

SUNBURY, PA. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1861.

H. B. MASSER, Editor and Proprietor.

THE UNION TICKET.

For President Judge, JOHN W. MAYNARD, of Lycoming Co.

For Associate Judge, JOSEPH NIGELY, of Delaware.

WILLIAM DEPPIN, of Trevorton.

For Assembly, EDWARD Y. BRIGHT, of Sunbury.

For Register and Recorder, Dr. J. B. MASSER, of Sunbury.

For Commissioner, GEORGE CHRISTMAN, of Lewis.

For Treasurer, JOSEPH VANKIRK, of Point.

For Auditor, I. H. RESSLER, of Lower Mahanoy.

NON-PAYING SUBSCRIBERS.—As we are about to print our subscription list, we shall be compelled to strike off all subscribers of long standing who pay nothing and make no effort to do so.

The storm of Friday night was most terrific, and did much damage in the destruction of trees, fences, and also in buildings.

GRANT'S CORNET BAND.—The Brass Band, under the leadership of Thomas D. Grant, left this place on Monday last for Harrisburg.

THE ROOMS at Williamsport and Lock Haven gave way on Saturday, caused by the sudden rise in the river, and in the evening the river, in this place, was covered with thousands of logs.

LATE WAR NEWS.—General McClellan has driven the rebels back from Munson's Hill, and now holds that position.

GRAPE.—This is the season for this delicious and wholesome fruit.

THE undersigned citizens of the borough of Muncy, Lycoming county, certify that they have known of Henry W. W. Waltman, a citizen of Muncy, for some time, and that he is a gentleman of integrity and stands high in this community for truth and veracity.

THE undersigned have heard the statement of the men referred to in the communication signed Kappa, published in the Sunbury American in the issue of September 21st, hereby certify that the substance of their statement was correctly given by Kappa and the language nearly verbatim.

DEATH OF JOHN A. WASHINGTON.—A correspondent writing from Mt. Union, says: "I have the pleasure, and it is indeed a pleasure, to send you the news of the death of John A. Washington, who was killed yesterday afternoon, about seven miles south of Elwaco Camp.

FOR FORT PICKENS.—J. W. McGuire, whose appointment to a Second Lieutenant we noticed a short time since has been ordered on to Fort Pickens, Florida, and left for his post last week.

COURT.—Messrs. Fyrmire, Balli & Co., have a large quantity of manufactured articles for army wagons.

GOOD FOR OUR BOYS.—The members of the Pollock Guards from this place, sent home their families something over six hundred dollars, on Monday last.

MURDERS, robberies, stabbings and general disorder is rife in Richmond.

PHILADELPHIA MARKET.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Wheat Flour, Rye Flour, Corn Meal, Red Wheat, etc.

SUNBURY PRICE CURRENT.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Wheat, Rye, Corn, Oats, Buckwheat, Potatoes.

New Advertisements.

STRAYED.

A young cow, dark brown, white face and feet. Any person obtaining her or giving information of her whereabouts will be suitably rewarded by the subscriber.

ORPHANS' COURT SALE.

In pursuance of an order of the Orphans' Court of Northumberland County, will be exposed to sale, on the premises, on Tuesday, the 23rd day of October instant.

PROCLAMATION.

NOTICE is hereby given that the several Courts of Common Pleas, Circuit, Quarter Sessions of the Peace, and Orphans' Court, County of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, in and for the county of Northumberland, to commence at the Court House, in the borough of Sunbury, at 10 o'clock, A. M., on Monday, the 4th day of OCTOBER next, and will continue TWO WEEKS.

SWAIN'S EDUCATED PANACEA.

For the cure of Scalds, Inflammation, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Swelling of the Face, Swelling of the Throat, Swelling of the Lungs, Swelling of the Liver, Swelling of the Spleen, Swelling of the Stomach, Swelling of the Intestines, Swelling of the Bladder, Swelling of the Uterus, Swelling of the Vagina, Swelling of the Testes, Swelling of the Prostate, Swelling of the Penis, Swelling of the Scrotum, Swelling of the Anus, Swelling of the Rectum, Swelling of the Colon, Swelling of the Small Intestine, Swelling of the Large Intestine, Swelling of the Gall Bladder, Swelling of the Pancreas, Swelling of the Spleen, Swelling of the Liver, Swelling of the Stomach, Swelling of the Intestines, Swelling of the Bladder, Swelling of the Uterus, Swelling of the Vagina, Swelling of the Testes, Swelling of the Prostate, Swelling of the Penis, Swelling of the Scrotum, Swelling of the Anus, Swelling of the Rectum, Swelling of the Colon, Swelling of the Small Intestine, Swelling of the Large Intestine, Swelling of the Gall Bladder, Swelling of the Pancreas.

THE STARS AND STRIPES ON MUNSON'S HILL.

The Stars and Stripes have taken the place of the Secession rag on Munson's Hill; its ramparts have been deserted by the ragged rebels, while stout hearted and loyal men are now doing duty there, dressed in substantial and elegant uniforms from the Brown Stone case.

EMPLOYMENT WANTED!

We will pay from $25 to $75 per month, and all expenses, to active Agents, or give a commission, Particulars sent free.

Religious Notices.

Divine service will be held every Sabbath in the Borough as follows:

MARRIAGES.

On the 8th ult., by the Rev. J. W. Stein, M. D., Mr. JOHN H. REITZ to Miss JANE COLLEMAN, both of Lower Augusta.

DEATHS.

In this place, on the 5th ult., Mr. JOHN LANDAU, aged 49 years, 1 month and 5 days.

OURSELVES AND THE ORNAMENTAL MAJORS.

Those who had supposed that Major Dewart was politically dead and buried, will be surprised to find that he is not yet entirely defunct.

When we dissected the corpse of this political charlatan, several weeks since, and when his requiem was sung by his late political associates while they danced around the grave which buried his aspirations and his hopes, we supposed that he would have been content to remain where fate and his own follies had consigned him.

But since he is determined to figure again in print, we shall be obliged to gratify his aspirations by properly noticing his efforts.

The Major has very properly selected the "White Feather" organ of the Breckinridge clique for his last efforts, under the following caption:—"A Malicious Lie against Judge Turner Nailed."

That the Major should engage in such a vocation as the nailing of lies, may seem strange to those who are aware of the "constitutional infirmity" of his nature, which from infancy has induced him to look upon virtue and veracity as conventional forms of society.

entirely too stringent for gentlemen, like himself, of unbridled appetites and untrammelled propensities.

But the Major professes to be a man of taste in his broadest sense, and has given undoubted evidence of his fondness for variety—in politics as well as in morals and gastronomy.

His voting in Congress for and against "Leocompton," and finally when he voted for that wicked man, sure, after declaring he would sooner lose his right arm than do so, is an exemplification of his talents in that line, though nothing more than we predicted.

When he suddenly became converted to the doctrines of Judge Douglas, we felt satisfied that he was out of place and the alacrity with which he returned to his Breckinridge associates, after the death of that talented statesman, was perfectly in character, and therefore not surprising.

But to the facts of the case.

The Major called on us, as he says, when we were conversing with Sheriff Waldron, and politely, though somewhat pompously, demanded the name of the author of "Kappa," pointing to the paragraph which authorized us to give it when demanded on the part of Judge Turner.

We remarked that he was not Judge Turner. He said that paragraph authorized him to demand the name. We denied his right to do so, and said we had an idea that we understood the English language quite as well as he did, and remarked we were ready at any time, to give the name to Judge Turner when properly requested but did not recognize any right on his part, to make such a demand more than 500 others.

He then pompously made another formal demand for the name. We then remarked we would not hesitate to give the name to Sheriff Waldron, if he desired it, but we must politely inform him (the Major) that "it was a piece of impudence on his part to persist in such a demand."

"Instead of this being mumbled" it was so loud and emphatic, that it was distinctly heard by Sheriff Waldron, Peter Oberdorfer and all others present.

The above stated facts were read to Sheriff Waldron before they were in type, and he authorizes us to say they are strictly correct.

The idea that "Mr. Masser was much confused and alarmed at his sudden detection" is about as important a discovery as any one might expect from the Major, whose statements are generally as marvellous as they are absurd.

We could have no motive whatever in withholding Mr. Wm. Waltman's name, whose communication came to us endorsed by one of the most respectable citizens in Muncy, and who, by letter, authorized us to give the name if demanded by Judge Turner.

So far from the Judge believing it a "trumped up name," he said he knew Daniel Waltman and thought he knew William also. If the Judge would enquire at Muncy, he will find all the information he desires, and more than will be agreeable.

THE UNION MEETING.

The Union Meeting on Saturday last was well attended, though not so largely from the country as it would have been, had not the severe storm of Friday night kept our farmers at home to repair the fences and other damage occasioned thereby.

The speech of Hon. Hendrick B. Wright, member of Congress from Luzerne county, was most eloquent and patriotic.

He told his hearers that he had always been a democrat, and should live and die one, but that a man who did not lay aside party issues, at such a time as this, was neither a patriot or a true Democrat, and was doing the cause as much injury as an open enemy to the government.

The Breckinridge leaders exhibited the calibre of their patriotism and brains, by trying to persuade some of their men not to listen to a distinguished Democrat, whom they enlarded so highly last fall, because he was now in favor of a Union ticket, and denounced all party measures as treasonable to the country.

The speech was received with continued rounds of applause and many stout hearts were brought to tears.

Col. Wright was elected to Congress last June by the Union party, and remarked that he had twice as much majority as his Breckinridge opponent had votes.

Judge Maynard was loudly called for, but declined making a speech, as a matter of delicacy, but said he adopted Col. Wright's speech as his own.

PRINCIPLES.—Purdy, the crazy hair-brained editor of the "White Feather Democrat," talked about principles. What principles does he, or the crew whose dirty work he is hired to perform, represent? None in his right mind, the "seven principles," which John Randolph defined to be the "five loaves and two fishes." What man among them is not now, and has not been, intriguing for office? Principles indeed! What a burlesque on common sense for these fellows to talk about principles.

Purdy, of the Democrat, asks why the Youngmans, who are bachelors, don't themselves go to the war which he has been secretly opposing. Why don't the miserable scoundrel go himself? There is no one who could be so easily spared and who would be so little missed. We will guarantee that this community and that of Lewisburg, his former residence, would vote almost unanimously in favor of his removal, as readily as for the removal of any other nuisance.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BRECKINRIDGE RIGIDERS IN SECRET COUNCIL.

The prima movers or leaders of the Breckinridge clique, in this county, are in secret councils to arrange and adjust the numerous quarrels that must necessarily arise among a set of unprincipled politicians, who have so many conflicting interests and use so much deception and treachery to accomplish their purposes.

Our rival reporter has furnished us with the proceedings of the last meeting. The subject was the ticket and its prospects.

Present.—The Ornamental Major, Jesse, ex-Postmaster B., Deputy Prothonotary S., Doctor A., P., editor of the "White Feather" Democrat, Counselor H., Sam Patch, Jr., Charley, (messenger, door keeper and local reporter), R. K. J., reporter at large and retailer of an official news.

The Major took the chair by virtue of being the laziest man of the party, and after giving a hint to clear his throat, and a hitch to his breeches with his left hand, he stated the subject to be discussed, which was the great dissatisfaction which existed in regard to the nominations, remarking that there were some men in the party who stubbornly claimed the right to think for themselves, and were always giving trouble.

Jesse.—That is nothing. They will all soon be whipped into the traces—there is nothing like using a good long lash. I have seen worse nominations swallowed than these.

Ex-Postmaster.—We have overlooked the mark in nominating such a man as Cummings. Dr. Masser is a good officer, speaks the German language, is obliging, and is fairly entitled to another term. Breckley's opposition was all wrong, and his story about the Doctor's opposition to him went take, nor that about his clerks, and don't look well in Breckley, whose former clerk opposed and voted against Dr. Masser, and whose present clerk is very obnoxious to many.

Counselor H.—It is certainly unfortunate that we should have so many men on our ticket whose loyalty is not above suspicion, and then have them all in the upper end, and all Breckinridge men, perhaps, one only excepted. To take two out of Chillsquage, Cummings and his uncle Irwin, is a little too much.

Sam Patch, Jr.—Well, we have the party organization in our hands, and we would be great fools not to nominate our own friends.

Doctor.—I don't think Brown's nomination is anything to brag of, either. They have got hold of a matter that will be as bad as the leather business was on some of us two years ago. They say that the new streets opened in Milton will cost at least $5000, and as the county had to pay already $1000 damages to extend one of these streets, that it might be necessary to have some legislation to fasten this also on the county, and that Nosey Bright would not do for that purpose.

Jesse.—But, don't you see, Brown will get some Republican votes on this very occasion in Milton. As for Sheriff Waldron's opposition to Brown, we will mark him some day.

Deputy Prothonotary.—Is it true that Brown said in this place, just before the nominations, that Cummings could not be believed or relied on for any promise he made, and ordered him out of his office on account of his dishonest conduct?

Doctor.—I believe Brown, the darned fool, did tell some of Dr. Masser's friends. He ought to have kept that to himself until after the election.

Jesse.—I tell you this Sheriff business is kicking up a fuss. I told you it wouldn't do to promise the next Sheriff to so many—Here is no less than six persons who we have promised and agreed to make Sheriff. Some of them begin to smile a rat already.

Doctor.—Well, I thought when Mart was made President of the Club, that it was a bad move, as they would begin to see "which way the cat jumps."

Editor P.—How is it that the volunteers are all going against us? I have praised them and said a good many smart things about their being all Democrats. Yet they are all going to vote the Union ticket.

S. D. J.—Yes, you made an ass of yourself, and as to you, by white-washing that thief Floyd—abusing the President, and yet saying nothing against Jeff Davis and Breckinridge. Load your pistol again, P., these soldiers are made to be shot at. You and the Virginia preacher are a full Breckinridge team, but would travel better over a Southern track—Charley, keep a lookout at the door; don't let Harry Masser hear of our proceedings; let Fort Lafayette; you are cut out for something higher.

BLAIN vs. CUMMINGS.

As Mr. Cummings has attempted to make it appear that Mr. Blain's affidavit was not true, by swearing that he did not use such words, without saying what language he did use, some of the friends of Mr. Blain have deemed it proper to certify to his character, so that those not acquainted with him, may judge between his positive oath and Mr. Cummings' special affidavit. The following certificate is from some of the best citizens of Milton:—

"The undersigned citizens of Milton being personally acquainted with George Blain, of Chillsquage township, Northumberland county, he having been raised within sight of our own, and knowing him from his youth up, cheerfully bear testimony to his good character for truth and veracity, and have no doubt of his integrity and honesty."

R. M. FRICK, W. C. LAWSON, Wm. McCLARY, Wm. F. NAGLE, F. BOUND, JOS. ANGSTADT, JNO. PORTER, Wm T. FOLLMER.

A PICTURE.—It is a great pity that Purdy and some of his crew were not in the Court House when Col. Wright drew the picture of certain characters who now shout loudly for the Union, but who are, in their sneaking inroads and silent treachery, doing more harm to the country than the rebels and traitors South. Purdy could have hung up that picture in his own chamber, as a perfect likeness of himself.

We told Purdy, last week, we could stand his falsifying, his bad grammar, and worse logic, but his bad spelling was disgraceful to one who professes to be an editor, and who has rubbed his back against the outside walls of a University. To spell recklessly twice, in the same article, with a w, as he did last week, is an outrage on—the Queen's English, and would be bad enough for his learned correspondent, the Ornamental Major, who had passed through three Colleges, without graduating in either.

Mr. Beckley and Two Terms.—The Breckinridge clique, in this county, are in secret councils to arrange and adjust the numerous quarrels that must necessarily arise among a set of unprincipled politicians, who have so many conflicting interests and use so much deception and treachery to accomplish their purposes.

Our rival reporter has furnished us with the proceedings of the last meeting. The subject was the ticket and its prospects.

Present.—The Ornamental Major, Jesse, ex-Postmaster B., Deputy Prothonotary S., Doctor A., P., editor of the "White Feather" Democrat, Counselor H., Sam Patch, Jr., Charley, (messenger, door keeper and local reporter), R. K. J., reporter at large and retailer of an official news.

The Major took the chair by virtue of being the laziest man of the party, and after giving a hint to clear his throat, and a hitch to his breeches with his left hand, he stated the subject to be discussed, which was the great dissatisfaction which existed in regard to the nominations, remarking that there were some men in the party who stubbornly claimed the right to think for themselves, and were always giving trouble.

Jesse.—That is nothing. They will all soon be whipped into the traces—there is nothing like using a good long lash. I have seen worse nominations swallowed than these.

Ex-Postmaster.—We have overlooked the mark in nominating such a man as Cummings. Dr. Masser is a good officer, speaks the German language, is obliging, and is fairly entitled to another term. Breckley's opposition was all wrong, and his story about the Doctor's opposition to him went take, nor that about his clerks, and don't look well in Breckley, whose former clerk opposed and voted against Dr. Masser, and whose present clerk is very obnoxious to many.

Counselor H.—It is certainly unfortunate that we should have so many men on our ticket whose loyalty is not above suspicion, and then have them all in the upper end, and all Breckinridge men, perhaps, one only excepted. To take two out of Chillsquage, Cummings and his uncle Irwin, is a little too much.

Sam Patch, Jr.—Well, we have the party organization in our hands, and we would be great fools not to nominate our own friends.

Doctor.—I don't think Brown's nomination is anything to brag of, either. They have got hold of a matter that will be as bad as the leather business was on some of us two years ago. They say that the new streets opened in Milton will cost at least $5000, and as the county had to pay already $1000 damages to extend one of these streets, that it might be necessary to have some legislation to fasten this also on the county, and that Nosey Bright would not do for that purpose.

Jesse.—But, don't you see, Brown will get some Republican votes on this very occasion in Milton. As for Sheriff Waldron's opposition to Brown, we will mark him some day.

Deputy Prothonotary.—Is it true that Brown said in this place, just before the nominations, that Cummings could not be believed or relied on for any promise he made, and ordered him out of his office on account of his dishonest conduct?

Doctor.—I believe Brown, the darned fool, did tell some of Dr. Masser's friends. He ought to have kept that to himself until after the election.

Jesse.—I tell you this Sheriff business is kicking up a fuss. I told you it wouldn't do to promise the next Sheriff to so many—Here is no less than six persons who we have promised and agreed to make Sheriff. Some of them begin to smile a rat already.

Doctor.—Well, I thought when Mart was made President of the Club, that it was a bad move, as they would begin to see "which way the cat jumps."

Editor P.—How is it that the volunteers are all going against us? I have praised them and said a good many smart things about their being all Democrats. Yet they are all going to vote the Union ticket.

S. D. J.—Yes, you made an ass of yourself, and as to you, by white-washing that thief Floyd—abusing the President, and yet saying nothing against Jeff Davis and Breckinridge. Load your pistol again, P., these soldiers are made to be shot at. You and the Virginia preacher are a full Breckinridge team, but would travel better over a Southern track—Charley, keep a lookout at the door; don't let Harry Masser hear of our proceedings; let Fort Lafayette; you are cut out for something higher.

BLAIN vs. CUMMINGS.

As Mr. Cummings has attempted to make it appear that Mr. Blain's affidavit was not true, by swearing that he did not use such words, without saying what language he did use, some of the friends of Mr. Blain have deemed it proper to certify to his character, so that those not acquainted with him, may judge between his positive oath and Mr. Cummings' special affidavit. The following certificate is from some of the best citizens of Milton:—

"The undersigned citizens of Milton being personally acquainted with George Blain, of Chillsquage township, Northumberland county, he having been raised within sight of our own, and knowing him from his youth up, cheerfully bear testimony to his good character for truth and veracity, and have no doubt of his integrity and honesty."

R. M. FRICK, W. C. LAWSON, Wm. McCLARY, Wm. F. NAGLE, F. BOUND, JOS. ANGSTADT, JNO. PORTER, Wm T. FOLLMER.

A PICTURE.—It is a great pity that Purdy and some of his crew were not in the Court House when Col. Wright drew the picture of certain characters who now shout loudly for the Union, but who are, in their sneaking inroads and silent treachery, doing more harm to the country than the rebels and traitors South. Purdy could have hung up that picture in his own chamber, as a perfect likeness of himself.

We told Purdy, last week, we could stand his falsifying, his bad grammar, and worse logic, but his bad spelling was disgraceful to one who professes to be an editor, and who has rubbed his back against the outside walls of a University. To spell recklessly twice, in the same article, with a w, as he did last week, is an outrage on—the Queen's English, and would be bad enough for his learned correspondent, the Ornamental Major, who had passed through three Colleges, without graduating in either.

FROM CAIRO.

The Rebels attempted to burn a bridge on the 17th inst. They were met and repulsed by Captain Nelson's Cavalry. Three Rebels were killed by the first volley, and others killed and wounded afterwards. Only one Federal soldier was wounded.

A wounded Rebel said that as death was sure, he might as well tell the truth. He stated that Gen. Pillow was in Kentucky, back of Columbus, on Saturday, marching on Paducah, twenty-seven thousand strong, and that Jeff Thompson's movements are a feint, to direct attention from that quarter. Information reached Paducah yesterday that General Pillow had left Columbus to effect a junction with the troops marching on Paducah from Tennessee. The united forces of the Rebels will amount to forty-two thousand.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 30. The Journal has reliable evidence that the Rebel, Gen. Zollicoffer, has taken Manchester, in Clay county, with great destruction of property there.

Judge Ventres, of Hardin county, has been arrested for aiding the Rebels.

A double rumor prevails that six hundred Rebels have had an engagement with five hundred of the Tenth Indiana Regiment, half way between Bardonia and Bloomfield. The result is not stated.

The Rebel force under Humphrey Marshall have disbanded and gone home.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 30. Gen. Beckner is said to be at Greenville, Moberly county, with five thousand men, and is supposed to be on the road to destroy the locks on Green River.

James B. Clay was admitted to bail in ten thousand dollars before Judge Catron, this morning, to appear at the January term. Tom Clay and Tom Jackson entered his bail.

Harold Helm has taken possession of Rochester, on Green River. The number of his troops is estimated at four thousand, including a Mississippi regiment.

The Glasgow turnpike bridge has been burned.

Shamokin Coal Trade.

SHAMOKIN, Sept. 30, 1861. Sent for the week ending Sept. 28, 6,911 19. Per last report, 154,176 13. To same time last year, 161,108 14. 142,085 16. Increase, 19,022 18.

GUTTA PERCHA CEMENT ROOFING.—We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. JOANS & CROSLBY, New York, in another column.

The numerous experiments made for the last few years, to produce a substitute for tin, slate and shingles, have resulted in a perfect triumph in the GUTTA PERCHA CEMENT ROOFING offered by these gentlemen.

Possessing in a great degree, the features of elasticity, (which is a qualification of a Cement Roofing actually necessary and long after) durability and cheapness, combined with the fact that it is weather and fire proof, its general adoption cannot be too strongly urged. Their Gutta Percha Cement for coating and repairing Metal Roofs of all kinds and for preserving all metals from rust and corrosion—from its great durability and cheapness, is fast superseding points of every description heretofore used for such purposes.

For the materials for which the First Premiums have been awarded by the American Institute and many of the principal State Fairs throughout the country, are recommended in the highest terms by the New York & Erie R. R. Co. and many of the principal Railroad North and South, and also by the Officers of the leading Insurance Companies throughout the country.

THE WONDERS OF THE MICROSCOPE.—We understand it is through the agency of this marvelous viewing machine that Dr. Ayrer has at length succeeded in finding the PARASITIC ANIMALS and determining its character. Of its effects in this section have abundant evidence in the FEVER AND AGUE which alone produce when absorbed through the lungs into the blood. It has long been held to be a vapor or something in the vapor of water from decayed and decaying vegetation, and the great magnifying power, the Doctor has found this vapor to contain distinct organizations or living bodies, corresponding exactly with those found in the blood of Ague subjects. They are 13,000 times less than visible to the naked eye, but have distinct character and form. He thinks that they are reproductive in their nature, and that they are the cause of their long continued life or the remote effects of them in the system. He maintains that they resemble in character the other fermentative poisons, or such as the virus or rabies of a dead body, &c., all of which are known to reproduce themselves with great rapidity like these materials for which the First Premiums have been awarded by the American Institute and many of the principal State Fairs throughout the country, are recommended in the highest terms by the New York & Erie R. R. Co. and many of the principal Railroad North and South, and also by the Officers of the leading Insurance Companies throughout the country.

THE WRITERS CIDER PREPARED IN THIS WAY TWO YEARS SINCE, WHICH HAS REMAINED UNCHANGED, AND IS NOW A BEVERAGE OF UNPARALLELED EXCELLENCE.

The Breckinridge Party has been re-elected. It is filled with its usual variety of interesting matter for the bee-keeper.

Council Proceedings.

SUNBURY, October 1st, 1861. Council met in the Court House, it being the stated night of meeting. Chief Burgess in the chair, members present: Bucher, Zettlemeyer, Grant, Boyer, Stroh, Bright, Shindel and Wilver. Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Committee on Highways, &c., reported the bridge across the lock in a bad condition, and recommended a new floor to be put down immediately.

Bill of P. M. Shindel presented for making out borough duplicate and qualifying officers of $4 75. On motion an order was granted for the same.

On motion an order was granted to Clerk for minute-book of $1 50.

On motion Resolved, That the Street Commissioners are directed to do all necessary work to the bridge across the lock, under the supervision of the committee on highways.

Resolved, That the Street Commissioners be directed to examine the gutter from S. G. R. in Market street, east to the gut, and make repairs if necessary.

On motion, adjourned to meet on Tuesday evening, October 15th.

JNO. W. RUCHER, Clerk.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 22.

Governor Curtin has determined to stop all enlistments in