Anti-Dyspeptic Elizir.

Mr. James Williams:

Dear Si: :—It gives me great pleasure to know that you are again preparing you medicine for the cure of Dyspepsin, for many of my acquaintmeets have ropeatedly asked me where it could be produced, knowing that I had been cured by it. As I think that a public asknowledgment of the great benefit I have received from the use of your medicine is not only due to you, but may be useful to others, I now make it. For several years! suffered from Dyspepsia, which increased to such an extent that my health and constitution were rapidly saking under it. I was compelled to restrict myself to the most simple food, and even that I could not digest. I felt a loss of strength, disinchination to exercise, and, as you have it in your advertisement, a general feeling of depression and indescribable weariness. In the year Isis, bearing from others high recommendation of your Anti-Dyspeptic Elixir, I procured and used it with the most happy effect; under it influence languor and warrisess gradually passed away, and my appetite returned which I could gratify with impanity. Ten years have now clapsed, and my confidence in the curative powers of your medicine has of course increased, for it completely curat me when I failed to othain relief from any other source.

Very respectfully yours.

Testimony of Edward H. Rowley, Wholesale Merchant of the firm of Rowley, Ashbumer & Co., No 5 Suth Wharves, in proof of the efficacy of Williams' Anti-Dyspeptic Elixir.

PHILADELPHIA, October 31, 1846. PRILADRIPHIA, October 31, 1546.

Several years since I was attacked with a breaking out on my neck in the form of Tetter, which I am convinced was contracted at the Barber's Shoe. It grandfully extended over my face until it reached the upper part of the checks. During the several months that it continued spreading, I used different applications, some of which had the official apprently at least, of increasing the disease, but from some of them did I perceive the least benefit until I applied the Rose Outrast. By the use of one jar of it, I was perfectly cured and have remained free of the affection.

I have since used the Ointment, lightly applied for rough-best of the face, blotches, charged hands, &c. With per-fect sneeds. I have no hesitation in recommunding it in the strongest manner to the public. Agent-Henry Masser, Sambury, July 28, 1819. JAMES DEVOE.
