SALE OF THE STATE CANALS. The bill for the sale of the Stat Canals being in order, Wilkins stated the reast which should ultimately decide his vo. and he would speak with more courtesy the action of the House than one Senat had done. He considered that bill much no preferable than the one affered by the enater from Columbia, (Mr. Buckalew.) d not refer particularly to dollars and its as to the vast benefit in its results the western country. The proposition bre the Senate involved two questions of who shall be the purchaser, and what she the price? The first question would rd, who shall be the purchaser? he would / fearlessly and boldly the Sunbury and le Railroad, because it would complete road second to roads. The one wonbring no improve-ment—not even oper single farm, while the other would ope barren and wild country, as it was styby the opponents of the Heuse bill—but bequired of them, is it a barren soil? is barren of minerals? they were mistakent when they said, "barren of people," I they are right, and he was for making theilderness smile with farmers, their wives children-with wheat and corn fields, and et carpeted mendows.

THE COAL TRADE exhibits some signs of revival in this place, but our operators are not yet under full headway.

The steamboats, the "Ira T. Clement" and the "Susquehanna," have commenced operations in towing and ferrying on the Susquehanna. A steam ferry at this place is a most important matter to our citizensand ought to be sustained and encouraged by to the Governor for approval. Acurned every one who has an interest in the prosperity of the town.

> GAS IN SUNBURY .- Propositions have been made by a responsible party, which will, most probably, eventuate in the erection of gas works in this place. A charter for this purpose was obtained during the session of 1857, by Major Zimmerman.

The Snyder County Journal has been removed from Middleburg to Selinsgrove, certainly a more flourishing place, and with fairer prospects of advancement.

EF SHAMORIN JOURNAL .- Our old friend John Robbins, formerly of the Miltonian, and later of the Milton Farmers' Journal, has issued a prospectus for the publication of a paper, with the above title, at Shamokin, ORSTRUCTING THE PASSAGE OF FISH The following letter, from Mr. Lawrence, the member from Dauphin, will not be without interest to many of our readers :

(From the Harrisburg Telegraph.) GEO. BERONER & Co .- Many lognifies hev ing been made of me in relation to the right of persons to obstruct the passage of fish up the Susquehanna river, and several petitions To An Act to regulate the sale of intox cut-ing liquors, approved 31st day of March, tion on the sabject, I deem it my duty thus publicly to reply to them. It is a matter of universal regret that so profitable a business as shad-fishing, in which so many of our citizens were formerly engaged, should meet with so many obstructions and by the destruction of which so much valuable property was depreciated and so many persons deprived of employment; and any means to restore this trade and afford employment to our citizens will be a public benefaction. No legislation, however, is needed—Mr. Kunkel, one of our former representatives, having provided for it at the session of 1851, as will be seen by the following extract from the pamphlet laws of that year, page 714: Sec. 9. It shall be the duty of the Susquehanna canal company to cause to be constructed at the dams erected by them across the river Susquebanna, a sluice for the passage of fish, over which at least one foot of water shall pass from the first day of April to the fifteenth day of May of each year; the said sluice to extend along the breast of the dam the distance of from one hundred and fifty yards to two hundred yards, in propor-Section 3. Provides that all Hotels shall tion to the width of the river at said dams, and to be constructed at and immediately opposite the main channel from the dam down stream, by steps of eighteen inches perpendicular fall, and horizontal platforms the base of each step of forty feet in width; and if said company shall neglect or refuse to construct said sluices in the manner crein specified for the space of one year after the passage of this act, the said dams shall be shall be restricted to the sale of domestic deemed a nuisance, and may be abated as wines, malt and brewed liquors, and the lithe laws of this Commonwealth.

One remedy under this section is obvious SECTION 5. Provides that licensed brewers and easy. Any person or persons suffering and distillers, may sell such liquors as they by the obstructions in the river may make information before a justice of the peace, and upon an establishment of the fact in a court of justice, it will be the duty of that court to abate the "nuisance." It is proper for me to call public attention to this law, inasmuch as it seems to have gone unnoticed, and many of our citizens are interested and have applied to me, with whom it would be inconvenient for me to communicate separately.

WM. C. A. LAWRENCE. HARBISBURG, April 16, 1858.

ASSASSINATION OF AND. J. RODRIGUE, About a year since we recorded the death of Dr. A. Rodrigue, formerly of Sunbury, but more recently of Hollidaysburg, who had emigrated to Lecompton city, Kansas, in 1855. We have eyes of the human figure are mere dots-U now to record the death of his eldest son, Andrew J. Rodrigue, by the hands of an assassin, on the 2d inst., at Lecompton.

The deceased was the grandson of Hugh Bellas Esq., of this place. He was born in the city of Pittsburg, in the fall of 1835, and had just entered his 23d year. He fell in the dawn of his manhood, leaving a widowed mother and sisters and brothers to mourn his untimely fate.

In the fall of 1855 he emigrated with his father to the city of Lecompton, and at the date of his death was engaged in the pursuit of farming, while at the same time he held the office of Clerk of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Kansas. He was an able, courteous and efficient officer, as the proceedings of the meeting of the Bar, Chief Justice Lecompte presiding, held on the 8th of April, in Lecompton, fully testify. The following account of his death we extract from the Lecompton Democrat, of the 8th inst:

in this city on last Saturday noon which resulted in the death of one of our oldest citizens, and the former Postmaster, ANDREW J. Rodsieve. It appears that a difficulty sprung up between the deceased and W. I Thompson, when the latter stabbed Alr. R. with a pocket-knife in the side, which penetrated the left lung, causing a mortal wound Two gentlemen witnessed the affray, one of whom was cut at by Thempson, and their evidence was given in before the coroner's ury. The verdict was in accordance with the facts,— 'That he came to his death from a wound inflicted by Wm. E. Thompson." This blow is deeply felt by the widowed ning at 4 o'clock, and during the greater portion of the time experienced much agony. Immediately after the deed was perpetrated Thompson left the city, and although the officers of the law were in pursuit of him, made good his escape, and has has not been heard of since. The funeral took place on Saturday He was 23 years of age.

The Furgeral of Mr. Benton.

St. Louis, April 16.—Yesterday morning the remains of the late Col. Benton were conveyed from the residence of Col. Brant, with a military escort, to the Mercantile Library Hall, where they lay in state till 10 o'clock last night. The Hall and its interior were appropriately draped in mourning. The final rites of sepulture took place this morning, and were participated in by the various military companies, benevolent societies, fire-men, the members of the city government and citizens generally. Business was entirely suspended, and the stores and dwellings along the route draped in mourning. It is estimated that twenty-five thousand persons visited the Hall and gazed upon the features of the illustrious dead.

At ten o'clock this morning the remains was placed in a hearse, which was followed to the Bellefontaine Cemetery by the most imposing procession ever formed in St. Louis, consisting of the relatives and friends of the family, all the military companies of this city, the seventh regiment of U. S. Infantry, (under the command of Col. Morrison,) the Judges of the Courts, members of the bar, members of the city government, a large majority of the benevolent societies of the city, the German Turners, and an immensa conthe German Turners, and an immense concourse of others, in carriages and on foot.

If it is done it is confidently believed that the only objection made to the bill by the executive will have been obviated, and that he will sign the bill before the session closus. Whilst I am writing, Mr. Calhoun has introduced a bill into the House for the abolition of the Canal Board. It provided that they shall continue in office until the first of Mr. Gay, the State Engineer, goes out with them. It was taken up end passed through at once, amid shouts of laughter, and eries of " That's right ;" "We are glad of that -no one interposing the slightest objection. This will be taken to the Senate, and, I doubt
