Crittenden's Philadelphia Commercial College,

N. R. Corner of 7th and Chestnut ste., Philadelphia THIS INSTITUTION, which was established in 1844, and is now consequently in the 18th year of its existence, numbers among its graduates, hundreds of the most successful Merchants and Business Men of our country.

The object of the Institution is solely to afford young men facilities for thorough preparation for business.

young men facilities for thorough preparation for business.

The branches taught are, Book-Keeping, as applicable to the various departments of trade: Penmanship, both plain and ornamental; Commercial Law, Mathematics, Navigation, Civil Engineering, Drawing, Phonography, and Modern Languages.

The system of instruction is peculiar; no classes or ret lessons are made use of, but each student is taught individually, so that he may commence at any time, and attend whatever hours are most convenient.

Catalogues are issued annually after the 15th of April, containing names of the students for the year, and full particulars of terms, &c., and may be obtained at any time by addressing the Principal.

In extensive accommodations, wide-spread reputation, and the lengthy experience of the Principal, this Institution offers facilities superior to any other in the country, for young men wishing to prepare for inscinces, and to obtain at the same time a diploma, enich will prove a recommendation for them to any Mercantile House.

S. Crittenden's Series of Treatises on Book-Keeping, now more widely circulated than any other

See ping, now more widely circulated than any other work on the subject, are for sale at the College. S. HODGES CRITTENDEN, Atterney at Law. Pobrasty 8, 1862.—1y

THE SURRENDER OF NEW ORLEANS. 37 50 The Correspondence with the Mayor - Grace-

Farragut—The Response of the Mayor. Washington, Thursday, May 1, 1862. The following correspondence, taken from The Rickmond Enquirer, of yesterday, which city it reached by telegraph, was to day received at the War Department. The correspondence is between the Mayor of New 19 42 19 00 Orleans and Flag-Officer Farragut:

U. S. FLAG-SHIP HARTFORD, OFF NEW ORLEANS, April 26, 1862. To his Excellency, the Mayor of the City of New Orleans.

Sin: Upon my arrival before your city, I had the honor to send to your Honor Capt. Bailey, U. S. N., second in command of the expedition, to demand of you the surrender si70 72 of New Orleans to me, as the representative of the Government of the United States.—
Capt. Baily reported the result of an interview with yourself and the military authorities. It must occur to your Honor that it is not within the province of a naval officer to assume the duties of a military commandant. I came here to reduce New Orleans to obedience to the laws of, and to vindicate the offended majesty of the Gov-11,341 91 ernment of the United States. The rights of persons and property shall be secured.

I therefore demand of you, as its representative, the unqualified surrender of the city, and that the emblem of the sovereignty of the United States be hoisted over the of the United States be hoisted over the States be hoisted over the Gity Hall, Mint, and Custom-House by meridian this day, and all flags and other emblems of sovereignty other than this of the United States be removed from all the public buildings by that hour, I particularly request that you shall exercise your authority to quell disturbances, restore order, and call upon all the good people of New Orleans to return at once to their vocations, and I particularly demand that no person of Pittsburg Landing. General Grant says: 32 00 and I particularly demand that no person *11 50 shall be molested in person, property, or 27 50 sentiments of loyalty to their Government.

I shall speedily and severely punish any 36 00 person or persons who shall commit such 10 50 outrages as were witnessed yesterday by 24 50 armed men firing upon helpless women and 42 00 children for giving expression to their 69 50 pleasure at witnessing the "old flag."

I am, very respectfully, D. G. FARRAGUT, Flag Officer Western Gulf Squadron. The Reply.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, CITY OF NEW ORLEANS, CITY HALL, April 26, 1862. Flag Officer D. G. Farragut, U. S. Flag-Ship Hartford. SIR: In pursuance of a resolution which we thought proper to take out of regard for the lives of the women and children, who still crowd the metropolis, Gen. Lovell has evacuated it with his troops, and restored back to me the administration of its government and the custody of its power. I have in council with the City Fathers considered the demand you made of me yesterday-of an unconditional surrender of the city, coupled with a requisition to hoist the flag of the United States on the public edifices, and haul down the flag that still floats upon the breeze from the dome of this Hall. It becomes my duty to transmit to you an answer which is the universal sentiment of my constituents, no less than the prompting of my own heart, dictates to me on this sail and solemn occasion. The city is without the means of defense, and i atterly destitute of the force and material that might enable it to resist an overpowering armament displayed in sight of it. I am no military man, and possess no authority beyond that of executing the municipal laws of the City of New Orleans, it would be presumptuous in me to attempt to lead an army to the field, if I had one at command; and I know still less how to surrender an undefended place, held, as this is, at the mercy of your gunners, and your mortars. To surrender such a place were an idle and unmeaning ceremony. The city is yours by the power of brutal force, not by my choice or the consent of its inhabitants. It is for you to determine what will be the fate that awaits here. As to hoisting any flag of our own adoption and allegiance, let me say to you that the man lives not in our midst whose hand and heart would not be paralyzed at the mere thought of such an act. Nor could I find in my entire constituency so desperate and wretch ed a renegade as would dare to profine with his hand the sacred emblem of our aspira-

Sir, you have manifested scutiments which would become one engaged in a better cause than that to which you have devoted your sword. I doubt not that they spring from a noble though deluded nature, and I know how to appreciate the emotion which inspired them. You have a gallant people to administrate during your occupancy of this city-a people sensitive to all that can in the least affect their dignity and self-respect. Pray, Sir, do not fail to regard their susceptibilities. The obligations which I shall issume in their name shall be religiously complied with. You may trust their honor though you might not count on their sub mission to umerited wrong.

In conclusion, I beg you to understand that the people of New Orleans, while unable to resist your force, do not allow themselves to be insulted by the interference of such as have rendered themselves odious and contemptible by their dastardly descrtion of our cause in the mighty struggle in which we are engaged, or such as might remind them too forcibly that they are the conquered, and your's the conquerors. Peace and order may be preserved without resort to measures which I could not at this woment prevent. Your occupying the city does not transfer allegiance from the Government of their choice to one which they have deliberately repudiated, and that they vield the obedience which the conqueror is entitled to extort from the conquered,

Respectfully, John F. Monnon, Mayor,

RESIGNED.—George A. Frick, Esq., who has been the faithful Cashier of the Bank of Danville ever since that institution went into operation, resigned his post on last Tuesday, and David Clarke, Esq., who has heretofore occupied the office of Teller, was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Grier will hereafter take the place of Mr. Clark as Teller .- Danville Democrat.

of Pittsburg Landing. General Grant says:

—"I will go on and do my duty to the very best of my ability, without praise and do all I can to bring the war to a speedy close.—
I am not an aspirant for anything at the close of the war.

"There is one thing I feel very well assured of, and that is, that I have the confidence of every brave man in my command. Those who showed the white feather will do all in their power to attract attention from themselves. I had, perhaps, a dozen officers ar-rested for cowardice in the first days fight. The men are necessarily my enemies. As to the talk about our being surprised, nothing could be more false. If the enemy had sent us word where and when they would at ack, we could not have been better prepared. "Skirmishing had been going on for two days between our reconneitering parties and the enemy's advance. I did not believe, however, that they intended to make a determined attack, but simply make a reconnoissance in force. My head-quarters were at Savannah, though I usually spent the day at Pittsburg, Troops were con-stantly arriving to be assigned to the different brigades and divisions. All were order-

Breathe Through Your Nose, Mr. George Catlin, the famous painter and investigator of the habits and customs of Indian tribes, has recently published a pamphlet, entitled "The Breath of Life," in which he undertakes to demonstrate that the common practice of breathing through the mouth is very detrimental to health.— He says that it is not a natural habit, for when God created man, "he breathed the breath of life into man's nostrils," and why should be not continue to live by breathing in the same manner? The mouth was made for the reception and mastication of food for the stemach and other purposes; but "the nostrils, with their delicate and fibrous linings for purifying and warming the air in its passage, have been mysteriously con-structed, and designed to stand guard over the lungs, to measure the air and equalize its draft during the hours of repose. The atmosphere is nowhere pure enough for man's breathing until it has passed this mysterious refining process, and therefore the imprudence and danger of admitting it in an unnatural way, in double quantities, upon the lungs, and charged with the surrounding epidemics or contagious infections of the moment. The impurities of the moment, the impurities of the air which are arrested by the intrica'e organization and mucus in the nose, are thrown out again from its interior barriers by the returning breath. The air which enters the lungs is as different from that which enters the nostrils as distilled water is different from the water in an ordinary cistern and frog pond. He argues that the habit of sleeping with open mouth is particularly hurtful; points out a number of diseases which are traceable to this cause, and among the rest, ascribes the early decay of teeth to it.

WAR ITEMS.—The Bureau of Naval Construction are said to be in favor of having the largest ships built of wood, of light draft, high speed, and shell proof; their armaments to be of the heaviest kind, prin-cipally Parrott and Dahlgren guns. Recent experiments, both in this country and in England, have demonstrated that the heaviest iron armor which a ship can carry is not proof against smooth-bored ordnance at a short range. Our Parrott gun, with a newly invented shot, which we are not at liberty to describe, has sent it completely through a target formed of twelve one-inch iron plates and a backing of 24 inches thickness of oak at a distance of 300 yards. At the same distance, another target sloped to an angle of 25 degrees, representing the side of the Merrimae, backed by 24 inches of oak and covered with six one inch iron plates, was completely perforated by every shot. In the Washington Navy-Yard targets are now in the course of construction, represensides of the Warrior, the Monitor and the Merrimac, which will be tested by Capt. Dahlgren's ordnance. Thus it will be seen that our Navy Department is determined to act in the construction and armament of the new ships of war from experiments made under its own direction.

Sidney Johnson and Beauregard avowed their determination, in going into the late battle to conquer or die. Johnston did one, Beauregard did neither.

The fifty new 15 inch Dahlgren gees ordered at Pittsburg, will weigh in the rough over 70,000 pounds each, and will carry a ball weighing over 500 pounds.
