

DR. IVES AT ROME.

It will be seen by the following letter, copied from the New York Freeman's Journal, that this venerable prelate has, at last, gone over to the Roman Catholic Church.

We are at length enabled to put an end to our anxiety on the part of some of our Protestant neighbors in reference to the Protestant Bishop of North Carolina.

Dr. Ives after his arrival at Rome, made the acquaintance of Rt. Rev. Dr. McGill, Bishop of Richmond, and he subsequently applied to Monsignor Talbot, private camerario to His Holiness, in order to make his solemn abjuration and to publicly profess the true faith.

Dr. Ives, by withdrawing from the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, has renounced a very desirable position in a secular point of view, and has been compelled to struggle with family affections and ties of the most intimate character.

MR. TAGGART'S LECTURE. The Pottsville papers, a few weeks since, contained a favorable notice of a lecture delivered by David Taggart, Esq. of Northumberland, at the Pottsville Lyceum.

"The untaught barbarian, nay! he among ourselves, to whom the great science of Astronomy is a sealed book, gazes up to the Heavens, and to him the stars are as beautiful as the lamps which decorate your streets."

and devoted as ever bleed for homo and country. But patriotism and courage were no bulwarks against the thunder voiced arms of the invaders.

Let us drop the figure. Three centuries ago, a few hundred Spaniards overran and conquered the ancient and populous empire of Mexico, the result of skill and superior knowledge.

But knowledge has yet more in store for us. When cultivated man shall have learned all that it is possible for him to know, he will be further in advance of his present position, than he now is in advance of the unenlightened and barbarian.

Some weeks since, he embarked on the steamer "Bay State" at New Orleans, bound for Cincinnati. He was then very sick, and the Captain advised him to remain under medical treatment, at New Orleans.
