Keep pushing—'tis wiser
Than sitting aside.
And dreaming and sighing,
And saiting the tide;
In life's carnest battle
They only prevail,
Who daily march enward,
And power say [ai]. And never say fail.

With an eye ever open,
A tongue that's not dumb,
And a heart that will never To sorrow succumb, You'll battle and conquer,

Though thousands assail; How strong and how mighty Who never say full! Ahead, then, keep pushing,

And elbow your way, Un'ording the envious, All asses that bray; All obstacles vanish,

All enemies quail, In the midst of their wisdom, Who never say fail.

In life's rosy morning,
In manhood's fair pride,
Let this be your motto
Your footsteps to guide, In storm and in sunshine, Whatever assall. We'll onward and conquer,

And never say fail!

The Potato Culture.

The following in the Country Gentlemen is from Mr. G. McManox, of Milford, Ct. :-

"My plan has been for the last eight years change my seed as often as once in every article generally required by Fermers and Planters for servants use.

The Retail Rooms on first ficer—the price to years even if I than the same server. to change my seed as often as once in every two years even if I plant the same sort. have for the last six years taken the trouble is man to send from 75 to 150 miles for my seed, and think that I have been paid for it in tenfold floors. proportion. The sorts that I have been most successful with are the Prince Albert or white Napoleon, the Irish lumpers and the Peach Blows. These three kinds never have showed any symptoms of the blight in this section of the country while many of my heigh-bors have kept their old sorts, and have lost nearly oil the two past seasons. I planted in May last 240 rods of ground with white Na-poleous, and gathered over three hundred and seventy live bushels in October last, as nice tutoes as ever any man need look at. They are admired by all; they are very white and smooth; many of them measured from eight to ten and a half inches in length; the tops all temained in a perfect state of health until they were cut off by the frost. The tops on the Peach-blows do the same.

"My plan of culvation is to take stalk ground or else plow it in the fail. I generally select the smallest ones that I raise for my own use to plant-cut each potato, be it ever so small. I seldem ever use over four and a half or five bushe's of seed to the acro. Method of Calcination. I generally use about 20 loads of coarse straw manne to the nere—spread and plow in—then plant my seed three by three and a half feet apart; when the plants begin to show themselves no a top dressing of hen manure, plaster of Paris and leached ashes, mixed together a full hand to the bill, which I have found to be a great benefit to me."

In the Ohio Cultivator, Mr. ROBERT SEA-VERE, of Oskaloosa, Iowa, begs to be heard.

"Permit me to add my experience in the contrivation of potatoes, as additional evidence in favor of a fact that we are only just now in the ninete-orth century, beginning to learn show to cultivate potatoes. It seems a little strong to the circular to the incidence of the circular to cultivate potatoes. It seems a little strong to a flat the show to continue to the circular to the strong to Etrange, too that the discovery of certain facts | Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known, in relation to this matter, appears to have been simultaneous in different and distant

I planted them in hills about 3) feet apart each way, putting only one bace in each hill and from that peck I dag and measured 25 bashels of good potatoes. after throwing away some 4 or 5 bushels that were affected with rot. The ground occupied was a little over S square rods, and was cultivated telerably well, "Your correspondent, W. C. Johnson but an actual damage is done to the coming crop, for 1 am convinced that more and lurger potutoes can be raised by planting one eye in each hill, than can be raised by putting 2 or 3 whole potatoes in a hill. The more seed you put in a kill, the more small potatoes you will have in proportion to the number

-----THE SWEET POTATO-ITS ISOTHERMAL POSITION.

The native place of the sweet potato is in warm latitudes. It was, in our boyhood called the Carolina potato, and it was generally supposed that it would not grow far north of that, in perfection. It was at length acclimut dir New-Jersey onl upon the sandy land of Long Liand, but for a long time no one thought of growing a crop forther north, But the isothermal position of this valuable plant has been gradually advancing, until it is now difficult to say where its northern line C. "From New-York a man writes:

"I had fine success with my sweet potatoes. Though they were planted late they have yielded a handsome crop. I have no doubt of the practicability of growing then successfully slong the Hudson River."

Mr. Murray says: "I call attention to the subject now because it is time that good farmers were laying their plans as to how their grounds are to be occapied the coming sesson. Sweet potatoes be grown successfully in much higher butthan has heretofore been generally sup

Truth is Mighty, and Must Prevail. Report of the Committee appointed to superin tend the Burning of the Iron Safes, at Reading, February 27, 1857.

READING, March 4. The undersigned, members of the committee, do respectfully report, that we saw the two Safes originally agreed upon by Farrels & Herring and Evans & Watson, placed side by side in a furnace, viz: The Safe inuse by the Paymaster of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, in his office at Reading, manufactured by Farrels & Herring, and the Safe in use by H. A. Lantz, in his store, manufactured by Parrels & Watson, and put in books and papers precise a WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. The undersigned, members of the committee alike.

The fire was started at 8½ o'clock, A. M., and kept up until four cords of green hickory, two cords dry oak and half chesnut top wood were entirely consumed, the whole under the superintendence of the subscribers, members of the Committee. The Safes were then cooled off with water, after which they were opened, and the books and papers taken out by the Committee found: water, after which they were opened, and the books and papers taken out by the Committee and sent to H. A. Lantz's store for public examined and marked by the Committee. The books and papers taken from the Safe manufactured by Farrels & Herring were in our judgment, damaged folly fifteen per cent, more than those taken from Evans & Watson's Safe. We believe the above to have been a fair and impartial trial of the respective qualities of both JACOB H. DYSHER. DANIEL S. HUNTER. Having been absent during the burning, we fully coincide with the above statement of the condition of the papers and books taken out of the respective Sales.
