THE NEW YORK CONVENTION. The proceedings of the Democratic Convention at New York were anything but harmonious. But the result is nothing more than any reasonable being could expect from such a beterogenous mass, with principles, if principles they can be called, which are as antagonistic and different as light of rebels and rebel sympathizers from the South, without a single element of the Union party from that section. From the interests of his constituents, and in every North and East the delegates were mostly the control of such men as Belmont, the Foreign Jew Banker of New York, connected with the Rothschilds of Europe, and other moneyed men of the East. The Western delegates, on the other hand, generally favored Pendleton, who was nothing more strength in the South.

of censure denouncing the wicked acts of State Legislatures, into disrepute : the rebellion. With such rebel Generals in the Convention as Wade Hampton of South Carolina, Buckner, of Kentucky, and Forrest, the murderer of unarmed soldiers the nation is new men in Congress. So no at Fort Pillow, how could they say any-thing unpleasant against rebels, whom men in Congress become that success in corthey politely complimented as "a most gallant and determined foe." was a mere farce, and when the proposition was made to abandon their own nominee and adopt that of the other Convention, it was received with hisses and groans by the true soldiers of that body, but nevertheless was carried by the politicians.

a political record to contend against, ex- powers and elevation, have been misdirectcept his complicity with what his present friends formerly designated as the "murder of Mrs. Surratt," and we thought he would be, finally, nominated, solely on the strength of his military reputation. No party has seen able to elect almost any man greater compliment could have been paid to close districts. On this account we have Gen. Grant. The Democracy tried hard to been able to maintain our ascendancy in get him as their candidate, but not succeed. Congress and State Legislatures, but the ing, they were willing to take one of his Lieutenants. The soldiers understand this kind of tactics, and will fight it out under a very different line.

P. S .- Since the above was written, we learn by telegraph that Horatio Seymour, Ex-Governor of New York, received the nomination. This news fell like a thunder clap on the Democracy of this town. They were exultant on Wednesday evening, and rejoicing in the almost certain hope of nominating Gen. Hancock. Seymour was the President of the Convention, and declined only on Tuesday last, for the second time, being a candidate, stating that his inclination as well as his honor forbade it .-Gov. Seymour is as thoroughly Southern in feeling and sentiment as Toombs or Wade Hampton, and as the rebel influence controlled the Convention, it was natural that Grant and his legions against the rebels, by due time : "ballot," and he will be quite as successful as when the contest was decided by "bullet."

AMNESTY.-President Johnson has at length done what has long been expected of him. He has issued a proclamation of amnesty, sunder the republic, that a rival powerof the Federal Constitution and of the government thereunder, and that there no longer a renewal of the said civil war. This proclamation was the last "card" of Andrew Johnson in the game for the Presidency. If a wholesale pardon of everybody engaged in rebellion, except "such persons "as may be under presentment or indictment in any court of the United States, having "competent jurisdiction upon a charge of "treason or other felony," did not entitle him to the nomination of the New-York Convention, then there is no hope that anything else can save him from the contempt and oblivion he so richly deserves.

THADDEUS STEVENS has submitted in Congress four more articles of Impeachment. against the President. He does not expect action on them, but he files them as a matter of record and history, sustained by an able speech. Mr. Williams, of Pittsburg, has also submitted goveral articles.

JOHN B. PACKER, ESQ. The following article, from the Harrisburg State Guard, serves to show the high estimation in which Mr. Packer is held in Dauphin county. It is perhaps not saying too much, when we assert, that Dauphin and Northumberland counties are almost unanimously in favor of Mr. Packer's nomination. These two counties contain about two-thirds of the voters in the district, although they will have only two fifths of the delegates to be elected, to make the nomination. Union county has elected delegates favorable to Mr. Miller. Juniata in favor of Mr. Patterson. Snyder, the remaining county, has not yet elected delegates, but from all we can learn, it is evident, that a large majority of the Republicans in that county favor Mr. Packer's nomination. The contest is, in fact, between Messrs. Packer Miller and Patterson. Can any Republican, who looks only for the success of the principles of the party, and the good of the country, doubt for a moment which of the three should be selected, to say nothing of the claims of this county to the nomination?

JOHN B. PACKER. "It is now definitely understood that John B. Packer has resolved to contest for the Republican nomination for Congress in this district. While we are firmly of the opinion that a Dauphin county man should be nominated, and while we know we have many very able men peculiarly qualified for this position, we still cannot refrain from according to Mr. Packer the very highest attainments and qualifications, personally professionally, mentally and morally, for Representative in Congress. There is no-thing second-rate about Mr. Packer. He is a man of education and fine natural endowments. He has great practical acquirements as a business man—understands the business wants of the people—has closely stuand darkness. It was, in fact, an assemblage died the financial system of the nation, and way reflect credit on the Republican party conservatives and rebel sympathizers under If we cannot get a good Dauphin county the control of such men as Belmont, the man, and Mr. Packer is nominated and accepts, we shall consider ourselves, as one of the hard workers in the ranks of Republicanism, as possessing a powerful auxilliary in such a candidate to insure success."

THE State Guard, at Harrisburg, contains than an unarmed rebel during the war, but the following article in relation to the nemore especially on account of his repudia- cessity of electing new men to represent the tion doctrines, which accounts also for his people in Congress, as well as in the Legislature. The views expressed by our Harris-The action of the Convention shows that burg cotemporary are in accordance with the so-called Democracy are again, as they those of a large portion of the people, who always have been, under the dominion of desire to see the country represented by men Southern leaders and Southern influence. "NEW MEN FOR CONGRESS." "It is very evident to the business men of the country-to plain, common sense peo-ple-that one of the present great needs of ruption is now really regarded as the first end and aim of two out of every three men holding seats in either branch of that body. The Soldiers' Convention at New York | The trouble is, there are too many hucksters inCongress, and we are quite surethere are too many of the same class seeking places there. By some means this must be broken up or the influence of these bad men will break down the Government. We must not think because we have whipped a wicked rebellion we have entirely escaped all danger, but we The South, at first united their strength men who have foisted themselves on the Republican party, who, invested with its ing legislation, plundering the Treasury and sapping the foundations of the Government.

"By the enthusiasm created on account of its stern devotion to the Government during the struggles with traitors, the Republican it nominated in what have been considered evil in this case has been and is that its results have been to shove mere second-rate and very corrupt men into legislative posi-tion. The Republican party cannot afford to keep such men in position any longer. All the disgrace which we now endure has been caused by the acts of such men. There are too many of these knaves in Congress. There were too many of them in the last Legislature, and we carnestly hope our riends everywhere will nominate new men. Except a man has real marked ability, two terms, and even one term is enough for him to serve in Congress. As the case now stands we will never be able to break up the plundering rings which exist in Congress unless we elect a large proportion of new and better men than those who now occupy seats in that body. These are suggestions well worthy the consideration of

The alarming spectacle of a formal combination between the two great columns of treason—the rebel army of the South and the rebel sympathizers of the North—is the living proof of great impending calamities. These desperate men—the one side still vaunting their treason against the country, and the other still boasting of the aid and comfort extended to them profess to be confident of success in the approaching election. The animosity they approaching election. The animosity they bore to our beloved Commander in Chief—now the candidate of the great Republican party—survives the hollow gratitude with which they haifed the liberal terms of peace; and, now, remembering only that he struck them in the field, and coldly forgetting how he forgave their great offense, they are toiling with superhuman energy to defeat toiling with superhuman energy to defeat the fight office a fit successor of its present guilty.

high office a fit successor of its present guilty occupant. Their hatred of Grant extends to ceptions. The only offense of these accomplished soldiers is their fidelity to the country for which they fought. General Geo. H. Thomas in Tonnessee, General Irwin M'Dowell in Mississippi, General Geo. G. Meade in Georgia, General Canby in South Carolina, and General Reynolds in Texas, with their predecessors, Sheridan, Sickles, Pope, Swayne, and Mower, are proscribed and slandered, like common felons, while every Union man in the South, black and white, is subjected to inconceivable cruelty and oppression. This wholesale malevolence, looking directly to the restoration of the rebel governments, teaches us not only the rebel governments, teaches us not only the wisdom and justice of our organization, but invokes us to renewed efforts in favor of Grant and Colfax, the standard bonrers of the Republican party, and for our gallant comrades, Hartranft and Campbell, our standard bearers in the State contest. The fundamental ideas of this rebel com-bination are that nothing has been gained by the success of our arms, but that everything has been lost. To forget the sanctified lead, to ignore and outrage the gallant living, and to remember and reward those only whose crimes in other nations would have been punished by death or confiscation is the inspiring motive of our adversaries. What American soldier does not feel the insult? What American citizen does not burn to resent it? Instead of cordially submitting to the laws passed by overwhelming Congressional majorities, and carried into effect for the grand purpose of re-organizing the South upon the basis of equal justice and equal rights, our recent adversaries openly threaten a new resort to arms.

At no period in the rebellion have they been at once so defiant and so cruel. United in antagonism to the laws, to the national credit, to the national currency, the public peace, and to those great principles for which we contended, and succeeded in maintaining, they cooly appeal to the people and ask verdict in favor of their incredible crimes. Speaking now for the returned volunteers of Pennsylvania, who were dis-franchised by the Democracy, we solemnly renew our devotion to our beloved country, and assert, not simply our readiness to support our candidates at the ballot-box, but our determination, at all times, to march to our Government's defense against her enetion. The Democracy met in Tammany Hall, New York, last Saturday, for the purpose of putting in nomination a candidate for the Presidency. Mr. August Belmont, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, called the meeting to order at a quarter past twelve o'clock, and made the welcoming address. Henry S. Palmer, of Wisconsin, was then unanimously chosen temporary chair-man of the Convention. General M'Cook then proposed that the rules of the House of Representatives govern the Convention, but considerable discussion ensued as to whether this would abrogate to two thirds rule in nominating a Presidential candidate, and it was amended so as to accept the rules of the last Democratic National Convention. Resolutions for the appointment of committees of one from each State on permanent organization and on credentials were adopted after a lengthy discussion on the right of the Territories to representation in the Convention, which was not conceded. The committees were then appointed, and also one on resolutions and platform. The Declaration of Independence was then read, and

The Fourth was generally celebrated throughout California, Nevada and Oregon. Advices from Idaho to June 27, state that General Crook was recently defeated by the Indians, and compelled to send to camp for teams to take off the dead. The Indians were well fortified where Crook attacked with two companies of infantry, with the above result. Although this report comes direct, it is not fully credited.

Notice in Bankruptcy.

THIS is to give notice, that on the 30th day of June, A. D., 1868, a warrant in Bankruptey was issued against the estate of HENRY LONGE NECKER, and A. R. FISKE, as H. Longenecker & Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celabrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness. Involuntary Seminal Losses, impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

12 Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents. The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sulforer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

15 This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. NECKER, and A. R. FISKE, as H. Longenecker & Co., of Shamokin, in the county of Northumberland, and State of Pennsylvania, who have been adjudged Bankrupts on their own petition; that the payment of any debts and delivery of any property belonging to such Bankrupts, to them or for their use, and the transfer of any property by them are forbidden by Law; that a meeting of the Creditors of the said Bankrupts, to prove their debts, and to choose and or more Assignces of their catale, will be held at a Court of Bankruptcy, to be helden at Sunbury, Nor thumberland county, and State of Pennsylvania, before J. M. Wicstling, Register, on the 16th day of July, A. D. 1868, at 161 o clock, A. M.
