no fur ther intelligence from Kalding, except that the city has suffered much from fire. The German troops are in quiet possession. It is ascertained that steps have been taken to induce Leopold, king of the Belgians, to act the part of mediator. Whether he will or not accept this office is not yet known, the last accounts were that the Danes were assembling in large numbers on the heights beyond Kalding.

PRUSSIA.

It was rumored at Berlin, on the 17th, that the king of Prussia had determined to accept the imperial crown, on condition that the acceptance of the constitution should be suspended until after its revision at the sitting of the Chambers on the 22d. A resolution accepting the constitution as it stands was strongly opposed by Count Brandinburg in the name of the government, alleging that the alteration made on the 2d reading at Frankfort rendered it impossible for Prussia to accept it unconditionally: the resolution was, however, carried by a majority of 179

The Mayor of the city having been informed early in the evening, that there was a probably of a disturbance, took measures to prevent its occurrence. A large body of police was called out, and orders issued to Major Gen. Sandford, to hold a number of troops readiness sufficient to quell the outbreak.
