PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28, 1866. The exciting news of the day is the F sian outbreak in Ireland. The fact is, Ireland is already in arms. The invasion of Canada, was, probably, only a faint to mislead and distract the British Government, The despatches by the cable, distinctly indicate a determined effort to throw off the dominion of England, Fenianism has for two years past been forming wherever Irishmen were to be found, not only in the United States and in Ireland, but in all the colonie of Great Britain. British troops are pouring across the Irish Sea. British meu-of-war, are surrounding Ireland with cannon. The London Times openly announces that the Chief Organizer of the Feniau movement, Stephens, either now is, or in a very short time will be, on Irish soil; and it may be taken for settled that the telegraph will soon bring as the news of bloody work, once more doing among those fair hills and those lovely vales which have seen so much slaughter and so much suffering in the dark past. Some of the London papers hint that more serious trouble with the United States is really at the bottom of this Fenian movement, and the peremptory demand of Secretary Seward, for immediate settlement of the claims for depredations by the Alabams may have something to do with it. Business in Philadelphia is dull and unsettled. The fashionable stores on Chesnut street, and elsewhere, have placards in the windows offering to sell certain fashionable dress goods for "$3, recently sold at $3.50." There has been a considerable fall in the cious market for the structure of Breakers, price of many fancy goods, and in imported Houses, &c., &c. goods generally, but the decline in staple articles, such as muslins, has not been great, but the indications are that a gradual decline in prices is inevitable. In the provision market, especially in meats, there is a considerable decline. I saw good lamb and mutton in one of the best city markets, this morning, sold at 14 cts, for the hind and 10 cts. for the fore quarter. This is not much over half of the prices demanded by the very modest butchers at Sunbury. Trimmed mutton chops sell at 16 to 18. sausages at 18 cts. per lb. Pork is worth 12 to 14 cts. Green hams about 14 cts. Grain is high,

Horace Greely has reason to felicitate himself. He has lived down even the slanders of political opponents, and forced them to confess both his honesty and greatness. The New York News wants him elected to the United States Senate. Pittsburgh at the confluence of the Alle gheny and Monongahela rivers, is of less importance in lumber and agriculture than the north and west branches of the Susque-banna. Sunbury has extensive surroundings of rich agricultural districts and limeston is abundant. The Shamokin Coal fields are but 19 miles distant. The fossiliforous Iron ores of Montour range but four miles to the north, and the vast lumbering districts of northern Penosylvania have a ready and cheap water communication by the main rivers to their junction at Sunbury. The anthracite of Wyoming, and the bituminous coals of the West Branch, must pass Sunbury on their way south.

Sunbery has the advantage of being in the vicinity of Coal and Iron, and on the im-mediate highway of Oil and Lumber, it therefore offers large inducements as a local-ity for the manufactories of iron and lumber, or the refining of oil. It is a center on the high way from the sources of supply to the iles from Coal; four (4) miles from Iron and one (1) mile from limestone. Cheap and abundant agriculture to produce cheap labor are on every hand—all on descending grades by river, canal or rail. Lumber from Northern Pennsylvania can be delivered here at a total cost of but five dollars per 1000 feet in the log; here to be cut into the numberless varieties demanded by the markets of the extensive coalfields but a few hours distant, where hemlock lumber, so abundant and cheap, and finds a ready sale in this capa-

Its surroundings are even more pieturesque, the lands as fertile, the access is quite as good from all points except the west which we hope will soon be supplied by the newly projected Railroad line from Lewistown. Even now we have a western route by way of the west branch divurging from it at Lock-Haven and thence by the Baid Eagle Valley Railroad via Bellefonte to intersect the Philadelphia Central R. R. at Tyrone The distance to New York from Pittsburg by this route is 431 miles compared with 431 miles by Harrisburg and Reading.

By the Lewistown & Suabury R. R., the distance will be 428 miles, and if the transit of railway travel through a place gives it no advantage as some erroneously contend, the introduction of strangers is certainly important, the practical eye of Americans are ever ready to see facilities afforded for agriculture. manufactories, or any other business, and they are sure to note and state it.

But we earnestly contend that Railroads are the very life nerves of our country, and they add to the prosperity of all places and all persons along its line. You have the proof in the contrast between the Northern and Southern States. The former has 20,604 and the latter 10,424 miles of rail-road -"The Commissioner of Census of 1860, declares, that so great are the benefits railroads have conferred on all departments of agriculture, "that, if the entire cost of the arlroads between the Atlantic and Western States had been levied on the farmers of the Central West, they could have paid it, and been immensely the gainers." p. 278.

It is not our intention, however, to draw individuous comparisons between the several flourishing towns on the Susquehanna. Each one has its peculiar advantages as the river valleys do not all terminate at the same point, but, wherever enterprise chooses to place the pots at their bright rainbow ter-mini there they will be sun to be filled with gold. For this reason it should be under-stood that the neighboring town of North-umberland is included in this description. They are almost, and soon will be united by the new addition to Sunbury, which will soon fill up the space between the two and divide the honors with them. The im-portance of this is magnified by the exten-sive shops and termini of the several railroad companies. Additional enterprises and life will soon find its way here, and eagerly seize the great natural advantages offered for manufacturers of iron, lumber, &c., good sites for furnaces, rolling mills, saw mills, oil refineries, &c.

We can only hope that the proper energy and enterprise will centre at Sunbury, and develop its great natural advantages and thus fulfil all our bright anticipations of its future history.

DECLINE IN PRICES

[From the Baltimere Sun.]
The wholesale prices of the past week or two, in all the leading markets of the country, show a considerable decline. There is a decline in cotton and cotton fabrics, a decline in cotton and cotton fabrics. cline in cattle and in provisions, a decline in sugars, a decline in wool, tallow, leather in sugars, a decline in wool, tallow, leather, naval stores, metals, bonds, stocks, &c., &c. In the necessaries of life it is inevitable that men in the retail trade must speedily recognize these declensions in price, and give consumers some of the besefits. It is found that there has been over production in many things, especially in manufactures; that is, production beyond the ability and disposition of the people to consume at the high prices asktd, and in many cases the protectioniats have thus overreached themselves. tionists have thus overreached themselves. The failure of a market in the South has its effect, too, on all dry goods, and thus thrift in that section is shown to be a need for the whole country. It is found, also, that breadstuffs and provisions are plentiful in the country, and dealers must realize that they are to be satisfied with less than the exorbitant profits of the period of war. The large stocks held in the West on borrowings at high rates of money cannot be held much longer, as the rates of interest are rising in the East also. No one will regret to see the speculators bitten. According to the N. York World, the heavy decline in the price of beef, mutton and pork which has taken place during the past four weeks has no parallel since the year 1887. We quote:

Now western men are losing in the neighborhood of $300 on each car-load of cattle, and as much as $800 per car-load was lost on hogs sold on Monday and Tuesday last. Beeves that one month ago sold readily at $130 per head could not be sold to-day for more than $100; and hogs that cost 9 cents per lb. in Chicago were sold at 61 cents per lb. here. And lots of sheep that sold to average $6 per head thirty days ago are thought to be well sold now if they average The following comparison of prices on the 15th of October and on the 15th of the present month will show more clearly the heavy decline in cattle, sheep and hogs;

This falling off is attributed solely to the large supply of stock in the country, and while there may be a slight reaction in the latter part of December, the general opinion is that for the next six months the average of prices cannot be higher than we quote to-day. Large operators, with plenty of means to hold cattle, have no faith in prophecies of better prices; and one firm, at a loss of nearly $20,000 per week, continue to send forward in even larger numbers than

THE LIFE OF A RAILROAD CONDUCTOR. Joseph S. M. Gibson, a conductor on the Penusylvania Central Railroad, was arrested last week by Detective Joshua Taggart, of the Mayor's Police, charged with embezzlement, in having retained in his pessession certain fares which he had collected on the road. Mr. Gibson had a hearing before Al derman Ogle, before whom one of the rail road officers had made the necessary affidavit charging him with peculating to a large amount through several months. Upon th preliminary hearing the alderman fixed the bail at $10,000, in default of which the defendant was committed to prison. Mr. Kanaga, of the Girard House, entered the required security, and Mr. Gibson was released Although but one arrest was made as bove indicated, the Company has been convinced that for months past it had been the victim of a systematic and gigantic fraud by means of which the treasury has been robbed to the extent of thousands of dollars. The Pennsylvania Central Railroad and its various branches have been the scene of these robberies, until at last the officers could no longer close their eyes to what was so plain to all the rest of the community.

To Pinkerton's Chicsgo detectives

entrusted the duty of discovering the frauds, their nature, extent, and the guilty parties. It is understood that for months they been engaged in the labor. Day after day, night after night, the conductors on the Pennsylvania Central and its branches, par-ticularly the Philadelphia and Eire road, have been closely watched, and their every novement noted. Their haunts have been discovered, their habits and expenditures reported, and other means taken to fix upor he right parties the crime. All the expedients resorted to it would not be proper to give to the public. Suffice it to say that every train carried one or more of the delectives, male or female, until at last everything was reduced, in police parlance, to "very fine points." Every fare paid, and the amount, the station, the distance traveled were all accurately marked and prepared.

Upon the reports of Mr. Pinkerton's agents. the Company acted. The majority of the conductors on the Pennsylvania Central have been relieved from duty pending the inves-tigation, while every conductor on the Phil-adelphia and Erie road, now under the control of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has been placed in the same position. As an earnest of the Company's intention to deal rigidly with the offenders, Mr. Gibson was arrested, the prosecution designing to bring all the parties in turn to justice. Mr. Gibson was arrested to the main road and Gibson was engaged on the main road, and the extent to which he is supposed to have been guilty may be inferred from the amount of ball demanded upon a primary hearing. It is suspected that the conductors who are implicated in these pecuiations have a secure anchor to windward.

Every conductor, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, is now required to give a bond in $3000, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the trust imposed upon him. This will prove some protection to the company, as in every case the bond will be sued out, in order to make good, as far as possible, the psculations of the parties.

In view of the wholesale suspensions, the Company has selected from among its employees the most reliable to take the places of those who must now shuft to an investigation. Conductors on freight traips, good men, have been put in charge of passenger trains, and in this way the corporation is endeavoring to reward those who have been faithful. The Telegraph declares that measures must be taken which will render it certain that the very first symptoms of revolt shall be stamped out with an iron heel. The Star says Englishmen dread the odious necessity of Crushing any rebel movement.

The Standard says the captured robbers should certainly be left to the just rigor of the law, and there should be no hope for them from the United States. The Morning Herald, referring to the con demned Fenians in Canada, says that there should be no loop-hole of escape for future Troops are being sent to Ireland, and gun-boats are sailing for Irish ports.

The Medonna, 26x34

They have doemed expedient to offer them to their friends and the public at one dollar and fifty cents each, the price, heretofore having been two dollars each, and for the purpose of stimulating the getting up of Clubs, they have determined to award premiums to the getters up of the Clubs, and in addition thereto to distribute amongst the subscribers the sum of $50,000 in money and paintings, as soon as the sale shall have reached 100,000 engravings. As it is our intention to advertise very extensively, and as the engravings are well known throughout the whole country, we have no doubt, that with the low price we charge for them, and with the exertion which will be put forth by our numerous friends, the number will be reached in a short time. As soon as it is reached, the subscribers, through their Club Agents, will be notified by a circular letter from us, naming the time and method of distribution.

The AMERICAN ARTISTS' UNION would add that these premiums are to be considered only in the light of a free gift to their patrons, as the Engravings are furnished them below their market value, and as the cost of engravings, after the plates are procured, as very trifling, they can easily afford to make the distribution, large as it is.

We trust that our numerous friends throughout the country and Canadas will use their utmost exertions, so that if possible, the distribution may be made soon, and it can be done if they are active. Ladies have often made excellent Club Agents for us and we solicit their kind efforts, which will not go unrewarded. Let one or more energetic persons in every town and village in the country commence as soor as they see this, and get up as large a Club as possible. By so doing they will be the means of introducing elegant engravings into families, and the aid in the cultivating a taste for the beautiful an refined.
