CREAM OF TARTAR SUBSTITUTE.

Invented by Prof. Licen N. Horsford, of Harvard University. Office, 11 Old Slip, Hanover Square,

THE high price which Cream of Tartar commanded

I in 1854, together with the alarming extent to which its dangerms adulteration had been carried, with other considerations, induced the distinguished

Chemist, whose name is given above, to commonce what proved to be a long and laborious scientific re-search, to discover a desirable aubstitute therefor.— His efforts were crowned with abundant success, and hundreds of thousands of pounds of the Salisitato have been sold and used during the last five years, throughout the United States and the Canadias. The following true comparison of its nature and the results of its use, with those of Cream of Tartar, will convince the most incredulous of its value. Cream of Tariar is a bi-tartrate of Potash. This Substitute is a simple Phashate, and contains nothing but what is found in beef-steak, and in corn.

wheat and other cereals, and is therefore highly nutritions. It also has a health-giving influence, and supplies that for which there is a constant de-uand in the system.
