McClellan's approach to Beverly, apparently hoping to pass Beverly before Gen. McClellan's arrival, and thus escape the trap for them by a passage through the Cheat Moun-

The evacuation was discovered on the morning of the 12th, and pursuit was instantly ordered. By ten o'clock the Indianna Ninth entered the camp on Laurel Hill, and found a large number of tents, a lot of floor, camp equipage and clething, and several sick and wounded, with a note asking us to give them proper attention.

The rebel army went within three miles of Rich Mountain, and finding escape to Hut-tensvill impossible, all united and returned toward Laurel Hill, and took the road in the direction of St. Morris.

Gen. Morris' division pursued them for a mile or two beyond Leedsville that night, and halted from 11 till 3 in the morning, when the advance resumed the pursuit and continned it all day, in spite of an incessant rain pouring down.

The rebel army left the pike and struck Cheat river and pursued the mountain road down the valley. Our advance, composed of the Fourteenth Ohio and Seventh and Ninth Indiana, pushed on, guided through the mountain guilles by tents, camp furniture, provisions and kunpencks, thrown from the rebel wagons to facilitate their flight.

The Fourteenth regiment returned the fire with spirit. Meanwhile two pieces of Cleveland artillery come up and opened on the rebels, and the Ninth Indiana advanced to support the Fourteenth Obio regiment, left

478 BROADWAY, NEW WORK. Should be in every family, School, Gymnasium, Asylum, and Hospital in the land. Are oot DANGEROUS, like the common flocking Horse, Stands firm on its Pedestal, will not wear CARPETS, and has no Rockers to lejure

FROM THE "HOME JOURNAL." "Of all the child-furniture we have ever seen no article combines so much of those two impor-tant things—health and happiness—as the Ad-justable Patent Steel Spring Saddle-Horse, in-vented by Jesse A. Crandall, It is not danger-ous, like a common rocking-horse, to children's stands firm on its base, and its action is so like the gallop of z live horse that the child never wearies of it. This atest of child novelties is excoedingly elegant and artistic in design , and so adjustable, substantial, and durable, that it will family where there are children. It should be in every primary school and gymnasium in the mongh to sustain grown persons. As a pedestal for photographic pictures, nothing is more beauti-

"Every Orphan Asylum and Institution where children are congregated, should be furnished with a number of these beautiful articles. They are fitted with side-enddles where required."

DIRECTIONS FOR ADJUSTING .- Open the after part of the base sufficiently to allow the axie to go in its place; then raise or lower the Horse to suit you. Screw the bolts in the side very tight. •
