THE MAINE LIQUOR LAW. But little has been said in regard to the passage of this law, since the last session of the legislature. The friends of the law have not, however, been idle, for we perceive that in all the Temperance Conventions and meetings, held of late, this question has been the prominent topic of discussion, and resolutions have been invariably passed, declaring their undivided opinion in favor of the law.

SUNBURY AND ERIE RAIL ROAD. The Engineers, we understand, have nearly completed the location of the road from Sunbury to Williamsport. The road will cross to the west side of the river a short distance below the Muncy Dam. A meeting favorable to the road was held at Milton on Thursday evening last, which was addressed by Mr. Miller the President of the road. Mr. Miller also addressed the citizens of Lock Haven, on Monday evening last, on the subject of this great improvement.

We understand the Susquehanna Company appointed a committee of three to meet a similar committee, appointed by the Sunbury and Erie Company, to confer with each other on the subject of compromising the difficulties in regard to the construction of the road from Sunbury to Williamsport. This is right. The concentrated energies of both companies will be required to complete the road westward from Sunbury.

It is said the Senate will reject Mr. Braden's nomination for the U. S. Supreme Court.

ERICSSON'S CALORIC ENGINE.

This new engine, which, if successful, will in a measure supersede the steam engine, and effect another revolution in motive power throughout the world, already attracts considerable attention. Two engines one of sixty and the other of five horse power have been constructed in New York, intended for a ship now building in that city, and which from experiment, promises to be eminently successful.

The principle which forms the basis of the Caloric Engine, is that of returning the heat at each stroke of the piston, and using it over and over again. This is obviously impossible if steam is employed as the acting medium. Captain Ericsson therefore employs the atmospheric air. The object which he has accomplished is simply this: that the heat contained in the air which escapes from the working cylinder is re-accumulated taken up by the air which enters it at each stroke of the engine. This result Captain Ericsson has accomplished by means of an apparatus which he styles a regenerator; and so perfectly does it operate, that the heat employed in first setting the engine in motion continues to sustain it in full working force, with no other renewal or addition than may be requisite to supply the inconsiderable loss by radiation.

This remarkable invention was first brought before the scientific world in London in the year 1833, though it had then been a favorite subject of speculation and reflection with its inventor for many years.

PHILADELPHIA & SUNBURY RAIL ROAD.

By an advertisement in our columns this week, for 50,000 crosses, for the purpose of relaying this road, it will be seen that this important improvement is at last in a fair way of completion. The contractors, Messrs. McGrann & Barry, are about putting on a strong force for the purpose of grading that portion of the road between Shamokin and Ashland, a distance of about twelve miles, where it will connect with the Mine Hill extension, and form a complete connection with the Reading Rail Road at Pottsville and Schuylkill Haven.

The Milton Democrat publishes a resolution said to have been passed in our recent County Convention, in opposition to a subscription to any of the proposed rail roads by the Commissioners of the County. We were not present at the time and know nothing of the resolutions. We published all the proceedings that were sent to us for that purpose.

Colonel Wallace of the sun says: Tamagua, Pa., is supplied with water from Rabbit Run, two miles distant, and such is the head that water can be thrown through a hose with a force that renders fire engines unnecessary.

The Colonel, no doubt, means Rabbit Run. Fire engines would hardly be necessary to force to "Rabbit Run" which generally gets into the "head" without the aid of an engine.

Wm. Wilson one of the Commissioners of this County, comes out in a card in the Milton papers, declaring that he is opposed to subscribing $200,000 to the Railroad Company and that he had not signed a paper to that effect. We were not aware that the commissioners had been charged with having done so.

Our neighbor of the Gazette was mistaken in saying that the letting of the Philadelphia and Sunbury Rail Road was had in this place. Also in regard to the Northumberland Bridge. The contractor's name is Kirkbride not Kirkpatrick. Nor does he get the old timber in, but must pay for it, which amounts to about $4000 or one third of the contract price.

The Senate confirmed the appointment of Solomon D. Hubbard, of Connecticut, as Postmaster-General, and that of John T. Towers as Superintendent of the Public Printing.

DAGUERRETYPE.—Mr. Mason the Daguerrotypist has located himself for a time at McEwensville. Our McEwensville friends will not often get as good an opportunity to obtain good pictures, and should embrace it.

COLUMBIA COUNTY.—The democratic Convention of Columbia county, met at Bloomsburg, on Monday last, and nominated George Scott of Cattawissa, for Assembly, John Snyder of Orange, for Sheriff, and John Keiter of Maine for Commissioner.

CLINTON COUNTY.—The democrats of this county have nominated J. W. Quigley, Esq., for the Senate. The whigs have nominated Joseph F. Quay, Esq., for the same office.

The following infallible cure for dysentery, was obtained several years since from a physician who stated that he never knew it to fail, and that no one need die of dysentery where this remedy can be had. Our informant adds that it has been tried with success in this place.

CURE FOR DYSENTERY.—Take a small bowl of grated carrot root, put in a sufficient quantity of water to moisten it well, after standing a few hours strain it through a cloth—sweeten the liquid well with loaf sugar.

DOSE.—For an adult, two teaspoonfuls full every hour, if the case is urgent.

The steamship Ohio arrived at New York on the 31st, from California with $2,530,000 in gold dust. One hundred soldiers of the 4th infantry died since they left New York.

The police officers of Philadelphia have re-arrested Dr. Giltner. They have also arrested Abraham W. Haus and James Brass, as will be seen by a telegraphic despatch from Danville. The officers were also in pursuit of John Mengas, but he escaped by swimming the river. Mayor Gilpin and some of his police are at Danville, where the court is now in session.—Dr. Giltner pleaded guilty to the charge of making counterfeit notes. The officers, we understand, have no less than thirty seven warrants in their hands, and that a number of persons unsuspected, and of character and standing are implicated.

Congress adjourned on Tuesday night last, at 12 o'clock. The President and Cabinet were in attendance in an adjoining room for the purpose of signing a number of the most important bills which were passed, as is usually the case, but a few minutes before the adjournment.

The Susquehanna Rail Road from Sunbury to Williamsport was let on Tuesday to Nesbit, Schnabel & Co.

It is reported that the Hon. Thomas H. Benton is dangerously ill at Frankfort, Kentucky.

BY TELEGRAPH FOR THE AMERICAN.

DANVILLE, August 30th, 1852.

Hon. Charles Gilpin, Mayor of Philadelphia, Hon. James Pollock, of Northumberland and Davis Alton, Esq., of Luzerne, are all in town and will address a Whig meeting this evening.

Lewis Haus who was arrested on Saturday evening by Capt. Bennet and officers Bunting and Meikle of the Mayors Police of Philadelphia, on the charge of being concerned in the making, &c., of counterfeit money had hearing to-day and was held to bail in the sum of $5000, in default of which he was committed. Dr. Giltner, who was arrested, some three weeks ago and released on bail was retaken at the same time upon a similar charge. He is now in jail. Abraham W. Haus of this County and his son-in-law, James Brass of Muncy, who were in town on Saturday, on business, were arrested and committed to prison where they now are; Haus in default of $5000 and Brass $3000, bail. The nest of Counterfeiters is likely to be broken up completely through the vigilance of these engaged in ferreting the matter out.

COURT COMMENCED AT THIS PLACE THIS MORNING.

SECOND DISPATCH.

MONTOUR COUNTY COUNTERFEITING CASE.

DANVILLE, Sept. 2nd.

Court this morning ordered that Abraham W. Haus, and Lewis Haus charged with being engaged in the manufacturing and sale of counterfeit money be held to bail, the former in the sum of $7000, and the latter in the sum of $5000, for their appearance at next court.

Dr. Giltner, who plead guilty on the charge of counterfeiting Harrisburg two's will be sentenced to-morrow morning.

Last night, Capt. Bennet, of the Philadelphia police, obtained a new counterfeit plate—Harrisburg ones. Also, nearly $10,000 ready for circulation, which was burned in the presence of the counsel of both parties. These bills were admirably executed. Also, an unfinished plate on New Haven five's, was obtained at the same time.

The thanks of the community are due to His Honor Mayor Gilpin, the intelligent and energetic Capt. Bennet, together with their associates, for the skill and energy manifested in the prosecution.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democratic State Convention met at Harrisburg on the 26th inst. in the Hall of the House Representatives, in pursuance of the call of the State Executive Committee, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Canal Commissioner, in place of William Scarratt, deceased, and a candidate for Supreme Bench of the State, in place of the Hon. Richard Coulter deceased.

The call of the Convention having been read, appropriate resolutions in relation to the death of Wm. Scarratt, of Fayette, the Democratic candidate for Canal Commissioner, were introduced and adopted, after a few remarks in eulogy of the character of the deceased.

Wm. L. Hist, Esq., Chairman of the State Executive Committee, then offered a series of resolutions to the effect that the Convention cordially approve and adopt as sound, and heartily endorse the Democratic doctrines as laid down in the platform adopted by the Baltimore Convention.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted. It was then moved and agreed to that the Convention will first proceed to the nomination of a candidate for the Supreme Bench, in place of Mr. Coulter deceased.

George W. Woodward, was nominated, and on motion he was unanimously declared the choice of the Convention, as the Democratic candidate for that important office.

Wm. Hopkins, of Washington County was nominated for Canal Commissioner, and was also unanimously declared the choice of the Convention, as the Democratic candidate for that important station.

A BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE.

The editor of the New York Journal of Commerce, one of the oldest and ablest Whig journals in the country, pays the following just and handsome tribute to the character of Gen. PIERCE, the Democratic nominee for President:—

All who have, with an impartial eye, observed the conduct of the nominee of the Democratic party for the office of President, must have been struck with his noblesse and manly spirit, evinced whenever called upon to act or to speak. These traits of character are rare in public men, and especially among those who, bred to other pursuits, quit them in time of war for service in the field. They are ever associated with the highest qualities of mind and of heart, and win for their possessor the respect and esteem which General Pierce's neighbors and friends so generally and so warmly feel towards him.

We were lately near his residence in the Granite Hills, and should personally have paid our respects to him, but that it might have been misinterpreted. We heard, however, not only from his political friends, but also from his political opponents, his neighbors and acquaintances, the most friendly and respectful, and often the most enthusiastic testimony to his high and noble qualities. Even in the time of Judge Woodbury, it is conceded that General Pierce had command of the State, but that he never used his power and influence for himself, as he preferred ever to live among his neighbors as a private citizen, enjoying the honors awarded to him on all hands as the head of the bar of New Hampshire. His resignation as Senator in Congress, as an officer of the army when service could no longer be rendered, and his refusal to accept the office of Attorney General and the gubernatorial chair of State, are acts in harmony with the universal opinion held towards him by his neighbors and friends. Gen. Pierce, however, by no act or procurement of his, and from the spontaneous action of the Democratic Convention—such it unquestionably was, for we were present and witnessed it—has become the nominee of the great party which it represented for the Presidential office, and instantly his whole career is examined for some spot or blemish, on which calumny may expatiate until the elections have decided the question now before the country. A career which was opened under the teaching of an ancestry which had fought and bled in the country's service in the great battle of the Revolution, an ancestry famous for its high and patriotic tone and bearing, was a beginning which could by no possibility terminate in the dishonor which party malignity would attach to the name of Gen. Pierce. Throughout the war with Mexico, he acted with courage; and if he erred at all, it was on the side of imprudence and unnecessary exposure. The spontaneous tribute of Gen. Scott, paid to General Pierce, when the nomination of the former was first announced at Washington by an assembled crowd, proves incontestably that the sentiment of the army towards Gen. Pierce was such as ever attends a soldier who has courageously performed his duty in battle. The name and fame of those who have rendered patriotic services, are dear to the American people and should be protected from unjust attack.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Dr. Hoofland's celebrated German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, No. 130 Arch street, Philadelphia. In cases of Liver complaint, Dyspepsia, Discharge of the Kidneys, and all diseases arising from a disordered stomach, their power is not excelled, if equalled, by any other known preparation, as the cures attest, in many cases, after the most celebrated physicians had failed. We can conscientiously recommend this medicine, as being what it is represented and urge our readers who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and they will be convinced of the truth we assert.

In this place, on Saturday last, MARY CATHARINE, youngest daughter of Jacob and Ann Ulp, aged 1 year and 4 months.

How short—how fleeting is the hour, On earth to mortals given!

Death, in the lot, has nipt the flower, And left the stem to wither.

In Danville, on the 21th ult. of dysentery, WILLIAM, oldest son of Dr. Wm. H. Magill, aged 18 years.

In this place, on Thursday morning, TURNER MULLINS, son of Edward Mullins, of Philadelphia, in the 21st year of his age.

[The deceased had come among us to spend a few weeks of relaxation during the summer months, from the cares of business. In the midst of his enjoyments among his friends, he was suddenly stricken down with disease. A brain fever, of two week's duration terminated his earthly career, regretted by all who knew his worth, his excellent character and his amiable disposition. His afflicted parents had been called from the city, some days previous to his death, to close the eyes of a dutiful and promising son, in the vigor of his youth and usefulness. Many a tearful eye witnessed the sad departure of his remains, which were taken to the city, for interment, on Thursday evening last.

PROSPECTUS OF THE Scientific American.

THE FOURTH VOLUME of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN commences on the 11th of September, and as a great proportion of our readers usually examine their subscriptions at this point, we have occasion to attend them our gratitude for the encouragement and liberal support and assurance bestowed upon our humble efforts, and to re-assure them of our determination to advance it still higher in the scale of utility and, possibly, in its own estimation. We aim at an honorable independence in discussion upon all national and political questions, and our readers may have been surprised at our determined opposition to highly laudable discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

True trials of things, and it is with some degree of pride that we refer to the efforts made through the medium of the Scientific American, to establish sound views respecting several conspicuous intellectual discoveries.—Since the commencement of this Volume, that periodical Exhibition of the Industry of all Nations showed its generous display, affording a delightful opportunity to the student of the world's history, and through our columns it has passed away, leaving a work-wide influence, beneficial to every country interested in its progress.

Our country abounds forth with magnificence in all the elements of substantial utility. Acting under the stimulus suggested by the success of the Great Exhibition, the energetic efforts of the American people are directed to the construction of a great Palace of an important nature in our history, we shall endeavor to present our readers with descriptions and illustrations of such novelties as may be deserving attention.

The present form of the Scientific American will be preserved as most suitable for binding and preservation.—The paper contains the best news, and we shall strive to give our readers with practical knowledge in every branch of the Arts and Sciences. Invention claims, and the progress of the world's industry, are the subjects of our special attention; and we have never omitted to send our readers the Weekly List of Patent Claims, officially reported for our columns, in a distinguished feature, which must commend itself to every country interested in its progress.

We need the cooperation of our readers to enable us to publish a journal of the highest quality, and we have every reason to believe that we have never omitted to send our readers the Weekly List of Patent Claims, officially reported for our columns, in a distinguished feature, which must commend itself to every country interested in its progress.
