EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

PHILADRIPHIA, Jan. 22, 1867. The old fashioued winters, so frequently talked of, have been fully realized in the one we now enjoy. The weather has been sufficiently cold to satisfy all, even the ice denlers, who have never reaped a more plentiful crop. Snow, also, without which winter is really desplate as well as unprofitable, has been not only plentiful but entirely too abundant for the railroads. In the city the streets are in a bad condition. The use of falt by the railroad companies is much Is looked upon as detrimental to health.

The people complain and the newspapers denounce the practise, but the railroad men have proved themselves strongest in impassible for those on foot, besides its use as if covered with ashes.

A number of the prominent citizens of Montgomery, Ala., openly denounce President Johnson as a political trimmer, without principle, who has promised the rebels (themselves) more than he could perform. They think the South committed a great blunder in hanging to the shirts of A. J., and go in now for Congress and the Constitional Amendment.

Northern States between the peace party and the war party of the late conflict. But how is this new civil war to be inaugurated? Broad hints have been thrown out from various quarters that the President himself will take the initiative, in the event of his removal or suspension by the high Court of the Senate, and upon the plea that neither house of Congress, with ten States excluded prophecies of these Southern rebel and Northern copperhead Cassandras, the President is to try a coup d'etat like that of President Louis Napoleon against the National Assembly of the last French republic; and he is to call the army and the States to the rescue, when, it is expected, the rebel States will spring again to their arms, together, this time, with all the Northern peace party

And yet again, the people of the loyal States, to the extent of three thousand millions of money, invested in Government se-curities, ase interested in sustaining Congress and in maintaining internal peace. The President then, even if otherwise inclined, will have no alternative, when the time comes, but submission to his impeachment and removal from office. What has he to stake against the three thousand millions of money, the million of veteran Union soldiers, and the States comprehending twenty millions of people represented in and pledged to Congress? Nothing but his peculiar notions of the Constitutions, which must give way to the Constitution itself, and to

This Copperhead hue and cry of another civil war is, then, nothing but a raw head bloody bones—a horrible Chinese dragon, a mere scarecrow, intended to frighten Congress from this impeachment. The Copperheads care nothing for Andrew Johnson except as an instrument to be used for their purposes-a cat's paw to rake the chestnuts from the fire. They, with Mr. Johnson's continuance in office to the end of his term, think, like Micawber, that "something may turn up," that the dead lock between Congress and the Executive, on Southern reconstruction, in the interval to March 4, 1869, may, perhaps, be broken by the Supreme Court in favor of the Administration and the rebel States just as they stand, and the Northern Democracy of the Chicago platform, thus compelling Congress to readmi the excluded States on their own terms into both Houses and into the Presidential election of 1868. Mr. Johnson is to provide these roasted French chestnuts, and the Northern peace Democracy in war and war Democracy in peace are to eat them with their old Southern masters. The Union is to be as it was under Buchanan; the doctrine of State rights is to be applied in repudiation of the war debt of the United States as an equivalent for the repudiation of the debt of the late so-called confederate States; the war for the Union is to be considered a blunder, and things are to be as they were, slavery and all, as each of the States for it-

This, so far as we can comprehend it, is the programme which the Northern Copperheads expect from Mr. Johnson, if permitted to remain undisturbed to the end of his regular term. He will then be at liberty to re tire and compare notes with Millard Fill-more, poor Pierce and Buchanan. The De-He may go. Meantime, as the conflict between Congress and the Executive has passed beyond the inst hope of a compromise, the weaker beligerent must go down. The Constitution gives to one branch of Congress the power to impeach the President for "bribery, corruption and other high crimes possibly educate the rising generation with convict him and remove him. During this period $12,801,250 30 was paid into the Treasury by the manufacturers of iron, and $926,873 97 by the manufacturers of steel, making a total paid by these two interests of $18,718,133 36and amount exceeding by over $4,500,000 the demands of the great revolution which the income from the same source during the is still in full blast and which must run its previous year. The same proportions of the income from the same source during the this amount paid by the more prominent States was as follows:

Pennsylvania, 33 per cent; New York, 17; Massachusetts, 13; Ohio, 8; Connecti-cut, 7; New Jersey, 6; Illinois, 2‡; Rhode Island, 2. The total amount of iron imported during the last fiscal year was 259,286 gross tons against 192,458 tons imported during the previous year. The importations of the principal articles on the list are as follows: Merchant bar, 54,904 tons; rails, 63,513 tons; sheet iron, all kinds, 10,444 tons; band, hoop, and scroll, 7,676 tons; pig iron, 100, 661 tons. The total declared value of iron and manufactures of iron imported during the last fiscai year was $11,279, 825 against $8,684,235 during the previous year.

The importations of steel and manufactures of steel in the same time exhibit a still greater merease, as will be seen by the following statement . Total of steel imported in 1865, 9,955 tons; total imported in 1866, 17,934; increase in 1866, 7,079. The following statement exhibits the quantity of the principal kinds of iron and steel manufactured in the country during the year ending June 30, 1866: Pig, in tons of 2,000 pounds, 939,956 tons; rails, 289,764 tons; bars, rods, &c., 207,829 tons; band, hoop, and sheet, 142,829 tons; plate, 57,-771 tons; cut nails and spikes, 120,858 tons; castings, all kinds, 679,952 tons; stoves and iollow-ware, 82,695 tons. of homeopathy in this country, celebrated his severtieth birthday on Tuesday. A salt well in Tuscaroras County, Ohio yields 600 barrels of water daily, 35 gailons of the water furnishing a bushel of salt.

The real practical value growing out of the recent yacht race is the new incentive it will be to the enterprise of American sea men, and such a change in the model of sail ing vessels as will so materially improve their sailing qualities as to leave steam and steamships, after all, but a little way ahead.

It is stated that a manufactory for making printer's type of vulcanized India rubber has een established at Dalston, England. This new species of type, it is said, is made very At every public dinner in New York a quickly, and at one third the cost of ordi-dozen policemen help to discuss the victuals. nary metallic type, whilst it is claimed that the India rubber type are as durable and of as good quality as those now in use.

There is a growing sentiment in the South in favor of abandoning politics, and paying dently submit to the public the earnest endorse ments of such distinguished ladies as of that section. A late number of the Richmond Whig advises the people to "give up the old politicians," and says, "we are beginning a new era and must have new ideas and new men.

Upper Canada is making rapid advancement in educational matters. The school report for 1865 is just out, and from it we earn that in 1865 the number of pupils in attendance of school of age was 361,617, and of other ages 22,035, making a total of 383,-652. As the whole number reported is 426,-757, this leaves 43,105 that fail to attend the

The number of immigrants leaving Norway for the United States is becoming quite large. It is now reckoned that no less than 15,000 annually leave Norway to seek a new home on the other side of the Atlantic, while it is thought that, as so many of the people now have friends and relatives settled in America, the number may yet be greatly increased.

TO SEE A WOMAN, in another column, picking Samburg grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in the hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port Wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. JULES JARED'S "L'Emall de Paris." THE NEW BEAUTIFIER OF THE SKIN.

TESTIMONIALS FROM CELEBRATED LADIES. This secret of beautifying the skin being known only to Messrs. Jared & Rene, they honorably state that it differs from all other preparations. It gives to the most harsh and freekled skin both the texture and color of polished ivory, removing all discolorations, whether appearing as freekles, tan, morphew, moth or blackworm speeks, and is especially successful in smoothing out the marks left by the small-pax.

and many others whose high standing in the profession gives the stamp of truthfulness to their intelligent and genaine approval.

The beautiful Lucille Western says:
"I find that the "Email" produces all the brilliancy of rouge and lily-white, with the great and peculiar adventage of total harmlessness. It really adds to the softness and beauty of the skin."

The magnificent Vestvalia says:

"I have suffered so much from the various white lotions, &c., which my theatrical profession obliges me to use, that I consider it a perfect benefaction to find a preparation which gives the necessary white pess to the skin, and leaves the skin cool and smooth.

Miss Maggie Mitchell says:

"I have tried the skin beautifier, "L'Email de Paris," and found that it instantly imparts a naturabloom and freshness to the complexion."

"Jared's Email de Paris' is used as a delicate beautifier of the skin for Theatre, Saloon or Bal Room, by the most refined and sorapulous ladies producing all the beautifying effects of rouge an illy-white, without their valgar glare or injury to the skin.
