NEWS FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

Prospect of War Between the Argentine Confederation and Buenos Ayres—Reported Burning of the Ship Austin, etc.

By the arrival of the barque Clotilda Wright, we have the Buenos Ayres Commercial Times of April 9.

The news from the Argentine Confederation is that there had been a popular demonstration in the town of Concepcion against the further prolongation of the present alienation of Buenos Ayres from the Confederation, and a pronunciamento has been received at Buenos Ayres from the same quarter, signed by a number of well known popular and liberal names.

Of course rumor magnified the danger into something imminent, and little was talked of but the approaching invasion.

Several sons of foreigners had been cited for non-compliance in the National Guard.

This measure especially will by no means increase the popularity of the present government with the foreign section of our community.

The latest news from Entre Rios speaks of great excitement and the general adoption of the red ribbon.

The American exploring steamer Argentine, Captain Page, was to leave about the 20th ult. for the Paraguay river, accompanied by the small steamer Alpha. The expedition will, in the first instance, proceed down the river to the source of the Paraguay, and will then ascend the Pulcomayo. The Argentine will go as far as her draught will permit her, when the explorers will embark in the Alpha.

Intelligence from Mendoza says that orders had been issued to different detachments of troops to occupy the passes of the Cordilleras, for the purpose of disarming all fugitives who might pass over Chile, but to treat them in all other respects with the comity and leniency due to military.

The American ship Austin, with a cargo of wool, seems to have been burnt in that port, but the paper contains no particulars.

On the application of the American Consul, orders had been issued to the Argentine crew, for the purpose of entering a searching examination into causes of the fire.

DISTRESSING OCCURRENCE.—Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock, a painful occurrence happened in the house adjoining the Middle Ward Hotel, Market street, this Borough, occupied as a residence by John A. Kalkack, who is a tailor by trade, and worked in his house, suddenly left the table upon which he was working, and started up stairs, remarking to his wife that he was going to load his pistol. Not deeming it an extraordinary act, she did not pay particular attention to it, until she was startled by the report of a pistol. She hastened up stairs to the garret and there beheld the body of her husband weltering in his blood. A portion of the skull on the right side of his head had been blown away, exposing the brain, while the pistol had entered two or three feet from the body. An inquest was held on the body last night, and a verdict rendered that the deceased came to his death from a pistol shot, the pistol at the time being in his own hand.

Mr. J. A. Kalkack was about 30 years of age, and was formerly in the employ of Mr. Lippman of this Borough. He leaves a wife and four children. The occurrence created considerable excitement, as Mr. Kalkack was well and favorably known. His health was not good for some time previous to the fatal occurrence.—Miners' Journal.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT ARREST.

Old Hugh Taylor, the Counterfeiter, in Custody—Seizure of over Twenty Thousand Dollars in Counterfeit Notes.

Upon information received a few days ago, by Jas. M. Cassidy, Esq., United States Commissioner, a warrant was issued for the arrest of a man named Taylor, on the charge of making counterfeit coin, Deputy U. S. Marshal John Jenkins and Joshua Taggart, of Philadelphia, were deputed to serve the same.

In discharge of the duty above named they proceeded yesterday morning about a mile beyond a village of Long-a-come, and arrested a man named Washington Taylor.

On searching the premises occupied by him, an unusually large amount of counterfeit bank notes, in different stages of process of manufacture, consisting of over 20,000 in fives on the State Bank of Camden; several thousand in fives on the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Camden; also a large amount of fives on the Eastern Bank, Pennsylvania, were found.

The notes on the first and last named banks were executed in a workmanlike manner, and are pronounced by the officers of one of them as the best counterfeits they had ever seen, and well calculated to deceive the shrewdest expert. The officers also recovered the steel plate upon which the notes of the State Bank had been printed, together with press, ink, paper, and everything that might carry on the contraband trade upon a large scale.

Also a complete set of engravers' tools, with which it is supposed he did his own engraving. The State lives had evidently just been printed, as they, when found, were spread over the room for no purpose, and were yet damp. No coin was found. He was held by the commissioner in $2,000 bail for a further hearing, on the charge of making counterfeit coin. Immediately afterwards he was charged before the same gentleman, who is Justice of the Peace, and was committed to the county jail, for a further hearing, on the complaint of forging notes on the State Bank of Camden.—Ledger of May 27th.

The Pittsburg Gazette, says: "During the little excitement in flour, which has now, to a great extent, passed away, it was worthy of note both as an article of market from the West, and as an article of market from the East."

The boats on the Monongahela Slackwater, which for months had brought to market only a little dribble and now, came in loaded with flour all at once. During the month of April here were 1,207 barrels of flour imported by that route, and during the month of May, up to last night, 6,652 barrels."
