An address to the seceders, urging their return -Delegates to the Constitutional Union

Convention etc., etc. Washington, May 7.—An address to the seceders from the Charleston Convention, showing the urgent necessity for their return to the National Democratic Convention, at the adjourned meeting in June, was in circu lation to-day for the signatures of members of The movement is intended to Congress. The movement is intended to forestall the meeting of Conventions in the States to supply the vacancies occasioned by the withdrawal of the delegates.

The number of delegates passeing through Washington on the way to Baltimore to attend the Constitutional Union Convention, is larger than was anticipated. All the States will be represented except the Pacific Coast. It is supposed that not more than about twenty of the Republican members of Congress will attend the Chicago Convention. Shad and Herring Fishing in the Chesapeake HARVE DEGRACE, Md., May 7. The fishermen are now in the midst of their fish barvest. The Chesapeak bay is perfectly alive with shad and herring. The herring are coming up in immense numbers, and the fishermen are making fortunes.

Bond is said to have caught from twelve to eighteen hundred barrels of herring at one haul. Osborn, at the battery, caught one thousand barrels at one haul, and every body is catching from three to eight hundred barrels per day. This run of herring is said to be the largest for thirty years. We have splendid weather for the growing crops, and in their present state the prospect for large erops is very favorable.

SENTENCE OF REV. J. S. HARDEN.—Belvi-dere, May 3.—Rev. J. S. Harden, who was yesterday convicted of murder in the first degree, for killing his wife, was this morning brought into Court for sentence. He was creatly agitated, and could hardly stand.— When asked why sentence should not be prononneed, he replied with difficulty, "I have nothing to say." The Judge then sentenced him to be hung on the 28th day of June, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 3 P. M.

ANOTHER BRITISH OUTRAGE-An American Vessel Seized.—Boston, May 9.—The brig George W. Jones, of Salem, was seized on the 15th of February, on the Pongo river, by the British frigate Arrogaut, as a slaver.— She was half loaded with hides. Her papers were shown to the Lieutenant who seized her, but he pronounced them fradulent. The Comwodore, however, after seeing the papers released the brig.

ANOTHER HORRIBLE MURDER.

On last Sunday evening, between 8 and 9 good will toward all men in their hearts, the arch-fiend was busy in another part of the town, causing the foul and brutal murder of a fellow being in cold blood! An Irishman employed as a workman in the Montour rolling Mill, by the name of Andrew McKinley, deliberately stabbed one Thomas Shevland in the groin, causing his death almost instantly. There seemed to have been no apparent provocation, and the consequent excitement among the crowd who had been attracted to the spot by the cry of "murder," was intense much so, that it was with difficulty Constable Creitz, assisted by a few energetic citi. and Money," at the Court House in this zens, could take him safely to the jail. When Creitz arrested bim, be was concealed under the bed in his own house, having been previonsly chased through several streets.

The murdered man, Thomas Shevland was been born in Ireland, and leaves a wife and two small store, and is said to have been a very quiet evening in torrents. and peaceable citizen, an industrious man, and a member of the Roman Catholic church. His remains were buried on Wed-

COMMENDABLE.-High Constable Brosious has been notifying our citizens to have the streets and alleys, about their premises, cleaned up, and many have already done so. This is commendable, and we trust the work will be continued until the entire town shall have been put in good condition before the warm weather sets in.

MAY PARTIES .- Since the warm weather has rightly set in, May parties have been all the talk among the juveniles, to have a jolly romp in the wild woods. Now is the time for a ramble in the country, and pic nic parties will soon be all the rage.

BEING TORN DOWN .- We saw, a few days ago, workmen engaged in tearing down if his friends, in calculating the chance, deemthe large steam saw mill at the upper end of this borough. The mill formerly belonged to the Sunbury Water Power Company, and at Richmond by the seceders of the Charleshas been lying idle for several years. CONVENTIONS .- There will be political Conventions enough in the next six weeks to whose conduct, they say, has proved that a satisfy all parties. The Baltimore Union gamer man never lived. The fact is, Heenan Convention is now in session. The Chicago crop, received through the country merchants Republican will be held on 16th of this month. The first Democratic Convention, the Southern, will be held at Richmond on the first part of the month, and where the crops 11th of June next. The Northern democrawere not injured, they present a fine appear. tic Convention on the 18th of the same month. These accounts agree with reports There is some speculation indulged whether the Baltimore Union and the Chicago Republican Conventions will not both be postponed comstances, will be meagre, but north of the till after the Democratic Conventions have Ohio river, the indications at present are been held, and the subject of a nomination finally decided by them. There are some in the State, it is altogether likely the crop advantages, it is supposed, to the other two will fall short of an average. Rains have parties in knowing who the Democratic candidate is before they make their nominations.

IMPROVEMENTS .- We learn that a numto complete their spring work. NEW YORK, May 8th, 1860. The present week is what is generally termed "Anciversary week," when the great religious and charitable societies assemble here in convention, attended by delegates, from various parts of the Union, for discussion and the transaction of business, such as the American Foreign Christian Union, American Tract Society Townscapes Union American Tract Society, Temperance Union, American Anti-Slavery Society, Womens Rights Society, and a number of others.— The programme for the week is published in advance, and the proceedings reported daily, for the papers. Among the most prominent of those not only on account of its importance in a moral and religious view, but on account of its great political bearing, is the Anti-Slavery Society, of which Wm. Loyd Garrison, is the President, supported by Rev. Dr. Cheever and Wendell Philips, who though fanatical in their extreme opinions, are distinguished for their eloquence and ability. Garrison and Philips, openly advocate a dissolution of the Union, denouncing the Constitution which legalizes Slavery, as unchristian and a compact with bell. This Society meets to day at the Cooper Institute The Speakers announced for to day are Garrison, Dr. Cheever, Parvis, Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Wendell Philips. Among the Speakers for the evening, I observed th was one of my earliest companions and school mates, I shall endeavor to give him a hearing, if possible, to press my way through the crowd that is drawn together on these portion. occasions. As a pulpit orator he gave early evidence of more than ordinary ability, and has been uncompromising in his opposition

The four political conventions which as semble this month and the next, keep our politicans and office hunters extremely busy their disinterested efforts to save the Union and preserve the plunder arising from place and station. The Union Convention to be held at Baltimore to-morrow, mostly by friends of the American party, will require but little time to settle upon a ticket. The most prominent candidates are Edward Everett and Gen. Houston. The Republican Convention at Chicago, comes off on the 16th. The most prominent candidates are Senator Seward of New York, Edward Bates, of Missouri, Judge McLane, of Ohio, and Gen. Cameron, of Pennsylvania. Gov. Seward could, no doubt, be nominated if he desired it, or rather ed it advisable. The split in the Charleston Convention, is looked upon as affording him additional encouragement. The Convention I think, amount to anything practical, as some of the Virginians will insist upon them re-uniting with the adjourned democratic Convention at Baltimore in June. Judge Douglas' friends express great confidence in being able to nominate him at Baltimore .-The result will bring four candidates in the field, as it was in 1824, when Gen. Jackson. Clay, Crawford and John Quincy Adams were the candidates. John Quincy Adams was then elected by the union of the friends of Mr. Clay, with those of Mr. Adams.— George Kremer of Union county represented our district in Congress, at this time, and was challenged by Mr. Clay, who became secretary of State under Mr. Adams, for words in debate, charging Mr. Clay, with bargain and sale, and corruption. The fight he was called acquired no little notoriety in consequence thereof. A large majority, if not all, of the Southern States will cast their electorial votes for the Richmond candidate. The opposition will be divided between the Union candidate and the one presented by the Baltimore Convenstill a minority in the Electorial College .-In the Northern States owing to the break up at Charleston, the republican majorities, and looked upon as certain in a great majority, if not in all of them. But this will not give to that ticket a majority of the Electoral College. The vote of the Central and commercial States will therefore decide the coming struggle. The great fight continues to absorb a good deal of the attention of the Press, as well as the people. This is owing to the fact that the English made it assume a national character. According to their own papers the English nobility and members of Parliament were present in considerable numbers. of money was bet by those wealthy English sportsmen, giving the odds on Sayers, which taken principally by Russians and French sportmen and gentry, whose partialities are strongly on the side of the American.— Morrissey is denounced every where. He attempted to defend himself in a card, in the papers here, by saying he looked upon it as a usiness matter and not as a national matter. But even the English papers denounce him for having deceived them, by creating an impression that Heenan was a coward, and told Mc'Donald, his second, that he could soon finish Sayers, after the tenth round, but as Mc'Donald had a bet that the fight would last an hour he requested Heenan not to do so. The English Journals all speak highly of Heenans courage and fine proportions and strength. They admit that Sayers life was humanity. The London Review, thus refers to the subject: "But we further have to remark, that if Heenan and his friends complain that the battle was left undecided, the American champion has chiefly bimself to blame for the disappointment which he may think he has sustained. It is certain that he was holding Sayers so that he would have strangled him in another minute, and the ropes enclosing the ring were cut or loosened by some one 'near at hand, in order to deliver Sayers from what appeared to be the peril of immediate When the ropes were once lowered death.

in peril, when the ropes were cut and loosed, of course the ring was broken, and it is diffi-'cult to pronounce whether all the confusion 'which ensued was, or was not, inevitable." "Heenan is probably the finest man who were stepped into a prize ring. He has shown unflinching courage, and, as he now knows his own terrific strength, and may be expected to improve in skill, and to feel no 'nervousness, neither England nor America will soon find a man to beat him. Sayers this countrymen repose in him. A more accomplished, enduring and couragous boxer never wore the belt of champion. We trust the combatants and their friends will feel that enough has been done and suffered for the honor of the men and of the countries which

'gave them birth." SUICIDE IN WILLIAMSPORT .- A YOUNG

THE CENSUS TAKERS will enter upon the discharge of their daties on the first of next month. They will visit every house and family within their limits, and will have in. numerable questions to ask: These will in part cover the numbers, names, ages and sexes of every family, as well as the products of every farm; the number of acres under cultivation, and the number of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs upon it. These questions should be answered promptly, and as nearly as possible correctly, and in order to do so it would be advisable for every head of a family to write down the answers in advance .-Farmers especially should in their leisure moments prepare accurate statements of the number of acres of land they may have under cultivation, the number of bushels of different kinds of grain, the quantity of hay, fruit, &c., they produced last year, together with the number of horses, cattle and other stock they feed. This would greatly facilitate the labors of the Census-Taker, and also render the information Government is seeking more valuable and reliable.

REMARKABLE CASE - A couple of weeks ago. a burglary took place in the town of Sunbury, Northumberland county, at which time a number of valuable silks and fancy articles were stolen. A little son of Sheriff Vandyke's, who has lately exhibited wonderful powers, attributed by many shade many of the remarkable cases mentioned In the Northern States owing to the break up at Charleston, the republican majorities, and the success of the Chicago ticket may be fellow was in Milton when the burglary took place in Sunbury, and when he was taken home a few days afterwards told his father who the burglars were, how they broke into the store, the implements they used, what they stole, and where the stolen goods were concealed. stated to his father that the burglars were five Germans from Harrisburg; that they effected an entrance into the store with a large morticing chisel, which they stole from a cabinet maker's shop near by; that the goods were conveyed to Harrisburg, and concealed under an old building in a tan yard on Front street. This mysterious revelation, made by the boy, when it was known An American gentleman of this city who was he was in Milton when the burglary took place, present at the light says, that several millions excited the curiosity of the father, and he concluded to bring the child to this city, where he had never been before, for the purpose of testing the truth of his singular revelation. Upon arriving here, the boy conducted his father directly to Greenawalt's vacated tannery, but before arriving there the boy said that the building under which the goods had been concealed was being torn down, and that the goods had been previously removed to Middletown. When it is considered that the boy was never in this city before, and upon his arrival here conducted his father at once to the tannery on Front street, the case is indeed remarkable. The goods have not yet been recovered, nor the alleged burglars arrested, but from what is already known there is very little doubt that certain parties in our city had a hand in the business. The National Constitutional Union Convention met at Baltimore on Wednesday last, and was called to order by the Hon. John J.
