The last verse may not be absolutely true, but it is beanti ul writing; one may say as Coleridge does of Ariosto-"I would rather praise his poetry than his poem." The next verse is fine:

American Wines.

The Missouri Wine Company has offered emiums for samples of the best pure native wines of this country, of the vintage of 1857. The rapid progress which wine culture is making in this country is one of the best guarantees against the serious evils of intemperance, and this progress cannot fail, ere long, to give cheap wines. American champagne is gradually obtaining the reputation of being the purest offervescing wine in the world, and if, as Mr. Longworth says, we have five thousand varieties of native grapes-all of them free from the oidium, or grape disease which is spreading over every corner of Europe-it will be seen that the West has in reserve an enormous field of productiveness to fall back on, as population grows dense, and profitable investment for capital is required.

There is an absurd idea prevalent that wine cannot be profitably raised in this country; that labor is too dear, and European opposition too great. On the contrary, wine raising is at this instant the most profitable branch of agruculture in America. It will pay from one to three hundred dollars an acre, yielding a higher profit on capital, skill and labor invested, than any other planting.

The wines which can be most easily raised are, like those of Germany, light and very innocuous. We often hear it said that there is no drunkenness in France, but drunkeness is even rarer among the wine-drinking Ger-mans of the Rhine-Gau. Liebig, the great chemist, declares that these people, far from being injured by their wine, owe to it the health for which they are so famous, there being no place in the world where there is so little demand for apothecaries' wares. But the reader will recollect that these wines are very different from those of other nations, being no more intexicating to those familiar with them than common claret. When attention is more generally devoted to wine-culture, we shall probably see wine as cheap here as elder, and strychnine whiskey and fighting brandy at a discount. Ex-cessive use of ardent spirits is a great cause of national suffering, and anything which will do away with it, or modify it, can hardly fail to be regarded as a blessing.

A FEW THINGS WHICH EVERBODY OUGHT TO K sow. - A quart of peas, sown in a shall box fifteen inches wide by eighteen long, at any time of the year, and cut off when about four or five inches high, and boiled like spinach, with little salt, makes a most delicious dish, The tops of Jerusalem artichokes, cut off greens, make a capital dish, which partakes, in some degree, of the flavor of the root. Boiled water-cress also makes a wholesome and delicious dish. It must not, homever, be over-boiled; for impaired constitutions, it is invaluable. In April and May, late potatoes should always be peeled some ten or twelve hours, and steeped in cold spring water before they are cooked. This is a great improvement; it makes the potato nearly as good as those dug in October. The proper way to make a cup of good tea, is a matter of some importance. The plan which I have practised for these twelve months is this: The Kansas question, rise in his place and decised for these twelve months is this: tea-pot is at once filled up with boiling water; then the tea is put into the pot, and is allowed to stand for five minutes before it is used; the leaves gradually absorb the water, and as gradually sink to the bottom. The result is, that the tea leaves are not scaleded, as they

Sow CLOVER SEED Now.—We have found no more successful mode of sowing clover, or elever and Timothy, upon winter grain, than to choose a still morning, when the ground is a little frozen, and scatter the seed broadcast. It falls in the open frost-cracks, and when thawing takes place, is beautifully and uniformly covered near the surface and is almost sure to germinate. A good crop of clover, thus sowed, acts partly as a mulch to the grain roots, yields a supply of Fall feed, and is most admirable to be turned under when "knee high" the next year, as one of the best manures that can be applied to any soil, manures that can be applied to any soil .-

THE GREAT STEAMER LEVIATAAN .- From BO article in the London Times we learn the progress that is making infitting the Levia-than for sea. The cost of completing ber fit-lings is estimated at $500,000 and the time four months or to the end of July. No less than ten anchors are required to hold the monster versel at her present moorings—five at the stem and five at the stem, and each with lengths of cable attached varying from 40 to 160 fathoms. There are to be six masts in all, three square rigged and three rigged with fore and aft sails. All these masts will be composed of plates of wrought iron one inch in thickness and riveted together in the same manner as the sides of the ship, or a steamboiler of the strongest description. They will vary in height from 130 to 170 feet from the keel to the truck; each will be three feet four inches diameter at the deck, and each will weigh from 30 to 40 tons, exclusive of yards and rigging. Each mast rests in a square column of plate-iron, which reaches direct from the keel to the upper deck and is riveted and built into all of the successive decks through which it passes. In case of decks through which it passes. In case of of-battle ships, about four times the strength | ble situation.

SENATOR STRAUS voted to sell the State ty lay on the direct line of the road from the timber in this county must come from that in a few years, must in a measure, be aban-doned, iron being too expensive for mining purposes. The price of provisions, moreover, was higher in his district than in any other locality in the United States, and the completion of the road would reduce their cost. He further stated that the reciprocity treaty with England, and the large amount of busi ness drawn off by the Pennsylvania Railrond was ruinous to New York, as it carried the Canada lake trade down the St. Lawrence and the Western business to Philadelphia .-She is struggling to meet the anticipated completion of the Sunbary and Eric Railroad, by a move which is being made to declare the New York and Eric Railroad free of toll.

**** A PIONEER PREACHES .- The Rev. Peter Cartwright, the old Western pioneer, is a delegate from Sangamon county, Ill., to the Desimeres, Satinett, Kentucky Jean &c., at exceedmocratic State Conventior. The correspon-dent of the St. Louis Republican thus writes tion to our Stock of Fresh Groceries, feeling as-

"This Peter Cartwright is none other than by thousands. We saw the old gentleman this afternoon in the county Convention .-He looks hale and hearty, and as if he would live a hundred years longer. He is certainly a very remarkable man in his way. We bewell acquainted all ever the State. A good story was told about the old gentleman during his attendance on the Methodist Conerence, which met in one of the Eastern cities a few years since. He put up at one of the large betels, and at night was shewn is room, which happened to be quite high up in the building, and accessible by a long winding staircase. After reaching his room he halloed in a load voice, sufficient to grouse the immates of the hotel, after this manner: Landlord, I say, landlord, bring me a hatchet Upon the landlord making his appearance and nquiring what he wanted with the hatchet; oring me a hatchet,' said the old preacher, I want to blaze the way so that I may be able to find my way down when I want to."

Daugged roo Much.-Dr. O. W. Holmes, better known as the funny man, in his recent valedictory addresses to the medical graduates of Harvard University, gives them the following good advice: "With regard to the administering of lrugs as a part of your medical treatment, the golden rule is, he sparing. Many remedies you give would make a well person so ill that he would send for you at once, if he had taken one of your doses accidentally. It is not quite fair to give such things to a sick man, unless it is clear that they will do more good than the very considerable harm you know they will cause. Be very gracious with children especially. I have seen old men shiver at the recollection of the rhubarb and alap of infancy. You may depend upon it, that half the success of Homopathy is due to the sweet peace it has brought into the nursery. Between the gurgling down of loathsome mixtures and the saccharine deli-quescence of a minute globule, what tender nother could for a moment hesitate?"

DUFF GREEN'S OPINION OF LECOMPTON .-- I am now an old man; I have seen much of the madness of party leaders, but I have seen nothing in all my experience which so forci-bly illustrates, the force of this saying of Bishop Butler, (that nations like individuals about six inches long, and boiled like other go mad,) as the proceedings of the South on intelligence to see this question in its deformity, with the independence to speak, and the nerve to act, as a representative of an intellicent, patriotic, and honored constituency should act, and in his place, denounce the filthy thing. "Let one single high-toned Southern man, who feels that it will disgrace him, and his constituents, for him as their representative, to be a party to the frauds and violence which and seperate himself from the iniquity. If one such there be, he may save the South from utter disgrace.' — Washington States.

SALAMANDER FIRE AND

THIEF-PROOF SAFES. The largest assortment in the United States. Warranted to be equal to any now made, and will be sold on as Good Terms, as can be obtained from any other house is the Country, at EVANS & WATSON'S 26 South 4th Street, Philadelphia. Truth is Mighty, and Must Prevail. Report of the Committee appointed to superintend the Burning of the Iron Safes, at Reading, February 27, 1857.

READING, March 4.

The undersigned, members of the committee do respectfully report, that we saw the two Safes originally agreed upon by Farrels & Herring and Evans & Watson, placed side by side in a fur-nace, viz: The Safe inuse by the Paymaster of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, in his office at Reading, manufactured by Farrels & Herring, and the Safe in use by H. A. Lantz, in his store, manufactured by Evans & Watson, and put in books and papers precisely alike.

The fire was started at 81 o'clock, A. M., and kept up until four cords of green hickory, two cords dry oak and half chesnut top wood were entirely consumed, the whole under the superintendence of the subscribers, members of the Committee. The Sufes were then cooled off with water, after which they were opened, and the books and papers taken out by the Committee and sent to H. A. Lantz's store for public examined and marked by the Committee. The books and papers taken from the Safe manufactured oy Parrels & Herring were in our judgment, damaged fully fifteen per cent. more than those taken from Evans & Watson's Safe. We believe the above to have been a fair and mpartial trial of the respective qualities of both

JACOB H. DYSHER DANIEL S. HUNTER. Having been absent during the burning, we fully coincide with the above statement of the ondition of the papers and books taken out of the respective Safes
