

SONORA FILLIBUSTERS.

We have received, says the New York Herald, the official record of the operations of Col. Walker's party, the details of the battle of La Paz, and the choice of a President of the new republic.

Head Quarters of the Republic of Lower California, Nov. 7, 1853.

On the morning of the 17th of October, we sailed with the first independent battalion for Lower California. The command consisted of forty-five men. Our voyage was a prosperous one to Cape St. Lucas; we landed on the 28th of October; there we gained some information of importance; and proceeded on our way to La Paz. On the third day of November our vessel cast anchor opposite the town. A party was ordered by Colonel Walker to land, take possession of the town, and secure the person of the Governor-Lieutenant Gillman commanding the party.

In less than thirty minutes the town was taken and the Governor secured. We hauled down the Mexican flag in front of the Governor's house, proclaimed the independence of Lower California, and our independent flag floated triumphantly over, but a few moments before, that of Mexico had waved in supposed security. Our men, provisions, and munitions of war, were landed, the town fortified, and Col. Walker entered upon his duties as President of the Republic of Lower California—issuing such decrees as were most congenial to the citizens, as well as to the security and comfort of his command. Here we remained until Sunday, November 6th, when the President determined to remove the seat of government to St. Lucas. In accordance with his determination, we embarked, taking with us ex-Governor Espinosa and the public documents.—Shortly after our embarkation a vessel came into port, having on board Col. Rebollo, who was sent by the government of Mexico to suppress ex-Governor Espinosa. A small detachment was despatched to bring Colonel Rebollo on board the vessel. This order was promptly executed.

About an hour after this occurrence, a party was sent on shore to procure wood.—While in the act of returning to their boats, they were fired upon by a large party of citizens; thus commenced the first action.—This party consisted of but six men, who returned to the vessel under a heavy fire of musketry, without losing a man. Meantime a fire was opened upon the town with our ordinance, which was kept up until Colonel Walker landed with thirty men, when the fight became general. From the time of landing until the close of the action, (a signal defeat of the enemy), was about one and a half hours. The enemy's loss was six or seven killed and several wounded. Our men did not so much as receive a wound, except from the cacicus, while pursuing the enemy through the chaparral in the rear of the town.

Thus ended the battle of La Paz, crowning our efforts with success, releasing Lower California from the tyrannical yoke of Mexico, and the establishment of a new republic. The commercial resources, the mineral and agricultural wealth of the republic of Lower California, destined here to compare favorably with her sister republics. Our men are all in fine health and spirits, and are as collected and determined a body as were ever collected together.

The officers who compose the government are as follows, viz:

THE EXECUTIVE. William Walker, President of the Republic of Lower California. Frederick Emory Secretary of State. John M. Jernigan Secretary of War. Howard A. Snow Secretary of Navy.

MILITARY. John Chapman Major of Battalion. Chas. H. Gilman Capt. of Co. John McKibber 1st Lieutenant. Timothy Crocker 2d do. Samuel Rolinson 3d do.

NAVAL. William T. Mann Captain of Navy. A. Williams First Lieutenant. John Grannell Second Lieutenant.

Our government has been formed upon a sure and firm basis. The civil code and code of practice of Louisiana has been adopted for the rule of decision in our courts, and as the civil law of the land. We arrived at Cape St. Lucas on Thursday, Nov. 8. On the morning of the 9th, the Mexican cutter Geneva cruised off the cape. Our appearance was so formidable she deemed prudent the better part of valor, heeled to and gave us the slip. In the evening our troops again embarked for Magdalena Bay, where the President contemplated establishing the seat of government for the present.

Advices from Washington say that orders for the arrest of Col. Walker had been issued.
