SATURDAY, MARCH 80, 1867.

A concurrent resolution providing that Congress shall adjourn on the 28th, to reassemble in May, June, September, and November, unless the presiding officers shall by joint proclamation postpone its meeting, was adopted by the House by a vote of 88 to 31. This resolution, which the Senate will probably pass, the New York Tribune says, is due to the suggestion of Gen. Grant, the Reconstruction law.

The Trustees of the Peabody Educational fund have determined that the promotion of Primary or Common School Education should be the leading object, and that normal schools should be establish ed in the Southern and South-Western States. Rev. Dr. Sears was chosen the General Agent, and intrusted with the whole charge of executing the plan, under the direction of the Trustees. An Executive Committee of five gentlemen was appointed, and the distribution of the fund will soon commence. Messrs. Appleton & Co., of New York, have presented to the board 100,000 school books.

THE COUNTY AUDITORS' REPORT.-We publish in our columns this week the Deputy-Grand Master C. Little. report of the County Auditors, on the Finance of the County, which is, of course, a matter of interest and importance to every citizen and tax-payer. The indebtedness of the county is a little over fifteen thousand dollars, a comparatively small sum, which will be liquidated the present year without any additional taxation. The exhibit is certainly a most gratifying one, considering $100,000 has been expended within two years past.

In Earnest.—Hon. Henry L. Cake, re-presentative from the 10th District, last Monday, offered the following bill:

Resolved, de., That in lieu of the duties heretofore imposed by law upon like de scriptions of wrought scrap iron, there shall, from and after the passage of this act, be levied, collected and paid on all iron bars over six feet long, for railroads or inclined planes, made to pattern, ready to lay down, or other bars of iron, round, square, or flat, over six feet long, imported from foreign countries, notwithstanding it may be introduced as old scrap iron, the same duty that is now levied, collectd and paid upon new bars and iron of full length of the same

The obvious necessity and justice of this movement should ensure the immediate equipments if he had any, and such other property as may be exempted from attachpassage of this bill. It is stated, on good authority, that at least eighty thousand tons of this description of British iron will be imported into this country under the present laws before the snd of the next year-General Cake deserves the thanks of the whole country for his vigilant guardianship of the cause of Home Labor.

The Late Murder in Schuylkill County-Particulars of the Tragic

We take the following account of the murder of Wm. H. Littlehales, in Schuylkill county, on Friday, 15th inst., from the Pottsville Miners' Journal, of Saturday last:

In our last we were only able in consequence of the Journal being on press when the news of the murder of Mr. William H. sales was received here, to give a brief account of the affair. Since then we have obtained a circumstantial account of it, as far as the facts are known to the friends of the deceased and to the authorities.

The murdered man was a son of Mr. Wiliam Litt!chales who resides in Coal street, his Borough. At the time of his death he and been for upwards of two years, Superntendent of the colliery of the Glen Carbon Joal Company, located at Glen Carbon, Cass fownship, this County. Mr. Littlehales noved with his family to Glen Carbon in he Winter of 1865, and fixed his residence sear the colliery. The men of the colliery vere paid monthly, usually on Saturday, nd Mr. Littlehales was in the habit of com-ng into Pottsville the day before a pay was be made, getting the money, and taking out. During the last few months however, ince the perpetration of so many highway obberies in the County, he generally took toney out in the cars, not when he drove ut. This fact it is to be presumed, was sknown to his assassins, and they undoubtily supposed that on the day they murder-I him, he had the monthly pay for the dliery with him.

Mr. Littlehales left home on Friday morng of last week, about 9 o'clock, and drove Pottsville in a sulky. He transacted me business in town, during which he said at he would not take the pay (about $3,-0) out with him that day, but would come on Saturday morning in the cars, and ke the money out in that way. He started out 1 o'clock in the afternoon, in his sulky, return home, having in his possession a olver, a silver watch, very little money, d some articles that he had porchased in ttsville, for the colliery and for his family. drove through Minersville and Coal stle, on the main road to Glen Carbon. e exact time at which he was attacked, is known, but it is supposed to have been out 2 o'clock. He had reached a secluded t of the road, about half a mile from his dence, when he was fired upon by several a who were concealed as is supposed, at side of the road among the bushes which thick at that point. One bullet thought neve been the first which struck him, and n the size of the wound, to have been I from a carbine, entered one side of his y, severed the aorta, and passed out at other side. This wound must have sed speedy death, and he must have fal-almost immediately from his vehicle into road. There was another wound inflicted smaller ball, in his hip. Both of his were shot out. This shot it is thought he surgeons who examined the body, fired after death, and that the weapon had been held close to the head as was considerable powder in the side ter Mr. Littlehales fell on the road, his s ian with the sulky into Thomastown, was caught there. The assassins searched body of the murdered man, and took it the revolver and watch of which we spoken. The revolver is Cooper's it, and is numbered 8,570. The Doctor looked at without recognising it, and without dismounting rode to nising it, and without dismounting rode to Brennan's tavern to give information of the fact that a dead body was lying in the road, and to obtain assistance to have it removed. Several men returned with the Doctor to the spot, and recognized the body as that of Mr. Littlebales,

The body was then removed to the late residence of the murdered man, and in the evening about 8 o'clock an inquest was held by deputy-Coroner Neugardt of Minersville, and a post mortem examination made by Dr. McWilliams and Dr. Robbins of Mineraville. Nothing beyond the facts we state, were elicited by the jury, and the perpetrators of this most bloody crime remain undiscovered.

It was a sight to touch the hardest nature, and to bring tears to eyes albeit unused to the melting mood.

The deceased leaves a wife and three children. He was born at East Mines, this County, in August, 1836, and was at the time of his death in the 31st year of his age. He had spent nearly his entire life in this

The General Bankrupt Law. One of the acts of the Congress which closed on the Fourth of March, was the passage of a general bankrupt law. This measure has been agitated for several years past, but has always failed to secure sufficient support until this winter. It became a law during the closing hours of Congress.

The new law is intended for the relief of certainly a most gratifying one, considering honest debtors. Under its provisions, any that on the new Court House alone, over person whose debts exceed the sum of three hundred dollars, may become a voluntary bankrupt, and be relieved from the claims of creditors by the delivery for distribution of all his assets.

The proceedings for the discharge of bankrupts by this law are p aced under the supervision of the United States Circuit Courts, with a subordinate supervisory officer to be appointed in each Congressional District to be appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to be called a Register. To the Register the party desiring to avail himself of the relief of the bankrupt law makes application, and by the creditors an assignee is appointed into whose hands the bankrupt turns all his property for distribu-

The bankrupt can reserve to himself household and kitchen furniture and such other articles as he may choose, not exceeding five hundred dollars, also the wearing apparel of himself and family, and military ment and seizure under the laws of his State.

Distribution of the assets of the backrupt is made in the following order: all costs of the proceedings in bankruptcy; all debts due the United States; all debts due the State; wages due to any employee of the bankrupt for a period not exceeding six months immediately preceding the commencement of proceedings in bankruptcy, and to an amount not exceeding $50,000. The law is only intended for the relief of honest debtors. Hence, in order to avail himself of its benefits, the party must make a fair, full and bona fide delivery to the assignee for the benefit of his creditors, of all his effects, otherwise he is debarred from the benefit of the law, and made liable to heavy penalties beside. All fraudulent proceedings designed to defraud creditors, and all acts intended to prefer or secure one creditor at the expense of any other, will not entitle debtors to the relief extended by the law, but are positively forbidden. The law is of course very lengthy, and its leading provisions. It will be well for the public to become familiar with and remember them, for they closely concern every business man.
