MRS. OSGOOD'S LAST POEM. We publish below from the Boston Transcript, the last lines of the departed poctessthe swan's dying song. The Transcript says it was written on the 7th ult., and it will be seen that Mrs. Oscoop had a full premonition of her approaching end. She was well aware that she would not live to see the roses of June. Her presentiment has been fulfilled. She saw the white and crimson blossoms and the green buds of the young spring; but not its fruit and flowers. She well knew, however, that they would come forth in their season, though her mortal senses might be sealed to their hues and their fragrance ; and she was equally assured that there was a life within the busk of our animal organization which would bloom imperishable when our material part was dust and ashes. Strong in this faith, she welcomed "death's gracious angel" with serenity and a child-like trust. Long will her many friends lament her early departure, and feel how "blessings brighten as they take their leave"-and that

"When such friends part,

"Tis the survivor dies !"

The lines which follow were addressed to "a lovely young girl who came one evening to amuse her, by making paper flowers, and teaching her to make them. You know how much she loved the beautiful."

You've woven roses round my way And gladdened all my being ; How much I thank you none can say

Save only the All-seeing.

May He who gave this lovely gift, This love of lovely doings, Be with you whersoe'er you go,

In ev'ry hope's pursuings!

I'm going thro' the Eternal gates Ere June's sweet roses blow !

Death's lovely Angel leads me there-And it is sweet to go.

THE CLAIMS ON PORTUGAL .- The news from Portugal is that the American minister will be withdrawn from that country, unless the claims made by our Government be forthwith paid. The U.S. Government refuses to arbitrate, and like a sheriff with an unfortunate debtor in hand, says: "You must pay up sir," "you must pay up." The Portuguese are getting uneasy and seem to fear that Brother Jonathan will show his fraternal feel-" ing, something in the same manner that the high sheriff of the seas, John Bull, does towards delinquents to his own countrymen. by blockade and bombardment.  Very few families indeed—in fact we have not heard of one—thut ased Dr. To wasend's Surapartiale in line, but any children the past Summer, while those that did not, sickened and died. The cereifeste we publish below is one disverse or disserties, and is only mather instances of its series of its vehice, and is only mather instances of its series of the series. That two children enred by your Saraparila of the surface complaint and dynamizer, when we very much reduced, and we expected they would die, they were given up to two respectable physicans. When the doctin informed as that we must hear then, we reasily we to try your Saraparila we had heard as much of, but had little confidence, there being so much stuff advertised that is worthless: but we are thankful that we did, for it unionintelly saved the fives of both. "The three armies of San Salvado, Nicaragua and Honduras, amounting to 5000 men, will soon march to Guatemala, to oblige her to enter into the Federation, and to adhere to whatsoever treaty they may then make with the United States in regard to protection or annexation, as the States of Guatemala and Costa Rica (not the people, but the Government) have been utterly bribed by Mr. Chatfield the English Consul, by which nation they are offered alliance and protection.22

GRAIN.-Unusually large movements in corn and wheat are taking place at the West and North west, principally to supply the New Orleans market and the California emigrants, who are crossing through Missouri .--There is also considerable inquiry in New York, for New Orleans account. In Southwestern Ohio, on the 13th ult., good wheat readily commanded 110 to 115c. Of 39,000 which took the only first premium, awarded by bushels received by one commission house the Franklin Institute at their last exhibition. in St. Louis, on the 14th, by way of the river, nearly all was sold previous to arrival.

MORE OF THE ELEPHANT BONES .- Capt. Cutter left at this office, yesterday, a rib of an elephant, found near by where the tusk. mentioned some days since, was dug up. It is supposed this rib belonged to the same animal. The rib is near three feet long, nearly turned to rock, but bearing unmistakeable signs of its identity, as an elephant's rib. A curiosity, indeed, as it seems to establish that the elephant was once an inhabitant of this region .- Cincinnati Commercial, 20th ult.

SURBENDER OF A BEAUTY .- The celebrated spring, was in her day one of the most fascinating of her sex, and exerted a prodigious influence by her talents, grace and beauty, through a long series of years. The duration of her personal attractions extended far bewond the ordinary term, but when at length the long bright day drew toward a close, no declining beauty ever accepted with more amiable conduct the realization of the unwel. come truth that "all that's bright must fade" some time or other.
