

Nixon's Cremorne Circus will exhibit at this place, on Wednesday next, the 8th inst. See their advertisement in another column.

There is a rumor that McClellan has been called to command the Army of the Potomac and Gen. Butler to take the place of Halleck.

CHRONIC DIARRHEA.—The following was one of the cures employed in old times for this formidable disease: "Take a table spoonful of melted tallow, three or four times a day."

A correspondent writes to ask who it is to blame for the present invasion. Friend, prime your musket; join your neighbor, and march upon the invader. Drive him from the State, and then we can discuss and decide the question of responsibility in a civil and courteous manner.

Mr. Vallandigham made a speech recently in which he said that unless war ceased the rebels "ought to be induced to make this invasion." It is probable that this may have been taken advantage of by some of the South to make the indictment.

The Nashville "Union" of a recent date says: "A gentleman who has just arrived in this city from Lebanon, Tennessee informs us that the wheat crop of Wilson county is large and very fine. Not a little of it has been harvested, in consequence of the scarcity of rain here. Farmers are offering to divide their crops equally with any person who will gather them. It is not probable that more than half of the wheat will be harvested, unless the army undertake the job for the benefit of the government."

Rev. Dr. Yonmans, formerly President of Lafayette College at Easton, Pa., and a prominent clergyman in the Presbyterian Church, died at Danville, on the 22d ult.

Surgeon-General Hammond has shown to the President a photograph of a soldier in the hospital whose nose, left cheek and upper jaw had been eaten away by gangrene, produced by dosing with calomel and other destructive mercurials, which the Surgeon-General has recently discarded from the supply tables.

Local Affairs.

RECAPITULATION.—Some that entered the house of Mrs. Jane Wilson of this place on Wednesday afternoon, three silver table spoons and five teaspoons. The spoons were marked with the letters "W. R. W." and were the old-fashioned style. Some silver-plated forks in the same box were not disturbed. A liberal reward will be paid for the discovery of the thief and property.

The Shamokin Company, numbering one hundred men, arrived at this place on Wednesday afternoon and left for Harrisburg in the night Express Train. The officers are—Harper, Captain, A. B. Pike, 1st Lieutenant; and T. J. John, 2d Lieutenant. Mr. Harper is one of the best and most experienced men in the business of the Shamokin Valley & Potomac rail road.

The engines of the Northern Central road, are nearly all at this place, and have been kept up and night. Among them are eleven of Baldwin's ten wheeled engines. A few nights since, some twenty-five engines were blowing off steam simultaneously. The "blowing out" of escaped steam was said to be a delicate feat.

RECAPITULATION.—Miss M. L. Glesler who is never behind the age in procuring something beautiful in the shape of a "bonnet," is having her dressmaker engaged and otherwise imposed for the purpose of increasing her stock of goods, and to make sufficient room for her extensive custom to examine her goods to better advantage and without being so much crowded. This she, when finished will be one of the handsomest and best arranged in this place, and will occupy it next week.

The excitement consequent upon the rebel invasion has unfurled almost every eye for business. Monday our stores and shops are all closed.

The Sunbury Company, numbering about thirty men, left this place on Wednesday noon in a special train. The officers are—F. W. Gordon, Captain; A. S. Stock, 1st Lieutenant; and Jacob Roberts, Jr., 2d Lieutenant.

The excitement consequent upon the rebel invasion has unfurled almost every eye for business. Monday our stores and shops are all closed.

The Sunbury Company, numbering about thirty men, left this place on Wednesday noon in a special train. The officers are—F. W. Gordon, Captain; A. S. Stock, 1st Lieutenant; and Jacob Roberts, Jr., 2d Lieutenant.

The excitement consequent upon the rebel invasion has unfurled almost every eye for business. Monday our stores and shops are all closed.

The Sunbury Company, numbering about thirty men, left this place on Wednesday noon in a special train. The officers are—F. W. Gordon, Captain; A. S. Stock, 1st Lieutenant; and Jacob Roberts, Jr., 2d Lieutenant.

The excitement consequent upon the rebel invasion has unfurled almost every eye for business. Monday our stores and shops are all closed.

The Sunbury Company, numbering about thirty men, left this place on Wednesday noon in a special train. The officers are—F. W. Gordon, Captain; A. S. Stock, 1st Lieutenant; and Jacob Roberts, Jr., 2d Lieutenant.

The excitement consequent upon the rebel invasion has unfurled almost every eye for business. Monday our stores and shops are all closed.

The Sunbury Company, numbering about thirty men, left this place on Wednesday noon in a special train. The officers are—F. W. Gordon, Captain; A. S. Stock, 1st Lieutenant; and Jacob Roberts, Jr., 2d Lieutenant.

The excitement consequent upon the rebel invasion has unfurled almost every eye for business. Monday our stores and shops are all closed.

The Sunbury Company, numbering about thirty men, left this place on Wednesday noon in a special train. The officers are—F. W. Gordon, Captain; A. S. Stock, 1st Lieutenant; and Jacob Roberts, Jr., 2d Lieutenant.

The excitement consequent upon the rebel invasion has unfurled almost every eye for business. Monday our stores and shops are all closed.

The Sunbury Company, numbering about thirty men, left this place on Wednesday noon in a special train. The officers are—F. W. Gordon, Captain; A. S. Stock, 1st Lieutenant; and Jacob Roberts, Jr., 2d Lieutenant.

The excitement consequent upon the rebel invasion has unfurled almost every eye for business. Monday our stores and shops are all closed.

The Sunbury Company, numbering about thirty men, left this place on Wednesday noon in a special train. The officers are—F. W. Gordon, Captain; A. S. Stock, 1st Lieutenant; and Jacob Roberts, Jr., 2d Lieutenant.

Presentment of the Grand Jury for the Western District of Pennsylvania.

LOYALTY THE FIRST DUTY OF THE CITIZEN.

To the Honorable the Judges of the United States Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania, now sitting at Williamsport:

The Grand Inquest of the United States for the said district, having disposed of all the indictments laid before them, beg leave to represent to this honorable court that we hold it to be the duty of every man, irrespective of his peculiar political opinions, to be obedient to the laws of the land, and aid, by all means in his power, in suppressing this wicked rebellion, that has already filled the land with sorrow, caused the death of many thousands of our brave men, and threatens the overthrow and destruction of our Government, under which the country has prospered so far as to be the envy of all other countries.

It is depressing to the heart of every true patriot and every man who has a just appreciation of the blessings we have hitherto enjoyed. When the chief Executive officers of the United States, and the State of Pennsylvania call upon the citizens to suppress rebellion, or repel an invasion in a loyal and non-sectarian State, that call should be received and met with a hearty, cheerful, and prompt response, when the liberties of our country are in danger; when our country's flag is insulted and trampled under foot, and our dearest rights and privileges are threatened to be destroyed, not by a foreign foe, but by inter-tribe enemies who, for more than eighty years have largely enjoyed the benefits of our Government, it is not a time to stop and discuss the propriety of a law, or the wisdom of the measures that have been adopted to suppress rebellion or repel invaders. Our duty, and the duty of every citizen, is to support those to whom a majority of the people have confided the administration of the laws of the Government, in a proper, necessary, legal, and constitutional manner to compel submission and preserve the Union from dismemberment, leaving the correction of errors to be settled when the rebellion is suppressed and peace restored to our distracted country. By such a course as the present men's passions are easily excited, and if these passions are not controlled, will result in riots, bloodshed and death, and destroy the unanimity that ought to exist in crushing this wicked rebellion, and teaching Secessionists that this country will not tolerate their treason. Treason has already occurred, dismemberment to those engaged in them, and tending to separate men who should, in crushing this rebellion, be a unit. The Grand Inquest would most earnestly urge on the Government, that any action of kind or kind, that is not in agreement in forcing the rebels to submission, is feeling well-sustained that not only our nationality, but our existence as a free people, depend upon our unanimity and cordial cooperation with each other, and with the constituted authorities in sustaining our laws and institutions, and crushing out all armed opposition.

A. J. JORDAN, Foreman, June 17th 1863.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Honor to the brave men of Portland!—They have done a gallant deed, and done it promptly. Napoleon said the rarest courage was the two a clock in the morning kind. The men of Portland have done this kind. It is difficult to imagine circumstances more completely unexpected than those which present themselves to these alert New Englanders on the morning of Saturday. An armed revenue vessel had been spotted off Portland during the night, and was directly in view of the city. The vessel was a quick Yankee cut of the Portlanders, and it was said that rebel pirates had a hand in the work. What was Portland to do? There was no vessel of war, no naval officer even in the harbor. They had in fact, no officer who had any legal authority to do anything, but there were several hundred citizens, sailors and soldiers, stout hearted and determined to do what they could towards stopping a piratical cruise. They took the two fastest steamers, the Chesapeake and Forest City, and with their crews, started out after the pirate, pushed right on in spite of her thirty-two pound shot, compelled the rebel buccanniers to abandon ship and destroy her and finally captured both them and the vessel in which they had entered the harbor.

Portland.

Extension of Time for Holding the Union State Convention.

PHILADELPHIA June 24, 1863.

At a meeting of the Union State Central Committee, held in this city to day, it was resolved to extend the time for holding the Union State Convention at Pittsburg, from July 1st to August 6th.

The following is the resolution adopted, providing for this extension:

Resolved, That in the present emergency while many delegates to the Union State Convention are engaged in the military service, and cannot be present at the meeting appointed to be held at Pittsburg on the 1st of July next, it is deemed expedient to postpone the Convention until Wednesday, the 6th day of August next, at 11 o'clock, A. M., and it is hereby so ordered.

Editor of the different Union newspapers throughout the Commonwealth, will please give this notice an insertion in their columns.

P. FRASER SMITH, Chairman pro tem.

Geo. W. HAMMERSLEY, Secretary.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WILL EXHIBIT AT SUNBURY, PA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 8th, 1863, AFTERNOON AND EVENING.

NIXON'S CREMORNE CIRCUS.

MME MACARTE'S EUROPEAN CIRCUS.

First appearance in America.

Madame Macarte has great satisfaction in announcing to the people of Sunbury, Pa., that she will appear in the absence of several years she will again have the honor of appearing in the city.

Among the Royal British Circus, the beautiful Staff of English thoroughbreds, including the celebrated

BLACK SWAN.

Being the same Troop, with which she has the honor of performing before the most distinguished and numerous audiences every city in the British Isles.

Madame Macarte's Grand Act, the VENETIAN CARNIVAL.

Will be remembered by those who witnessed her former efforts in the country.

First appearance in America of

MR. JOHN COOK.

The best and most brilliant wit in England, and familiarly styled the COMIC MUSE.

The elegant feature of the well known and gentlemanly clown will be accompanied by the most amusing and coolly comic grotesques of the famous FRENCH HERBOTS.

First appearance in America of the SYRO-ARABIC TROUPE.

Comprising Male and Female Jugglers, Acrobats, Contortionists, Prominent among the features of this troupe are the following:

Mlle CARROLL.

Of European and American birth, and distinguished by her beautiful and elegant figure, she is well known in all parts of the continent, and is the admiration of all who see her.

In addition to the Star Company, the manager has secured an engagement with the renowned

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

NIXON'S Cremorne Circus!

EXTRA ADVERTISEMENT.

THE RENOWNED SYRO-ARABIC TROUPE of Male and Female Jugglers, Acrobats, Contortionists, &c. NOTICE.—ZALKA and ZULEIKA, the beautiful and renowned female members of this UNRIVALLED AGRICULTURAL TROUPE are the FIRST FEMALE GYMNASTS THAT HAVE EVER APPEARED IN AMERICA.

First appearance in America of the SYRO-ARABIC TROUPE.

Comprising Male and Female Jugglers, Acrobats, Contortionists, Prominent among the features of this troupe are the following:

Mlle CARROLL.

Of European and American birth, and distinguished by her beautiful and elegant figure, she is well known in all parts of the continent, and is the admiration of all who see her.

In addition to the Star Company, the manager has secured an engagement with the renowned

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.

Mr. Stone's talents as horseback rider, and his feats of strength, will be a grand attraction.

Mr. EATON STONE.