Upper Augusta twp., June 25, 1859 .- 3t JUST PUBLISHED. New Method for the Plano Forte. BY CHARLES GROBE.

Orts 1199.

A good instruction book for the Piano has ong been wonting, and Mr Charles Grobe has performed the labor, in getting this one up in a most admirable and satisfactory manner. It will prove itself to be one of the most valuable guides in the instruction of the art of playing the Piano.

Considering the author's well-known capacity, and long are correcting devotion to the task of elementary teaching, we have strong reason to hope that the public are mow to be farnished with a thorough, systematic, progressive, and entertaining method of the Piano.

We can confidently recommend it to teachers and pupils as better adapted to the purposes of elementary instruction than any others with which we are acquainted.

The plan pursued in this work is substantially the same no that developed in Ollendorff's method of teaching languages. It commences with the simplest elements. The progress made will be gradual so that every step will be perfectly intelligible, and be rendered of positive value to the physic, but it is not to be substantially the same that developed in Ollendorff's method of teaching handying, overcome by practice.

This method will, indoubtedly, provide teachers with a well digested, progressive and entertaining plan by which a sound and correct knowledge of the art of playing the plano may be required with comparatively little labor, and in as short a space of time as will almost seem incredible to those who have eaulined themselves to souse of the tedinus systems harctofore in use.

This work commiss ten engraved figures, illustrating the different positions of the hands and fingers; and also a like ness of the such v.

The Van-Allen Soda Fountain may truly be regarded as invaluable. It enables any one to manufacture, with great facility, an indefinite supply of the most delicious Soda Water, at a cost of only about THREE OR FOUR CENTS PER GALLON!

The risk and expense of Copper Fountains are not incurred, and a few moments only are required to prepare the water. But little ice is needed to keep the fountain so cool as to render it unnecessary to use any in glasses. The two ingredients used are dissolved in seperate stone jars and are forced by action of a simple pump, in equal quantities into a lined cast-iron gasometer, where they become instantly united and the Soda is formed. No copper or brass comes in contact with any of the ingredients. No Mineral Water can be more delightful than that manu factured by this process; and whilst it is, perhaps purer than any other, it has all the requisite Pungency.
