THE REBELLION.

IMPORTANT FROM WASHINGTON. ANOTHER ADVANCE OF TH GRAND ARMY.

The Stars and Stripes Planted on Munson's Hill.

A Melancholy Blunder.

PHILADELPHIA REGIMENTS FIRING UPON BACK OTHER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29, 1861. General McClellan went over the river yesterday afternoon, accompanied by his staff. Immediately on arriving at Fort Corcoran the centre and right wing of the army was put in motion, and marched forward toward Munson's Hill, with batteries cavalry, &c. Brigadier General Wadsworth's division was in advance, supported by General Keyes' command. The main body of the army advanced on the road to Ball's Cross Roads All the avenues were filled with solid colnums of cavalry and infantry.

The men were in a joyful mood, and those who had been left as invalids in camp, were up, and with their rifles following the army Upton's Hill, where fortifications had been commenced by the Rebels, had been evacuated. The army passed on and took posses sion of Munson's Hill, the enemy having beat advanced positions of the Rebels.

C detachment of the Fourteenth New York Volunteers, Colonel McQuade, by a flank movement in the rear of Munson's over to the Georgetown hospital.

There has been a great retreat of the Rebels from Munson's Hill to Fairfax Court House, Munson's Hill, Upton's Hill, Ma-son's Hill, Perkins' Hill, and Falls Church are all now in the possession of the Federal troops, and the American flags are flying from Musson's Hill, Mason's Hill and Fort Perkins. Upton's Hill is occupied by Gen. McDowell's Division; a part of Keyes' Brigade occupy Mason's Hill; Gen. Smith's Division is within a mile and a baif of Falls | Church; the New York Thirty fifth Regi ment is picketing at Falls Church, and Gen. Porter's Division has been thrown for-ward as far as the Louden and Hampshire

I was up on Manson's Hill to day. There were no cannon upon it, nor any signs of them having been there. The hill, on the inside is encircled by a rifle pit. This is the only fortification there. From the bill nothing can be seen of the Capitol but the dome. General Wadsworth and Major Judd of the New York Thirty-ninth Regiment, were the first to stand upon Perkins Hill. Previous to their arriving there, as rebels were seen within the fort. They left as our officers advanced. General Wadsworth riding up to the fort and placing the feet of his horseagainst its sides, said, as he rose, "charge on them boys," as though calling to the men behind him to advance. Not a Rebel, how ever, was to be seen. In the stable adjoining the fort, a lot of corn was discovered. The houses in the vicinity of the Rebel f rtifica tions had the appearance of having been vacated in a horry.

Nutt's Hill is also occupied by our troops. McDowell's Division, which advanced from Arington Heights on to Upton Hill, is now strengthened by Captain Platt's Battery, Second Artillery, regulars, and also by Capt. Enmands' Battery. Judge Catron on Monday. Benson Ormsby, a lawyer of this city, was arrested, but discharged on taking the oath of allegiance.

It is reported that some of Backner's rebel force attacked the Union camp at Mud river, forty miles from Bowling Green, under Col. Hawkins, and that the assulants were badly whipped. The Union men are flocking to Col Hawkins from all directions, with shot guns and Kentucky rifles.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. A contraband, who came over this after A contraband, who came over this after noon, says that eight regiments of infantry and one of cavalry left Vienna for Great Falls this morning. Every point that has been vacated shows unmistakeable evidence of their great destitution. Large numbers are barefooted, and they had but few or no tente-straw and bushes being their only shelter.

It is believed here that the staryland regiments have seconded from Beauregard's regiments have second from Beauregard's army within a few days.

From facts ascertained here, it appears that on Wednesday last General Fremont released Col. Blair from arrest, using language in the order tantamount to a defiance of the Colonel to present his charges formally. On Thursday Colonel Blair presented charges formally against Gen. Fremont, in response to the defiance. Thereupon General Fremont immediately arrested Colonel Blair and sent him to Jofferson Barracks. On Friday night the telegraph was allowed to communicate the fact that Blair had been freed from arrest the previous Wednesday, but the offensive paragraph in the order of release was suppressed, and the fact of Col. Blair's second arrest withheld.

arrest withheld.

The army regulations allow no officer to be arrested for a longer period than eight days, without charges being preferred. General Fremont disregarded the regulations in the case of Colonel Blair. After this violation of the regulations, a second arrest for the same cause, and without charges, has attracted attention and caused much remark. 'he great fact in relation to this case is that General Scott to day ordered the uncondi-tional release of Colonel Blair. Commissary General Gibson who died here to day, was aged about eighty-five years, and long held that position. He entered the army in 1808 as a Captain of Infantry from Pennsylvania.

A contraband was brought to headquarters ated. The army passed on and took posses sion of Munson's Hill, the enemy having beat a retreat. It appears that a female Rebel of high social standing at Lexington, obtained admission to Col. Moiligan's fortifications, disguised 8s a mulatto washerwoman, and took a complete sketch and plan of the works, and reported to the Rebels. It is believed the Rebels have from 40,000 to 50,000 men at Lexington, and are daily receiving reinforcements. They will stand their ground if attacked. It is supposed that Geo. Price will, in two or three weeks, but ferror 70,000 to 80,000 there, and will meet us with that number.

FROM THE "HOME JOURNAL."

"Of all the child furniture, we have ever seen no article combines so much of those two impor-tant things—health and happiness—as the Adjustable Patent Steel Spring Saddle Horse, in-vented by Jesse A. Crandall, It is not danger-ous, like a common rocking-horse, to children's feet, cannot be upset, does not wear carpets, but stands firm on its base, and its action is so like the gallop of a live horse that the child never wearies of it. This atest of child novelties is exceedingly elegant and artistic in design; and so adjustable, substantial and durable, that it will last a lifetime. It is indispensable in every family where there are children. It should be in every primary school and gymnasium in the country, as it can be made large and strong ough to sustain grown persons. As a probestal for photographic pictures, nothing is more beauti-
