

ANOTHER HORRIBLE ACCIDENT ON THE HUDSON RIVER RAILROAD.

The Drawbridge at Spuyten Kill Creek Give Way—Four Cars and Two Engines in the Water—An Engineer, Fireman, Two Passengers and a Boy Missing—Several Scalded and Daily Injured!

We are again compelled to announce another fearful accident on the Hudson River Railroad, by which certainly three or more persons have lost their lives. As far as we have been able to ascertain, it appears that the Sunday night train, which left Albany at a quarter past four, on reaching the bridge over Spuyten Kill's creek, caused the bridge to give way, and part of the train, consisting of two engines, two freight cars, the mail and baggage car, and one passenger car, were precipitated into the water. The bridge gave way just this side of the draw. A train with thirty cars had only a few hours before crossed over safely.

The train had three passenger cars attached, but only one went over, and that in the water. The passengers were all thrown upon one another in the front part of the car, when it went down. The remaining cars caught upon one of the iron bars, it prevented them from going over, and also the first passenger car from going entirely into the water. Had it not been for this, there would have been many more lives lost.

The engineer and fireman of the first engine are missing. They were seen on the engine as the train went down.

On the second engine, the engineer and fireman were horribly scalded, and they would not doubt, have been drowned, had it not been that they were rescued by the remaining cars.

The passengers in the first car succeeded in getting out by breaking out the window glasses and using the side of the car as a ladder. All are reported to have gotten out safely, with the exception of two men, who it is said, were seen standing on the front of the car, outside the door. They have not been seen since.

A number were badly bruised, but to what extent we have not yet been able to ascertain.

The name of the engineer lost, is James Parrison.

In consequence of the accident, no trains will leave to-day.

Mr. John Upton, the Messenger of Wells, Bartfield & Co.'s Express, was severely injured among the injured. He was severely bruised—his ankle dislocated, and one of the small bones of his leg was broken. He had in charge nearly a million of dollars, but notwithstanding his severe injuries, he refused to leave his Express, and remained in the cars seven hours in the cold with the Express matter. No instance of courage and endurance like this has ever been on record.

The cars near the engine probably saved the lives of many people. The engineer and fireman of one of the engines have not been seen. The mail bags are all under water, and the mails are wet. The first engine passed over the bridge in safety. The ice knocked the piles away under the bridge. The first passenger car struck on an end, resting on a baggage car. The last car was raised inside—the seats, stove, and all were swept to the rear end. The second car was undisturbed. The conductor was in this car, and was not injured.

The passengers all speak in the highest terms of the conductor and baggage man. Old and experienced railroad men, who have seen many railroad accidents, say this wreck presents a sight never before equalled, in the way of the piling up of cars, engines, &c. Mr. Earl, mail agent, was badly injured. The passengers walked across the temporary bridge, and were conveyed to Thirty-first street by a special train. They arrived here about ten o'clock this morning. They should have arrived last evening at ten. The accident occurred at 2 o'clock this morning. The train was delayed by the accident on Saturday night—N. Y. Express of 14th inst.

THE CANAL COMMISSIONERS' REPORT. STATE OF THE MAIN LINE.—The Canal Commissioners, in their report, allude to the sale of the Main Line:

In regard to the future of the Main Line of the State improvements, the Board feel reluctant in making any specific recommendation. It is the past year, as experience has proved, as an index to the future, and the subject is viewed abstractly as a mere question of dollars and cents, there would not seem to be much encouragement. As has been stated already, the principal transportation should be the Main Line in July last. Should this state of things continue, it becomes apparent from a comparison of the reports with the expenditures the past year that that portion of the line west of the junction of the State Canal is largely the loser.

It is the opinion of the Board, however, to arrive at a proper conclusion of the question, it will be necessary to look at the causes which produced it. The most prominent among these (except the competition of the Pennsylvania Railroad) is the uncertainty that has been felt among business men as to whether the State would retain the ownership of the line. Two successive Legislatures have passed bills for the sale of the Main Line; and, although no sale has yet taken place, constant agitation of the subject has deterred capitalists from embarking in a business involving the expenditures of thousands which they had no guarantee might not be swept from them by the time they would get fairly into operation. Another cause which has contributed so little towards producing the result referred to was the old Portage Road. In the active competition of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the detention incident to the inclined planes on the old Portage has retarded the work following on the transporters on the canal. This obstruction being not removed, the change will be sensibly felt by those who may engage in the business of transportation the approaching season. The completion of the new road will very much increase the competition.

If the ownership of the line is to remain in the Commonwealth, then policy would dictate that every effort should be exhausted to make it as productive as possible. To this end it has been suggested that the experiment be tried of holding out inducements to have it stocked. It is alleged that there are parties willing to do this, if the proper guarantee be held out. It is, therefore, submitted for the consideration of the Legislature whether the passage of an act providing that if companies would put stock in the line, the work should be held within a given time, the parties purchasing it should be required to take the stock at a fair appraised valuation, might not be proper.

AID FOR KANEA.—A public meeting was held in Chicago, on Monday evening, the 7th inst., at which resolutions were adopted, unanimously, endorsing the recent struggle of the Free State party in a moral and moral victory. A subscription was started to remunerate the Free Soil settlers for the losses sustained by them in defence of their rights, and about $1200 was subscribed on the spot.

MARRIAGE OF AN IDEAL BELE.—The Chicago belle, Miss Jennie Hicks, was married on the 10th inst. to Mr. J. H. Jones, of the Chicago John Ross, at Table-cloth, the residence of the bridegroom, in the city of Chicago. The chief John Ross, Mr. Stepler, brother-in-law of the chief, Her pretty face and brilliant wit, it is stated, created many admirers in our northern cities and watering places during her vacations from school in New Jersey. Miss H. is a daughter of Judge Hicks.

TOO TRUE TO JOKE ABOUT.—The Newburyport (Mass.) Herald publishes a quiz on the Governor's Message, in which his excellency is made to reckon in the cause of congratulation that "only one of the members of the Legislature was expelled for expending the public money on his licentious passions."

THE EFFECT OF RAILWAYS ON THE MATERIAL PROSPERITY OF A STATE IS VISIBLE IN THE RECENT RETURNS OF ILLINOIS.

Before the construction of railways was commenced there, the progress of settlement was comparatively slow. The tide of emigration had acquired an impetus in other directions, and Illinois seemed likely to struggle along with a quietude far behind that of some newer States. But with the construction of an extended system of railways in the State, a wonderful awakening of enterprise seems to have occurred. In the year 1850, the population was 851,470, and in 1855 it was 1,300,000. These figures speak louder than words. A city of 22,000 inhabitants in 1850, now becomes a metropolis of 100,000. Whole wildernesses have been put under cultivation, and flourishing towns have sprung up where none before existed. Could Pennsylvania complete her railway system with the same rapidity as Illinois, we should see our interior wilds peopled. But alas! we tarry by the way, and are outstripped even by those whom we once thought far behind us in enterprise.—We must bestir ourselves while we have such formidable competitors in the field against us.

THE POETRY OF CONGRESS.—Some inspired poet, getting tired of the prosaic telegraph despatches of Congressional proceedings, has put the matter in new form, and will answer for the doings of that body a month hence as well as now:—

"Banks a hundred and five;
Banks a hundred and seven;
Banks a hundred and one;
Wants a hundred and seven.
Pennington four and three;
Richardson seventy-two;
Feller thirty. Don't you see?
When'll the trouble be through?"

IN DEMAND AT HIGH PRICES.—The city of KATE, in Asiatic Turkey, was actually started into submission to the Russians.—A letter written before the city surrendered, says that a number had perished of hunger, and that cats, to be used as food, were in demand at one hundred piastres each.

MARRIAGES.—On the 10th inst., by the Rev. P. Born, Mr. JEREMIAH COOPER, to Miss JEMIMA SEASWELL, all of Upper Augusta.

The Markets.—Philadelphia Market, January 10, 1856.

GRAIN.—There is a short supply of wheat, and the market is inactive. Sales of small lots of Southern and Pennsylvania red, at $2.00, and a small lot of poor white at the same price. Rye is steady; free sales of Penn. 120c. Corn is in demand; sales of new yellow at 78c/80c per bushel. Oats are inactive. Last sales at 43c/44c per bushel, for Southern and Pennsylvania.

WHEATRY is very dull—sales of bls. at 36 cents, and 35c for blids.
