On the Union-from a Unit.

BY MARYIN P. TEPPER.

Giant aggregate of nations, Glarinus whole of glorious parts, Unto entless generations Live United, hands and hearts ! Be it storm or summer weather,

Penceful culm, or buttle-par, Signal in beautious strength together, Sister States, as Now we are! Every petty class-dissention,

Heal it up, as quick as thought; Every pultry plans-proteisian, Coish it, as a thing of mought. Let no marrow private treases Your great on word progress but, But remain, in right and reason, Sister States, as New ye are !

Fling away about ambitim! People bave that toy to kings: Envy, jenlaczy, saspielon, Be above such groveting things! In each other's jays delighted All your hate be-jays of war, And by all means keep United

Sister States, as New yeare! Were I but some secondal stranger. Still my coursel would be just; Break the band, and all is danger, Mutual tent and dark distrust;

But, you know me for a leather And a tribuil, who speaks from far, Be as one then with each other, Sister States, as Now ye are I If it seeins a thing tabuly

Freedom's soil by slaves to till, Yet, be just! and somely, slowly, Nobly care that succest ill; Shorty—hasto is faful ever; Nubly—lost good faith ye mat; Sagely-mit in writh to sever Sister States, as Now yours!

Charm'd with your commingled beauty England souls the signal round, "Every man must do his duty?" To redeem from bunds the bound! Then indeed your butter's brightness Shining clear than overy star Shall proclaim your joint open https:// Slater States, as Now ye are! So; a position constallation May those main foregor blaze ! Three and ten-times breefold nation, Go afront in prover and period!

Like the many breasted goldless Throned on her Ephesian ear, Be -me heart in many bolles! Sister States, as New ye are!
