THE SOLDIERS' CONVENTION. The meeting of the honorably discharged soldiers to select delegates to the soldiers' Johnson and Clymer Convention, as it is called, at Harrisburg, on the 1st of August, came off on Wednesday last, in the County Commissioners' room, Some disturbance was apprehended when it was observed that more than three-fourths of the soldiers present were Geary men. But when it was announced that the friends of Mr. Clymer only were included in the call, the soldiers in favor of Gen. Geary very properly withdrew and organized a meeting in the old be found in another column. The Clymer meeting was necessarily a very slim affair, as far as soldiers were concerned. It nevertheless afforded an opportunity for some of those patriots who bravely fight for office, if they do not fight for their country, to show up the faults, and perhaps errors, of those who were guilty of the folly and temerity of going into the service to fight against those unfortunate Southern democrats, vulgarly called rebels, who simply desired to be "let alone."

Soon after the resolutions were read, we observed Mr. Reimensnyder on the floor. We did not hear much of Mr. R.'s discourse. but what we did hear convinced us that he was still strong in the faith of Southern democracy and Southern institutions. As a mocracy and Southern institutions. As a Virginian, his hatred of Yankees, whom he traduced, was natural. He, no doubt, could see more virtues in Gen. Lee, Toombs, or even Jeff. Dayis, than in any Yankee, living or dead. He spoke of some Yankee missionaries or preachers, who went among the negroes in the South, swindling them out of their money, or treasures on earth, without very money and the supremental money and the supre not excepting himself, but to swindle the poor negroes out of their hard earnings, by Yankee preachers was villainy in the extreme, especially as they had no right, Constitutional, hereditary or divine, to rob the negroes of anything. Negroes were purely Southern products, and part and parcel of Southern institutions. And when Chief Justice Taney decided that "negroes had no rights which white men were bound to respect "he activated by more and the second of the county, whose names were appended without their consent, white the majority of the spect," he evidently meant Southern white men, else how could Yankee preachers do wrong in plundering them. Mr. R., no wrong in plundering them. Mr. R., no Convention of the honorably discharged soldiers of Convention of the honorably discharged soldiers of doubt, satisfied his audience that preachers Northumberland county, favorable to the election of Mai. The Democrat, of last week, says the Republicans nominated Mr. Rothermel as a reward "for his services against old citizens, to make them 'hoist the flag, &c.'" The object of the above charge is to create an impression that Mr. Rothermel assisted or enquarged persons to compel Mr. Wagner, of Little Mahanoy township, to raise the American flag over his house, which was the subject of a prosecution in Court.

Mr. Rothermel requests us to say that there is no truth whatever in the charge. That he can prove by democrats, neighbors of himself and Mr. Wagner, that he not only took no part in that matter, but that he en deavored to persuade those who were im' plicated not to engage in any such trasac

Soldiers' Convention.-In pursuance of a call in the Northumberland County Democrat, of honorably discharged soldiers, to meet at Sunbury on the 25th inst., for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the Soldiers' Johnson and Clymer Convention at Harrisburg, on the 1st of August, 1866, a number of soldiers assembled in the Commissioners' Room in the new Court House, over which meeting Dr. Newbaker was called to preside. It was soon apparent that a large majority, perhaps three-fourth of the soldiers present, were the friends and supporters of General GEARY. In order to avoid any confusion or difficulty, Lieut. A. Brice, of Sunbury, inquired of the chairmain whether the meeting was intended for all honorably discharged soldiers, or only for such soldiers as were in favor of Hiester Clymer for Governor. The chairman stated that the meeting was only for soldiers favorable to Clymer. Whereupon at least three-fourth of the soldiers withdrew to the old Court House, and organized by appointing

The committee after an absence of fifteen minutes returned and reported the follow. ing resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

INTERESTING SPEECH OF GEN. | long hours, patiently, and you must be tired. |

REVIEW OF HIS CARRER BY HIMSELY-THE

COMMENCEMENT OF THE WAR.

General Sherman delivered the annexed interesting speech at Darmouth College, New Hampshire, on Wednesday, the 19th inst., upon the title of LL. D. being conferred upon him by President Smith, of the college, on behalf of that institution :

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: it is beyond my power or the power of any living creature to fill one-half the picture your worthy president has just painted. I am afraid you are doing what was done in the early part of the war, elevating men far above their ability and letting them down pretty hard. [Laughter and applause.] Nevertheless, as in former parts of my life, I will try and discharge the duty assigned to me humbly and to the best of my ability, and turn with pleasure to the men to whom we have been stening with so much delight. The array of ladies and gentlemen before us, of mothers, fathers, sisters, and brothers, attest the interest that is felt in you and the hopes they entertain of you, now that you are about leaving your teachers, who have been filled by former experience, by the study of books, and by association with other men, to impart knowledge to you that will fit you for the life before you. Unfortunately for me, I was not so favored as you have been, and I regret it now and shall regret it to the end of time. I was compelled to pick up what little knowledge I possess by grasping it, as it were, through brambles, and I some times had my hand pretty sharply pricked, too. You have had those around you who have gladly told you everything you desired to know, whose minds were well stored with the richest learning of the past. And now, young men, you must look out for your selves. [Applause.] Your ship is about to sail on an unknown sea. You have your charts and your compass; see that you steer your course properly, that you watch your compass, and do not allow your minds to be turned aside by the scudding of the sca or the winds across your sails, but follow your compass, and you will just as surely arrive at your destination as honesty produce a good man. [Applause.] My young friends, I remember that twenty-six years ago I stood as you now stand, about o go forth to do whatever might fall to my share, and I now find myself here in the presence of men who were graduates of this college before I was born. It appears to me almost like sacrilege for me to stand up in their presence and attempt to give advice or instruction, and I would not presume to say one word had not your honored president asked me to do it; probably for some reason unknown to me. [Applause] When I graduated, I was told, in plain English—not in Latin—[laughter] that I had finished, and was qualified in natural philosophy, chemistry, mathematics, and so forth. To prove that I was so qualified, I was sent down to Florida to catch Indians. I did not see the logic of it then, nor do I now; but I had to go. I went from place to place in that country, and finally, I brought up in Charleston; and whether I had a foresight of what was coming if that could be, or whether it was by the directing hand of Providence, who rules all things, I certainly was a wanderer in those days, and hunted through the marshes of the Santee, the Edisto and the Savannalı rivers, obtaining knowledge which has since been the value to the nation .-[Cheers.] Again, by what seemed a provi dential accident, I was sent to take testimony about some lost saddles and bridalsvalue, nothing : but nevertheless those lost saddles and bridles took me into a region of country, the knowledge of which afterward proved to be of the greatest importance to all sources, for the year ending June 30th, the people of New Hampshire and the whole civilized world. I went to Marietta and Chattanooga and stayed six weeks, and in that short time gained knowledge which has since, I think, repaid the mileage paid me at ten cents per mile. [Applause Shortly afterward, just about twenty years go, I remember sitting with many young officers-Braxton Bragg was one-at the dining table of the Hon. James Pettigrew. I believe the best Union man present will not doubt the loyalty of Mr. Pettigrew, for he was loyal in 1831. He was the only loyal intelligent man in Charleston during the rebellion, and he is loyal now. Mr. Pettigrew listened to our complaints that our future looked poor, and that the only promise held out to us was a brevet-major commission and command of some little post on the New England coast. He told "Gentlemen, do not be alarmed; there is a Providence guides this world, and you young men will yet have to await an opportunity to put your talents to use." His lan guage gave us encouragement. The Mexian war soon broke out, and I was sent to California, where in my wandering I saw the first pieces of gold discovered, and watched its magical effect upon the whole world .-The discovery of that gold gave millions to of Alabama bonds, issued for the relief of America, and I doubt much whether, if that the destitute in that State, at par. The gold had not been discovered, the nation rould have managed to work out the problem of finance which the war of rebellion had raised, and preserved its present glori ous position. That gold gave us wealth and credit abroad, and a strength and durability to see and feel in the very air that we were upon the verge of a sectional war. I had heard it spoken of in Charleston. We had laughed and joked over it at the mess table. I had heard it discussed by politicians; I had heard General Scott say we were upon the eve of war; but my mind never realized it until the spring or summer of 1860, when I was in New Orleans and Baton Rouge.— Then, for the first time, I saw that it was not all talk. That cry of wolf, wolf, meant something, and that civil war was upon us sure enough; and what has been the issue ! You all know it has been a short war to the world at large, but long enough to us du-ring those dark days which formed the early part of it. I will not review it. Let history take charge of it. All I will say is that in that war arose men, one by one, equal to the emergency, until the war closed

INVALIDS afflicted with chronic disease of every name and nature, will be convinced by consulting me that they will be fairly and honorably dealt with. They will not be pursuaded to place themselves under my treatment unless there is a reasonable hope of my treatment unless there is a reasonable hope of cure.

Dr. GANSEVOORT, can be consulted at his appointed places; he is a Practical and Scientific Physician, and treats all kinds of chronic diseases, which have been called incurable, by many of the so called distinguished physicians of the country.—Such as y disease of the Spiae, Asthma, Consumption, Salt Rheum, Nervous Debility, Epllepsy, St. Vitus Dance Catarrh. Melancholy, Liver Complaint, Ricketts, Bloody Urine, Hesdache. All disease of Women and Ohildren. Also cases of Seminal Emissions, which is sending thousands of poor unfortunate victims to the grave yearly.

The doctor does not propose to heal all the diseases that afflict mankind. Some diseases are curable, others are incurable, while at certain stages all diseases are eurable, if treatment is commenced at the proper time. Therefore, do not wait for to-morrow. The present is for us to improve, to-morrow we may never see. So beware of delays, they are always dangerous to your interests.

Invalids who reside at too great a distance to visit the Doctor at his places of appointment, can communicate with him by letter, and have medicines sent to them by Express, to any part of the United States and Canadas, without delay.

All letters of inquiry must contain a three cent stamp to repay reply. Principal Office and Labratory Grammarcy Park, New York. Address me at my present readence, Bath, N. Y.

PERUVIAN GUANO SUBSTITUTE! BAUGH'S RAW BONE

SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIM

After more than twelve years of constant use, this highly concentrated manure has attained a wide-spread reputation as a SUBSTITUTE FOR PERUVIAN GUANO,

Being found active in its operation, and of great durability. It does not exhaust the soil, but on the contrary, permanently improves it. The increasing sales annually, abundantly prove the high popular value of this manure, and establish the fact of its being relied upon by a wide circle of agriculturists to supply all wants in the direction of manures for every crop.
